THE "PHOENIX" appreciates the function and rights of Agents. It is an Agency Company in all that term implies. It has not only done its duty in its relationship with policyholders and claimants but it has been equally diligent in seeing to it that its relationship with its Agents are cordial and harmonious.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Sixty-Four Years of Service

Age is not the chief pride of this company.

But all these years have helped to build a modern and progressive Insurance Service today offered to Agent and Policyholder alike. Our basic plan of Home Office Cooperation includes modern selling helps considered among the most successful in operation; an excellent Policyholders' Service Bureau and a genuine desire and effort to assist our field force at all times.

Men of the right caliber, will find opportunities in our Agency Force. For information, address:

THE SPECTATOR

A WEEKLY REVIEW OF INSURANCE

ESTABLISHED 1868

Subscription Price, $4.00 per Annum.

THE SPECTATOR is a live and progressive insurance journal, noted for its pungent and fearless discussion of all matters pertaining to the vast subject of insurance in ever branch. In the many years of its existence it has built up a reputation for fair and honest treatment of insurance matters that has made it invaluable to insurance men of every class, whether they be

MANAGERS OF COMPANIES OR AGENTS IN THE FIELD.

It contains the latest and freshest insurance news from every quarter, bright and sparkling correspondence from the principal insurance centers of the country, comments on current insurance events of the day, and able discussions on the principles of Life, Fire, Accident and Miscellaneous Insurance.

A most valuable feature of THE SPECTATOR is the presentation from time to time of carefully prepared and voluminous of the business of Life, Fire and Miscellaneous Insurance, usually in a comparative form, showing the business transactions and detailed experience of all companies for a series of years. These statistics are compiled by experts having no personal interest to serve, but are prepared solely for the purpose of analyzing the subject.

THE MOST EMINENT WRITERS

on Insurance in its various forms are contributors to its columns, and the aim of its proprietors is to present the science of the insurance systems in vogue without prejudice to any and in fairness to all. It is in this spirit that Fire, Life, Industrial, Accident, Workmen's Compensation, Fraternal and Miscellaneous Insurance Companies, Associations and Societies are treated without fear or favor. It also gives the current news from different insurance centers each week, and each number is that are of interest to the profession at large. In short, it is the ambition of its proprietors to make THE SPECTATOR an invaluable journal to every person identified with the insurance interest in any capacity, and its unprecedented success is evidence that their efforts are appreciated.

Any business man entering the insurance profession as manager, agent or broker should address The Spectator Company for information regarding the various treatises and other instructive publications printed in the interest of the particular branches of insurance. Managers and general agents should see that their sub-agents are supplied with the various publications issued by it in behalf of insurance. The public interested in insurance from a fire, life or casualty standpoint should secure copies of the works of reference, containing reports on insurance companies, issued by it.

A complete Catalogue of insurance works will be sent to members of the insurance fraternity, or to any person, on receipt of ten cents to cover postage.

Attention is called to the condensed Catalogue of the insurance works of The Spectator Company presented on other pages of this issue.

Big enough to be equipped with every facility for rendering complete service to Policyholders and Agency Force—small enough for personal friendly contact between its officers and every agent in the field.

Old enough to have an established reputation for giving back just a little more than it takes: to enjoy an unusual degree of confidence, the result of years of conscientious, dependable service—young enough to look to the future rather than the past, to be constantly opening new territory and developing new opportunities for the benefit of its Agency Force.

Conservative enough to conduct its business according to the most approved practices of legal reserve life insurance—progressive enough to offer to its policyholders the most up-to-date policy features; and the most liberal cooperation to its agents.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT

For over fifty years THE INSURANCE YEAR BOOK has appeared annually, growing steadily with the expansion of the insurance business, and adding new features to its mass of information as the conditions demanded. The publishers therefore take pride in presenting the fifty-second annual edition, and in acknowledging the widespread recognition that has been accorded this publication, both in this country and abroad.

The 1924 edition of the YEAR BOOK is issued in three volumes, the first being devoted to LIFE INSURANCE, the second to CASUALTY and MISCELLANEOUS INSURANCE, and the third to FIRE and MARINE INSURANCE. Each volume contains the standard statistics regarding companies and their transactions that are necessary to perfect their history from year to year. These statistics are brought forward to include their transactions to December 31, 1923. Some of the principal features of this volume are briefly summarized as follows:

LIFE VOLUME

This volume covers statistics and information concerning legal reserve life insurance companies, assessment life associations, fraternal orders, and a large amount of data covering foreign companies and business in foreign countries. A special section is devoted to Canadian organizations and business.

The tremendous volume of business reported by life insurance organizations of the United States is slightly indicated by the following totals:

LEGAL RESERVE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES

Premium receipts	$1,899,750,912	New business (group)	$709,094,912
Total income	2,427,327,961	New business (ordinary)	8,611,795,436
Payments to policyholders	1,088,333,350	New business (industrial)	2,615,091,608
Total disbursements	1,666,062,084	Insurance in force (group)	2,468,935,567
Admitted assets	9,454,620,793	Insurance in force (ordinary)	44,227,342,307
Surplus	744,205,386	Insurance in force (industrial)	10,107,256,433

ASSESSMENT LIFE AND FRATERNAL ORDERS

Assessments and annual dues	$139,651,579	Total assets	$513,934,977
Total income	219,663,848	New business	900,123,528
Paid policyholders	115,091,446	Certificates in force (number)	7,960,489
Total disbursements	162,151,436	Insurance in force	9,300,895,225

The Directory of Insurance Agents occupies about 210 pages, 4 columns to the pega, and comprises about 60,000 names, being the most comprehensive list of its kind extant.

Medical Examiners to the number of about 1000 are listed.

Attorneys and Counsellors specializing in insurance are presented in a list numbering about 500⁰, and occupying 36 pages.

Colleges, Universities and Societies having insurance courses are also listed.

In addition to the foregoing, there is a considerable amount of other useful information presented regarding various features of the insurance business, each adding its quota to the value of this volume, which, aside from advertising matter, contains about 1000 pages. The Casualty and Miscellaneous and the Fire and Marine Volumes are similarly comprehensive in covering their peculiar fields.

Our thanks are due to the heads of Insurance Departments of the various States and to officers of companies for their courtesy and promptness in furnishing us with desired information.

Value of these estates when amplified by Travelers Group insurance payments $1,770,000
Value of Personal estates left by 1,000 typical Employees of several hundred Employers $750,000.

Do Wage-Earners Need Group Insurance?

And, will the $500, $1,000, or $2,000 paid to them under a Group Policy amount to enough to be of any value?

These are two questions that an employer asks before buying Travelers Group Insurance for his employees. The answers to these questions are contained in the following statistics based on a study of 1,000 consecutive death claims under Travelers Group Policies:

139 left from $500 to $999,
127 left from $1,000 to $1,999,
26 left $5,000 and over.

The total personal estates of the thousand group certificate-holders was about $750,000, an average of $750 each. The total amount paid to their families under their Travelers Group Policies was approximately $1,020,000, an average of $1,020 each. Thus Group Insurance increased the average estate of these workers 136 per cent.

Such an increase meant, in many cases, that mortgages could be paid off and homes kept in the family, that children could remain in school, that bills could be paid and the bereaved family could start square with the world instead of overburdened with debt. As long as they live, members of these 1,000 families will appreciate the generosity of the donors of this Group Insurance.

THE POLICY CONTRACTS OF THE ROYAL UNION LIFE INSURANCE CO.

Are Essentially The Force Behind The Company's Progressive And Successful Agency Organization.

1. GUARANTEE PREMIUM REDUCTION

Guaranteed Coupons, 20 Payment Life policy—If coupons are left to accumulate at interest may be surrendered for paid up participating policy at end of 13 to 14 years; or, guarantees back more at end of 20 years than total premiums paid. May be surrendered for participating paid-up life or endowment policy, or life annuity.

2. ORDINARY LIFE COUPON (O. G. S.)

Last word in thrift and savings coupled with life insurance. By coupons may be made a paid-up policy in 11 to 22 years, or endowment in 25 years. In event of death gives protection at ordinary life rates and returns coupons at compound interest.

3. ANNAUAL INCOME CONTRACT

Guarantees the beneficiary in event of insured's death before 65, $1,000 annually for 20 years and then a lump sum of $10,000, making $30,000 in all; or when insured reaches 65 pays $1,000 annually as long as he lives, (guaranteed for 20 years.)

4. ENDOWMENT AT AGE 60, 65 OR 70

An excellent policy for men of all ages, and especially attractive to the young and middle aged. Insurance at low cost and matures at a proper age. On both Continu us Premiums and 20 Payment plans. Participating and Non-Participating.

5. SINGLE PREMIUM ENDOWMENTS

Paid for with one payment, no lapses on this one. Maturity dates in 10 to 30 years. Gives insured advantages of survivorship. Participating.

6. CONTINUOUS PREMIUM ENDOWMENT AGE 85

Straight long term endowment, next to Whole Life—Matures at age 85 for face amount. Low cost. Both participating and non-participating.

7. LIMITED PAY ENDOWMENT AGE 85

Benefits of the continuous premium but paid up in 10, 15 or 20 years. Both participating and non-participating.

8. ENDOWMENT INSURANCE

Not only insurance but endowment to the insured himself at end of a definite number of years, 10-40. Both participating and non-participating. Enjoy both thrift and protection.

9. TERM INSURANCE

5-10-15 or 20-year term protection with privilege of converting to more substantial forms of life or endowment insurance.

10. MONTHLY INCOME

Both Ordinary and 20 Payment. Guarantees Monthly income for 20 years and as long thereafter as payee shall live. Guarantees that the proceeds of your life insurance shall go to those for whom you intended it. Not subject to bad investment.

11. GUARANTEED ALLOTMENT

Annual dividend with guaranteed coupons on Ordinary and 20 Pay forms. Good returns for premium expended.

12. SELECT RISK

On Ordinary and 20 Payment Life form. The low cost premium down to bed rock, issued on select lives only—a winner for the agent.

13. JUVENILE POLICY OR CHILD'S ENDOWMENT

Provides an educational fund for children ready for use in 10, 15 or 20 years.

14. BUSINESS INSURANCE

A policy that furnishes mutual protection for partners in business or that will insure an important officer or employee in favor of a corporation or business.

Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia
PENNSYLVANIA

The Provident has emphasized the greater advantage to the insured of Old Age Protection policies. The advantage, however, is not only to the insured. Provident agents profit greatly from the active co-operation of living policyholders who are eager to testify their satisfaction with the form of policy which protects their old age.

A new feature is the Retirement Life Income Contract, particularly suited to men or women without dependents who are seeking an income in old age, and for which a medical examination is not required unless it is desired to add the Total and Permanent Disability Feature.

REPORTS OF LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES

To supplement the comprehensive statistical information which has anually appeared in The Insurance Year Book, there is given a running and readable account of every old line life insurance company in the United States. This account includes a synoptical history of each organization, including details of its incorporation and such other features of its career as are of general interest, not only to those of the insurance world, but as well to insurance buyer or investor in insurance stocks. In addition to the historical data there is an analytical discussion of the company's general administration and the reputation which it has built up through its managerial conduct. There has been included also information regarding the classes of insurance written, the bases upon which the different companies value their policies, the amount of insurance outstanding on varying classes, and full lists of the officers and directors.

There is also given a series of ratios which will permit the reader to form an opinion as to the underwriting management of the companies. It will be borne in mind by the experienced life underwriter that these ratios are not based entirely upon the gain and loss exhibit, and are therefore not in the last analysis scientific. Owing to a desire to present required information on the same basis for every company it was decided to obtain the ratios, in order to secure this uniformity, by deriving them from items published by the smaller companies, as well as by the larger ones. In explaining these ratios, it might be noted, that the rate of interest earned is obtained by dividing the mean ledger assets into the interest received plus or minus the difference between the interest due and accrued at the beginning and end of the year. The combined surrender and lapse ratio is obtained by dividing the mean number of policies in force into the total number of policies surrendered and lapsed. In obtaining the ratio of first year's loading, expenses and commissions to first year's premiums, the premiums shown on page 2, line 12 of the Convention Blank, is used as divisor, while items on page 9, lines 114, 116 and 120 are used as the bases. The renewal commissions and renewal premiums used are those as shown respectively on page 2 and 3. The ratio showing the persistency and progress of business is obtained by dividing insurance outstanding at the beginning of the year into the insurance outstanding at the end of the year.

Corresponding information relating to the larger stipulated premium, and assessment companies and fraternal orders is also published.

ACACIA MUTUAL LIFE ASSOCIATION

Washington, District of Columbia

HISTORICAL DATA

THIS association was organized, October 26, 1866, in the District of Columbia, and was chartered by a special Act of Congress March 3, 1869, under the name Masonic Mutual Relief Association to operate as a fraternal society with membership confined exclusively to Master Masons. Congress passed an amendment to the company's charter in 1908, which changed the name to the Masonic Mutual Life Association of the District of Columbia and another amendment September, 1922 by which the present title was adopted and the plan of operation changed from the fraternal to the old line legal reserve basis. This change was easily made in view of the fact that since 1903 the association had maintained the legal reserve on all its policies based on the American Experience Table of Mortality and 3½%. The company was highly commended after an examination as of December 31, 1922 by the Insurance Departments of Alabama, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Wisconsin and District of Columbia. The examiners stated that the association has been liberal in its treatment of policyholders and the present management is most capable and efficient.

Administration and Repute—As the oldest fraternal society in the United States this association has been eminently successful operating under capable and experienced management and on the soundest principles. William Montgomery, president, has been officially connected with the association for 30 years. As a thorough student of life insurance he has guided the company's affairs with foresight and efficiency and has gathered about him a staff of able executives prominent among whom is J. P. Yort, secretary and actuary of the association. Under its new license as a mutual old line legal reserve life company it will continue to limit membership to Master Masons; rates will remain the same; but it will be relieved from initiating members and maintaining a lodge system. When the society amended its charter in 1903 about 1300 members, educated to the advantages of the legal reserve plan voluntarily transferred to it. Contrary to prediction the association has thriven. It has shown steady progress, having December 31, 1923, $152,190,700 of insurance in force, $9,259,891 of assets and $813,521 of surplus. Distinct gains are noted during 1923 the first full year of the company's operation on the legal reserve plan. The stability of the business is indicated by the smoothness with which the transition took place. Its business is national in scope. It has branches in most of the largest cities and has an agency plant that pays for about $50,000,000 of insurance annually. The premium rate compares favorably with the non-participating rates of stock companies. It has paid dividends to members for many years, being the first fraternal society in the United States to do so. The 1922 examination of the company by the Insurance Departments of five States and the District of Columbia brought forth a report which certified to the association's excellent financial condition and the efficiency of its management.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary life insurance.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $152,190.700.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term (20 pay life basis) since April 11, 1920; prior thereto American 3½% modified preliminary term (whole life basis).

AETNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Hartford, Conn.

HISTORICAL DATA

The Aetna Insurance Company, parent company of the Aetna Life, was organized by charter of Connecticut June 5, 1819, to write fire insurance and began business August 19, following. To the original capital of $150,000 an equal amount was added on May 26 of the following year, and the company was authorized to write life insurance and grant annuities, the additional $150,000 being pledged exclusively for the protection of the business. Not until 1850 was use made of the privilege to write life and grant annuities. Legislative authority was obtained, May 10, 1853, to amend the charter of the Aetna Insurance Co., and constitute the shareholders of its annuity fund a distinct and separate corporation for the purpose of writing life insurance. It was in 1853 that the Aetna Life Insurance Co., came into existence with Judge Eliphalet A. Bulkeley as its first president. Development of business was rapid and steady, even in the period of financial depression preceding the Civil War. In 1891 an accident department was organized, and in 1898 health insurance was added; and, as these grew in importance, other forms of personal liability insurance were begun. These lines were brought under one head, the accident and liability department, established 1902, which prompted the establishment of a separate though affiliated company, in 1907 known as the Aetna Accident and Liability Company, having $500,000 capital and $250,000 paid-in surplus. In 1911 this paid-in capital was increased to $1,000,000. Coincident with the capital increase business was entered upon in the fidelity and surety bond field. This move proved to be such a decisive step forward that in 1917 the name Aetna Accident and Liability was changed to The Aetna Casualty and Surety Company. On April 19, 1913 the Automobile Insurance Company, with $200,000 capital stock, began business, as an affiliate of the Aetna Life, to write complete automobile coverage. Subsequently, other fire lines were added and also ocean and inland marine lines in 1916. Through gradual growth the present Aetna service group offers practically every form of insurance coverage through the Aetna Life as parent company and its two affiliates, Aetna Casualty and Surety, and Automobile Insurance Company. In 1923 the Automobile Insurance Company through the Aetna Life acquired control of the Standard Fire of Hartford. Capital stock $500,000, par value of stock $50 per share, purchase price, $135 per share. Paid-in capital of Aetna Life in 1923, $10,000,000 shares, $100, par value.

Administration and Repute—From small beginnings the Aetna Life has developed into one of the country's largest and leading companies. Throughout the organization a concerted effort is made to make clients realize that the experience, resources, service facilities and progressive spirit of the Aetna fully safeguard their interests and justify their continued patronage. Judge Bulkeley and Thomas O. Enders and Morgan G. Bulkeley, succeeding presidents, and Morgan B. Brainard, the new president, are alike in their energy and adherence to high standards of efficiency. Stockholders have received rather large dividends, the company at the same time paying good returns to its participating policyholders. Increasing volume of business has helped the company build up an ample surplus. Its management is economical and its actuarial methods sound. Its investments are of the best, yielding a substantial income. It has had a favorable mortality rate and has always paid claims promptly. Wide coverage, including disability and double indemnity, make its policies very liberal. Its non-participating premium and its net cost participating contract are both low.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary life, 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25, 30 and 35-year endowment, as well as deferred endowments, and single premium policies are written on both participating and non-participating plans. Non-participating plan also includes policy forms as follows: insurance with life income at 50, 55, 60, 65, payable monthly with minimum payments equal to the amount of insurance payable as endowments at maturity; accumulative life and progressive 20-payment life and 20-year endowment insurance increasing from year to year; partnership; annuities; one year term, renewable annually for nine consecutive years and convertible term policies, renewable to 65, when insured may accept a level premium whole life or endowment; five-year renewable term but non-renewable seven-year term renewable for one term but convertible only during first term. Monthly income on ordinary and 20-payment life plans, sum insured being payable in monthly instalments during either 5, 10 or 20 years certain and continuing during lifetime of original beneficiary; non-participating principal and 6% income and non-participating deferred income bond (annual premiums) policy. Policies may also be written to include very liberal disability and double indemnity benefits. Women are written for the same rates as men. In its accident and liability department the company writes personal accident, automobile liability, general liability, health and workmen's compensation.

Sub-Standard—Company writes this class on following plan. Those unable to pass physical examination will be divided into four classes. The first four classes will be accepted in amounts not exceeding $100,000, under the first rating and with proportionate reductions in the less desirable classes. All risks accepted under these classes will pay an additional premium and will be given a higher age rating.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% on entire non-participating and participating business, American 3% on participating business issued in 1901 to 1924. Prior to 1901 participating business 3½%. Group insurance on American 3½%; annuities on McClintock's 3½% and American 3½% original annuities.

Group Insurance—Company started group insurance April 1, 1913. Writes both non-participating and participating policies. Group insurance in force December 31, 1923, $473,327,028. Minimum in group, 50. Individual risk; minimum $500; maximum $5,000. No person insured for more than two and one-half times (to the next even $500) average amount of insurance on other members of group. Additional names of new employees to be furnished by employer; failure to do so does not invalidate employees' insurance. Individual insurance may be cancelled at termination of employment at option of employer. Individual insurance may then be issued on whole life or endowment plan at attained age within 31 days of termination of group insurance upon receipt of written application from employee together with written consent of employer. All policies may be dated back to original date if adjusted premiums with 5% interest are paid.

Provisions of Group Policy—Grace 31 days; incontestable after one year. Employee may designate new beneficiary if request is made in writing with approval of employer. Misstatement of age does not prevent payment of claim in full, but difference in premiums is adjusted with employer. Before age 60 total and permanent disability benefits are granted; company will waive premium and at option of employer will pay immediate benefit in one lump sum or in annually, semi-annually, quarterly or monthly instalments during period of time ranging from 5 to 20 years, first payment to be made at once; or company will pay 3½% interest on amount, principal payable at death. Premiums are payable annually, semi-annually, quarterly or monthly. Policies are renewable annually at attained ages in accordance with above rates. At end of each fifth year from date of policy, company may establish new premium rates with reductions or increases determined upon its classified group mortality experience. In policy a schedule is printed showing individual amounts. Record of increases, terminations, changes, etc., in group is tabulated in a card system.

Welfare Work, including nursing service administered according to the particular requirements of the employer.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $1,304,484,435; participating, $289,104,315; of which $10,061,855 is renewable term, $12,833,223 is upon quinquennial dividend basis, $257,940,692 on annual dividend basis, $8,268,545 to no allotment of dividends.

THE AGRICULTURAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA

Bay City, Michigan

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized April 23, 1914, in Michigan, and began business September 25, 1916, with a subscribed capital of $100,000, of which $56,650 was paid in at inception. Additional stock has been sold from time to time at prices considerably above $50, par value, principally to create surplus the total of which paid-in since organization amounts to $356,566 while capital stock now stands at $250,000. F. F. McGinnis, president and general counsel, was principal organizer of the company. Promotional expense was restricted to 15% of receipts. Mr. McGinnis has been a factor in the promotion of a number of life insurance companies among which was the Gem City Life of Dayton, Ohio. W. E. King is also president of the Indicator Publishing Company of Detroit. The Michigan Insurance Department examined the company as of its condition December 31, 1921 and issued a report dated January 16, 1922.

Administration and Repute—This company has been managed in such a way as to show a fair growth. Premium income has advanced with regularity. In 1923, the company developed further substantial strength both in reserves and assets. Operating surplus is ample though in 1923 only $27,279 was the amount shown notwithstanding the stockholders' contribution to surplus of $356,566. The company is strictly proprietary and profits may be paid stockholders as deemed advisable by directors. Dividends totaling $88,450 have been paid to stockholders. The dividends paid to policyholders have made a satisfactorily moderate net cost of insurance. The company's actuarial methods are sound. It has investments which are well secured, being mostly mortgage loans, and they are remunerative. Mortality rate has been above average. The company's claim payment reputation is good. Its policy contracts are strictly up-to-date and include the benefits of double indemnity and disability. Low rates prevail and it writes participating insurance. Policyholders are classed as rural and city, dividend rate scale slightly favoring the former. The company was examined in 1923 by the Michigan Insurance Department. Both general agents and managers are employed in the agency department. The General Manager received 10% commission on first year premiums and superintendent of Agents receive 2½% commission on renewal premiums. In November, 1923, practice of acceptance of renewal premium notes was discontinued.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance. Ordinary policy matures as endowment at 85. Besides usual forms of policies, it issues 25, 35 and 40-year endowments and a 20-premium endowment payable at ages 50, 55, 60, 65 or 70, 20-premium guaranteed reduction policy, a child's endowment maturing at age 21; monthly income policies. Women are insured at the same rates applying to men on all forms except term.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Basis—Participating $12,209,543.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term.

Officers—Francis F. McGinnis, president; Jos. C. Grosjean, vice-president and medical director; Willard E. King, secretary-treasurer and superintendent of agents; Robt. K. Orr, consulting actuary; T. O. Teschendorf, assistant secretary and cashier.

THE ALABAMA NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
Birmingham, Alabama

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, April 3, 1908, in Alabama, as the Great Southern Life Insurance Company and began business April 28 of that year. Its authorized capital is $400,000. Initial capital of $100,000 was paid in at the rate of $12.50 a share, par value, $10, and subsequent sales brought from $15 to $25 a share until in 1909, paid-in capital stood at $156,587-.50 where it has since remained. The company's present name was adopted June 28, 1921.

Administration and Repute—Due to energetic, conservative management this company has grown moderately but steadily as denoted particularly by the dividends paid to stockholders, payment of which began in 1913, and aggregate of which, with 1923 dividends of $18,785, is $133,094. All business is written on the guaranteed dividend and non-participating plans and stockholders control the company. Investments, for the most part mortgage loans, are well secured and largely remunerative. Surplus is substantial and adequate. Actuarial practices are of the highest type. Operating costs are moderate. Business acquisition expenses have been above average. Mortality rate has been moderate except through the influenza-pneumonia epidemic. Death claims are paid promptly. The company's policies are in every respect generous. They include the benefits both of double indemnity and disability.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance in all usual forms of contracts and in addition the following: yearly income on ordinary and 20-payment; return premium guaranteed dividends on ordinary and endowment; return premium on ordinary, 20-payment with guaranteed dividends, and 20-year endowments; principal and income contract on $2,500; annual income contracts; principal and income ($2,500) contract of perfect protection; convertible 10-year term at reduced premiums in last 5 years; and a guaranteed coupon dividend contract. Women are insured with restrictions if unmarried at same rates that apply to men. The company excludes colored risks and operates its agency plant on the general agency plan. The company was examined in 1923 by the Alabama Insurance Department. Women are not insured on the term plan and are limited to $3,000.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Guaranteed dividends, $3,435,000; non-participating, $5,910,091.

Reserve Basis—Most guaranteed dividend policies, American 3½% preliminary term non-participating American 3½% preliminary term premium. Premium endowment American 4% full level premium.

000. In 1918, par value of stock was decreased from $10 a share to $5. This action reduced authorized capital to $250,000. Changes in paid-in capital with coincident contributions to surplus were as follows: initial paid-in capital, in 1910, $226,200 with $339,300 surplus; increased 1911, to $317,600 with $165,220 to surplus; increased 1912, to $325,000 with $13,217 to surplus; 1917, $40,000 contributed to surplus; decreased 1918, to $163,190 with $163,550 contributed to surplus; increased 1919, to $200,000 with $73,960 to surplus; decreased 1920, to $105,000 with $125,000 to surplus; and increased in 1921 to $118,505, at which it now stands. Of the total $920,247 contributed to surplus account, $28,285 was returned during 1920 In 1913, the American Bankers took over by reinsurance the State Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago, and in turn, in 1916, reinsured this business with the Federal Life of Chicago. In 1921, it reinsured the National Bankers Insurance Company, of Kansas City, Mo. The Insurance Finance Corporation, a Delaware organization, was indirectly connected with the American Bankers Insurance Company, as a promotional interest through whom sale of stock has been possible at a low rate of commission, not exceeding 15%.

Late in 1923, officers of the Cloverleaf Life & Casualty, Jacksonville, Ill., bought the controlling interests in the American Bankers. At that time the American Bankers capital stock was impaired. The impairment has since been made up and the company is doing business from its Chicago office with a reasonable amount of surplus. In 1923, the Elgin Life, Elgin, Ill., was reinsured by the American Bankers and the stockholders of the Elgin received stock of the latter company in place of the Elgin stock purchased. The company reinsured its industrial business amounting to over $1,000,000 with the Cloverleaf Life & Casualty. Capital stock increased to $225,000 by merger with the Elgin Life, was subsequently increased to $250,000 and all stock heretofore held as treasury stock disposed of.

Administration and Repute—Under the previous management, this company built up a substantial amount of business. The new management composed of experienced and capable life insurance men have rehabilitated this company and propose to rebuild it on a safe and substantial basis. Under their direction the financial policy of the company will be directed along economical lines. The company has established strength of reserves and assets which have been steadily increased. Surplus is being enlarged, its actuarial methods are of the best, and investments remunerative. Its operating business acquisition costs have been above average. It is in good repute for paying death claims promptly. Its policy contracts include double indemnity and disability provisions. Group insurance was discontinued in 1920.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance in all usual forms of policy contracts and in addition the following: cumulative investment on ordinary, 20-payment life and 20-year endowment; 20-payment guaranteed annuity coupon; limited payment to age 65; premium savings; joint life on ordinary, 20-payment and 20-year endowment; 10-, 15- and 20-year term; and monthly income on ordinary. The cumulative investments policies stipulate that definite part of each premium after the first be placed in a fund to be divided among the policies in force at the end of 20 years. Interest is allowed at 3½% and the contribution to the fund is returnable if a policy is relinquished by death. Women are insured at same rates as apply to men except on term policies and with disability and double indemnity withheld. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $15,476,837.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, Illinois standard. All reinsured policies including industrial and assessment American 3½%.

Officers—F. H. Rowe, president; C. A. Goodale, C. Y. Rowe, vice-presidents; R. Y. Rowe, secretary; C. Y. Rowe, treasurer; R. A. Hann, actuary.

AMERICAN CENTRAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
Indianapolis, Indiana

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized February 23, 1899, in Indiana and began business April 1 of that year, with an authorized capital of $200,000, which was reduced to $137,000 when the paid-in capital had reached that amount at which it has since remained. In its first year of operation, this company took over the Indiana Life Assurance Company of Indianapolis. Stock, par value, is $100 a share.

This company is a member of the American Life Convention and the Life Agency Managers Association.

Administration and Repute—The success of this company has been in large part due to the progressive disposition and constantly efficient and energetic administration of its affairs by a careful and conservative management. Its agency force is also particularly well organized and an efficiently cooperating unit. Herbert M. Woollen, president and his executive staff are thoroughly capable, long experienced and are prominent in the business. The company has shown a steady and substantial development and now has a premium volume built out of a high type of carefully selected risks. The company is backed by strong interests. It writes only non-participating insurance and is under the control of its stockholders. Its actuarial methods are of the best; investments are carefully selected and yield an excellent return; expenses of operation are average but business acquisition cost is low. Its mortality rate has been below average except for the period of the influenza-pneumonia epidemic of 1919-1920. It has a good reputation for settling death claims promptly. Dividends paid to stockholders since organization, total December 31, 1923, $260,342. The company ceased writing "special" forms of contracts which were so popular in Indiana in1906. The company operates its agency plant on the managerial plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance, in all the usual forms, including 5 and 10-year convertible term policies, in amounts not less than $2,500; maximum amount written, no limit, retained $20,000. Women are insured at same rates as apply to men, the maximum amount retained by the company being $5,000. Children are insured.

Sub-Standard Insurance—This company transacts a sub-standard insurance charging flat extra premiums for certain occupational hazards and classifying other impairments in five classes for each of which classification there is a special table of rates.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $620,000; deferred dividend, $1,298,250; non-participating, $133,843,672.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, preliminary term and full level premium; prior to 1908 actuaries 4%.

THE AMERICAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Detroit, Michigan

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, January 24, 1907, in Michigan, as the Northern Assurance Company, of Michigan. Prominent among the organizers were P. F. Powers and C. L. Ayres who were chosen president and vice-president, and secretary, respectively. Business began October 19, 1907, with an authorized and paid-in capital of $100,000 at which it remained until January, 1923. Adoption of the company's present title was occasioned by the merger effected August 1, 1921, of the Northern Assurance of Michigan and the American Life of Des Moines, Ia., the latter incorporated, 1899. Up to the time of this merger, stockholders had contributed. $25,000 to surplus account. In 1922, capital stock was increased to $200,000 by stock dividend of $100,000. Stock, par value, is $50 a share; book value, December 31, 1923, $80.75.

The company is a member of the following organizations: American Life Convention, Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau, Association of Michigan Life Executives.

Administration and Repute—This company's financial statement dated December 31, 1923, showed that it is in a healthy condition and that its officers and management generally are imbued with the spirit of progress. The consolidation with the Northern Assurance of the American Life of Iowa, during 1921, resulted in practically doubling the insurance in force while assets were increased by $3,863,525. The company is exceedingly strong also in reserves and has a substantial surplus. Premium income for 1923 shows an excellent gain over 1922. Dividends paid to stockholders, since organization, total cash $32,000; stock $100,000. C. L. Ayres, president, and his associate executives are thoroughly capable and experienced and the company has the backing of strong and reputable interests. Insurance written is entirely on non-participating basis though some participating business has been assumed by reinsurance; actuarial methods follow the highest standard of practice and investments are high grade, well secured and remunerative. Operating expenses and business acquisition costs are average. Mortality rate is very moderate. The company has an estimable reputation for prompt payment of death claims. The company is strictly proprietary and all profits belong to stockholders. The company was jointly examined in 1923 by the Iowa and Michigan Insurance Departments. Standard forms are used for policy contracts and they include double indemnity and disability benefits.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance in all usual forms of contracts and in addition the following: Endowments at any age desired by the insured with continuous of 10, 15 or 20-payments; preferred risk $5,000 policy on whole life or 20-payment forms; single premium life; convertible (non-renewable) 5 and 10-year term; guaranteed 20-payment life with cash accumulation or endowment additions; joint life on whole life, 20-payment life or 20-year endowment; registered life income trust bond; educational trust contract; 20-annual instalment or monthly instalment settlement given on any form. Women are insured on all except term policies, upon the same basis as men with the stipulation that they pay their premiums out of their own funds and name a dependent beneficiary.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $59,227,638; participating, $7,337,416; assessment, $5,000.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term Illinois standard. Term policies American 3½% net level premium. Endowments at age 90; American 3½% select and ultimate table. HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, February 19, 1919, in Texas, and began business March 11, of that year, operating under the Texas Insurance Laws governing life, health and accident insurance. A. C. Bigger, president was the principal organizer. There were no promotional expenses. Initial authorized and paid-in capital was $250,000 at which it has since remained. The Texas Insurance Department examined the company's condition as of December 31, 1923, and issued its report under date of February 19, 1924. Stock, par value, is $100 a share; book value December 31, 1922, $175.10.

The company is a member of the following organizations: American Life Convention, Texas Life Convention, Medical Information Bureau, American Institute of Actuaries.

Administration and Repute—This company's management has shown a progressive disposition as denoted by the substantial development of the business and progress evident in advancing reserves and also increasing strength of assets. Business for the year 1923 was satisfactory and a dividend of $25,000 was paid to stockholders. Business has been restricted to reinsurance on the non-participating basis and its large territory is well served through an efficient staff operating from an office in Chicago, Illinois, as well as the home office in Dallas. The company in 1923 added a direct writing department which is operating in Texas only. Most modern and efficient methods of operation prevail in management of the company. It has adequate operating surplus; uses sound actuarial methods; has well secured investments which are remunerative, and has an estimable reputation for payment of claims made upon it. The management is in excellent repute and was commended by insurance department examiners on occasion of their recent audit. Women are written on same basis as men with the exception of disability coverage. The agency plant is conducted on the managerial plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance including monthly income, joint life, single premium and disability, and double indemnity features. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Basis—Non-participating, $41,224,327.

AMERICAN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Lake Charles, Louisiana

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, November 15, 1913, in Louisiana, and began business June 1, 1914, operating on the mutual plan and the legal reserve basis. A. L. Watkins of Lake Charles, La., and W. M. Gunstream of Orange, Texas, were organizers and the chief promoters of the company. L. H. Moss and S. Arthur Knapp, were also early identified with it. A surplus fund of $200,000 was created and certificates were issued to the contributors. To pay off these certificates 5% of each premium paid in cash to the company after the first policy year is withheld and divided semi-annually on a pro-rata basis among the certificate holders. On December 31, 1923, certificates to amount of $136,284 had been issued, remaining was $114.129. Retirement of surplus fund certificates is not stipulated. The 5% to certificate holders is provided for in the loading and therefore the company has not pushed the sale of the balance of the certificates; $22,155 income was derived therefrom in 1923. The Insurance Department of Louisiana holds the company's legal deposit of $100,000.

Administration and Repute—This company has had a steady growth of business although development of premium income has been slow and in volume it is comparatively small. Policyholders control the company but subject to the liability of the company to holders of surplus fund certificates to whom surplus would be paid to the extent of their certificate holdings in case business was discontinued. An adequate operating surplus is maintained and the company has shown some progressiveness of disposition and economy of management but policyholders have received no dividends and progress in general has been moderate although the company's financial strength has shown satisfactory gains in regularly increased reserves and assets. Investments have been well selected and are remunerative. Mortality rate has been satisfactory and the company pays death claims promptly. It writes both participating and non-participating policy contracts, using standard forms which include double indemnity and disability benefits.

THE AMERICAN OLD LINE INSURANCE COMPANY

Lincoln, Nebraska

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, 1903, in Nebraska, as a mutual company, with the name American Accident Insurance Company. Reincorporation, March 2, 1914, put it on a stock basis with an initial paid-up capital of $100,000. In 1915 the present name was adopted. Paid-in capital was increased, 1920, to $150,000 and after reincorporation, under the level premium law, the company began to write life insurance as well as its casualty lines.

Administration and Repute—This company's comparatively small volume of business in casualty insurance, was increased considerably, in 1920, by the addition of a life department. Its life business, in 1921, developed rapidly and, though the rate of increase fell off slightly in 1922, the business continued to show gains in 1923 from successful operation by a management progressively disposed. Assets are well invested, mostly in mortgage loans. The management is thoroughly experienced in health and accident underwriting as well as life insurance, and has been successful, although no dividends have been declared since payment of liberal ones in 1916 and 1917. The directorate, consisting of one member besides the company officers, owns the entire capital stock and controls the company. The Insurance Department of Nebraska examined the company in 1923. The agency plant is operated on the general agency plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and accident and health, including child's policies and joint life policies. Its life contracts include the benefits of disability and double indemnity. Colored risks are not written. Women are written on the same basis as men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $2,615,750.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term.

Officers—M. D. Hatch, president; W. A. Rankins, O. Hayward, vice-presidents; T. J. McComb, actuary; E. A. Holbrook, secretary and agency director; H. H. Wakeman, assistant secretary; M. D. Hatch, treasurer; C. A. Reynolds, M. D., medical director.

The Texas Insurance Department examined the company's condition as of December 31, 1923.

Administration and Repute—Since 1920, the Amicable Life has yearly made a very gratifying record with excellent increases in all important items of its statements in these recent years. In 1920, A. R. Roberts' connection with the company was completely severed and the company began to show immediate progress under the new executive direction. It had previously had a moderate growth. An initial dividend of $14,177 was paid to stockholders in 1911. Dividends paid to stockholders since organization, total $559,477 in cash. The company's surplus is adequate; investments well selected and remunerative except its real estate investments; expenses of operation and of business acquisition fairly moderate and mortality rate favorable. It has a good reputation for paying death claims promptly. Its business is written on the non-participating basis and policy contracts include double indemnity and disability benefits. Company operates its agency plant on both the general agency and managerial plans. Amount of loans outstanding to stockholders not officers, $106,800.

Class of Insurance Written—Life insurance in all usual forms and in addition coupon savings of policies on 20-payment life; joint life, contracts written on ordinary and 20-payment, also 5 and 7 year non-renewable policies. Women are insured on same basis as men if self-supporting. Colored risks are not written.

THE ASIA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Shanghai, China

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated in 1921, under the laws of Delaware, with a paid-in capital of $100,000. It writes no business in Delaware, its operations being confined to business in China and the Far East, with general management and home office in Shanghai, China. The Delaware Insurance Department's preliminary statement of condition as of December 31, 1922, reports on the Asia Life as follows: total admitted assets, $155,639; liabilities except capital stock and surplus, $50,158; capital paid-in, $100,000; income, $100,404; disbursements, $92,863; net risks in force, $1,575,647. C. V. Starr is president of the Asia Life, and W. R. Rice, vice-president and general manager.

ATLANTA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Atlanta, Georgia

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized September 26, 1916, in Georgia, as the Atlanta Mutual Insurance Company, and began business November 8, of that year, with an authorized and paid-in capital stock of $25,000. In February, 1922, the company's charter was amended changing the name to Atlanta Life and arranging for the increase of authorized capital stock to $100,000, all of which has been paid-in, $63,000 by sale of new stock and $12,000 by stock dividend of 1922. It is a company operated by and for colored people.

Administration and Repute—Officers of this company are negroes of considerable prominence in Atlanta. A. F. Herndon, president and treasurer, and several of his associate executives have been successful in other business and have considerable financial means at their command. Under their operation, this company has shown progress. Consistent gains in premium income have brought it a very substantial volume of business confined as yet to Georgia, and it is only industrial in character. It has some very good interest-bearing investments. Considering that business is entirely industrial, including sick and accident benefits, operating expenses are not unreasonable. It is reported to have branch offices in other cities of the State, and in general, is in good repute. The company is strictly proprietary and only non-participating business is transacted.

Classes of Insurance Written—Industrial life insurance, including sick and accident benefits.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, ordinary, $1,226,980; industrial, $10,106,610.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, New York standard for industrial.

ATLANTIC LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Richmond, Virginia

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, February 20, 1900, in Virginia, as the South Atlantic Life Insurance Company, and began business May 9, of that year, with a paid-in capital of $200,000 and $50,000 contributed to surplus. In 1910, stockholders contributed $34,221 to surplus. In 1912, consolidation of this company with the American National Life of Lynchburg, Va., effected an increase in capital to $300,000. In 1923 capital was increased to $500,000 by transfer of $200,000 from surplus to capital; authorized capital is now $1,000,000. The consolidated company adopted the name Atlantic Life and following reorganization in which stockholders of each of the amalgamated concerns exchanged their stock for stock of the Atlantic Life, it began business with a net surplus of $75,000. The company has a $200,000 reserve securities deposit with the Insurance Department of Virginia. Stock, par value, $100 a share; book value, December 31, 1923, $211.04. During 1923 the company entered the $100,000,000 class of insurance in force.

The company is a member of the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau, The Life Agency Managers and the American Life Convention, Association of Life Insurance Counsel, American Institute of Actuaries, American Service Bureau, American Medical Association, Association of Life Insurance Medical Directors, Tri-State Medical Association.

Administration and Repute—Under careful and progressive management, this company has made a good growth. Volume of business has increased steadily in recent years and financial strength has been further assured by substantial advances shown both in reserves and assets. Operating surplus is large. Dividends to stockholders were deferred until 1920 by a policy which first required the upbuilding of adequate surplus. Stockholders are in control of the company. There is no limitation as to dividends or what proportion of profits may be paid to them. Dividends paid to stockholders since organization total $122,000 in cash and $200,000 in stock. Business is conducted upon the mixed plan. The company's actuarial methods are of the best; its investments are well secured and remunerative; its operating and business acquisition costs are moderate, and its death rate has been low except during the influenza and penumonia epidemic. The company has an estimable claim-paying reputation. Both participating and non-participating policy contracts are written, including double indemnity and disability benefits. The year 1923 was particularly indicative of the progressiveness of this company. In this year appreciable increases were made in every item and the company closed its year with $102,023,085 of insurance in force, an exceptional record of achievement for a company in business only twenty-three years. The company conducts its agency plant on the general agency system. Colored risks are not written.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance in all usual forms of contracts and in addition the following on both the participating and non-participating plans: 25 and 30-year endowments; monthly income on ordinary and 20-payment life; endowments at age 65 with continuous premiums and premiums limited to 20 years. Single premium life and endowment and 5 and 10 year convertible term on non-participating plan only. Married women accepted at ages 20 to 50; unmarried, ages 15 to 60. BALTIMORE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Baltimore, Maryland

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized and began business March 27, 1882, in Maryland, under title Baltimore Mutual Aid Society of Baltimore City. Business was conducted on a co-operative and mutual aid basis until July 1898, when reorganization of the company authorized it to function as a mutual legal reserve institution. By Act of Maryland Legislature the company was reincorporated in 1900 under its present name.

The company is a member of the following organization: Baltimore Underwriters Association.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed and has done a substantial volume of business, both ordinary and industrial, with good success. Operating surplus has been ample and premium volume has shown a steady increase as have also the company's assets and reserves in which it now has excellent financial strength. Its management is capable and adheres to a sound and conservative policy of operation. Policyholders control the company and are permitted to receive all profits. Actuarial methods are of the best; investments are well secured and remunerative; death rate is satisfactory in view of the considerable volume of the companys industrial business. It has an estimable death claim paying reputation. It uses standard forms for ordinary policy contracts which include the benefits of disability but not double indemnity. All ordinary policies are on the annual dividend basis.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance: usual ordinary and industrial policies, and in addition a 25-year endowment policy. Disability provision is included in ordinary policies. BANKERS LIFE COMPANY

Des Moines, Iowa.

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was originally incorporated June 30, 1879, by Edward A. Temple and other bankers in Iowa as an assessment life association and continued as such until October 26th, 1911, when by charter amendment it became a legal reserve, level premium, mutual life insurance company, changing its name at the same time from the Bankers Life Asosciation to its present title. A further charter amendment in 1915 permitted the company to begin writing health and disability insurance. Prior to the amendment of the articles October 26th, 1911, the Association limited insurance on one life to a maximum of $6,000. The assessment members' rights and obligations continue to be governed by the original charter which was in effect at the time of reorganization. Under the terms of the assessment certificates the members pay for their insurance in quarterly calls. In the aggregate the certificates are in the nature of yearly renewable term contracts, modified by the application of certain special funds which are held and applied by thecompany for the exclusive benefit of the certificate holders. The life insurance contracts which the company has issued since October 26, 1911 are exclusively on the level premium legal reserve basis. Those reserves are held and pledged exclusively for the fulfilment of the legal reserve contracts, as required by law.

The Iowa Insurance Department made its last examination of the company as of December 31, 1922, and reported on it very favorably. The company is a member of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents.

Administration and Repute—The company has had a competent official staff guiding them since organization. Conduct of business with rigid economy has been a cardinal principle. Iowa insurance examiners recently stated that the company has never suffered a loss of either principal or interest on mortgage loans, nor has it been compelled to take over any property through foreclosure. Its growth has been notable both as an association, and since reorganization, as a company, due, chiefly, to economy of management, efficiency of method obtaining and retaining business, and to a low mortality which has been maintained from the first. Executive control of the company is highly centralized in a directorate of seven members. Control of their election is, however, in the hands of policyholders, each having one vote. All the contracts of the company are equitable and generous, including the benefits of disability and double indemnity. Rates charged for insurance and net returns to policyholders are favorable. Business is written through agency managers.

Classes of Insurance Written—Participating insurance is the only form transacted. Ordinary life, 20-payment life and 20-year endowment policies are written, and in addition, the following: joint on ordinary life, 20-payment life; 18-payment life; 25-payment life; life paid-up at 70; 25, 30, 35 or 40-year endowments; 20-payment, 25, 30, 35, 40-year endowments; endowments at age 60, 65, 70 or 75; semi-endowment at age 70, 5, 10-year term. Monthly income policies are also written. Disability and double indemnity features are optional. Women are also written at the same rates as apply to men; term insurance not written on women. Limit for women, $25,000; definite insurable interest is also required.

Sub-Standard—The sub-standard insurance policies are issued on prospects not eligible for standard insurance submitted by its own agents in the usual course of business, but no active canvass is made. The rates are based on a table showing a higher percentage of mortality than the standard table.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $498,969,554; assessment $212,660,000.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% select and ultimate since 1920; American 3½% full level premium prior thereto. Assessment certificates on yearly renewable term with 3½% interest.

Officers—George Kuhns, president; G. S. Nollen, vice-president; S. Casady, treasurer; W. S. Ayres, general counsel; R. B. Alberson, associate counsel; G. W. Fowler, secretary; J. E. Flanigan, actuary; E. M. McConney, assistant actuary; C. C. Blevins, superintendent of agents; F. I. McGraw, assistant secretary; R. W. Lincoln, Nebraska

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized April 6, 1887, in Nebraska, and began business May 6, of that year, with an authorized and paid-in capital of $100,000, at which it has since remained. There was no initial surplus. Stock, par value, is $100 a share. The company was examined as of December 31, 1918 by the Insurance Departments of Nebraska, Kansas, Wyoming, South Dakota and Iowa. The examination report was issued under date of February 22, 1919. In 1923 the company entered the $100,000,000 class of insurance in force.

The company is a member of the following organizations: Association of Life Insurance Presidents and Association of Life Agency Officers, American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—As one of the pioneer western life insurance institutions, this company has been well managed and successful. Volume of business is substantial and has shown a steady increase. The company has a substantial surplus and is financially strong in reserves and assets. Dividends have been paid to stockholders with regularity at 6% annually through 1913, and since 1914 at 8%; the total of dividends paid since organization, $244,760. Its stockholders control the company and proportion of profits payable to them is not limited. The company's investments for the most part mortgage loans, which yield well; business acquisition costs and operating expenses are low; actuarial methods used are of the best; mortality rate is very favorable, and the company has a good reputation for prompt payment of all claims. Insurance is written both on participating and non-participating plans, policy contracts complying with Insurance Department requirements; double indemnity or disability benefits are added by rider. A large part of the company business is on the deferred dividend plan. The year 1923 was a particularly noteworthy one in the progress of the company. It closed its books at the end of that year with good increases in every important item and had $100,441,168 of insurance outstanding. District agents and general agents are employed in the agency department.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on all usual forms of contracts and in addition, the following: single premium; deferred annuity; joint life on ordinary and limited payment forms; 20-payment life guaranteed 3% income; 10-year renewable term; children's endowments; instalment policies. Women are insured at same rates applying to men, on life and endowment forms, with limit $5,000.

BANKERS NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Denver, Colorado

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated in Colorado on August 28, 1922, with an authorized capital of $100,000. The organizers were Ray T. Blampied and Ralph R. Lounsbury, both of Lincoln, Nebraska. Mr. Blampied was Superintendent of Agents for the Union Life and Accident of Lincoln at the time of its sale and Mr. Lounsbury was Secretary-Treasurer of the same company, from January 1, 1919 until its final liquidation. In 1923, $50,000 was contributed to surplus by stockholders.

All the stock of this company was sold by Messrs. Blampied and Lounsbury personally in Nebraska. The stock has a par of $10 per share and was sold at $15 per share. As of January 31, 1923, the Colorado Insurance Department examined the accounts and found that all the stock had been subscribed for, that at least the par value of each subscription had been paid, and that the company was entitled to a license to do business. This license was granted as of January 31, 1923 at which time the company showed a paid-up capital of $100,000 and a surplus of $42,500, the other $7,500 having been used in the promotion of the company. On February 21, the company was licensed to do business in Nebraska. No other states have been entered nor contemplated entering for a few years. Both participating and non-participating policies are issued on the usual forms based on the Illinois Standard. There are approximately 80 stockholders in the company.

Mr. Boydston has had about 25 years selling experience in life insurance. Mr. Chambers was cashier of the Union Life and Accident for two years. Mr. Abel is president of the Abel Construction Company of Lincoln, Nebraska. Mr. Rohman is head of the Sanitary Towel and Laundry Company of Lincoln. Mr. Lounsbury is a graduate of Dr. Glover's insurance courses at the University of Michigan, served as State Actuary of Nebraska for two years, and worked under Mr. MacFarlane in the actuarial section of the War Risk Bureau. Mr. Blampied has been selling life insurance for sixteen years and has made a very satisfactory record as a large and persistent producer.

Officers—Ralph R. Lounsbury, president and treasurer; N. M. Boydston, Dr. Arthur L. Smith, vice-presidents; W. B. Chambers, secretary; A. L. Smith, M. D., medical director.

Directors—N. M. Boydston, Dr. Arthur L. Smith, Carl P. Rohman, Geo. P. Abel, R. R. Lounsbury, Roy T. Blampied, W. B. Chambers.

Classes of Insurance Written—Usual forms of life insurance contracts including single premium, annuities, monthly income, joint life and child's policies. Disability and double indemnity features are provided. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Basis—Participating, $1,437,000; non-participating, $325,500.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term.

Operates in Nebraska and Colorado.

BANKERS NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Orangeburg, South Carolina

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized June 17, 1919, in South Carolina, and began business in August of that year. Original authorized capital was $100,000, of which $95,595 was paid-in by December 31, 1922. Stock, par value, is $10 a share.

Administration and Repute—No financial statement for 1923 obtained. This company was organized to write both non-participating and participating insurance on the ordinary and industrial plans. In its first two years, it showed gains in premium income indicative of satisfactory progress in both classes. In 1921, the company did not make its financial status available for publication. Its 1922 financial statement indicates that it is continuing to write only industrial business, but is continuing to carry the ordinary business remaining on the books, which in 1921 was reported to be about four times the industrial business at that time. In 1922, the company purchased the National Life Insurance Company, a small local organization. Surplus was impaired in that year, $19,779. The company writes risks on negroes but on the participating plan only. Investments are mostly in mortgage loans which

THE BANKERS RESERVE LIFE COMPANY

Omaha, Nebraska

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, January 15, 1908, in Nebraska, and began business March 3 of that year, with a paid-in capital of $100,000 at which it has since remained. It had previously been in operation as a mutual legal reserve company under a reincorporation of 1903, having been originally incorporated in Nebraska as a stipulated premium company in 1897. Stock, par value, is $100 a share.

The company is a member of the following organization: American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed and has made good progress. B. H. Robison, president, in 1908, and his associate executives were thoroughly capable and with aggressive and sound practices initiated a precedent of success which has been carefully followed. Excellent financial strength has been built up, and business in substantial volume has increased with regularity although premiums showed a slight decrease in 1922, a good increase was made in 1923. Surplus is large. Dividends have been paid to stockholders since 1908 at the rate of 5% semi-annually. The total of dividends paid stockholders is, cash, $151,000. Its stockholders control the company and there is no limit to the proportion of profits to which they are entitled. Non-participating and participating insurance both are written. Generous dividends on the latter kind of business make a moderate net cost to policyholders. The company's investments are well secured and remunerative; actuarial methods are sound; operating and business acquisition costs are below average and the death rate is favorable. Claim settlements are made quickly. The company's reputation in general is excellent. In 1923 the company occupied its new home building, a modern structure in every detail.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance. Accident benefits are included in both kinds of policies issued. Participating insurance now written is all on the annual dividend plan. Policies contain standard provisions of Nebraska. In addition to usual forms of contracts the following are issued: single premium; 20-payment premium endowment; premium reduced one-half after tenth year; joint life on ordinary, 20-payment and 20-year endowment forms. Women are insured if self-supporting on the same basis as men but limit is $5,000 up to age 50. Risks accepted on married women if husband is insured for equal amount.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $867,361; deferred dividend, $20,692,973; non-participating, $62,209,137; paid-up and extended non-par, $1,967,830.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified and full preliminary term. Also actuaries 4%. Amounts outstanding, full preliminary, $4,590,824, modified preliminary term, $5,567,717.

BANK OF NEW YORK AND TRUST COMPANY

52 Wall Street, New York, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This company is a merger of the New York Life Insurance and Trust Company and the Bank of New York, two very old organizations. The New York Life Insurance and Trust having commenced business in 1830, formerly transacted a large annuity business. In the past two years, however, it has not transacted any new business, but on December 31, 1923 it had 300 annuities in force, representing an annual payment of $297,300. It is a very strong financial institution.

BANK SAVINGS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Topeka, Kansas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, October 1908, in Kansas, as the Bank Savings National Life Insurance Company. It began business in January 1909, with an authorized capital of $1,000,000 of which $200,000 was contributed to capital during that year and $84,375 paid in to surplus. In 1913, the company's present name was adopted. In 1921, it reinsured the Bankers Life Insurance Company of Olathe, Kansas, thereby taking over about $2,500,000 of insurance. Stock, par value, is $100 a share. Paid-in capital stock remains at $200,000

This company is a member of the American Life Convention and The American Institute of Actuaries.

Administration and Repute—This company has made good progress, especially in recent years. Its management is capable and aggressive and adheres to a sound and conservative policy of operation. The company is financially strong and has excellent backing. It is controlled by the stockholders who have received $96,000 in dividends since organization. Operating surplus is adequate. Excellent returns are realized on well secured investments. Actuarial methods are of the best. Operating and business acquisition costs are not high and the death rate is satisfactory. The company has an estimable claim-paying reputation. It writes non-participating business only using standard forms of policy contracts which include disability benefits. Its agency plant is operated on the general agency plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance, ordinary life, becoming endowment at age 85, and other usual forms; and in addition, 14, 19 and 25-payment life; endowments at age 60, 65 and 70, on both the 20-payment and continuous payment plans; monthly income policies on ordinary and 20-payment plans. Issues the usual double indemnity and total and permanent disability benefits. Women are insured on the same basis as men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $18,189,824.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, Illinois standard. Annuities 3½%.

BENEFICIAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Salt Lake City, Utah

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized May 10, 1905, in Utah. Joseph F. Smith was first president of the company. Business was begun June 1, 1905, with an authorized and paid-in capital of $100,000. Authorized and paid-in capital was advanced in 1912 to $200,000 at which it has since remained. Capital stock was entirely paid in at, par value, $100 a share. Stockholders never paid in any surplus. First dividend was paid in 1908. As of December 31, 1912, the company's industrial business was sold to the Peoples' Investment Company, who continued to conduct it at their own expense until December 28, 1914, when they sold it at a loss to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Administration and Repute—With very substantial backing and capable and enterprising management, the company has had a good growth. It was somewhat affected by the business depression of 1921, but advancing premium income of 1922 and 1923 again made plain the company's progressive disposition. Stockholders control the company. It writes non-participating insurance only. A substantial surplus has been built up entirely out of earnings. The company's investments, for the most part mortgage loans on real estate, are very remunerative; actuarial practices are of the best; business acquisition costs are low; operating expenses are about average; death rate is favorable. The company is in good repute for paying death claims promptly. Participating insurance was formerly written on the annual and deferred dividend plan. Since this form was discontinued in 1917, sufficient reserve has been maintained to take care of deferred dividend policy contracts remaining in force. Standard forms of policy contracts are used. They include disability and double indemnity benefits. Stockholders have received $261,000 in dividends since organization. Business is conducted on both the managerial and general agency plans.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance, all regular forms and also monthly income contracts on ordinary, 20-payment and 20-year endowment plans, annuities, single premium, monthly income, joint life, and endowment, and child's policies; women are insured on the same basis and at the same rates as men, policies including disability. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Deferred dividend, $6,366,700; annual dividend, $2,592,700; non-participating, $22,060,746.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% full level premium and modified preliminary term, Illinois standard. Reserves outstanding preliminary term, $2,438,631; modified preliminary Illinois standard., $628,429; level premium, $577,703.

Officers—Heber J. Grant, president; J. C. Cutler, first vice-president; L. N. Stohl, second vice-president and manager; E. T. Ralphs, assistant manager; A. B. C. Ohlson, secretary; Leo E. Penrose, assistant secretary; W. R. Calderwood, medical director; Young & Boyle, counsel.

Pittsfield, Massachusetts

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, May, 1851, in Massachusetts, as the Berkshire County Mutual Life Insurance Company. It began business September 4, 1851, and adopted its present title on May 28, 1855. In 1907, the company retired a guaranteed capital of $25,500 which it had had since organization, and continued operations on a wholly mutual basis.

The company is a member of the Life Insurance Presidents Association.

Administration and Repute—The Berkshire Life has been well managed and successful. Following its policy from the start of building slowly and soundly it has grown steadily and given protection of the very best kind with service of the highest character. Even in its pioneering days, this company was but slightly affected when disturbing fluctuations were causing heavy losses to some others in the business. Although not among the largest of the older companies, the Berkshire has always carefully selected applicants, judiciously invested funds and conservatively managed its affairs in such way as to have built up a company which ranks among the strongest. The company has always paid dividends regularly, and even before the retirement of its guaranty capital in 1907, had paid very liberal dividends to its policyholders. Premium income for the last decade shows steady increase. The company has an estimable group of general agents actively pushing its interests. Its plans of insurance are strictly modern, kept abreast of the needs of the insuring public and are made highly attractive in every respect. It has an adequate surplus, uses the best actuarial methods, has a favorable death rate and settles claims quickly and equitably. It has issued only annual dividend policies since 1906. Good increases were made in 1923 in which year the company continued its successful career. W. D. Wyman, president for many years died in 1923 and was succeeded by Winthrop Crane, Jr., under whom the continued success of the company is assured. The company operates under the general agency system.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance in ordinary and other usual forms and in addition the following: 19, 25 and 30-payment life; 25, 30, 35 and 40-year endowments; 20-payment 30-year endowments; 10-payment, 20, 25, 30, 35 and 40-year endowment; 15-payment, 25, 30, 35 and 40-year endowments; 20-payment, 30, 35 and 40-year endowments continuous and guaranteed instalments on life and endowment forms; 5-year term with automatic conversion in 1, 2, 3 or 4-years; joint life and endowment, single premium and monthly income. Colored risks are accepted. Women are insured at the same rates as men; limit $30,000.

BOSTON MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Boston, Massachusetts

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, April 18, 1891, in Massachusetts, as an assessment institution, and as such began business February 15, 1892. In 1899, it was reorganized on the legal reserve plan. Although mutual in method of operation, the company has had a guaranty capital authorized at $150,000 of which $105,100 of stock has been outstanding. In June, 1923, the company appropriated from its surplus a sum equal to its guaranty capital and redeemed the $105,100 of stock at par value. Up to its retirement, $80,654 had been holders in dividends. This redemption was approved by the Insurance Commissioner of Massachusetts. The company is now purely mutual. Dividends on the former guaranty capital were limited to 7% annually. The company's agency expenses were formerly borne by the Boston Securities Company under a contract entered into in 1906 which had official State approval. In June, 1922, a new contract, effective January 1, 1923, was executed with the approval of the Commissioner of Insurance of Massachusetts, under the terms of which a percentage of the premium income of the insurance company will be paid to the Boston Securities Company until a specified sum has been paid, when the contract will terminate. This new contract is believed to be far more satisfactory and fairer to both companies than the former one. The Massachusetts Insurance Department examined the company in 1923.

Administration and Repute—This company has built up an estimable reputation through its many years of sound business operation under able management. Conservative direction has made steady development and, on the whole, the company has shown solid progress. It is financially strong with assets and reserves showing regular and substantial increases. There is ample operating surplus which has in recent years also shown gains. A reduction in 1923 was due to the retirement of the guaranty capital. Premium volume has advanced steadily even through the period of the influenza pneumonia epidemic of 1919-21 when dividends to policyholders were suspended. These dividends were resumed in 1921 on ordinary business and 1922 on industrial business, payments being made on the 1918 scale. The company's investments are well secured and have yielded satisfactory returns; actuarial practices are of the best; and mortality rate is comparatively low although it was high through the influenza epidemic period. The company's reputation for prompt payment of death claims is excellent. The company writes both ordinary and industrial business, the former being entirely on the annual dividend plan. Standard forms of policies are used. They include the benefits of disability but not double indemnity.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance in all usual policies forms and in addition the following: 25-payment life; 25-year endowment; single premium life; single premium, 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35, 40, 45 and 50-year endowments; renewable and convertible term on the 5, 10 and 20-year plans, and children's 20-year endowments. Women are insured on the same basis as men in all except term insurance. Colored risks are written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $12,231,847; deferred dividend, $640,295; non-participating, $194,910; assessment, $154,400.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% and actuaries 4%.

Officers—Herbert O. Edgerton, president; Edward C. Mansfield, secretary and treasurer; Benjamin W. Rowell, comptroller; D. Perley Green, actuary; Robert King, superintendent of agencies; Dr. Percy G. Browne, medical director; Dr. Arthur H. Davidson, associate medical director; William A. Morse, counsel; Damon E. Hall, associate counsel; Patrick J. Lane, manager claim department; John Pierce, general agent, F. W. Yerxa, auditor.

BUILDERS MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

159 N. State Street, Chicago, Ill.

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, July 1, 1922, under the laws of Illinois, with an authorized capital of $200,000, divided into 8,000 shares par value, $25 each. Elmer E. Rullman, president of the board of incorporators, had associated with him on the board: A. N. Carnstenson, G. G. McDonald, J. G. Lewis, Edward G. Storms, F. E. Miller, W. W. Baker, G. R. Bleimes, C. O. Molander, M. D., Harry Erikson, J. O. Yerger, and L. H. Alexander, all of Chicago.

Administration and Repute—The company's charter provides for the writing of insurance exclusively on the lives of Masons, members of the order of the Eastern Star, True Kindred, Order of the Builders for Boys and De Molay. The charter further provides that it may insure lives of individuals, grant and dispose of annuities, insure against accident of persons, and sickness and temporary and permanent disability on both the mutual and stock plans. Dividends may be declared on stock, but must be limited at 10% of par value. The directors may return to stockholders the amounts which have been paid-up by them and make the company purely mutual if they deem it advisable. The company as of June 18, 1924, stated that it was not yet ready to begin business.

BUSINESS MEN'S ASSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA

Kansas City, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, June 28, 1909 in Missouri, as an assessment association, with the title Business Men's Accident Association of America, for the purpose of transacting accident and health insurance, on the mutual plan. In 1920, it was reincorporated under the level premium law, with its present title, and on a stock basis, having a paid-up capital of $150,000 and $50,000 surplus, supplied by sale of stock, par value, $100, at $133.33⅓ a share. It was at this time authorized to write life insurance also. Capital was increased in 1921 to $200,000 by a $50,000 stock dividend. Capital was increased in 1923 to $250,000 by a $25,000 stock dividend and by sale of new stock of $25,000 and $23,375 was paid in to surplus from premium on stock sold.

It is a member of the Life Agency Managers and the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau.

Administration and Repute—This company is well managed. It has a large premium volume derived mostly from its well developed health and accident business, but also considerably, now, from its growing life department. In recent years particularly the company has showed substantial advances in surplus, reserves and assets. Its actuarial methods are of the best, and its policy contracts meet Insurance Department requirements. Expenses of operation have been moderate and losses but slightly above average. The company has excellent backing and is in good repute generally. It is strictly proprietary in character. Notes for first year premiums are not taken. Renewal premiums may be paid by note, provided mortality cost for period of note is covered by cash security or cash payment. A joint examination by the Missouri, Kansas and Wisconsin Departments was made as of July 1, 1923. The report makes favorable mention of the company's record in paying claims and its alertness in filing claims. It operates its agency plant on the managerial plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life, and accident and health. Life contracts include all regular forms and in addition endowment at 60, ten-year term and paid-up at 60 65, and 70. With certain reservations policies are issued to women at the same rates applying to men. The company does not write colored risks.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $7,638,380; participating, $26,320.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term (20-payment life).

Officers—C. S. Jobes, chairman of board; W. T. Grant, president; F. G. Crowell, vice-president; J. H. Torrance, vice-president; A. W. Hogue, vice-president; J. E. Higdon, actuary; L. D. Ramsey, treasurer; A. J. Rieder, secretary; Daisy Baker, assistant secretary; J. C. Higdon, assistant secretary; E. J. Montague, director field service; L. L. Graham, chief claim adjuster; H. H. Sprinker and L. L. Smith, claim adjusters.

BUSINESS MEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY

Greensboro, North Carolina

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was capitalized with $100,000 paid-in, at the time of reorganization on a stock basis, July 22, 1920, when it also began writing ordinary life insurance. It was originally incorporated, December 21, 1910, in North Carolina, under the title Business Men's Mutual Casualty Company, for the purpose of writing accident and health lines only. It began business June 1, 1911, operating on the mutual plan. In 1917, the name was changed to Business Men's Mutual Life & Casualty Company, and it moved from Winston-Salem to Greensboro. At this time it began writing industrial life insurance.

Administration and Repute—The company does both participating and non-participating business, the latter about double the former in volume in force. The premium volume has decreased somewhat in 1921 but increases were made in 1922 and 1923 thereby resuming its successful progression. In recent years surplus, reserves and assets have been increased with regularity. Stockholders control the company. Since reorganization they have received $42,500 in dividends. Proportion of earnings payable to them is not limited. The company's investments are sound and remunerative. It has a backing of good character and is generally in high standing. Its business is industrial and includes life, accident and sick benefit. All business is written through agency managers.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on ordinary and industrial forms, the latter including health and accident coverage.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%.

Officers—J. W. Money, president; Julian Price, vice-president; Leeds W. Coit, secretary and treasurer.

Directors—J. W. Money, Julian Price, W. T. O'Donohue, Ralph B. Colt, R. C. Kelly, J. S. Duncan, Julius W. Cone.

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, December 10, 1910, in California, and began business January 1, 1912, with an authorized and paid-in capital of $500,000. Stock, par value, $10, was sold at $20 and $25 a share, and promotional expenses were large. Since sale of original stock no additional surplus has been paid in. In 1916, the company assumed $4,097,000, worth of business through its reinsurance of the Amarillo National Life of Amarillo, Texas.

The company is a member of the following organizations: American Life Convention, Life Agency Officers Association.

Administration and Repute—This company has been built up soundly and steadily to a notable position among Western organizations of its class. Under capable and progressive management it has had a good growth. It writes non-participating insurance only and is controlled by its stockholders. Dividends of $60,000 each have been paid to stockholders in the last three years; total dividends paid them since organization, $300,000. Mortgage loans comprise the greater part of its investment securities from which an excellent yield is realized. The company's actuarial practices are of the best; its operating and business acquisition costs are fairly moderate. Its mortality rate is satisfactory. It has an estimable claim-paying reputation. Standard forms of policy contracts are used, including double indemnity and disability benefits. The company

CAPITOL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, July 1, 1905, in Colorado, and began business July 25, 1905, with an authorized capital of $200,000, which was increased to $250,000 on October 16 of that year. In 1907, the fully paid-in capital of $250,000 was reduced to $100,000 by transfer of $150,000 to surplus, which reduction was reversed by a stock dividend of $150,000 in February, 1923. During 1905 and 1906 $62,500 was paid into surplus by stockholders. In 1918, $100,000 was contributed to surplus which has subsequently been returned with interest. In 1917, the life business of the Bankers International Life Assurance Company, of Denver, was reinsured by the Capitol Life. The Insurance Departments of Colorado, Wyoming and Arizona examined the company in 1924. Stock, par value is $100 a share.

The company is a member of the following organization: American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed and in the past decade has not failed to show a substantial premium increase annually. In premium volume it entered the million-dollar class in 1919, and continues to progress. It has ample surplus and is financially strong with steadily increasing reserves and assets. High class interests have unquestionable standing in back of the company. Its stockholders exercise control over it and no limit has been placed on the proportion of earnings payable to them. Dividends paid to stockholders, since organization, $45,500 in cash and $150,000 in stock. The company's operating and business acquisition costs have been moderate, investments well secured and remunerative, actuarial practices of the best and death rate satisfactory. It is in good repute for prompt payment of death claims. Standard forms are used for policy contracts which include the benefits of double indemnity and disability. The company ceased writing participating business in 1920, since then writing only on a non-participating basis. The company is strictly proprietary and all dividends belong to stockholders. The general agency plan is in operation. In 1923 contract was let

CAPITAL SAVINGS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Columbus, Ohio

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized November 19, 1921, in Ohio, and began business January 2, 1922, with $200,000 capital authorized and $100,000 paid-in. Stockholders contributed an original surplus of $50,000. During 1922, capital was increased to $100,570. In 1923 capital was increased to $100,670 and $50 was realized as premium on new stock. Stock, par value, is $10 a share.

Administration and Repute—In its initial year of business, this company developed a moderate but solid volume of business. Continued progress was made in 1923 and a good volume of business was written. Among the management's aggressive measures of business stimulation two have been especially notable, namely the basing of contracts upon the American 4% interest table which the company's actuary early pointed out would result in a lower premium and hence a lower cost of insurance to the policyholders, and another departure from prevailing methods in the full use of publicity and advertising. The company's investments are well secured and remunerative. Actuarial methods are sound Operating and business acquisition costs have not been unreasonable for an initial year of business. No mortality loss at all was experienced in the first two years. The company is generally in good repute. It was examined in 1923 by the Ohio Insurance Department. The company operates its agency organization on the general agency plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life, endowment and term policies, including disability and double indemnity clauses. Annuities are written. Women are written on same basis as men. Colored risks are not written.

Columbia, South Carolina

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, April 14, 1902, in South Carolina, as the Carolina Insurance Casualty Company, and began business at once, with a paid-in capital of $25,000. Capital increased: 1912, to $50,000 by $25,000 stock dividend; 1913, to $75,000 also by stock dividend; and 1918, to $100,000 again by stock dividend. The company's present name was adopted in 1912. Stock, par value, is $100 a share.

Administration and Repute—Since its reorganization, on a stock basis, in 1912 this company was managed in such a way as to show a steadily advancing premium income until in 1920 it was operating with a large volume of business in the million dollar class, but the general business depression of 1921 caused a decrease of premium volume which continued in 1922 and 1923. Progressive disposition of management is denoted by the substantial advances made annually in reserves and assets. Surplus has remained practically the same for the past few years with a slight increase noted in the five year period. Liberal dividends were paid in 1911, 1912 and 1915, and a small one in 1917. Investments are high grade and remunerative. The company has sound backing and is in excellent repute generally. Total dividends to stockholders since organization cash, $33,500; stock, $75,000.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life, sick benefit, health and accident; ordinary, 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowment; 20-payment life guaranteed return premium; monthly income; continuous installment, 5, 10, 15 and 20-year tenewable term. This company was organized April 26, 1906, in Iowa, and began business June 1 of that year, with $100,000 authorized capital and $25,000 paid-in to each of capital and surplus. Capital was subsequently paid up in full as follows: 1909, to $50,000, with $9,875 contributed to surplus; 1919, to $100,000. The company is a member of the American Life Convention and the Life Agency Officers' Association. Though not a large company, development has been of solid character and steady. Surplus is ample and financial strength evident in substantial and for some years annually increasing assets and reserves. Stockholders control the company. Both participating and non-participating insurance are written, principally the latter. The company has paid stockholders $62,000 cash dividends since organization. Its investments have yielded a good return; its actuarial practices are of the best; operating and business acquisition costs are moderate and its mortality rate has been comparatively low. It has an estimable reputation for prompt payment of death claims. Participating policyholders get their

CENTRAL LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES

Des Moines, Iowa

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized February 18, 1896, in Iowa, and began business on the mutual legal reserve basis February 20 of that year. Reorganization as a stock company was effected February 10, 1902, with a capital stock of $25,000 paid-in and $100,000 authorized. By 1905, entire authorized capital was fully paid-up. In 1907, authorized capital was increased to $500,000. Paid-up capital advanced to $200,000 in 1916, by stock sold at par $100 a share. Mutualization of the company again went into effect May 15, 1919, by process of reinsuring all of the stock company's business in a new mutual company formed with the same name expressly to absorb the former. The Insurance Department of Iowa examined the company in 1923 and issued a commendatory report upon it.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed and successful during its career both as a stock and a mutual organization. During the former regime, over the period 1902-1919, stockholders received cash dividends, totalling $189,483. It does a substantial volume of business, premium income having increased steadily since organization and with greater rapidity in the past decade. It has a large operating surplus and is finan cially very strong with reserves and assets of large proportions. Its policyholders exercise control over the company. Actuarial practices are of the best; investments have been very remunerative; operating and business acquisition costs have been fairly moderate and mortality rate has been low. The company is in excellent repute for prompt payment of death claims. Its policy contracts are up-to-date and attractive, including in their coverage the full benefits of disability and double indemnity. It writes participating insurance only on the annual dividend plan. The general agency plan is in vogue.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on all regular forms of life and endowment policies and in addition the following: 25-payment life; 20- and 30-year endowments; endowments at age 65; a child's endowment. Term and

CENTRAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF ILLINOIS

Central Life Building, Chicago, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized April 12, 1907, in Illinois, and began business April 15 of that year, with $100,000 capital paid-in and $200,000 capital authorized. Capital stock, par value, $20 a share and selling at from $30 to $50 a share, was fully paid up with increases as follows: 1908, to $106,720; 1909, to $113,960; 1910, to $117,740; 1911 to $123,300; 1912 to $200,000, and in 1921 to $300,000 by a $100,000 stock dividend. The company originally absorbed the business of the Central Life Assurance Society, which had operated in Illinois on the assessment basis since May 29, 1905. In 1923, the company moved from Ottawa, Illinois to Chicago.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed and successful with a steady and persistent growth. Reputable interests stand back of it. It writes both non-participating and participating insurance. Control is in the hands of stockholders. Profits to them are limited to 5% annually, payable out of surplus earnings other than mortality savings, one-third of which is directed by charter to be set aside annually as a fund from which stock dividends can be paid. The 1921 stock dividend of $100,000 was paid out of this fund. In recent years, the company had regularly paid stockholders the limit of 5% dividend permitted. Total of dividends paid them, since organization, in cash, $148,784. The company is financially strong with good reserves and assets. It has ample surplus and premium income fair in volume, has advanced steadily in the past decade. Its investments are of a high type and very remunerative; actuarial practices excellent; operating costs, very reasonable and business acquisition expenses moderate. The mortality rate is favorable and the company is in good repute for prompt payment of claims. Participating policyholders are favored in the net cost of their insurance.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on all usual forms and in addition on the non-participating plan it issues: 18-payment life; 14 and 20-payment life with endowment option; 20-payment life guaranteed premium reduction or endowment option; gold bond annuity on 20-payment and 20-year endowment forms; 10-year convertible term; monthly income policies; joint life policies and children's policies. Women are insured with restrictions on limited payment life and endowment forms only. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, $23,672,250; Non-participating, $19,171,154; deferred dividend, $31,000.

CENTRAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Fort Scott, Kansas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized December 12, 1906, in Kansas, and began business April 1, 1907. It operated as a mutual legal reserve company but maintained a guaranty capital of $100,000, until it was retired in 1911. Since then, the company has been on a wholly mutual basis.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company has had a slow but satisfactory growth under a conservative management of considerable experience. Premium income fell off slightly in 1922, after having increased annually for a number of years. In 1923 the increase in premiums was very substantial and enabled the company to increase its assets, reserves and surplus. Operating surplus is adequate and the company has satisfactory strength in assets and reserves. Its operating and business acquisition costs have been above average. Investments are well secured and remunerative. Mortality rate has been low and the company has earned an excellent reputation for prompt payment of death claims. It writes only participating contracts to which disability and double indemnity provisions may be added; all insurance being on the deferred dividend plan. The legality of a general overwriting commission contract claimed by a former officer is now being contested in court it having been denied by the company. Notes are taken not exceeding reserve except "Blue Notes" for renewal premiums at discretion of home office. The company is a general agency one. It was examined in 1923 by the Kansas Insurance Department.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance, ordinary and other usual forms and in addition a "special investment increasing insurance' 20-payment policy which form comprises about 90% of the company's present business; monthly income policies, joint life policies, annuities. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating deferred dividend, $12,302,841.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% full preliminary term.

Officers—(Geo. W. Marble), president; C. D. Sample, vice-president; R. S. Tiernan, secretary and treasurer; E. E. Lyon, assistant secretary and actuary; C. F. Young, medical director; W. W. Padgett, counsel; J. T. Mayall, superintendent of agencies; D. Sharpe, manager loan department.

Directors—Geo. W. Marble, R. S. Tiernan, E. E. Lyon, R. J. Harris, C. D. Sample, W. W. Padgett, D. Sharpe.

Operates in Kansas and Missouri.

CENTRAL STATES LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

St. Louis, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized June 5, 1909, in Missouri, was ready for business, November 4, 1910, and actually began business January 2, 1911. Original capital authorized and paid-in was $300,000, with $270,000 contributed by stockholders to surplus. Capital has been advanced to $400,000 at which it now stands, the largest single year's contribution amounting to $65,000 in 1921. The Central States Life has reinsured the following companies: in 1914, the Wabash Life of Danville, Illinois, and the Aegis Life of Denver, Colorado; in 1916, the Central National Life of Lincoln, Nebraska, which turned over to the Central States Life more then $10,000,000 of business outstanding. Stock, par value, is $5 a share.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention, Life Agency Managers Association and Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed. It has strong financial backing as well as an able executive staff. James A. McVoy, vice-president and general manager, and George Graham, vice-president, are particularly experienced in life insurance, the former having been 12 years with the Missouri Insurance Department, and the latter for a number of years actuary of the Illinois Department. A solid volume of business has been built up with steadily increasing premium income until the business depression of 1921 caused a slight decrease. However, in 1922 and 1923, premium volume resumed its normal rate of increase and progress was made in these years in every department. The company is strong in assets and reserves and has an adequate though small operating surplus. Its investments are well secured and very remunertive. Actuarial practices are of the best. Operating and business acquisition expenses are moderate. Mortality rate is low and the company is in good repute for prompt payment of death claims. The bulk of its business is non-participating although it writes also annual dividend plan. Disability and double indemnity are included in policy contracts. The company was examined in 1923 by the Missouri Insurance Department.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on all usual forms and inaddition the following: continuous instalments on ordinary and 20 payment life plans; ideal protection life income' 10-payment and 15- and 20-year endowment; non-participating 10-year term policy; single premium; monthly income, joint life, child's policy. Colored risks are not written. Women are insured on same basis of rates as men with 25 cents extra per $1,000 of insurance for waiver of premiums and $1.50 extra for women of premium life income and maturity as endowment at age 60 for disability.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $44,185,035; annual dividend, $11,780,290; deferred dividend, $859,000; $52,570 assessment assumed.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term except certain reinsured business on American 4%.

Officers—Frank P. Crunden, president; George Graham, vice-president; James A. McVoy, vice-president and general manager; V. F. Larson, secretary; Dr. H. Jacobson, medical director; E. M. Grossman, general counsel; G. P. Henderson, assistant secretary; C. R. Goodrich, assistant actuary.

Directors—Warren Goddard, John H. Gundlach, P. F. Willis, V. F. Larson, Homer E. Shaw, Hugh Stephens, Frank P. Crunden, James A. McVoy, E. M. Grossman, Cyrus Thompson, Geo. Graham, J. W. Bray.

Owens, president, was the principal organizer. There were no promotional expenses. This company was purchased in 1924, by interests identified with the Peoples Life of Frankfort, Ind., with which it is now being consolidated.

Administration and Repute—This company is well backed and has an experienced management of progressive disposition. T. J. Owens, president; Claude T. Tuck, secretary; and Dr. Albert Seaton, vice-president and medical director, were formerly identified with the Meridian Life of Indiana which was taken over by the Pan-American Life in 1916. Stockholders exercise control of the company. It writes only non-participating insurance. Under careful and conservative management, the company has shown a solid development and substantial growth. Premium income fell off slightly, due to the business depression of 1921, but salient gains in 1922 and 1923 reestablished its progressive precedent. Operating surplus is small. Reserves and assets have been successfully increased annually since organization. No dividends have yet been paid. Investments have yielded a satisfactory return. Operating and business acquisition costs have been above average. Actuarial practices are excellent. Officially approved policy contracts are used. They include disability and double indemnity benefits.

CHICAGO NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Chicago, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized November 26, 1920, in Illinois, having made the required deposit of $100,000 with the Insurance Department and thereby licensed as a legal reserve life institution. Authorized capital stock was $100,000 divided into 10,000 shares, par value $10 each, and sold as follows: 5,000 shares at $20; 2,500 shares at $25; 2,500 shares at $30, thereby producing the capital stock of $100,000 and premium on sale of stock, $137,500. Of the total sales 25% was allowed for promotional expenses, or $59,375. The net surplus to the company at the time of being licensed was therefore, $78,125. On January 24, 1921, by approved charter amendment, authorized capital was increased to $300,000, divided into 30,000 shares, par value $10. These new 20,000 shares continue in process of sale with selling expenses limited to 15%. The Chicago National Underwriters Company is the fiscal agent for the company on the sale of its stock and has the exclusive agency for the sale of life insurance for the company. The majority of its stock is owned or controlled by the Chicago National Underwriters Company. No life insurance was written by the company during 1920 and 1921. It began business January 22, 1922. During 1922 capital was increased to $137,000 by stock sale on which $74,000 was realized for surplus and in 1923, to $140,000 and $5,990 was paid into surplus. The company a short time later bought the business of the Gary National Life amounting to $4,250,000. The company was examined by the Illinois Insurance Department as of December 31, 1922.

Administration and Repute—Relative to the company's business activities and methods of development, the Illinois Department has made the following statements: The expenses of the company had been paid by the Chicago National Underwriters Company, the amounts disbursed being credited against the unpaid stock subscription notes signed by the Chicago National Underwriters Company, which had subscribed to a large part of the original authorized stock of the Chicago National Life Insurance Company.

On March 17, 1922, the company entered into a contract with A. L. Whitmer, appointing him general agent in Illinois and agreeing to appoint him as general agent in other States when entered. The contract provides for a first year's commission of 90% on whole life, 20 payment life and 20 payment life guaranteed option policies, 50% on term policies and on all other policies and the first year's commission shall be the same amount in dollars and cents as is paid upon the 20 payment life policies of the same age. Nine renewal commissions of 10% each are provided for in the case of all except term policies, no renewals being paid on term business. The above is based on a minimum annual production of $2,000,000 of new insurance. It is further agreed that Whitmer shall pay the operating expenses of the company up to 10% of the first year's premiums, which will, of course, operate to reduce the above first year's commission rate. Following the Insurance Department report in 1922, the company's directors voted a decrease in official salaries which was put into effect and made retroactive. In its first annual statement of premium income, the company showed a good initial volume. This was considerably augmented by a substantially increased business in 1923 over double that of 1922. Marked progress was as well noted in insurance written, insurance in force; reserves, assets and surplus showed a decrease. Assets and reserves are satisfactory and operating surplus is adequate. Investments yield a good return. Actuarial methods are sound. All business is written on the non-participating basis. Standard policy forms are used with optional disability and double indemnity benefits. The company operates through general agencies.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance. All ordinary contracts, both continued and limited payment, mature as endowment at age 85. It writes all usual forms and also the following: single premium; joint life; whole life, 10, 15 and 20 year endowments; and 20-payment life with guaranteed options. Women are insured except on term policies on the same basis of rates as men. Colored risks are not written.

Reserve Basis—American, 3½%, (Illinois standard) all Chicago Life business; American 3%, (Illinois standard) on participating Gary Life business; American 3½%, on non-participating Gary Life business; annuities American 3½% on Gary business.

Officers—A. L. Whitmer, chairman of board; Soren T. Corydon, president; T. Frank O'Connell, secretary and treasurer; L. D. Mathias, vice-president.

CHURCH LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

14 Wall Street, New York City, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized in 1922 by the Trustees of the Church Pension Fund to offer life insurance at cost to the clergy and lay workers of the Episcopal Church. It employs no agent and has practically no administrative expense, and can therefore offer insurance at the rates which the United States Government offers to soldiers and sailors in its converted war risk insurance. The applicant for insurance pays his medical fee of $5.00. The limit on a single risk is $10,000. The company has a capital stock of $100,000 and a surplus of $55,000 paid in.

Administration and Repute—While the company has not been in business for a sufficient time to pass judgment on its general business standing, the Church Pension is in high standing and there is no question but that with this backing the Church Life will be run on a sound basis, paying all benefits promptly. Henry Moir is the consulting actuary.

CITIZENS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

New Orleans, Louisiana

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized November 22, 1920, in Louisiana, and began business January 1, 1921, with an authorized and paid-in capital of $10,000. Stock, par value, $10, was sold at $12.50 a share, thus supplying $2,500 initially to surplus. A $10,000 stock dividend in 1923 increased the capital to $20,000.

Administration and Repute—This company is operating on a very small scale, writing industrial business only. It is controlled by its stockholders and no limit has been placed on the proportion of profit payable to them. In 1922 and 1923, a cash dividend of 10% was paid to stockholders. Assets and premium income increased in 1923 but insurance in force decreased owing to heavy lapsation.

Classes of Insurance Written—Industrial life, health and accident insurance. Women are written up on the same basis as men. Colored risks are accepted.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Industrial, $705,148.

Reserve Basis—Actuaries 3½%.

Officers—John W. Engelhardt, president; Chas. A. Desporte, vice-president; Jules Labanca, secretary; Martin Kron, treasurer; Sinclair E. Allison, actuary.

CLEVELAND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Cleveland, Ohio

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized September 26, 1906, in Ohio, and began business August 27, 1907, with an authorized capital of $500,000 and an initial paid-in capital of $125,000 (shares are $100, par value), the stock being sold at the uniform price of $150 per share. In June, 1909, William H. Hunt, became president and at once assumed control of the company's affairs. Additional capital was provided by President Hunt and his immediate associates, no stock being offered the public. $75,000 was issued at $160 per share and $50,000 at $200 per share. By 1912, $250,000 capital had been paid in and a total of $159,940 to surplus. In 1918, the authorized capital was reduced to $250,000. In 1923 capital was increased to $375,000 by $125,000 stock dividend. At the same time authorized capital was increased to $500,000. In 1913, The Cleveland Life reinsured the outstanding business of the Great Northern Life of Toledo, Ohio, obtaining approximately $1,000,000 of insurance in force by this transaction. In 1918, The Intermediate Life of Evansville, Indiana, was reinsured. The Cleveland Life acquired in this latter deal approximately $8,000,000 of insurance in force and $800,000 in assets.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention and American Institute of Actuaries.

Administration and Repute—This company has persistently developed through the careful and conservative practices of an able and aggressive executive staff, headed by an eminent business man and student of life insurance, Wm. H. Hunt, president. The company is financially strong with most substantial reserves and assets, both showing large annual increases. Operating surplus is ample and premium income has advanced steadily since organization and very vigorously in recent years. An initial dividend of $15,000 was paid to stockholders in 1921 and duplicated in 1922 and 1923. Its stockholders (chiefly the company's board of directors) control the company and it writes both participating and non-participating insurance. The interests of all policyholders are carefully considered in the competent administration of the company's affairs. A safeguard, characteristic of this soundness of management, is the company's extra funds held for future policy liabilities. The company has confined its operation to seven adjoining, middle western states, which has been advantageous in many respects. Investments have been most carefully selected, with excellent results in remuneration. President Hunt is authority for the statement that no losses have been sustained either of principal or interest since the company's beginning. Actuarial methods are of the best. Operating and business acquisition expenses have been below average. Mortality rate is low and the company has an excellent reputation for prompt payment of death claims. Standard forms are used for policy contracts which are fair, equi-

CLOVER LEAF LIFE AND CASUALTY COMPANY

Jacksonville, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized August 30, 1911, in Illinois, to take over the assessment plan business of the Mutual Health and Accident Company, of Jacksonville, Illinois. Initial paid-in capital was $100,000, with $20,045 surplus. Capital increased: 1915, to $125,000; 1919 to $200,000 and in 1922 to $220,000, and in 1923 to $250,000 and $42,000 was paid into surplus as premium on new stock sold. As of September 1918, this company reinsured the accident and health business of the Clover Leaf Life Insurance Company which was formerly the Peninsular Guardian, of Detroit, Mich., and August 26, 1919, it reinsured the life business of that company also. Stockholders paid in $22,400 to surplus account in 1921. In 1923, officers of the Clover Leaf bought the controlling interests in the American Bankers Life of Chicago and reinsured its industrial business. The American Bankers being continued as a separate organization transacts an ordinary life business. Stock, par value is $10 a share.

Administration and Repute—This company is well managed and writes a substantial volume of business, both participating and non-participating, but mostly the latter. Its commercial accident and health operations are conducted both on monthly and weekly payment plans, the latter being largely of recent development. Its life department was not organized, until 1919. Since organization it has steadily increased its volume of business therein. Underwriting operations in the casualty department for the past decade, show a small loss. Expenses have never been excessive and losses have been low. The company has an estimable loss paying record. Its investments, mostly mortgage loans are very remunerative. The directors, in 1921, owned $116,995, par value of the $200,000 capital stock. The Illinois Insurance Department, examined the company in 1920. Business is written through general agencies. In 1924 the company added a weekly premium department to those of monthly and ordinary.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life, and accident and health. Life policies include the benefits of disability and double indemnity. Its life policies include all regular forms and in addition 20-payment coupon policy; 20-instalment convertible and non-renewable 10 and 20-year terms; single premium life or endowment; joint life policies; monthly income policies and children's policies. Policies on women are limited to $5,000 and exclude term insurance, but otherwise are at same rates as apply to men. Colored risks are written on weekly premium policies.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans Non-participating, $8,730,939; participating, $804,250.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, Illinois standard.

Officers—F. H. Rowe, president; W. C.

COLONIAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA

Jersey City, New Jersey

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized November 22, 1897, in New Jersey, and began business January 24, 1898, with an authorized capital of $100,000 of which $100,000 was paid-in. Authorized capital was increased to $150,000 in 1901; to $250,000 in 1902; to $400,000 in 1904; to $450,000 in 1907. Paid-up capital is now $450,000, increases having been made as follows: $50,000 in 1902; $100,000 in 1904; and $200,000 in 1922. Of the 1922 capital stock increase, $175,125 was assumed out of surplus. Surplus payments and dates have been as follows: 1898, $69,250; 1899, $121,125; 1900, $119,625; 1901, $162,800; 1902, $188,800; 1903, $138,400; 1904, $170,000; 1905, $155,000; 1906, $130,000; 1907, $130,000; 1908, $70,000; 1909, $90,000; 1910, $51,125; 1911, $60,000; 1918, $150,000. A large surplus contribution amounting in all to $1,806,125 has been made by stockholders. Of this surplus they have had returned to them in 1912, $10,000; in 1916, $121,000; in 1920, $75,000; and in 1921, $75,000. Stock, par value, is $100 a share.

This company is a member of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed and has met with success and progress satisfactory to its stockholders who have liberally contributed surplus funds mostly for the development of its industrial business. Strong interests back the company; in reserves and assets it is of itself financially strong and its managerial staff is capable and experienced in adhering to a conservative business policy of solid progress.

All policy contracts have been written on the non-participating plan since 1906. Some industrial policyholders have been receiving dividends since 1903 on participating policies issued prior to 1906. The company's actuarial practices are of the best. Investments are very well secured and remunerative. Operating and business acquisition costs are moderate. Death rate is low in view of the fact that the company's business is largely industrial. The company is in good repute for prompt payment of claims. It issues an up-to-date and attractive policy contract which on ordinary business does not include double indemnity and disability. Business is conducted on the managerial plan and dividends to stockholders since organization total $90,000.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company issues ordinary, group, intermediate and industrial policy contracts of most modern kind including the usual forms of life and endowment policies; weekly income, child's policy; disability and double indemnity features. Women are written up on the same basis as men. Colored risks are accepted.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $4,424,203; deferred dividend, $935,000; industrial, $62,630,054.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% full level premium and also modified preliminary term; actuaries 4% prior to 1901; American 3% August 18, 1904 to December 31, 1907 ordinary industrial; standard industrial 3½%. Amounts outstanding full level premium, $5,212,703; modified preliminary term, $146,500.

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized 1902, in Ohio, and began business September 1, 1903, with a paid-in capital of $100,000 and $25,000 contributed to surplus. Capital increased: 1904, to $105,000 with $1,250 to surplus; 1905, to $133,800 with $10,930 to surplus; 1906, to $168,550 with $76,750 to surplus; 1907, to $174,- 400 with $3,845 to surplus; 1908, to $176,200 with $1,375 to surplus; 1909, to $178,200 with $14,540 to surplus; 1910, to $181,439 with $11,000 to surplus; 1913, to $181,700; 1914, to $181,800 with $100 to surplus; 1916, to $192,350 with $10,550 to surplus and 1922 to $200,050 after a contribution to surplus of $26,300, in 1919. The company has reinsured the following: 1904, the Inter-State Life Insurance Company, Cincinnati, Ohio; 1914, the Appalachian Life, Bristol, Va. Stock, par value, $100 a share; book value January 1, 1923, $148.94.

Administration and Repute—This company has been conservatively managed. Business volume in life department has been about the same in recent years; in accident and health branch premium volume has decreased. Underwriting operations for the past decade have been profitable; $50,781, including $20,005 in 1923, dividends have been paid since organization to stockholders. Growth in financial strength is evident in the steady advances of reserves, assets and in recent years of surplus. Its actuarial methods are of the best and its investments are high grade and remunerative. Expenses have been slightly above average but losses low. Substantial interests are back of the company and its reputation in general is excellent. The company operates upon the general agency plan. Notes are taken for premiums not to exceed reserve value on policies. Not over ten per cent in dividends on par value of capital stock may be paid annually by vote of directors. The company was examined in 1923 by the Ohio Insurance Department.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life, and accident and health. Business is written both on annual dividend and non-participating plans; on the former, in addition to all regular forms, it writes single premium life and endowments, 20- and 30-years; 20-payment and 20-year endowment coupon policies. Its non-participating include 5- and 10-year convertible term. On both plans it writes instalment, joint life and monthly income policies. Restricted policies are issued to women.

1922, to $500,000. All premium on stock or paid-in surplus returned in 1922. Stock, par value, $100 a share. It is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed. Its organizer and present president, C. W. Brandon, has been its director since organization. It has built up a substantial premium volume, mostly in its life department. Underwriting experience of accident and health department shows a small net loss for the past decade. Surplus is ample, and like assets and special reserves, has been increased with regularity. Dividends to policyholders has made their insurance costs moderate. The company's high grade investments have been profitable; its actuarial methods are of the best; operating expenses are moderate and losses low. Stockholders control the company. They are limited in dividends to 10% annually and this rate has been paid, totalling since organization, $213,683. The company is generally in good repute. It was examined jointly in 1923, by the Ohio and Oklahoma Insurance Departments with favorable comment. Its agency organization is operated on the direct agency plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and accident and health. On the annual dividend plan, the company writes all usual forms and in addition the following: single premium life; 30-payment life; 10-, 15-, and 20-year endowments; convertible 5- and 10-year term; special whole and 20-payment life, premiums reduced first 5 years; specific endowment; endowment at 65; perfected endowments at 60, 65 and 70; monthly income on usual life policies adjusted for 20 years or longer. Women are insured identically as men except that disability clause is withheld.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, $56,900,039.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term.

Officers—C. W. Brandon, president; W. B. Carpenter, vice-president and medical director; D. E. Ball, secretary and actuary; S. A. Hoskins, treasurer and counsel; C. W. Brandon, superintendent of agencies.

COMMERCIAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated February 10, 1922, with an authorized capital of $50,000 fully subscribed, and 20% paid-in. Stock was sold from $20 to $37.50 per share. The company began business September 23, 1922 with $10,000 paid-in and had on December 31, 1922, $20,000 capital paid-in, and $14,228 was advanced by the incorporators for operating expenses. Capital increased during 1923 to $39,968 and $23,234 was advanced by original incorporators. The mode of organization was that the ten original incorporators fully subscribe to all stock paying the full 20%. The company then sold at the option of the insured to each applicant one share of stock for each $1,000 of insurance. The original incorporators included F. H. Uehling, president and former assistant secretary of the Commonwealth Life of Nebraska, J. L. Enloe, E. B. Munson, W. K. Bramwell, Wilmer Lyons, the present officers and directors and O. L. Holland, E. E. Norquist, A. J. Conrad and F. E. Byers, who have since disposed of their stock. The company proposed to write life insurance on the stipulated premium basis, but changed to legal reserve insurance.

Administration and Repute—This company was organized by reputable business men experienced in the life insurance business. Promotion expenses were advanced by the original incorporators amounting thus far to $37,462.

Additional information on other pages; detailed statements in Compendium Section; Statistical History in department Life Insurance history; Gains and Losses in Gain and Loss Exhibit.

It has had a commendable growth in insurance in force. Acquisition expenses are high because the company is still in what might be termed the organization period. Sound actuarial practices are in vogue and no losses have been incurred. The company is conducted upon the mixed proprietary plan but all profits belong to stockholders to whom there is no limitation as to profits. The company operates its agency plant upon the managerial plan. It is chartered under the stipulated premium laws but operates upon a legal reserve basis. It writes life insurance in all the usual forms but includes within its policies double indemnity and disability insurance. Women are written upon the same basis as men.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary and limited payment life, endowment, single premium, income and children's policies.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $645,500; participating, $1,093,500.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term Illinois standard.

Officers—F. H. Uehling, president; W. K. Bramwell, J. L. Enloe, vice-presidents; Welmer Lyons, secretary and treasurer; R. Montague Webb, actuary.

Directors—F. H. Uehling, J. L. Enloe, Wilmer Lyons, Fritz Schallert, W. K. Bramwell Virgil Coans and Herbert Hinck.

COMMONWEALTH LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Louisville, Kentucky

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized in May, 1904, in Kentucky, and began business June 1, 1905, with an authorized capital of $200,000, and par value of stock $100 a share. At the end of 1906, which was the company's full calendar year of business, it had $148,143 capital paid-in. In 1907, paid-in capital advanced to $200,000. In 1908, authorized capital was advanced to $500,000; par value of stock was reduced to $10 a share. Paid-in capital thereafter increased as follows: 1908, to $214,053; 1909, to $223,676; 1910, to $224,309; 1913, to $413,265; 1914, to $213,765; and 1915, to $500,000. In 1922, paid-in capital advanced to $1,000,000. Total surplus paid-in by stockholders, $254,688. In 1922, Colonel J. D. Powers, who had been president of the company since organization, was at his own request elected chairman of the board of directors and Darwin W. Johnson was elected president.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company has strong financial backing, is well managed and accordingly has been successful and made good progress, the more notable in view of the fact that a large part of its business is industrial insurance. Stockholders control the company and the proportion of profits payable to them is not limited. The company control is rather closely held. Premium income reached the million annual class in 1919 and has since continued to show substantial yearly gains. Financial strength in reserves and assets is excellent. The company paid its first dividend to stockholders in 1913 and since then has paid very liberal dividends annually, the total since organization being, cash, $557,064. The company's investments are well secured and have yielded satisfactory rate of interest; its actuarial methods are of the best; operating and business acquisition expenses are fairly moderate. It has a satisfactory death rate and is in good repute for paying claims promptly. Its ordinary business is on participating and non-participating plans; industrial business is on the latter plan only. On December 31 last, there was $60,310 in loans outstanding to directors or other officers and $128,250 to stockholders not officers. The company is a general agency company.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on non-participating basis except ordinary and 20-payment life coupon policies. Besides the usual forms, it writes 10, 15 and 20 limited payment life and 10, 15 and 20-year endowment, and ordinary life non-participating policy and term policies which are non-participating and non-renewable without examination. Women are insured on all plans except term at same rates as men.

Group Insurance—The company transacts this class of business in moderate volume.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—

COMMONWEALTH LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY*

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized September 1, 1909, in Nebraska, and began business August 9, 1910, with an authorized capital of $1,000,000. Promotional expenses of nearly 20% of the funds collected deterred the licensing of the company by the Nebraska Insurance Department which considered 15% sufficient allowance. But after executive reorganization, in which Sherman Saunders succeeded E. M. Fairfield as president, the company obtained a license. A proposed merger with the Royal Indemnity Company did not materialize. The paid-in capital at the end of 1914 was $169,255. This was reduced in 1914 to $100,000 (likewise the authorized capital) at which it has since remained. This reduction was effected for the purpose of placing the company on a dividend earning basis. A prorata return of a part of the surplus was made to stockholders at the same time. Stock, par value, is $10 a share. Prior to June 1, 1920, the company wrote both participating and non-participating insurance.

Administration and Repute—This company was merged in 1924 with the Standard Life of Illinois, controlling interest having been purchased by interests identified with that company.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on all usual forms of contracts and in addition 20-payment life premium reduction; 20-payment life premium reduction with endowment option; convertible 10- and 20-year term; continuous monthly income on ordinary and 20-payment life; joint policies and ordinary paid up at age 70. Women are insured at same rates as men on all forms, the premiums on which are equal to or exceed 20-payment life, provided equal amount of insurance is carried by husbands. Payment of premium must in all other cases be made from insured's own income.

*Merged as of December 28, 1923 by the Standard Life of St. Louis, Mo., which see.

THE CONNECTICUT GENERAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Hartford, Connecticut

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized June 26, 1865, in Connecticut, and began business in October of that year, with an authorized capital of $1,000,000. With par value, $100 a share, $250,000 capital stock was paid-in and a like amount contributed in the form of endorsed notes, but these notes turned back in 1857, thereby reducing paid-in capital to $250,000. Capital was reduced, in 1880 to $150,000 by retirement at par of $100,000. In 1910, capital was increased to $300,000 by sale at par, of $150,000 new stock; in 1912, to $400,000; in 1919, to $800,000, by sale of new stock at $200 per share, and in 1922 to $1,000,000, by issue of $200,000 stock at par. By charter amendment of 1921, the authorized capital is now $5,000,000. The company began writing health and accident insurance in 1912, and A. P. Woodward was made secretary of the accident department. He had had experience as head of the claim department of the Travelers Insurance Company. Stock, par value, $100 a share; book value, January 1, 1923, $328.30.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—Under competent and efficient management, this company has progressed successfully through very profitable operations. It is one of the largest concerns doing a combined life and casualty business. Business is written both on participating and non-participating plans since 1900. Each is recorded separately, on the company books, which show that dividends paid to stockholders all have been taken entirely from profits on the non-participating business. Business in both life and casualty branches has advanced steadily in the past decade. Underwriting operations of the latter, however, have resulted in a loss, due, for the most part, to the large increases necessary to meet reserve requirements. Expenses, in this branch, have been above average, but losses moderate. Expenses of entire management, cost of new business and losses in aggregate have been low. The company has built up a large surplus, is financially very strong and has powerful backing. Its dividends to stockholders have been very moderate and those to policyholders have made their net insurance cost low. With its accident and health department, in addition to life, the company is able to give very broad coverage in its policies. In recent years it has increased its writings in group insurance. The directors of the company are eminent financiers and insurance men. The company has in general an excellent reputation. Business is written chiefly through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and health and accident, non-cancelable accident and disability, group life and disability. The commoner kinds of policies are issued and in addition the following: 17- and 18-payment life; life paid up at 60, 65 and 70; 19, 25, 30 and 35 endowments; endowments at 75; 15-, 20-25-, 30- and 35-year 10-payment endowments; 20 payment endowment at 70; insurance to age 55, 60 and 65, income plan; all regular forms on monthly and yearly income plan; joint life on regular forms; single premium life; child's policy. On the non-participating plan: 5-, 10- and 20-year term, life 20-payment endowment additions and 20-payment insurance to ages 55, 60 and 65; monthly income. It also writes group life insurance and unrestricted policies on women. Colored risks are accepted. Premiums accepted on monthly payment plan.

Group Insurance—This company writes group insurance under the following general plan on minimum group of fifty. Individual risks: minimum $500, maximum $5,000. No individual insured for more than 2½ times the average amount allotted for other members of the group. New employees automatically insured upon completing the waiting period. Insurance terminates with employment except when totally disabled, temporarily dismissed or given leave of absence. Provision is made for conversion of policy on termination of employment. Premiums payable annually or in instalments. The company reserves the right to readjust premium rates at the end of every five-year period. Educational and health pamphlets are furnished families of the insured to promote better living conditions. Grace period, thirty-one days; incontestable after one year; total and permanent disability benefits granted before age 60.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $453,439,138; annual dividend, $90,360,634.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% full level premium since 1901 and 20-payment endowment in 1899 and 1900; actuaries 4% prior to 1901; American 3% on certain policies; group insurance—American men table 3½%; annuities—McClintock's 3½%.

Officers—R. W. Huntington, president; G. E. Bulkley, vice-president; R. H. Cole, secretary; W. H. Flannigan, R. W. Grant, assistant secretaries, Life Department; C. G. Woodward, financial secretary; S. G. Huntington, assistant secretary; A. P. Woodward, secretary, Accident Department; E. B. Peck, assistant secretary; Geo. CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, June 12, 1846, in Connecticut, and it began business December 15 of the same year. It has always been a legal reserve company and purely mutual in plan of operation. Success began early in its long career and for many years the Connecticut Mutual was the largest life company in the country. When Tontine policy contracts came into vogue with their attraction of bonus dividends for those who lived out the term specified in the policy, the Connecticut Mutual positively refused to consider issuing such forms of policies which it opposed as being derogatory and damaging to insurance as a great and beneficial institution for public service. The company has in every respect been consistent in its soundness of operation throughout its long career as the seventh oldest concern of its kind in the United States.

Administration and Repute—Good management gave this company an exemplary degree of success and progress in the early days of life insurance development in this country. A substantial volume of business was built up, and in the first decade of the twentieth century it was maintained due to continued careful management and smooth running operations. During this period, premium income showed no decreases but increases were comparatively small. In contrast to this quiescent term of business, the company's progressive disposition in the past decade, to date, has been productive of salutary gains, annually. Premium volume has been doubled. An ample surplus has been regularly increased and the continued upbuilding of assets and reserves makes the company financially strong beyond question. Policyholders are in control and the company writes participating insurance only. In 1911, efforts were begun to locate a considerable number of lost policyholders or their beneficiaries. The company has benefited to a large degree as a result of the change it made in 1882 from its reserve basis of 4% to the 3% table. The company's investments are diversified, well selected and remunerative; actuarial methods are of the best. Its management maintains an economy of operation, which has been obvious throughout its entire history of careful action always in the interests of its policyholders. Business acquisition costs are also low. Mortality rate is low and the company has an estimable reputation for prompt payment of claims. Liberal dividends have been paid to policyholders, with great regularity; for example, they received a total of $2,679,519 in 1923. The company's policy contracts have official sanction, are up-to-date and attractive and include the benefits of disability and double indemnity. All policies are on the annual dividend basis. Net cost of insurance to policyholders is low.

The Insurance Department of Connecticut examined this company in 1923; the following is the final conclusion contained in the Department's report:

"The examination consisted of a detailed verification of the assets and liabilities, a thorough analysis of the accounting methods and an investigation of the general management and the policy of the company in the treatment of its policyholders. It is my conclusion that the assets are amply secured and conform to statutory requirements, the liabilities are correctly computed, the accounting methods are sound, and the treatment of policyholders is commendable."

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on all regular forms of contracts, including annuities and in addition the following: 19, 25 and 30-payment life; 25, 30, and 35-year endowments; endowments at ages 60, 65, 70 and 75; 2, 3 and 4-year initial term; 5 and 10-year term; continuous instalment and monthly income policies written on several forms. Women are insured on the same basis of rates as men.

Sub-standard Insurance—The Company writes a general sub-standard business charging a non-participating extra premium.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $491,808,962; non-participating, $1,139,889; post mortem dividend, $155,695.

Reserve Basis—American 3% full level premium since 1882, prior thereto, actuaries 4%; annuities McClintock's 3½%.

Officers—Henry S. Robinson, president; James Lee Loomis, vice-president; Herbert H. White, treasurer; Robert L. Fisher, assistant treasurer; Jacob H. Greene and Harold F. Larkin, secretaries; Franklin H. Searle and Harold N. Chandler, assistant secretaries, Harry I. B. Rice, actuary; William P. Barber, Jr., associate actuary; Leslie R. CONSERVATIVE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA

122-4 South Main Street, South Bend, Indiana

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized March 23, 1910, in Indiana, and began business February 18, 1912, with $250,000 authorized capital. In 1918, par value of capital stock was reduced from $10 to $5 a share, causing thereby also a reduction in authorized capital to $125,000. Paid-in capital at the end of the initial year of business was $90,790. Further increases in capital were as follows: 1913, to $110,985; 1914, to $129,725; 1915, to $145,050; 1916, to $147,750; and 1917, to $148,950. In 1919, capital was reduced to $100,600, at which it remained until 1922, when it was increased to $100,800. In 1923, capital was $100,805 and during that year $25,321 was contributed to surplus, making total contributions to surplus since organization $483,068. In 1914, an entirely new management succeeded the company's original staff. Over $450,000 was contributed to surplus by stockholders prior to 1922. The original stock selling plan included a provision for refunding the premium paid in on capital stock and purchasers received guaranteed participating certificates which stated the company's repayment obligations in consideration of which each certificate holder was bound by agreement to furnish a certain number of names and addresses of good prospects for insurance. Refunds under the plan have been made as follows: $5,386 in 1914; $1,297 in 1915; $979 in 1916; $1,921 in 1917. In 1918, and annually since, stockholders have waived this refund. The Insurance Department of Indiana examined the company as of December 31, 1920. Stock, par value, is $5 a share.

Administration and Repute—This company's growth has been slow, mostly due to the heavy expenses of its early development incurred prior to 1914. Since the present reputable management assumed control in that year conservative development has resulted from progressiveness of disposition. Stockholders control the company and it writes non-participating insurance only. Premium income has advanced annually in recent years. Increases were made in 1923 in premium income insurance written and in force, assets and reserves. A relatively large increase in reserve liability caused a decrease in surplus which latter item was reduced thereby to $1,004. This is hardly adequate. Stockholders have received cash dividends totalling $9,581 since organization. The company's actuarial methods are of the best. It has well selected and remunerative investments. Business acquisition costs are moderate but operating expenses have continued above average. Mortality rate is fairly satisfactory and the company is in good repute for paying claims promptly. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. They include the benefit of double indemnity and disability. The company conducts its agency force through general agencies.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on all usual forms and in addition the following: 30-payment life; 25-year endowment; 20-payment probable life endowment; monthly income on ordinary and 20-payment forms; 20-payment with coupon premium reductions; joint whole life; convertible term, 5-, 10- and 20-year; junior whole life; 10-, 15- and 20-payment life; and 20-year endowment and monthly premium. Women are insured on same basis of rates as men except on term policies. Colored risks are not solicited.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $16,850,520.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term; infantile policy on standard industrial 3½%.

CONSERVATIVE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Sioux City, Iowa

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized March 18, 1919, in Iowa, and began business April 5, 1920, with an authorized and paid-in capital of $100,000 and a surplus of like amount produced by the sale of stock, par value, $50 a share at double par. Promotional expenses were limited to 2% and no commissions at all were paid as sale of stock was entirely handled by the company executives.

Administration and Repute—Capable and experienced insurance executives are directing the activities of this young company with economy of management and progressiveness of disposition. Business volume is small but has increased yearly since organization. Insurance in force was well over one million dollars at the end of 1923. The company has a satisfactory surplus. Its investments are well secured and fairly remunerative. Actuarial methods are of the best. Mortality rate is low; in 1922 and 1923 there was no loss from mortality. The company is generally in excellent repute. It is proprietary in character and all profits belong to stockholders. No dividends have as yet been paid. The company operates on the general agency plan. Through legislation secured at the direct instance of the company it is empowered by Iowa laws to hold in trust the proceeds of its policies which become claims by death and administer them as may have been agreed upon between the company and the insured. This law conforms to the Connecticut and Vermont statutes relating to the same subject.

Classes of Insurance Written—This company has made a point of developing a comparatively large number of policies especially suited to the needs of a large classification of insurers. It is an exponent of detailed service and accordingly has devised its contracts simply but as widely inclusive in special features as possible. The company issues non-participating policies on a 3% reserve basis. The policy contracts guarantee dividends on paid-up insurance and were prepared by Miles M. Dawson. Among the 22 policies issued are the usual forms of life and endowment policies, monthly income, single premium and term policies. Colored risks are not written. Maximum amount written, $25,000; retained, $5,000.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $1,333,000.

Reserve Basis—American 3%, modified preliminary term; deferred survivorship annuities.

Officers—Burton H. Saxton, president; C. P. Kilborne, vice-president; T. M. Murdock, secretary and treasurer; L. R. Campbell, superintendent of agencies.

Directors—Burton H. Saxton, T. M. Murdoch, C. P. Kilborne, J. A. West, E. H. Williams, I. E. Nervig, J. C. Powers.

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, December 28, 1906, in West Virginia, and began business May 1, 1907, with an authorized capital of $500,000. Capital paid-in during 1907, $73,800. In 1907 the company reinsured the business of the Conservative Mutual Life & Endowment Company which had been operating as an assessment association since 1905. In 1909 the stockholders reduced the authorized capital to $150,000, but it was again increased to $500,000 in 1910. Increases in capital have been shown at intervals and in 1921 the total paid-up was $350,690. In 1922 this was reduced and appeared in the company's statement for that year at $345,440. Surplus contributed by stockholders prior to 1922 amounted to a total of $384,500. Stock, par value, is $10 a share.

Administration and Repute—This company has operated under management of considerable experience and has made rather conservative, but satisfactory progress. Premium income has been advanced steadily in the past decade, and volume of new business was uniform and continued to increase through the general depression of 1921, when the company suffered somewhat from lapsation. Stockholders are in control of the company and it writes non-participating insurance only. They have received, in cash dividends, since organization, a total of $17,862. Operating and business acquisition costs have been slightly above average. Surplus is adequate. Investments have been well selected and yield good returns. The company maintains a high standard of actuarial practice. Its death rate has been satisfactory and it is in good repute for prompt payment of claims. Standard forms are used for all policy contracts. They include disability and double indemnity features and have the approval of the Insurance Department. The company operates on the general agency plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on the usual forms and in addition the following: 20, 30 and 40-year endowments, 10-payment, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; 15-payments 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; single premium life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; convertible term 5- and 10-years and a specialty "multi-form" policy; the latter specialty is issued on ordinary, 10, 15 and 20-payment form, 10, 15 and 20-year endowments, and 5-year term; joint life is also included in the specialty form. Women are insured without any fixed policy regarding them except as to limit of $5,000 and 55 years of age and the exclusion of disability. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $27,192,864.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, ordinary life basis and Committee of 15 and full level premiums. Annuities, American 3½%. Amounts outstanding; net level, $543,043; Committee of 15, $78,869; modified preliminary term, $1,679,155.

CONTINENTAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Wilmington, Delaware

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized June 6, 1907, in Delaware, and began business September 11, of that year, with an authorized capital of $1,000,000. The first years capital paid-in was $100,180. Contributions to capital were thereafter made annually in substantial amounts which brought the capital in 1919 to $675,950. In 1920, it was reduced to $654,490, and again in 1921 to $651,010 which however, did not include $27,600 of issued treasury stock. In 1922, $37,000 was paid-in to capital which with the $27,600 treasury stock made total paid-up capital $715,610. In 1923, $28,680 was added to capital making same $732,580 and $28,680 was paid-in to surplus. In 1923, stockholders had contributed to surplus a total of $668,119. Initial dividend was paid in 1913. Since then stockholders have received dividends annually. Stock, par value, is $10 a share. The Delaware Insurance Department examined the company as of December 31, 1920.

The company is a member of the Life Agency Managers Association and the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed and successful. Interests of strength and high standing are in back of the company and its executive staff is capable and thoroughly experienced through the connection its president and vice-president had for a number of years as general managers of a well known and successful life insurance business in Wilmington, known as Burnet and Saulsbury. The Continental Life is controlled by its stockholders and the proportion of profits payable of them is specified by the directorate. The company has had a rapid and sound growth, a notable evidence of which is the fact that it has paid very liberal dividends to stockholders; the total paid them in cash, $789,999. It has, moreover, built up an unusually large operating surplus and in financial strength of reserves and assets it is unexcelled. Efficient management has reduced operating expenses and business acquisition costs to a low average. The company has excellent investments which have been well selected and remunerative. It uses the best of actuarial methods. It is in good repute for prompt payment of death claims. Mortality rate has been unusually low. Policies issued, all on the participating plan except term, which is non-participating, are attractive and include disability but not the double indemnity feature. Both the managerial and general agency plans are used in the operation of its agency plant.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance; all regular forms and in addition, life paid-up at 65; endowment at 85; 25 and 30-year endowment, 10-year term, monthly income, joint life and child's policies. Women are insured without restrictions but disability applies to only those who are self-supporting. Colored risks are not written.

Sub-Standard Insurance—This company transacts this insurance upon the following plan: Sub-standard risks are classified into three groups, namely, Class A, Class B, and Class C. For each class there is a special schedule of premium based on the expected additional mortality over and above the normal. Cash values and paid-up values are the same as under standard policies but no extended insurance is granted under sub-standard policies.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, $42,206,518; non-participating, $5,220,293.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term (ordinary life); some policies on American 3½% full level premium.

Officers—P. Burnet, president; G. E. Saulsbury, vice-president; James A. Fulton, vice-president (in charge of agencies); Adolph A. Rydgren, vice-president and actuary; O. E. Simpers, treasurer; D. E. Jones, secretary; R. Vaughn White, assistant secretary; George W. Geddes, assistant actuary; Dr. P. W. Tomlinson, medical director; W. F. Kurtz, general counsel.

CONTINENTAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

St. Louis, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

The Pioneer Life Insurance Company of Kansas City, Missouri, was incorporated July 1, 1907, and on December 31, 1919 was merged with the Continental Life of Salt Lake City, Utah, and the Globe Life of Salina, Kansas. The capital stock of the merger was officially fixed at $490,000. The charter of the Pioneer Life was retained but the name changed to the Continental Life Insurance Company, a Missouri corporation with the same officers who had managed the Pioneer in active management of the Continental. The company then had $31,000,000 of insurance on its books. At the annual meeting of the board in January, 1922, the following prominent business and insurance men of St. Louis became identified with the company's management: E. P. Melson, P. M. Harper, C. D. Bolin and C. G. Revelle. This group had acquired about 42,000 shares of the company's total of 49,000 shares of the capital stock. Early in 1922, the home offices were moved from Kansas City, Missouri to St. Louis. Stock, par value, $10 a share.

In 1923 interests identified with this company acquired control of the First National Life of Pierre, South Dakota. The company was run as a separate organization until early in 1924, when the final merger of the companies was approved by the Insurance Departments. Other companies which have been merged with the Continental are the Missouri Mutual, Mutual Union, American Life and Accident, Commonwealth Life, Missouri Republic Life, Interocean, Universal and St. Louis National.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention and the American Institute of Actuaries.

Administration and Repute—Since the reincorporation of this company in 1919, the management has shown a progressive disposition. Premium volume has shown substantial gains annually and has more than doubled in the period. Operating surplus is ample and in reserves and assets there is satisfactory financial strength. The new stockholders who acquired the controlling block of stock mentioned above, received trust certificates for it, the stock itself being trusteed on deposit with the Liberty Central Trust Company of St. Louis for ten years, beginning with March 1, 1922. This action was taken as part of the policy of economy, efficiency and safety in administration of the company's affairs on a sound, stable and profitable basis. Stockholders control the company and the proportion of profits payable to them is fixed by the directors. Investment are well secured and remunerative; actuarial methods are of the best; operating and business acquisition costs fairly moderate; mortality rate is satisfactory. The company writes both participating and non-participating policies which include disability and double indemnity features and in every respect conform to Insurance Department requirements. The company operates upon the general agency plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on all usual forms including term policies also. Women are insured, except on term policies, on the same basis as men, but the disability feature is included at higher rates. The company issues the following policies: preferred risk, monthly income, joint life, child's policy, group policies. It issues a special surgical operation and dismemberment benefit with its policies. Colored risks are not written.

Sub-Standard—The company accepts substandard insurance, charging an extra premium for impaired risks. Reinsurance is not accepted.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $34,428,637; annual dividends, $11,018,103; deferred dividends, $2,736,791.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% Illinois standard modified preliminary term with allowances for excess guarantees. Except that new annual dividend policies are American 3% modified preliminary term Illinois standard.

Officers—Edmund P. Melson, president; Charles D. Bolin, vice-president; Pickens M. Harper, vice-president; J. DeWitt Mills, secretary; Louis Marks, H. H. Graham, George H. Finger, assistant secretaries; L. A. Newman, auditor; C. A. McConaghy, actuary; Dr. C. R. Dudley, medical director; B. H. Manning, manager health and accident department.

COTTON STATES LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Tupelo, Mississippi and Nashville, Tennessee

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized December 5, 1911, in Mississippi, and began business January 27, 1913. Initial capital authorized was $150,000 with par value of stock fixed at $10 a share. In 1915, the company reinsured the business of the Globe Life of Jonesboro, Arkansas. In 1917, the executive headquarters were moved to Memphis, Tenn., the home office however, remaining at Tupelo, Mississippi. Authorized capital was increased to $500,000. Increases in paid-up capital placed it in 1920 at $256,750. In that year it was reduced 50% by reducing par value of stock to $5 per share and transfer of $128,375 to surplus. Paid-in capital has since remained at $128,375. Stockholders have contributed to surplus the total amount of $313,507 which includes the transfer from capital in 1920. In 1924 executive offices were transferred to Nashville, Tennessee.

Administration and Repute—This company has been managed by executives of considerable experience in insurance, and in the case of its president, in other lines of financial and business endeavor as well. Its secretary was formerly for many years with the home office of the Southern States Life and prior to that he was connected with the Mutual Life of New York. The company does a moderate volume of business which has been slow but sound in upbuilding. Premium income fell off considerably in 1921, due to the business depression, but regained its progressive trend in 1922. The company has satisfactory financial strength of reserves and assets. Surplus is ample. The company's investments are sound and return good yields; its actuarial methods are of the best and its death rate has been satisfactory. Operating costs and expense of business acquisition have been above average, for the most part due to its industrial writings. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. They include double indemnity and disability features. It writes ordinary, intermediate and industrial insurance, all on the non-participating plan. The district agency plan is in vogue. Insurance departments of Arkansas, Tennessee and Mississippi jointly examined the company in 1923. It is strictly proprietary in character, all profits belonging to stockholders. $5,000 was loaned last year to directors or other officers, and on December 31 last $23,600 loans were outstanding to directors or other officers and $20,000 to stockholders not officers.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on all usual forms, and in addition, the following: a guaranteed reducing premium policy on the ordinary and 20-payment life plans; 20-payment life with pure endowments additions; endowments at age 60 with life option, and endowments at age 75 with half premiums for the first 10 years; convertible term 5, 10 and 20-year; joint life; monthly income policies on ordinary and 20-payment forms, the income to continue certain from 6 to 20 years as provided; continuous monthly income, ordinary and 20-payment life, and preferred risk policies. Disability and double indemnity features are not granted on term and joint policies. Women are insured: ages 10 to 55; limit $25,000 on limited payment and endowment plans; disability feature not granted. Colored risks are written through the intermediate department.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, ordinary $5,562,361; intermediate, $467,442.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term. American 4% full term; industrial American 4%.

This company was organized, August 30, 1906, in South Dakota, on a mutual basis, with the name Dakota Mutual Life Insurance Company. It began business September 6, of that year. Reincorporation, February 26, 1909, changed the company to a stock basis with $300,000 authorized capital and adoption of its present title. In 1909, $117,500 was paid in to capital. In 1910, it was increased to $154,620 and in 1911 to $200,000 at which it remained until stock dividend of $100,000 in 1917 increased it to $300,000. It has since remained at that figure. The authorized capital is now $500,000. The Insurance Departments of South Dakota, North Dakota and Montana examined the company as of December 31, 1920. Stock, par value, is $10 a share.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company has been successful under a management of ability, progressive disposition and experience. A substantial volume of business was built up with steadily advancing annual premium incomes prior to 1921, when there was a slight decrease due to general business depression. In 1922, premium volume showed a return to its customary increase and business in general to its normal trend. Successful operations in 1923 resulted in reasonable increases in the leading items. Annually since 1910, the company has paid liberal dividends to stockholders, the cash total for the period being $264,890, as well as the $100,000 stock dividends above mentioned. The stockholders control the company. The proportion of profits to which they are entitled is limited to earnings on capital and from the non-participating business. All insurance is now written on the non-participating plan. Formerly some participating business was written. The company is financially strong in reserves and assets. Surplus is adequate. It maintains a high standard of actuarial practice. Investments are very remunerative and well secured. Operating and business acquisition expenses are fairly moderate. The mortality rate has been satisfactory except for the increase caused by the influenza-pneumonia epidemic. The company has an excellent reputation for paying death claims promptly. Standard forms are used for policy contracts which include double indemnity and disability features and comply thoroughly with Insurance Department requirements. During 1923, $10,000 was loaned to directors or other officers and $24,000 to stockholders not officers and on December 31 last there was $34,883 outstanding to the former and $121,610 to the latter. The company operates on the general agency plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on usual forms and in addition the following: single premium ordinary; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15, and 20-year endowment; 30-year endowment; endowment at age 65; 20-payment return premiums; joint life; term policies, 5, 10 and 20-year. Women are insured on the same basis of rates as men, but limited to $5,000. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $3,577,535, non-participating, $19,450,622.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% full level, modified preliminary and preliminary term basis. Amounts outstanding: preliminary term, $2,247,563; modified preliminary term, $161,-897: net level premium, $126,317.

Officers—John B. Hanten, president; John W. Martin, D. M. Bannister, vice-presidents; J. J. Bell, vice-president and actuary; F. L. Bramble, secretary-treasurer; H. B. Bossert, auditor; H. M. Finnerud, medical director.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention and the Des Moines Underwriters Association.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed and has had a good growth. It suffered rather heavily in the falling off of premium income and lapsation of business due to the general depression of 1921. In 1922, it showed a gain indicative of resumption of its progressive trend, continued prosperity was effected during 1923. Acquisition of the Preferred Risk gives the company a new impetus for further progress. The company is substantially backed, and in its own reserves and assets, financially strong. It is economical in operation and in the acquisition of business. Operating surplus is adequate. A high standard of actuarial practice is followed. Investments are well secured and very remunerative. Mortality rate is satisfactory and the company is in good repute for prompt payment of death claims. Standard forms are used for policy contracts which include the features of disability and double indemnity. Stockholders control the company and all business is on the non-participating plan. DETROIT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Detroit Life Building, Detroit, Michigan

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized August 1, 1910, in Michigan, and began business January 14, 1911. Initial authorized capital was $250,000. In 1911, $191,402 was paid-in to capital and in 1912, it was increased to $206,821. In 1913, capital was reduced to $105,000 and the reduction was transferred to surplus. In 1922 paid-in capital stood at $150,000, since 1913, having been increased as follows: 1917 to $130,653; 1918 to $129,150; 1919 to $129,600; 1920 to $135,600; 1921 to $143,848; 1922 to $150,000 and in 1923 to $184,034. Since organization, stockholders have contributed to surplus a cash total of $439,604. Stock, par value, is $50 a share. The Michigan Insurance Department examined the company in 1921. The shareholders of the Detroit Life Insurance Company at a special meeting held at the home office, Detroit, March 15, 1922, voted to increase the capital stock of the company from $150,000 to $1,000,000. This increase is due to the rapidly expanding business of the company, and will permit the extension of the business into other States. The Detroit Life now occupies its new ten-story office building on the corner of Park and Columbia avenues, Detroit. During 1923 officials of this company acquired control of the North Atlantic Securities Corporation a holding company organized to purchase life insurance companies and effect mergers. Recent reports state that this corporation has been abandoned.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention, Michigan Association of Life Insurance Companies, the Life Agency Managers Association, and Association of Life Insurance Presidents.

Administration and Repute—This company has been successful under an able management of progressive disposition, efficient administration practices and an aim to make it a company of exceptional service. The company has shown steady and sound progress in advancing its premium income annually since organization and with especially substantial increase in recent years, notwithstanding the general business depression of 1920-1921. The executive staff in charge of operations is particularly well qualified by wide experience in the business. M. E. O'Brien, president, was formerly a general agent of the Northwestern Mutual Life. J. D. Baty, secretary, was also for many years connected with the Northwestern Mutual Life and F. H. Watson, vice-president and general counsel, was formerly with the Michigan State Life. Stockholders control the company. Its entire surplus is designated as belonging to them. It writes both non-participating and participating insurance. Returns to holders of the latter kind of policies make the net cost of their insurance low. First dividend to stockholders was paid in 1913; total to them since organization amounts, in cash, to $17,269. Surplus in excess of liabilities and capital is small. The company is well backed and financially strong also in its reserves and assets. In investments it has mostly mortgage loans from which excellent returns are realized. Actuarial methods are of the best. The mortality rate is satisfactory. The company is in good repute for prompt payment for death claims. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. They include disability and double indemnity features. The company is being examined by the Michigan Insurance Department. The company operates through general agencies.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on all usual forms, and in addition the following: single premium life, 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; convertible term; life income; joint life, triple indemnity and infantile. Women are insured with restrictions as to limit of amount, age and special granting of disability feature to self-supporting and single applicant. Colored risks are not written.

Bank Savings Insurance—The plan of this company provides that subscribers to a new issue of Building and Loan stock are offered the opportunity of also taking a life insurance policy to make certain that their definite plan of savings will be fulfilled even though they should die before completing their payments. The Detroit Life Plan of combined bank savings and life insurance was first started with the State Bank of Royal Oak, Mich. Later arrangements were made with several other banks.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $28,095,704; participating annual dividends, $14,431,090.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% full level premium and modified preliminary term; infantile policies, on standard industrial 3½%.

Officers—M. E. O'Brien, president; Frank H. Watson, vice-president and general counsel, L. D. Thomas, Ben B. Jacob, vice-presidents; James D. Baty, secretary and treasurer; George P. Barnes, assistant secretary; Victor A. Harrington, assistant secretary; H. R. Carstens, medical director; E. C. Wightman; actuary.

Operates in Michigan.

DURHAM LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

126 East Hargett Street, Raleigh, North Carolina

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized December 1913, in North Carolina, for the purpose of succeeding to the business of the Durham Mutual Life which had been founded as the Durham Mutual Protective Association, December 4, 1906. The Durham Life began business also in December 1913, with paid-in capital of $25,000. The authorized capital is now $200,000. During February, 1923 the capital was increased to $50,000 by a stock dividend of $25,000. The company is a member of the Southern Industrial Insurers Conference.

Administration and Repute—This company does a very fair combined volume of both ordinary and industrial life, sickness and accident business in the States of North and South Carolina only. All business is on the non-participating plan; greater part of it being industrial, sick benefit. Stockholders control the company. It has ample surplus and is financially strong in assets and reserves. Its investments, for the most part mortgage loans, are well secured and remunerative. Actuarial methods are sound. In view of its predominating industrial business, the company's operating and business acquisition expenses are fairly reasonable. The company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Total dividends to stockholders since organization amount to $28,200 in cash and $25,000 in stock. Operations for the year 1923 were successful and resulted in increases over 1922. The company operates its agency system on the managerial plan. $29,830 of loans were outstanding on December 31 last to directors or other officers of which $11,500 was made during 1923.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary life, industrial whole life and endowment; industrial life, health and accident on the industrial plan. The company's business is mainly industrial. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are limited to $500.

THE ELGIN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Elgin, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized January 16, 1908, in Illinois and began business May 29, of that year, with $200,000 authorized capital. It was first incorporated as the Union Life of Chicago. In 1913, its name was changed to the Manufacturers and Merchants Life and the home office was moved to Rockford, Illinois. As of March 25, 1920, the main office of the company was removed to Elgin, Illinois and the company's present title was adopted. Capital paid-in during 1909 amounted to $112,375. And in 1910 it was increased to $129,214. In 1911, it was reduced to $100,794. Subsequent changes have been as follows: 1912, increased to $104,416; 1913, decreased to $104,083; 1920, increased to $104,103, at which it has since remained. Stockholders have contributed to surplus an approximate total of $245,266. In 1913, the directorate allowed the sale of 52% of the capital stock of N. C. Bement and a group of men associated with him. N. C. Bement was president of the Manufacturers and Merchants Association, an assessment company of Rockford, Illinois. Stock, par value, is $10 a share.

Administration and Repute—Early in 1924 control of this company was purchased by interests identified with the American Bankers of Chicago, with which it was merged.

THE ELKHORN LIFE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY

Norfolk, Nebraska

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized and began business September 23, 1904, in Nebraska. It operates as a mutual legal reserves company. Prior to 1915 it functioned as a stipulated premium institution but it always maintained a reserve on the actuaries 4% table, full preliminary basis. The company is a member of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents and the American Institute of Actuaries.

Administration and Repute—This company's management has developed it slowly but soundly. It is controlled by its policyholders and being purely mutual, has made returns in dividends to them such as to render a fairly moderate net cost of insurance. Premium income showed a slight decrease in 1922 due to considerable lapsation of business of 1921. The operations of 1923 resulted in the showing of increases in assets, surplus, reserves, premium volume, insurance written and in force. Life insurance is its predominating line. All contracts are written on the annual dividend plan. Surplus has been increased in the last three years as have also reserves and assets in which the company shows a satisfactory financial strength. Actuarial practices are of high standard. Investments are well secured and remunerative. Operating and business acquisition expenses are below average. Policy contracts include the features of disability and double indemnity and in all respects meet Insurance Department requirements. Extension agreement is taken for renewal premiums. All business is written through general agencies.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and accident insurance, the latter in rather a small amount, and combination life, health and accident. In addition to the usual life contracts it issues an instalment and endowment, premiums ceasing after age 50; 5- and 10-year term. Women are insured on the same basis of rates as men and without restriction. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, $4,285,677.

Reserve Basis—Actuaries 4% preliminary term on all business except endowment at 61 on American 3½% and instalment endowment American 4%. Reserves outstanding, full preliminary term premium, $410,566; net level premium, $77,837.

Officers—P. H. Salter, president; J. B. Maylard, vice-president and secretary; Jack Koenigstein, treasurer; Dr. B. B. Baker, agency director; M. L. Koehn, assistant treasurer.

Directors—P. H. Salter, J. B. Maylard, T. F. Memminger, Geo. D. Butterfield, Jack Koenigstein, C. S. Smith, M. L. Koehn.

Empire Life Building, Indianapolis, Indiana

HISTORICAL DATA

The Empire Health and Accident Insurance Company was organized in Indianapolis, Ind., 1908 as an assessment association. On February 2, 1922, it became a stock corporation changing its name to the above title. The authorized capital stock of $100,000 is divided 2,000 shares at a par value of $50 each. Capital was fully subscribed and taken by the former management, 50% of which was fully paid up at date of reorganization. Balance was fully paid up within eighteen months. The stock company started with assets of $182,000 and a surplus of $127,000 transferred from the old assessment company.

Administration and Repute—The officers including president C. S. Drake have been long identified with this company and its predecessor the Empire Health and Accident. They have capably managed both companies and have built up a considerable premium income acquired at a reasonable expense and losses have not been heavy. The management is progressive and in addition to a well established accident department has recently organized an industrial life department transacting this class of business on the legal reserve plan. The company is in good repute generally, and has a good record for promptly paying losses. On December 31 last, assets amounted to $324,360 surplus including capital, $302,885. Premiums received during 1923, all branches, $749,929; losses paid, $296,343; dividends, $29,965; expenses, $343,562. Life insurance in force Dec. 31 last, $789,208.

Classes of Insurance Written—Industrial, life and health and accident.

Officers—Charles S. Drake, president; William S. Taylor, vice-president and general counsel; James M. Drake, secretary and treasurer; Henry Lee Drake, assistant secretary; Hiram G. Gemmer, auditor.

EMPIRE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Rialto Building, Kansas City, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was originally organized and founded in Dallas, Texas, in 1923 by Z. E. Marvin, as a purely mutual company and wrote about $1,500,000 of insurance. Early in 1924 it was decided to change to a stock basis. The company was reorganized under a Missouri charter as a stock company retaining the same name as the Texas corporation. Having complied with the laws of Missouri, it was licensed by the Missouri Insurance Department May 10, 1924. The Missouri company reinsured the business of the Texas organization, this reinsurance being improved by the Missouri, Kansas and Texas departments, May 24, 1924. Its capital stock of $100,000 has been fully paid in with a reasonable amount of surplus. Miles Sheaffer, formerly Insurance Commissioner of Indiana, is connected with the new company in an official way.

Admitted assets, May 24, 1924, $135,173, the principal item of which are high grade bonds. The policy reserve on American 3½%, Illinois standard basis was $6,389. Capital stock, $100,000, net surplus, $28,654.

Officers—S. H. Venable, president; James A. Comer, vice-president; H. C. McCall, secretary; Chas. H. McBrayer, treasurer; S. E. Milliken, M. D., medical director; Frank J. Haight, consulting actuary.

Directors—S. H. Venable, H. C. McCall, W. F. Bossert, C. H. McBrayer, E. R. King, W. F. Zumbrumm, W. M. Campbell, Alva Bryan, James A. Comer, Edwin De Barr, W. A. Hanger, Felix D. Robertson, Chas. H. Ketchum.

EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES

120 Broadway, New York City

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was founded July 26, 1859 by Henry B. Hyde and began business July 28, 1859 with $100,000 paid-in capital. The original as well as all amended charters provided that the business of the society should be conducted upon the mutual plan, and that dividends on the capital stock should not exceed 3½% semi-annually. The business of the society has always been conducted on the mutual plan. James H. Hyde, founder's son, transferred control to Thomas F. Ryan, 1905, for $2,500,000; late J. P. Morgan acquired heaviest interests, 1909, and passed them, 1915, to T. Coleman du Pont for $4,394,540, from whom stock was purchased by society. On December 6, 1917, at a special meeting called for the purpose, the policyholders approved of a plan of mutualization of the company which provided for the purchase by the company of its outstanding stock according to provisions of the insurance law of the state of New York. This plan was approved by the Superintendent of Insurance of New York on February 6, 1918, and immediately thereafter was put into operation. The mutualization plan was put into effect as follows: Society to acquire du Pont 564 shares of capital in this way; 501 shares at $5,400 each remaining 63 shares at $1,500 each; aggregate purchase price, $2,799,900, payable, semi-annual instalments between November 1, 1917 and May 1, 1937 from interest received by society upon mortgage of $20,500,000 on Equitable Building, 120 Broadway, New York, society reserving right to waive instalments in order at any time to receive full principal on mortgage with interest. Project further stipulated: Society might purchase residual shares of capital stock or such portion thereof, as might be offered to it within 90 days of approval of plan by Superintendent of Insurance at $1,500 per share. After expiration of said period of 90 days, society may at any time, with approval of Superintendent of Insurance, buy any of the then remaining outstanding shares at a price not exceeding $1,500 per share; the du Pont stock and all other stock acquired by the society by gift, bequest, or purchase in the manner above specified, to be assigned and transferred to the trustees to be held in trust for the policyholders of the society until all the capital stock is acquired. This plan has operated smoothly and quickly, all but $1,500 of the capital stock having been acquired by the society. Reinsurance by the society has covered the following: in 1877, the Baltimore Life of Maryland; in 1883, the Lion Life of London; in 1900 the Girard Trust Company, and in 1901, the Brooklyn Life Insurance Company.

The company is a member of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents and Association of Life Agency Officers.

Administration and Repute—Aggressiveness in organization, especially along research lines tending toward the adaptation of scientific methods for business operation, has long shown the Equitable to be among the most enterprising companies. It conducts business only on the mutual plan, issuing policy contracts that are comprehensive liberal, covering a wide scope. Prior to mutualization, when controlled by the original stockholders, the company paid semi-annual dividends of 3½%. The aggregate of these dividends is, in cash, $468,713, but since mutualization these 3½% semi-annual dividends on original stock holdings have been refunded by the trustees.

The Equitable is not only one of the largest insurance companies but also ranks high among the world's strongest financial organizations. It is very progressive. For example it was the first company to institute a separate department for group insurance, which it has made a speciality. Its assets are safely and profitably invested, and its large surplus reserves guarantee stability. The actuarial methods of the company are conservative and sound. Operating and management costs are kept down and the expense of new business is low. Mortality experience has always been satisfactory except in 1918, the year of the national influenza-pneumonia epidemic. Careful attention is given to the prompt settlement of death claims, 99.1% of those in 1923 being paid within one day after receipt of due proof of death. Commensurate with its strength and progressiveness the Equitable has had a remarkable growth, especially in recent years. The company is triennially examined by the New York Insurance Department, whose last report on the company bore the date of December 7, 1921. Business is written through general agents and agency managers.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company has issued only annual dividend participating contracts since December 31, 1906. Previously it issued both participating and non-participating insurance. An accident and health department was established January 1, 1919 and discontinued early in 1922. See "Group Insurance." The Equitable writes all the regular forms of contracts, including ordinary life, convertible life policy (five years); 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-payment life; 10, 15, 20 25 and 30-year endowments; 10-payment 20-year endowments; term insurance for 5, 10, 15 and 20 years; child's endowments; joint life on ordinary and 20-payment life and 20-year endowment forms; life income ($10 monthly), premiums payable for life, 30, 20, and 10 years; life income ($10 monthly on 20, 15, and 10-year endowment plans; income bond to provide a monthly income of $10 to begin at ages 55, 60 and 65; also corporate and business insurance on ordinary life; life payment, endowment and term plan; home purchase policies on the monthly premium plan; life annuities; refund, or cash refund annuities; deferred annuities; joint and survivorship annuities; guaranteed investment premiums payable for life.

Women are written for insurance on all the company's standard forms at the same premiums and same age limits as apply to men. The disability clause or the waiver of premiums clause may be included in policies issued to self-supporting women.

Group Insurance—The company is a pioneer in this field and writes on the following plan A flat sum, such as $1,000 or more to each employee; an amount equal to one year's salary, with a minimum of $500 and a maximum of $3,000; amount graded according to length of service, for instance beginning with $1,000 insurance per employee and increasing $100 yearly. A blanket policy is issued to employer. Individual certificates to every employee, providing that insurance of the individual ceases upon termination of employment but may be individually continued under conversion option. Average rate is given on basis of attained ages. Company writes group, accident and health insurance. A department of safety and personnel is maintained for supervision, inspection service, education, etc. Bulletins and discussion on health topics and conservation are a part of this service.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividends, $3,257,155,464; deferred dividends, $105,075,842; non-participating, $84,343,161.

Reserve Basis—American, 3 per cent; 1859–1900 actuaries, 4 per cent; 1898-1906 (on non-participating business), and convertible policies 1914 and after American 3½%.

THE EQUITABLE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Washington, District of Columbia

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized as the Equitable Industrial Life Insurance Company on its present legal reserve basis April 29, 1902, and began business at once, having a paid-in capital of $100,000. It had previously done business as an assessment association organized in the District of Columbia, 1885. Occasional increases placed the capital in 1915, at $120,000 at which it has since remained. In 1908, the present name of the company was adopted. It began paying dividends in 1902. Surplus contributions were made of $22,000 in 1918 and $30,000 in 1919 but these were subsequently returned to the contributors. Stock, par value, is $100 a share.

The company is a member of the Institute of Actuaries and the Association of Medical Directors.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed along the lines of a conservative operating policy but at the same time showing progressiveness of disposition. Premium income has increased steadily since organization under all conditions of business, and in 1922 entered the million-dollar class. It has substantial backing and is financially strong in reserves and assets. Operating surplus is adequate and in 1923 substantially increased. It has paid dividends to stockholders annually since organization in 1902; the largest, $9,600 in 1922 and duplicated in 1923; the aggregate, cash, $146,339. The company writes only non-participating insurance and is controlled by its stockholders. Actuarial practices are sound, operation and management costs are kept down and economy is practiced in getting new business. Investments are well secured and remunerative. The mortality rate is low. Death claims are paid promptly. The company's policy contracts, meeting the requirements of the Insurance Department, include disability and double indemnity benefits. The company operates on the managerial plan in respect to its agency force.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes the regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: 5, 10, 15 and 20-year term policies; modified endowment with life option; premium coupon reduction policies on ordinary, 20-payment and 20-year endowment plans; joint life on ordinary, 20-payment and 20-year endowment plans; monthly income policies, and child's 10, 15 and 20-year endowments. Maximum amount written, $15,000; retained, $15,000. Women are insured on same basis of rates as men except on term contracts; limit $3,000; disability excluded; and with certain special provisions. Colored risks are accepted.

EQUITABLE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Des Moines, Iowa

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized January 28, 1867, in Iowa and began business the March following with $100,000 subscribed capital of which $25,000 was paid-in. Authorized capital is $1,000,000. Capital paid-in is $700,000, increases having been effected as follows: to $300,000 in 1908, to $500,000 in 1920 and to $700,000 in 1923. Stock, par value, $25 a share. The Iowa Insurance Department examined the company as of December 31, 1923. The company is a member of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents.

Administration and Repute—Operation of this company has been conducted by executives of ability and experience. It has accordingly done a good volume of business with a steadily advancing premium income which has shown especially satisfactory gains in the last decade. Stockholders are in control of the company. Both participating, (annual dividend), and non-participating business is written, the bulk of it being on the former plan. The company has a large surplus and is financially very strong in its annually increasing reserves and assets. Its actuarial practices are of the best. Operating and business acquisition expenses have been moderate. Investments have been well secured and are remunerative. Mortality rate is low and the company is in good repute for prompt payment of claims. Liberal dividends have been paid to policyholders for many years which have made their net insurance costs low. On account of the influenza-pneumonia epidemic, the dividend scale was reduced in 1920, but restored to the regular 1915 scale in 1921, and in addition it was decided to declare an extra 50% dividend on policies dating prior to March 1, 1902. This extra dividend was paid in 1922 on issues of 1902 to 1914 inclusive, in 1923 on issues of 1915 to 1917 inclusive, and is to be paid on remaining issues in 1924. Stockholders have received in the 56 years, since organization, dividends in aggregate cash, $669,186. The company's policy contracts meeting the requirement of the Insurance Department include disability and double indemnity benefits. The company operates its agency plant on the general agency plan. In 1924 the Equitable occupied its new home office building, reputed to be the tallest and largest structure in the state.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance in all the usual forms of life and endowment and also the following: single premium life; endowment at age 65; 20-payment endowment at age 65; endowment at age 70; 20-payment endowment at age 70. It issues the following on the non-participating plan only: special $5,000 preferred risk on ordinary; endownment at 85; convertible term 5-year and term to age 65; income endowment at ages 60 and 65. Maximum amount written, $100,000 on ordinary and endowment plans ages 25 to 50; retained $40,000. Women are insured on ordinary, limited payment and endowment with some restrictions as to age, marriage, etc., on the same basis of rates as men. Colored risks are not solicited.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividends, $292,963,651; non-participating, $55,803,578.

Additional information on other pages; detailed statements in Compendium Section; Statistical History in department Life Insurance history; Gains and Losses in Gain and Loss Exhibit.

Reserve Basis—All business valued on American 3½% on December 31, 1922, American 3% supplementary contracts, involving life contingencies. Annuities, McClintock 3½%.

Officers—F. M. Hubbell, chairman of board; H. S. Nollen, president; F. C. Hubbell, vice-president; F. W. Hubbell, vice-president and treasurer; J. C. Cummins, executive adviser; H. E. Aldrich, vice-president and superintendent of agencies; B. F. Hadley, second vice-president and secretary; R. G. Hunter, second vice-president and actuary; Dr. F. L. EQUITY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Great Falls, Montana

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, September, 1916, in Montana, by interests identified with the Equity Mutual Fire and the Montana Equity Mutual Hail and Fire, both Montana companies also located in Great Falls. The Equity Life began business in May, 1920, with an authorized capital of $250,000. Stock is held by more than 500 shareholders in Montana, North and South Dakota and Minnesota. With the payment of $3,175 for stock in 1922, paid-in capital on December 31 of that year was $104,000. Increase in 1923 made capital $104,650 and $7,650 was realized as premium on sale of stock. Stock, par value, is $25 a share.

Administration and Repute—This company writes a very small volume of business. Its management is of progressive disposition and by the issuance of an attractive line of policies of the latest type based on modern underwriting principles looks for substantial progress. It has an effectively operating force of field men. Since opening a branch office in St Paul, the company's Minnesota business has run ahead of the Montana business. Stockholders control the company and all business is written on the non-participating basis. The proportion of earnings payable to stockholders is not limited. Sound actuarial practices are closely followed by the company and it has sound and remunerative investments. Operating and business acquisition expenses have been reasonable. Mortality rate is low, there having been no losses at all during 1922. General agencies are the basis of the agency department.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on the usual whole life endowment and term plans. Policies include the features of disability and double indemnity. Women are written upon the twenty-payment life and higher premium rate plans upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are not written. Maximum amount written, $20,000; retained, $5,000.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $709,000.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, full preliminary term to December 31, 1921, and (Illinois standard) subsequent to January 1, 1922.

EQUITY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized April 7, 1921, in Nebraska, and began business July 13, of that year, operating on the old line mutual legal reserve basis. Its plan of development proposed the use at a later date of the surplus or profits derived on the sale of its charter membership policies to convert under the Nebraska Laws to a stock company. In 1923 company accomplished this transfer and began business as such with a paid-in capital stock of $115,000 sold at premium of 50% thereby causing a $57,500 contribution to surplus.

Administration and Repute—Executives of considerable experience, headed by A. S. Sorensen, president, who was formerly with the Travelers, make up the company's management. The plan of operation adopted at time of organization allowed for the writing of 1,000 charter membership policies allotted and distributed over the State of Nebraska according to the population. The company explains its plan of operation as follows: The charter membership policy is a $5,000 participating 20-payment life contract and is in full force and effect from date of issue and if desired carries with it total disability and double indemnity benefits. The policy contains a dividend clause which provides that the surplus of the company will be composed of savings in mortality, interest in excess of the reserve requirements, profit from lapses, and savings by economy of management. The first distributed share of surplus will be apportioned to these policies at the expiration of five years from date of issue. Each policy carries with it an option wherein the policyholder is permitted to purchase his proportionate share of stock when the conversion is made, same to be paid for from the first five-year dividend of his policy. Up until November, 1921, the company issued a scaled policy which was in force for $1,000 the first year, $2,000 the second, $3,000 the third, $4,000 the fourth, and after the fifth premium was paid the policy became in full force for $5,000. Since November, 1921, however, they have entered into a reinsurance contract whereby, in connection with the scaled policies which they issued, the company will assume the $1,000 risk the first year, adding $1,000 to the same each year and the policy becomes in full force and effect. On the policy that is in full force and effect from the date of issue for $5,000, the first year they reinsure $4,000, the second year $3,000, the third year, $2,000,and the fourth year $1,000, after which time it is their plan to carry the full risk. Inasmuch as the company was no sooner launched than the period of deflation struck the country, it is felt in reviewing up to 1923, that the progress made up to this time, was satisfactory. During 1923 the company materially increased its premium volume acquired at average expense. Losses were negligible. The acquisition of new capital and surplus strengthened the company in a financial way and gave it an ample operating surplus.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes the usual forms of life contracts including monthly income, joint life, child's policy and the disability and double indemnity features. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Deferred dividend, $3,880,250; non-participating, $214,000.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% preliminary term.

Officers—A. S. Sorensen, president; Guy H. Furness, vice-president; Paul A. Havens, secretary and treasurer.

Directors—A. R. Thompson, T. L. Combs, A. S. Sorensen, Guy H. Furness, Paul A. Havens.

EUREKA-MARYLAND ASSURANCE CORPORATION

Baltimore, Maryland

HISTORICAL DATA

This old line legal reserve stock company was organized February 4, 1882, in Maryland, began business at once under the name Eureka Mutual Aid Society and continued operating on the assessment basis until 1902 when it changed to the legal reserve basis and adopted the title of Eureka Life. Business was conducted on the purely mutual plan until capitalization was effected in 1918. Capital of $100,000 was paid-in at $110 a share, par value $100, thus creating an initial surplus of $10,000. The Conservation Company, a holding corporation of Baltimore, owns the entire capital stock. The Maryland Insurance Department examined the company in 1923. In April, 1924 interests identified with this company purchased 48,632 shares of the outstanding 50,000 shares of the Maryland Assurance Co. at $14.10. The remaining 1,368 shares held largely by employees of the Maryland Association will be bought at $16 per share, their original purchase price. The combined assets of the companies are in excess of $2,900,000, their insurance in force $37,500,000. Following reinsurance of Maryland the Eureka changed its name to the above.

Administration and Repute—Under the capable and experienced direction of John C. Maginnis, president, and a strong underwriting staff, this company showed moderate but steady progress for many years. Since reorganization on the stock basis growth has been more rapid, as denoted in particular, by payment of dividends to stockholders since 1918 totalling $245,000, while at the same time substantial advances have been shown in surplus, reserves and assets. The company writes only non-participating insurance and is controlled by its stockholders. It uses sound actuarial methods; its investments are exceedingly well secured and fairly remunerative; its operating expenses and cost of new business are moderate, considering the amount of industrial business carried; and its mortality rate is low. The company has an estimable loss paying reputation. The Insurance Department's report, following the last examination, was favorable in all respects, stating the company to be "efficiently, conservatively and economically managed and conducted." The company's rates are comparatively low. A feature of Eureka service is medical aid available at all times to all ordinary policyholders. The company's policy contracts, affording comprehensive and liberal protection, meet insurance department requirements, and include disability and double indemnity benefits. The company operates on the managerial plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary, industrial and group life insurance, and in addition, intermediate policies on the limited payment and industrial plans. Women are written on the same rate basis that applies to men. Colored risks are accepted.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Ordinary annual dividend, $729,128; non-participating, $4,533,607; group, $793,900; industrial, $15,644,710.

FARMERS AND BANKERS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

701 Beacon Building, Wichita, Kansas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated February 2, 1910, by Kansas charter. It began business as an insurance company May 1, 1911. Authorized capital was $250,000. Early in 1912 the company reinsured the business of the Security Life Association, Salina, Kansas, an assessment association, at the same time increasing its capital to $275,000. The fiscal agents of the company in its organization of fered to prospective stock buyers one share of stock in what was designated "Stockholders Co-operative Bureau Fund," for each 10 shares of life insurance company stock which provided that during each of the first 10 years of the company's existence, there should be set aside into this special fund an amount equal to 10% of the first year's premium collected in cash by the company during that year, and that the amount so accumulated should be divided proportionately among the stockholders according to the stock held by each individual. Inasmuch as the company commenced operating in 1911 this co-operative bureau fund expired and ceased to exist in 1921, the contracts made by the fiscal agent with the company's stockholders having been carried out to completion at that time. Total surplus paid-in by stockholders since organization $171,913, the amount received prior to beginning business. The amount of insurance acquired from the Security Life was about $800,000, and is the only reinsurance taken by the company.

Administration and Repute—The company's policy was to first thoroughly cultivate Kansas, to which State it confined its operation for a number of years. More recently it has branched out into other neighboring States. The company has been successful under conservative and economical management. The majority of its investments is in mortgage loans, which earn a satisfactory rate of interest. Its mortality rate is low and the company operates upon a sound actuarial basis. The company is owned by stockholders to whom all profits are due. They have received dividends amounting to $57,649 since organization. Women are insured upon certain conditions. Assets, surplus and reserves are adequate. The company is operated on the general agency plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes non-participating insurance only, including single premium life, all the regular forms of ordinary and limited pay life, and endowment policies guaranteed survivorship, coupon option policies, gold bond policies, monthly income policies, joint life and term policies, also birthday endowments. Women are written on all plans except term and ordinary life. No disability benefits written on women. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $32,898,067; deferred dividends, $71,500.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term basis and full level premium. Amounts outstanding, full level premium, $57,698; modified preliminary term, $2,975,681.

FARMERS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized November 11, 1911, in Colorado, and began business July 7, 1913, with a capital authorized at $1,000,000. Occasional payments built up the paid-in capital to a maximum of $282,852, in 1918.

In that year, stock shares were reduced from $3.00 each to $.88 and paid-in capital was reduced to $100,377, at which it has since remained. Stockholders have contributed a total of $898,106 to surplus. In 1914, the company reinsured the business in force of the Anchor Life of Kansas City, and in 1916, it bought the outstanding stock and reinsured the business of the Guarantee Life of Houston, Texas. The Kansas Insurance Department as well as the Departments of Colorado, Nebraska and Texas, examined the company, in 1917, and brought about a separation of the business of the Anchor Life from the business of the Farmers Life for the purpose of maintaining the Anchor Life reserve deposits as an added protection of Anchor policyholders. The company owns 80% of the capital stock of the American Securities par value $71,530 not carried as an admitted asset. The company is a member of the following organization: American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—From organization to 1917, the company developed a fairly substantial volume of business with comparatively rapid increases in annual premium income. Since 1917, the premium volume attained has been held, on the average, with a conservative attitude of management. The company has in recent years suffered slightly from the general business depression, but the record of the last two years is indicative of an upward trend. The company writes nonparticipating insurance, and is controlled by its stockholders. The proportion of earnings payable to them is not limited. Liberal dividends were paid to stockholders in 1922 and 1923. These, in addition to some early dividends, makes the total paid to stockholders, cash, $71,328. Company has adequate surplus. Its actuarial practices are of the best. Investments are well secured and remunerative. Mortality rate is satisfactory and the company is in good repute for prompt payment of death claims. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. They include the features of disability and double indemnity. Business is written through agency managers.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance in all usual forms of life and endowment and also the following: return premium; single premium endowment; and a special participating policy which it calls its "super-three-in-one." Maximum amount written, no limit; retained, $5,000. Women are insured on same basis of rates as men, without disability feature and except on term policies. Colored risks are not solicited.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $187,000; deferred dividends, $692,000; non-participating, $13,638,886.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term and American 4½ net level premium.

Officers—Hon. Elias M. Ammons, president; Dr. P. C. Kelly, first vice-president; W. W. Burr, second vice-president; D. A. Lord, third vice-president; B. M. Stackhouse, secretary; Geo. L. Frewen, assistant secretary; John H. Orr, treasurer; H. A. Hicks, general counsel; Dr. J. E. Kinney, medical director.

FARMERS AND TRADERS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Syracuse, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, July, 1912, in New York, as the Farmers National Life, and began business July 8, 1914, with an authorized and paid-in capital of $200,000 and $100,000 contributed to surplus. Present title was adopted soon after beginning business in 1914. The original sale of stock was mostly to rural residents of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, who were limited to 10 shares each. In 1919, official approval was gained for a capital increase to $300,000. The new stock issue was offered to stockholders at that time at 50% of their holdings at par. This option expired December 1, 1921, at which time stockholders had subscribed for 188 shares at par value, $100 a share. Remaining stock was then sold at not less than $200 a share and was entirely paid-up by the end of 1920, with $65,872, net surplus realized as premium on stock. Selling cost was limited to $20 a share. The Insurance Department of New York examined the company as of November 30, 1919.

Administration and Repute—This company's business is enhanced to a substantial volume by its affiliation with the farmers' grange organizations in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio. Loans are made directly to the farmers on farm security and the interests of both parties are carefully safeguarded. The company's growth has been satisfactory and of solid character, premium income having advanced steadily since organization. Business in 1922 showed a continued upward trend. A policy of expansion was adopted in 1923 and with a lower scale of rates the company plans to actively canvass business by establishing agencies in the large cities of the states in which it is entered. A good volume of increase was realized in 1923. In 1922 the company paid stockholders for dividends, cash, $23,988. The same dividend was paid them in 1923. Stockholders control the company and nonparticipating insurance only is written. Operating surplus is comparatively small but adequate. The company's actuarial practices are of high standard. Its investments are for the most part high grade mortgage loans and are remunerative. Operating and business acquisition expenses are moderate. Mortality rate is low, and the company is in good repute for paying death claims promptly. Standard forms are used for policy contracts, which include disability and double indemnity.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes the regular forms of life and endowments and also the following: single premium life; ordinary and 20-payment monthly income; low cost whole life and 20- payment forms; 25-year convertible term; 25-year endowment; 10, 15, 20 and 25-year endowments; continuous and 20-payment endowment at age 65. Maximum amount written, $35,000; retained $7,500. Women are insured with disability feature included on all policies on the same basis of rates as men. July 1, 1924, company will issue premium reduction policies on the ordinary 15 pay, 20 pay life, 10, 15, 20 and 25 year endowment and ordinary and twenty pay life endowment at age 65. Rates on these policies show a net cost lower than on the new rates on the uniform premium plans. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating $14,492,739.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% select and ultimate since 1918. American 3½% full level premium 1914–1917.

This company is a member of the American Life Convention, the Insurance Federation of Illinois, Life Agency Officers Association and Life Presidents Association.

Administration and Repute—This company has made good progress resulting from the persistent efforts of an able management of progressive disposition. It writes the largest part of its business on farmers. In recent years, premium income has been showing very substantial gains. The company has a good surplus and is financially strong in reserves and assets. Policyholders have received dividends at a very fair rate which was not affected by the influenza-pneumonia epidemic nor other post-war contingencies. Investments are thoroughly sound and remunerative. Actuarial methods are of the best. Operating and business acquisition costs have been above average. Mortality rate is moderate and the company's reputation is good for its prompt payment of claims. Stockholders control the company and no limit has been fixed upon profits payable to them. Non-participating policies only are written since 1922. Policy contracts include the features of double indemnity and disability. The company operates on the general agency plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes the regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: single premium; 10, 15, and 20-payment; 10, 15 and 20-year endowment endowment at age 60, continuous premium; endowment ending at age 65; continuous premium; optional limited payment; the special $5,000 policy ordinary or 20-payment; protective ordinary policy, 5, 10 and 20-year convertible term; monthly income; joint life; child's policy; insurance with bank deposit. FARMERS' UNION MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Hubbell Building, Des Moines, Iowa

HISTORICAL DATA

The Farmers Union Mutual Life Insurance Company was incorporated under the laws of Iowa, September 25, 1922, and received its license October 17, 1922. It is a strictly mutual, legal reserve Company, writing only participating policies.

Administration and Repute—It writes only members of the Farmers Educational & Co-Operative Union of America and was organized by, and its officers are, farmers, but experienced insurance men are employed to conduct the various departments of the Company. Miles M. Dawson, Consulting Actuary, furnished the rates and policy forms.

Organization expenses were contributed by interested parties, principally the Iowa Division of the Farmers Educational & Co-Operative Union of America. Organization and general expenses have been held down to minimum and it is considered that a very creditable showing has been made. The company is mutual in character and all profits accrue to policyholders. It was examined in 1923 by the Iowa Insurance Department. In 1923 a good premium income was obtained and

FEDERAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

166-168 North Michigan Blvd., Chicago, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, September 8, 1899, in Illinois and began business May 5, 1900, with a paid-in capital of $125,000. Total paid-in capital to date is $300,000. It has been increased, with surplus, as follows: 1901, to $150,000; 1909 to $177,300 with $38,586 to surplus; 1910 to $194,200 with $8,823 to surplus; 1911 to $300,000 with $85,079 to surplus. Additional surplus was also contributed separately as follows: 1903, $100; 1904, $837; 1912, $16,931. The company reinsured the following: in 1904, the Union Life and the Model Life; in 1906, The Chicago Life Insurance Co., Chicago, Ill., with some $5,000,000 of business; in 1909, The Inter-State Life Assurance Co., Indianapolis, Ind., with some $6,000,000 of business and in 1911, The Northern Life Insurance Co., Rock Island, Ill., with $4,302,000 of business. In 1916, the company took over the accident and health business involving some 16,000 policies of the American Bankers Insurance Company, Chicago, Ill. In 1923 the Benefit Association of Railway Employees with insurance of $3,125,000. In 1923 also the company absorbed the Bankers Accident of Des Moines. Stock, par value, $100 a share; book value, December 31, 1923, $144.79.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention, the Life Agency Managers Association, Health & Accident Underwriters Conference, American Institute of Actuaries and the Medical Directors Association.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed in the writing of life insurance principally with an increasing volume of health and accident also since 1912, when this department was begun. The company has had a satisfactory growth. Underwriting operations of the accident and health department have resulted in a profit. Expenses of management and cost of new business had been moderate while losses had been low. The company is controlled by its stockholders and the proportion of profits payable to them is as may be determined by the directors. The company's investments are high grade and remunerative and its loss paying reputation is estimable. The affairs of the Federal have been very capably administered for the many years under the personal direction of its present president, Isaac Miller Hamilton. The progress of the company has been stimulated from time to time by reinsurance. During 1923 the company secured over $3,000,000 of new life insurance by reinsurance of the life policies of The Benefit Association of Railway Employees and in the accident department acquired the Bankers Accident Company of Des Moines which on December 31, 1922 had assets of over $300,000, and a premium income in excess of $500,000. This latter deal will make the accident and health department almost equal to the life department in premium volume. The company conducts its agency organization on both the general agency and managerial plan. In 1921, it was examined by the Insurance Departments of Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota and Indiana, with favorable comment.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and accident and health. In addition to the regular forms of contracts this company writes the following: single premium, and single premium endowment; convertible 10, 15 and 20-year term contracts; combination term and life; joint life on whole life; 20-payment life and 20-year endowment; coupon premium reduction contracts; monthly income and return premium policies on one-half or full basis; child's endowments; annuities. Women are written at rates applying to men except on term policies with usual restrictions and with disability withheld. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $41,280,907; annual dividend, $5,417,647; deferred dividend, $7,475,893.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, also full level premium and preliminary term. Actuaries 4%.

Officers—Isaac Miller Hamilton, president; C. A. Atkinson, vice-president and general counsel; L. D. Cavanaugh, vice-president and actuary; George Barmore, E. C. Budlong, vice-presidents; W. E. Brimstin, secretary; O. E. Merley, treasurer; Dr. F. L. B. Jenney, medical director; J. P. Mahoney, assistant counsel; A. R. Thompson, associate actuary and assistant secretary; C. Shenk and E. Jansen, assistant secretaries.

Directors—C. A. Atkinson, W. E. Brimstin, L. D. Cavanaugh, N. S. Cutright, J. C. Gleason, Isaac Miller Hamilton, Dr. W. A. Hoover, J. P. Mahoney, O. E. Merley, F. P. Morris, H. W. Norton, C. J. FEDERAL RESERVE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Kansas City, Kansas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized in 1919 being chartered under the laws of Canada, October 2, 1919 by W. H. Gregory, in Kansas, and began business, February 12, 1920, with an authorized and paid-in capital of $100,000. Initial surplus was $50,000, derived from sale of stock, par value $10, at $15 a share. There were no organization expenses. Paid-in capital was increased to $200,000 in 1921 and has since remained at that amount. This stock was sold at $15 a share, creating an additional $50,000 of surplus. In 1924 authorized capital was increased to $250,000.

Administration and Repute—This company has shown advances in premium volume and its management is of progressive disposition. W. L. Payne, president, was formerly State Treasurer of Kansas, and D. H. Holt, secretary and treasurer, was formerly cashier of the Farmers and Miners State Bank of Girard, Kansas. They have been associated in their present capacity since organization. The company is unusual in its issuance of policies, which contain a graded death benefit clause and provide for a survivorship dividend to be paid at the end of five years. The company issues with each policy, a stock purchase contract, each policyholder applies for one share of stock with each $1,000, of insurance; for example, a policyholder taking a $5,000 policy would subscribe for five shares and one taking $10,000 would subscribe for ten shares. The least amount of insurance written is $2,500.

The stock is being redistributed in two classes, the first $100,000 being redistributed among those who have taken the first ten millions of insurance at the price of $25 a share par value $10, which will increase the company's surplus $10 over the original amount, and, the second $100,000 of stock is being sold at $35 a share, creating an addition of $20 a share to the surplus.

The stock subscribed for by policyholders is paid for by policy dividends, which begin at the time the third premium is paid-in in cash. Participating insurance only is written on the annual dividend basis. The company's investments are well selected and remunerative. Actuarial methods are sound. Operating and business acquisition costs have been fairly reasonable. Mortality rate has been low and the company is in good repute for prompt payment of loss claims.

The company was examined in 1923 by the Kansas Insurance Department. In his conclusion was the following statement:

Additional information on other pages; detailed statements in Compendium Section; Statistical History in department Life Insurance history; Gains and Losses in Gain and Loss Exhibit.

The sale of stock purchase contracts and life insurance by the Federal Reserve Life Insurance Company through The Federal Agency Investment Company has sustained persistent prolonged and vicious attacks.

Competitive conspiracies seem to have been mere incidents in establishing a record of $1,055,277.95 in assets; 24,362,000 dollars insurance in force and actual maturity of stock purchase contracts with a profit to the policyholder.

No notes taken for first premium. Three-fourths of renewal premiums may be paid by note. No loans in excess of loan values.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company specializes in its $5,000 participating life policy above mentioned. Maximum amount written and retained, $10,000.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividends, $8,435,800.

Reserve Basis—American 3% modified preliminary term (Illinois standard).

FEDERAL UNION LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Cincinnati, Ohio

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, August 7, 1914, in Ohio and began business December 14, 1915, with an authorized and paid-in capital of $100,000, and $67,019 surplus. Stock, par value, $10, was sold at prices from $20 to $25 a share with 15% fixed as the limit for promotional expense. In 1916, authorized capital was increased to $250,000. Stock of second issue was sold at $25 a share and there were no selling expenses. Paid-in capital stock to date stands at $225,000. Incorporated in the company's stock subscription orders were the following agreements: voting control of all stock should be held by 5 trustees for a period of 5 years from organization; that these trustees should serve without compensation and should be owners of stock in the company; that the company's executives and any others receiving salaries or fees out of company funds should be limited to an amount not exceeding 2½% of the company's original capital and surplus until the company should be able to pay dividends to stockholders; and further that capital might be increased to not more than $250,000 or decreased as might be required in the best interests of the business. This agreement expired in 1921, but was immediately revived and put into effect another 5-year term. The company was examined in 1923 by the Ohio Insurance Department.

Administration and Repute—This company has had a good growth from the time of its earliest promotion which was conducted to a large extent by Frank M. Peters, now president. The company is strictly proprietary and all net earnings belong to stockholders. The business of 1922 was especially productive of gains in premium income and financial strength of reserves and assets. In 1923 a heavy lapsation of term business caused a decrease in insurance in force though increases were made in the whole life and endowment ordinary policies and the industrial business in force. Assets and surplus increased but premium volume decreased. Surplus is not large but adequate. The company has well secured investments which are high grade and remunerative; it uses high standard actuarial methods; its operating and business acquisition expenses are not above the average; and its policy contracts are issued on standard forms to which may be attached provisions for disability and double indemnity benefits.

The company operates both on general agency and managerial plans.

Group Insurance is written.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary and industrial life insurance (non-participating only). Industrial policy premiums are on a monthly basis only. The company writes the

FIDELITY LIFE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY

Stark Building, Louisville, Kentucky

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized May 17, 1923, in Kentucky. It had an initial paid-in capital of $100,000 and the paid-in net surplus, $50,000. Capital and surplus will be increased as business develops to $500,000 and $250,000 respectively. James F. Ramey, former insurance commissioner of Kentucky, is secretary-treasurer of the new company and the other officers, also prominent in insurance circles and of long experience, are H. R. Kendall, president, formerly superintendent Louisville district of the Prudential, of Newark, and an authority of nearly thirty years' experience with industrial insurance; Frank J. Walker, first vice-president; Zachary T. Miller, second vice-president; and Harry N. Lukins, general counsel. The company was formed without any promotional expense. Its officers and directors are the sole stockholders.

Administration and Repute—This company is the first especially organized to write accident insurance on the industrial plan—on a weekly premium basis. Policies are for $1,000 and $2,000 covering accidental death without classification. They carry a natural death benefit of $100 and a weekly indemnity for accident. Only the better class of white people will be solicited. The company's charter is under the broad provisions of the life insurance laws of Kentucky, although industrial accident and life features as above described will only be undertaken for the present. It is strictly proprietary in character. A definite schedule of expansion designates ten states to be entered within a year. Business is transacted through industrial managers. It was examined in 1923 by the Kentucky Insurance Department.

Classes of Insurance Written—Industrial accident with minimum natural death benefit and weekly indemnities for accident in 4-policy contracts, the general provisions of which are as follows:

Weekly Premium	Accident Death	Natural Death	Weekly Indemnity
15c	$1000	$100	None
25c	1000	100	10
35c	2000	100	14
45c	2000	100	20

FIDELITY MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, December 2, 1878, in Philadelphia, under the title Fidelity Mutual Aid Association, and began business January 1, 1879. It is now a purely mutual company and has operated as such since it was reorganized on a legal reserve basis in 1899, at which time the present name was adopted. The energy, enterprise and intellectual effort of L. G. Fouse, first president, were largely responsible for the early growth of the association and the strong financial standing of the organization when it was placed on the mutual legal reserve basis in 1899. The company is scheduled to be examined every three years by the Pennsylvania Insurance Department. The last examination is being made as of December 31, 1923.

Administration and Repute—The affairs of this company had been administered by a very able and experienced management. Walter LeMar Talbot, president and his associate executives are continuing to get excellent results from their perpetuation in operating the company on the high standard of principles and practices which kept it among the leaders during its early development among the pioneer companies of this country. It showed foresight and aggressiveness in being the originator of the disability provision and of the double indemnity benefit features in modern life contracts; the former was introduced in 1896, the latter in 1904. It also originated the income for life plan providing protection for dependents and a life income for retirement. Its policyholders control the company and only participating insurance is written. Liberal dividends have been paid with regularity, thereby making policyholders' net cost of insurance fairly low. Substantial increases in premium volume in many years of its long career have built up a large business. Operating surplus is large and has been increased annually for several years, as have also the company's regular and special reserves, which with its assets make it of practically impregnable financial strength. Carefully developed efficiency by the management has made operation and business acquisition costs low. The company has excellent investments, well secured and remunerative; it follows the highest standard of actuarial practice; and it has a low mortality rate. It is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Policy contracts are attractive in every respect. They include the benefits of disability and double indemnity. It has a large agency force and operates in 40 states with an excellent reputation generally. The company operates on the general agency plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes the usual forms of life and endowment and also the following: 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-payment life; 10, 15, 25 and 30-year endowment; 5, 7 and 10-year term; single premium life, joint, ordinary and 20-payment life and 20-year endowment income policies maturing at ages 50, 55, 60, 65, 70 and 75, with continuous or 20-payment premiums; 25 and 30-payment life; 25 and 30-year endowment; instalments, ordinary and 20-payment and 20-year endowment; continuous instalment, ordinary and 20-payment; child's policy, annuities. Maximum amount written, $125,000; retained, $62,500. Wage earning women may be insured at regular rates on life and endowment plans. Not considered on term plans. The company does not encourage the solicitation of risks other than those of the Caucasian race.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $248,568,800; deferred dividend, $12,760,250; miscellaneous, $4,294,022; assessment, $1,624,962.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% full level premium since 1899; prior thereto Actuaries 4%. Certain limited payment policies issued prior to 1916 American 3% full level premium.

Officers—Walter LeMar Talbot, president; F. X. Quinn, vice-president; R. F. Tull, secretary; Samuel J. Steele, treasurer; J. Russell Sykes, comptroller; J. B. Franks, actuary; H. Gordon Hurd, assistant actuary; George H. Wilson, general attorney; Chas. J. R. Sproule, assistant treasurer; Wm. K. Miller, assistant

FIDELITY RESERVE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY*

North Platte, Nebraska

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized and incorporated in 1912 and began business in April, 1913 in Lexington, Nebraska, as a stipulated premium company under the title of Fidelity Life Association. It operated upon the stipulated premium plan in Lexington until January 18, 1916, when it was reincorporated as a legal reserve company and transferred its home office to North Platte, Nebraska. This company was merged with the Mountain States Life of Denver in 1923.

FIRST NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Pierre, South Dakota

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized on its present basis of operation, January 4, 1919, by reincorporation following the merger with it of the Western Mutual and the Northwestern Life, both of Aberdeen, South Dakota. At this time, the company changed its name to National-Northwestern Life but in 1921 assumed again its title of First National Life. The company was originally incorporated in 1909, as the First National Life & Accident Insurance Company, and began business in South Dakota, June 1 of that year, with an authorized capital of $250,000. Paid-in capital at the end of the first year was $150,000; at the end of the second year, $204,300 and subsequent annual contributions fully paid up the whole $250,000 in 1918. Surplus contributed over that period was not large. In 1909, the company reinsured the business of the Bankers Reserve Fund Life of Cincinnati, Ohio, thereby obtaining insurance in force to the amount of $2,240,690. In 1913, there was a change in the operating management of the company and in the following year all accident business was reinsured and following the cessation of separate accident business, the name First National Life was adopted in 1916. The consolidations leading up to the incorporation in 1919, increased the company's insurance in force by $2,268,000. First dividend was paid to stockholders in 1910. The Insurance Departments of South Dakota, North Dakota, Montana and Idaho, examined the company as of December 31, 1920. Stock, par value, is $100 a share. In 1923 the Continental Life of St. Louis, Mo., purchased the controlling interests in this company.

Administration and Repute—This company was merged under date of April 3 with the Continental of St. Louis, Mo.

Reserve Basis—Actuaries, 4% on business of reinsured Bankers Reserve Fund Life, 1905 to 1909, inclusive, and also on standard term business of the Northwestern Life. FIRST REINSURANCE COMPANY

Hartford, Connecticut

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized November 13, 1912, in Connecticut, with special charter granted by the State General Assembly, as approved by the Governor. Carl Schreiner, Morgan G. Bulkely and eleven other prominent men organized this company, its charter reading: "to carry on a reinsurance business and to make reinsurance on insurance risks of every kind or description undertaken by other companies, associations, corporations, or persons." Company began business January 1, 1913, with $500,000 paid-in capital and a like amount of surplus. Its charter authorizes capital increase up to $5,000,000. The Munich Reinsurance Company of Germany owned 4,505 of the company's 5,000 shares when the recent war broke out. This stock was seized in 1918, by the Alien Property Custodian who sold it, May 13, 1920, at $175 a share, principally to ten insurance companies as follows: Aetna Casualty & Surety Co., Hartford; Aetna (Fire) Insurance Co., Hartford; Aetna Life Insurance Co., Hartford; Automobile Insurance Co., Hartford; Connecticut General Life Co., Hartford; Hartford Fire, Hartford; Phoenix Mutual Life, Hartford; Preferred Accident, New York; Security Insurance Co., New Haven; and the United States Fidelity & Guaranty, Baltimore. Stock, par value, $100; book value, December 31, 1923, $244.13.

Administration and Repute—This company has a progressive disposition and is in good repute. Its present capable and conservative management having produced a substantial volume of business and ample and increasing operating surplus and steadily advancing premium income. Its management, headed by H. H. Stryker, president and Samuel Ludlow, Jr., is capable and experienced. Prominent local insurance and professional men compose the directorate which in 1923 owned $17,900 of the $500,000 capital stock. The company has high grade investments and in recent years has paid dividends.

Classes of Reinsurance Written—Fire, automobile, tornado, registered mail, sprinkler leakage, live stock, riot and civil commotion, explosion, fidelity and surety, burglary, accident and life.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating and participating, $36,979,132.

THE FIRST TEXAS PRUDENTIAL INSURANCE COMPANY

Galveston, Texas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized February 10, 1910, in Texas, as the First Texas State Insurance Company, and began business in March of that year. Prominent among the organizers of the company was B. J. Cunningham, who was president and is still active executively as a vice-president. The company was organized to make a speciality of accident and health insurance. Initial paid-in capital was $25,000, with surplus of $6,250. Authorized capital of $100,000 was fully paid up by 1914, with a contributed surplus of about three-fourths of that amount. Capital stock has since remained at $100,000. In 1916, this company reinsured the business of the Prudential Life of San Antonio. In 1917, the First Texas State, by charter amendment, adopted its present name. In 1918, the company reinsured all of the business of the Southern Cooperative Life, of Texas. Stock, par value, is $100 a share. The Texas Insurance Department examined the company in 1923.

Administration and Repute—This company's management is capable and experienced and the growth under such direction has been of solid character, though in no sense rapid. B. J. Cunningham, former president, with I. H. Kempner, the present chief executive, were jointly the attorney and manager of the Merchants and Manufacturers Inter-Insurance Alliance of Galveston which company ceased business when circumstances outside of its control made it impossible to render further savings to its subscribers. Mr. Cunningham's wide experience also included the position of Texas manager for the Travelers and he was the force behind the institution of an accident, health and liability department in the American National of Galveston. The company's predominating line is industrial life insurance, in which it has met with fair success. In 1922 and 1923 a 6% dividend was paid stockholders. Operating surplus is small. Investments are well secured and fairly remunerative. Actuarial practices follow a high standard. The company's predominating industrial business is responsible for rather high operating costs but its ordinary business is conducted at moderate expense. Mortality rate is low and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. The Texas Department approves policies issued upon which disability and double indemnity are optionally available. Business is written through general agents and industrial managers.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance, ordinary and industrial, on the usual contract plans covering whole life, endowment and term. It also issues accident and health policies both ordinary and industrial, and likewise non-participating. Sub-standard risks are customarily on a fixed premium, though at times rated higher. A special rated ordinary life policy is issued to negroes. Maximum amount written, $10,000; retained, $2,500. Women are insured up to age 50, limited $2,000 without disability but with double indemnity on the same basis of rates as men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating ordinary, $2,830,736; industrial, $10,171,178.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, full preliminary term.

Officers—I. H. Kempner, president; B. J. Cunningham, C. H. Moore, vice-presidents; T. E. Flick, secretary and treasurer.

Directors—I. H. Kempner, B. J. Cunningham, C. H. Moore, S. E. Kempner, T. E. Flick.

Operates in Texas only.

FRANKLIN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Springfield, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was first incorporated July 23, 1884, in Illinois, and immediately began business, operating on an assessment basis under the name Franklin Life Association. It was operated as such until July 1, 1898, when it was reorganized on the mutual legal reserve basis, the change including adoption of the present title. In 1910, it was capitalized with $100,000 and was accordingly shifted to the stock plan of operation. In 1910, also, the company absorbed by consolidation, the business of the La Salle Life, of Chicago, and followed this up with reinsurance of the life business of the Inter-Ocean Life and Casualty, of Springfield, Ill., in 1913. A dividend was paid to stockholders the very first year of operation on the stock plan. Stock, par value, is $100 a share.

The company is a member of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, American Life Convention, Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau, Life Agency Officers Association.

Administration and Repute—From its inception and under operation as an assessment, as a mutual, and now for more than a decade, as a stock company, this institution has made an examplary record of a solid progress resulting from sound and conservative management. At the same time, administration of affairs has included a definite and aggressive schedule of expansion until the scope of its writing is now practically national and to a small degree international. The security which this company offers to policyholders is of the safest kind, as its practice is to register all policies with the State and at once deposit the full legal reserve. The company has an excellent general agency system of progressive disposition. Its stockholders control the company and it now writes only non-participating insurance. Dividends to stockholders are limited to the earnings on non-participating business. A dividend of $5,000 has been paid to stockholders annually since 1910, the aggregate cash being $65,000. The premium income has advanced steadily for well over a score of years to a present volume of business that is very substantial. It has an excellent operating surplus and is financially strong in reserves and assets. It has sound investments, mostly well secured in mortgage loans yielding excellent returns, actuarial practices of high standard and a low mortality rate. The company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Business acquisition costs are below average and operating expenses are satisfactory. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. They include the income disability and double indemnity features.

In 1923 the president of longstanding, Geo. B. Stadden, died and was succeeded by H. M. Merriam, former vice-president, who has been connected with the company for over twenty-two years.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular form of life and endowment and also the following: 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; all life and limited payment life policies are endowment at age 85; 10-year renewable and exchangeable term, at ages 60 and 65; and joint life on ordinary and 20-payment plans. Maximum amount written, $150,000; retained, $25,000. Women are insured except on term plan at same rates as men with usual restrictions.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $5,476,240; deferred dividend, $4,654,629; non-participating, $139,051,906.

Reserve Basis—American, 3½%, full level premium preliminary term and modified preliminary term, on business issued from July 1, 1907 to date; actuaries 4% on business issued prior to July 1, 1907; American 3% on certain policies; annuities at actuaries 4%, American 3½%, American 3%, McClintock's 3½%.

GEM CITY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Dayton, Ohio

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized in February, 1911, in Ohio, by the Gem City Securities Company which had been formed as an insurance company stock-selling institution, executively headed by F. T. Betts, who was also president and general manager of the Gem City Life, when it began business March 15, 1912. In July 1912, the stockholders voted to reorganize the company with a new executive staff, largely because of excessive promotional expenses, which it was deemed more careful management would have obviated. Besides President Betts, F. F. McGinnis, secretary-counsel resigned and turned his attention to the Miami Valley Securities, the corporation which is said to have been the original cause of the trouble among the stockholders of the Gem City Life. A. J. Conover, president; Dr. G. T. Brown, and R. P. Burkhardt, vice-presidents and Gustave Becker formed the succeeding executive staff. These men and their strong cooperating board of directors brought the company to a sound footing and turned it toward progressive development. The company's initial paid-in capital was $100,000 with an almost equal amount paid in to surplus. Shares of capital stock were sold at from $25 to $37.50 each, par value being $10. Comparatively small but regular increases have made paid-in capital $170,350, in 1922. Capital increased in 1923 to $200,000 and $18,630 paid in to surplus as premium on stock sold. A controlling group of stockholders, in 1914, negotiated the establishment of a voting trust. Two trustees were named for a term of 5 years automatically renewable for a similar period if not revoked. The trustees are John E. Viot and Lee W. James. The former is president of the Mutual Home and Savings Association. The latter is an attorney of prominence and a director and heavy stockholder in the company. Surplus payments have been as follows: 1919, $5,750; 1920, $800; 1921, $2,285; 1922, $61,515; 1923, $18,630.

Administration and Repute—Since its early reorganization, the company has developed steadily though slowly. Since a minor reorganization of definite constructiveness in 1919, increasing volume and general development of the business has been apparent, denoted among other evidences by payment of dividends to stockholders; in 1922, $2,184 and in 1923, $8,765. Operating expenses have been rather high but business acquisition costs fairly moderate. In both 1922 and 1923 surplus was substantially increased. The company has fairly satisfactory strength in reserves and assets. Its investments are well secured and remunerative. Its actuarial practices follow a high standard. Its mortality rate is low and it is in good repute for paying death claims promptly. The State Insurance Department approves its policy contracts. They include the features of disability and double indemnity.

All business is written through managers.

It was examined in 1923 by the Insurance Department of Ohio and the District of Columbia. In that year it was undertaking the selling of wholesale life insurance in connection with daily newspaper subscriptions. In addition to its life insurance it maintains an accident and health department in which it does a small volume of business.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance (non-participating); accident and health (issued from separate department). $50,000. The company adopted its present corporate title by charter amendment effective July 1, 1914. The company obtained in the year 1914 about $3,000,000 of business by its reinsurance of the outstanding business of the Commercial Life & Casualty of Savannah, Georgia. Its initial dividend to stockholders was paid in 1912. Stock, par value, is $10 a share. The company is a member of the American Life Convention and the American Institute of Actuaries.

Administration and Repute—This company has grown steadily and logically. H. B. Smith, president since organization heads a capable and experienced executive staff whose management has brought favorable results. Mortality experience has been very satisfactory while expenses of operation and business acquisition have been reasonable and both policyholders and stockholders have reaped good returns. The company is controlled by the stockholders but a provision in the charter states that as soon as capital protection of policyholders ceases to be necessary redemption of capital may follow resulting in the company becoming mutual in form of operation. Stockholders have received dividends annually since 1912, the aggregate cash being $122,500. The charter authorizes the board of directors at such time as surplus warrants such action to declare further dividends to stockholders semi-annually up to 5%. The company has adequate surplus and has good strength in reserves and assets, its financial statement for 1923 exhibiting an all around satisfactory and strong condition. The company's investments are well secured and remunerative. Its actuarial practices follow a high standard and it is in good repute for prompt settlement of claims. Provisions for disability and double indemnity benefits are optionally available with policy contracts. Business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance, all on participating plan except some reinsurance accepted on the non-participating basis. It uses two rate schedules, one "special rate," the other, "survivorship income endowment rate." The latter provides for an income continuous (20-year certain) after maturity of endowment or prior death. Regular forms of life and endowment are written and also the following: 10, 15 and 20-payment life and 10, 15 and 20-year endowments at the common rate; 20-payment endowment at ages 60, 65, 70 and 75; endowment at age 75; 10-year term non-renewable, convertible within 7 years; special policy for minors; coupon bond policies monthly and by monthly income on ordinary and 20-payment forms; family 20-payment; joint life and deferred annuities. Maximum amount written, no limit; retained, $15,000. Women are insured, $15,000 limit and in certain cases disability feature, at same rates as men. Colored risks are not solicited.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, $20,674,523, (approximately); non-participating, $905,118.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% full level premium and modified preliminary term; annuities, British officers, 4%; McClintock's 3½%.

Officers—Harrison B. Smith, president; Albert B. White, Addison M. Scott, vice-presidents; Ernest C. Milair, vice-president, secretary and agency director; Henry Moir, New York, consulting actuary; Frederick S. Bown, treasurer; J. Philip Bowerman, actuary; H. H. Young, M. D., medical director; Harrison B. Smith, Jr., assistant treasurer; Charles H. Tiffin, assistant secretary and auditor; George E. Price, general counsel; Robert E. McCabe, attorney.

Directors—Harrison B. Smith, Frederick M. Staunton, Edwin A. Barnes, Fred O. Blue, Benjamin Baer, Benjamin B. Brown, I. N. Smith, Darwin E. Abbott, Addison M. Scott, R. Graves Hubbard, W. E. that figure at which capital stock has since remained. The company reinsured the entire business of the Girard Mutual Life, which had been in operation on the assessment plan since incorporation, in Pennsylvania, November 30, 1906. Policyholders were the largest buyers of the company's stock, initially sold to them at prices of from $15 to $19 a share, par value, $10, thus creating an initial surplus of about $80,000. Nathan T. Folwell has been president of the company since organization, and Albert Short and R. H. Wallace, secretary and treasurer respectively, have been executively associated with him throughout the period.

Administration and Repute—Under capable and experienced management, this company has made a record of rather slow, but steady and solid growth. Since incorporation as a stock company, premium income has increased annually under all conditions of business and the volume is now substantial. Stockholders control the company. No limit has been set upon the proportion of earnings payable to them. Dividends paid since organization, $20,952. Both participating and non-participating insurance policies are written. The company is in good repute for its treatment of policyholders. No dividends have as yet been paid to stockholders. The company has ample surplus. Its investments are well secured and remunerative, actuarial methods sound, operating expenses fairly moderate and business acquisition costs low. Mortality rate is satisfactory and death claims are promptly paid. Standard forms are used for all policy contracts. They include the disability feature. The general agency system is in vogue.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular form[8] of life and endowment and also the following: (participating) 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 15 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; (non-participating) ordinary, 20-payment life and 20-year endowment. Joint life and monthly income policies are also written. Colored risks are accepted. Maximum amount written, $25,000; retained, $7,500 up to age 45, thereafter $5,000. A very careful selection of risks is made in insuring women, with disability not granted.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $16,098,825; deferred dividend, $456,000; non-participating, $7,843,513.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term basis, except 20-payment life (participating) from May 1, 1914 and 20-payment life (non-participating) from January 1, 1920, which are full preliminary term basis.

Officers—Nathan T. Folwell, president; Joseph M. Steele, first vice-president; Albert Short, second vice-president and secretary; Richard H. Wallace, third vice-president and treasurer; Clarke T. Botting, superintendent of agencies; Clark R. Craig, medical director; counsel, Brown and Williams.

Directors—Nathan T. Folwell, Joseph M. Steele, Albert Short, Richard H. Wallace, John H. Brooks, Thomas R. Patton, Samuel D. Dibert, George C. Hetzel, Edward C. Nolan, Samuel J. Harry, Ira Jewell Williams, Clark R. Craig, M.D., W. H. Folwell, Leopold Jay, Claude E. Taylor.

GREAT NORTHERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Wausau, Wisconsin

General Offices: Westminster Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized May 7, 1909, in Wisconsin, and began business immediately with an authorized capital of $200,000, which in 1911 was increased to $300,000, and in 1919 was reduced to $150,000 by reduction of the par value of stock from $100 to $50 per share. Organization was conducted under the guidance of the late Honorable Neal Brown, who was elected first president. Paid-in capital was $200,000 in 1909, the company's initial year, and had been advanced to $224,550 in 1919, when the 50% reduction above mentioned made it $112,275 by a transfer of an equal amount to surplus, former surplus having been wiped out by losses caused by the influenza-pneumonia epidemic, 1918-1919. Early in 1922, the company underwent a change in management and at the same time stock control passed into the hands of H. G. Royer, president and C. O. Pauley, secretary, and their associates. An agency and underwriting office to handle the major portion of operations was opened in Chicago, although the home office remained in Wausau, Wisconsin. Early in 1923, the company absorbed the Central Business Men's Association, of Chicago, an accident and health company, reinsuring all of its policies. Great Northern capital was thereupon increased to $225,000 and a surplus at that time stood at $166,174. The two companies had been under the same management, the Great Northern having been acquired by interests connected with the Central Business Men's Association, and Mr. Royer and Mr. Pauley had been respectively president and secretary of both companies. The last examination of the company's condition was made by the Insurance Departments of Wisconsin and Illinois as of December 31, 1921.

Administration and Repute—Under capable, experienced and conservative management, this company has shown steady progress and a progressive disposition in the face of all conditions. Writing of industrial insurance was discontinued in 1913. Its premium income has made solid gains annually since organization, and in recent years the company has built up a substantial surplus and increased its good financial strength of reserves and assets. A dividend of $8,916 was paid to stockholders in 1913, and one of $27,000 in 1923. The Company's investments are well selected and remunerative. Actuarial methods are standard. Operating and business acquisition expenses are fairly moderate. Mortality rate is low and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. Business is on the non-participating basis and includes the features of disability and double indemnity. Its accident and health department is conducted at a profit.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment, and in addition, the following: 20-payment and continuous endowment at 65; single premium, monthly income and special women's policy. "Selected lives" policies are written on certain preferred risks. Maximum amount written, $50,000; retained, $10,000. Women are insured without disability benefits on limited payment and endowment forms on same basis of rates as men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $19,657,795.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, 1909 to 1922 on full preliminary, modified preliminary and select and ultimate bases; American 3%, on 20-payment endowment at age 65 issued in 1919; standard industrial 3½%, 1909-1914, 3%, 1915.

Officers—H. G. Royer, president; John A. Sullivan, Frank A. Helmer, Ward C. Castle, vice-presidents; C. O. Pauley, secretary; A. J. Kreitzer, assistant secretary; H. J. Hornberger, assistant actuary; Ira S. Parker, auditor and assistant secretary; C. B. Irwin, M. D., medical director.

Directors—H. T. Windsor, C. S. Gilbert, John A. Sullivan, Stanley H. Barrows, Harry P. Harrison, Isaac B. Tigrett, H. G. Royer, Jacob Mortenson, Ward C. Castle, H. A. Huskey, C. O. Pauley, F. A. Hill, W. E. Jacobs, R. G. Lamberson, Frank A. Helmer.

GREAT REPUBLIC LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Los Angeles, California

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, March 2, 1911, in California, and began business Feb. 7, 1913, with $500,000 paid-in capital. Organization was conducted by the Great Pacific Securities Company and a number of very influential people of Southern California were original stockholders. A. R. Chaffee, general United States Army, retired, was first president. E. E. D. Telford, secretary, H. F. Stewart, treasurer, and F. M. Cruzen, the last named formerly active in the Southern Insurance field at Nashville, Tenn., were among the principal organizers. Organization expenses, thought to be excessive, coupled with some differences between stockholders relative to prices and methods of stock selling, accounted for the eventual elimination of all parties responsible for such promotional difficulties. E. C. Cooper, assumed the office of president on July 1, 1914, elected to succeed General Chaffee, resigned June 9, of that year. A. Otis Birch, president, succeeded Mr. Cooper, resigned May 1, 1921. Stock, par value, is $10 a share. The Insurance Departments of California and Oklahoma examined the company as of June 30, 1921. Early in 1923, work was begun on a large new home office building of class "A" construction, located in Los Angeles.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention and the Life Underwriters Association of Los Angeles.

Administration and Repute—The Great Republic, which is one of the most conservative of the younger companies, on December 31, 1923, closed the best year in its history, having a volume of insurance in force in excess of $24,000,000. Premium income has increased rather slowly but solidly in aspect of sound progress. Only non-participating insurance is written. Stockholders control the company. Operating surplus is satisfactory. Investments are well secured and remunerative. Actuarial methods are standard. Operating and business acquisition expenses are above average. Mortality rate is satisfactory and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. It uses standard forms for policy contract, which include double indemnity and disability features. The general agency plan is in vogue. On December 31 last there was $99,477 loans outstanding to stockholders not officers.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowment; ordinary, 20-payment life and 20-year endowment coupon special policies; single premium life; 5, 10, and 20-year convertible term; continuous monthly income, 20-year certain; 5-year convertible term, 20 instalment in policies of $5,000 and $10,000; joint life on whole life, 20-payment life and 20-year endowment; 19-payment premium endowment. Maximum amount written, $25,000; retained, $5,000. Women are written except term policies with usual restrictions at same rates as apply to men. Limit $2,500. Disability not issued to married women. GREAT SOUTHERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Houston, Texas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized and incorporated March 1, 1909, and commenced business November 1, 1909. The original authorized capital was $500,000. The first 10,000 shares of stock was sold at $20 per share, of which $10 was for capital, $6 for surplus, and $4 for expenses. Stock sold after the first 10,000 shares was at a cost of $25, of which $10 was for capital, $11 for surplus, and $4 for expenses. Organization work was carried on by Carlton Lyon & Company, of which Oswald Snider Carlton was the leading factor and moving spirit of the organization of the Great Southern. Mr. Carlton was an experienced life insurance man at the date of organization of the Great Southern and he was for a long time president of the company. At date of commencing business, November 1, 1909, the company had over $1,500,000 of insurance on its books, representing applications received during organization, paid up capital of over $150,000, and surplus of about $90,000. The authorized capital was subsequently increased to $1,000,000 of which $600,000 is now paid-in. The sale of stock has resulted in surplus payments amounting to about $650,000. During 1916 the company acquired a building in Dallas, Texas, and moved thereto, maintaining head offices both in Dallas and Houston. In 1918 the building was resold and the company removed to Houston. In 1921, controlling stock of this company was purchased by E. P. Greenwood, the present president, from the organizer, O. S. Carlton.

Reinsurances effected included the Lone Star Life, Wichita Southern Life, Gibraltar Life, Equitable Life, Texas; Oklahoma National, and the American Home, which was returned to it by the International Life of St. Louis. A thorough examination of this company was made as of June 30, 1921, by the States of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Administration and Repute—The company has been remarkably successful. Its growth has been rapid, its rates reasonable, and its actuarial system has been soundly based upon standard valuation tables. It issues nothing but non-participating contracts. Its treatment of policyholders has been splendid, and loss payments have been promptly and equitably made. During the control of the company by Mr. Carlton, there was a tendency towards rapid expansion which necessarily resulted in a high expense rate. Another point which had its disturbing influence on the equanimity of the Great Southern was the mergers and rumors of mergers which surrounded it as a result of the stock transactions in other companies by Mr. Carlton. The expense rate, however, has been materially reduced by the present management, which has also devoted its entire energy to the progress of the Great Southern, and has resulted in success. The examiners rightly complimented the company on the excellent condition of its books and records, its sound actuarial methods, and its fair and equitable forms of policies. No company could grow as soundly as the Great Southern which did not provide insurance of the most satisfactory sort. Business is transacted through agency managers.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes all the ordinary forms of contract of life insurance on the non-participating plan including disability and double indemnity benefits, and in addition writes child endowment term policies, birthday endowments; a special triple benefit policy; annuities, monthly income policies; joint life policies and single premium policies. Colored risks are not written.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, West Virginia standard on Great Southern policies below $80,000 and on American Home, business. Illinois standard on all others. Annuities written American 3½% deferred.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $115,518,642.

Officers—E. P. Greenwood, president; L. S. Adams, vice-president and treasurer; F. W. Griffin, vice-president and manager of agencies; J. C. Cameron, vice-president and actuary; Dr. Joe E. Daniel, medical director; W. S. Horne, secretary and assistant treasurer.

GREAT STATE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Wichita, Kansas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized April 16, 1919, in Kansas and began business June 18, of that year, licensed to do business as a mutual old line legal reserve institution. Organization was conducted by James P. Sullivan, formerly vice-president of the Farmers and Bankers Life, of Wichita, under an authorization to float $200,000 worth of 7%, 10-year bonds, to be sold at par, to supply the emergency reserve fund required. It was provided in sale agreement that redemption of bonds should be made out of company's surplus earnings. An expense limit of 20% was placed on the bond sale. The entire issue was sold within a few months. On the first day of business, the Great State received applications amounting to $510,500 of insurance. The company makes redemption of its reserve fund bond issue logically contingent upon there being a sufficient surplus in excess of the reserves invested at the ten year due date. If surplus is not adequate for the purpose, the company may defer redeeming the bonds until ample surplus is available.

Administration and Repute—The company has been managed by executives of ability, experience and progressive disposition; and under their conduct the business showed satisfactory gains. Premium income fell off slightly in 1922 resulting in a consequent loss of insurance in force, but the company continued to show increases in satisfactory financial strength of assets and reserves. In 1923 premium volume and insurance in force increased over 1922 but neither was equal to the respective amounts for 1921. Assets and reserves were increased. Insurance written continued to decrease and was less in 1923 than in any of the four years of the company's business career. Surplus has decreased annually since 1920 and is not large. The company does not class its reserve fund bonds outstanding as a liability. It has a fair yielding grade of investments. Actuarial methods are of the best. Operating and business acquisition expenses are above average. The company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims, and the mortality rate is low. Policy contracts include the features of disability and double indemnity. It operates on the managerial plan. It is a mutual company and all profits belong to policyholders, but it issues both participating and non-participating in plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: ordinary and 20-payment instalment policies, annual and monthly; 5, 10, 15 and 20-year renewable term forms; joint life; child's policy. Maximum amount written, $100,000; retained, $5,000. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, $5,428,280; non-participating, $1,742,170.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, (Illinois standard).

Officers—Fred B. Stanley, president; Benjamin F. Hegler, vice-president; Walter B. Crandall, secretary; R. C. Clevenger, treasurer; Benj. F. Hegler, general counsel; Dr. W. P. Callaham, medical director; R. M. Webb, consulting actuary; Dr. Martin Hagan, associate medical director; James P. Sullivan, manager of agencies.

Directors—Fred B. Stanley, B. F. Hegler, W. B. Crandall, R. C. Clevenger, G. C. Dunn.

Operates in Kansas only.

GREAT WESTERN INSURANCE COMPANY

Des Moines, Iowa

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was founded January 17, 1901, by H. B. Hawley, who has been the continuous president, under the name of the Great Western Accident Association. A charter of a company that was organized in 1894 was used and continued until January 17, 1914, when it was changed to a stock basis. The company, under its present plan began business August 1, 1914, with a paid-up capital of $100,000. The stock company was charged with the duty of taking over and equitably liquidating the affairs of the former Mutual Association, which was done to the satisfaction of the entire membership. The capital was increased in 1921 from $100,000 to $200,000, by stock dividend of $100,000; 1922 to $250,000 by transfer of $50,000 from surplus. The company has reinsured several of the smaller western companies, and is the only general health and accident company starting at an early date in Iowa that still maintains its organization. It has recently added a life insurance department, which was formally launched August 1, 1923.

Administration and Repute—This company was progressive and well established under its former mutual basis, having used regular stock rates, and as a stock company it has continued its profitable operations, and developed greater volume of business under an experienced, diligent and careful management. In addition to the change of capital stock from $100,000 to $250,000, the company has been financially successful and paid good dividends. Its policies are issued on annual, semi-annual, quarterly, or monthly premium basis. It has high grade and remunerative investments, a good loss paying record, and is generally in excellent repute. The Insurance Department of Iowa examined the company late in 1923 making favorable comments in general including the following: "The paid claim files indicate prompt and satisfactory settlements." The directors control the company, and the officers and directors are the chief owners of the $250,000 capital stock. It has paid dividends to stockholders since organization of $170,000 cash and $150,000 stock. It operates on the managerial plan. At the end of 1923 after five months of operation in the life business there was $1,156,000 of insurance outstanding, a very laudable achievement and indicating a progressive agressiveness.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance, including the usual forms of ordinary, limited payment and endowment policies. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $1,156,000.

Reserve Basis—3½% Illinois Standard.

GREENSBORO MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Greensboro, North Carolina

HISTORICAL DATA

This company organized in 1923 and commenced business late in that year. It was formerly projected as the Union Mutual Life and Health Insurance Company. The company will write monthly premium and commercial health, accident and life insurance on the legal reserve plan. L. C. McCabe, president, and J. A. Gallion is secretary. Both of these men have had extensive insurance experience, being formerly connected with the Business Men's Insurance Company of Greensboro.

GUARANTY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Davenport, Iowa

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated under the laws of Iowa, January 3, 1903 and commenced business February 3, 1903 as a mutual legal reserve company. On January 10, 1910, by unanimous vote of the policyholders, the company changed to a stock basis, reorganization being affected and the word "Mutual" stricken from the title. Capital of $100,000 was quickly subscribed on a basis of 1½ to 1 of par value with $50,000 surplus, the par value of the stock being $100 per share. An originally paid-in guaranty fund of $59,200 was returned to the guarantors. Stockholders have received, since organization of the company, dividend payments aggregating $61,000 in cash. The company has been examined by the Insurance Departments of Iowa and Nebraska.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention, the National Association of Life Underwriters and the American Institute of Actuaries.

Additional information on other pages; detailed statements in Compendium Section; Statistical History in department Life Insurance history; Gains and Losses in Gain and Loss Exhibit.

Administration and Repute—Due to extraordinary losses through the national influenza epidemic of 1918, stockholders paid in $20,000. No dividends have been paid from 1918 till 1923 when a dividend of 7% was declared. Previously stockholders received them since 1911 annually at the rate of 7 per cent, excepting for the year 1911 when the rate was 6 per cent. Total dividends since organization $68,000. The company, writing only non-participating insurance, has stated that old mutual policyholders bear protection by an assignment of all the mutual business and that stockholders receive no benefit from the business written while the company was on a mutual basis. This, however, is the only limit placed upon the stockholder's proportion of profits.

The company has a fair surplus over capital and other liabilities. Practising sound actuarial methods, it has had a gradual but satisfactory growth, with invested assets consisting principally of mortgage loans yielding a good return. Operation and management expenses are not high. A very low rate of mortality was current until 1918 when increase from 37.1% to 96.0% was largely accounted for by the widespread epidemic of influenza and pneumonia. Claims are settled promptly. The Iowa Insurance Department examined the company in 1923 and the subsequent report contained no derogatory statements.

Annual and deferred dividend policies, industrial insurance and accident insurance, were formerly written by the Guaranty Life. In 1911 its industrial business was transferred to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of New York, and in 1914 similar transfer of its accident insurance was made to the Bankers Accident Insurance Company of Des Moines. The Guaranty Life now writes only ordinary life insurance on the non-participating basis. Agency force is established through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—In addition to the regular forms of contracts, the company issues premium reduction 20-payment life, and 20-payment with 20-year endowment option; single premium life 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; convertible term (non-renewable) 10 and 20 years; annual instalments on regular forms; joint life, ordinary, 20-payment and 20-year endowment; economic whole life at age 85, $2,000 insurance first 10 years, $1,000 thereafter monthly income; child's policy.

The company writes insurance on women at the same rate as on men. There are, however, restrictions as follows: A limit of $5,000; term insurance not granted; a minor child or dependent must be the beneficiary; endowment policy only is granted for any beneficiary other than above; joint policy by husband and wife, limited payment life with survivor as beneficiary. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $26,612,787; annual dividend, $220,237; deferred dividend, $516,725.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term Illinois standard since 1910; 1902 to 1909, actuaries 4%; 1909–1910 American 3½% full preliminary term.

THE GUARDIAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA

New York, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized April 10, 1860, in New York as the Germania Life Insurance Company, and began business July 16 of that year with a paid-in capital of $200,000 which stands same today. By charter amendment in 1901 policyholders were accorded extensive recognition and soon thereafter the company began to be controlled by them. Such control continues at present. On March 1, 1918, the company's present name was adopted, the change having been sanctioned by company vote in the previous December. At the end of 1921, the company changed its practice of reporting foreign business at current normal rates of exchange by adopting a considerably lower basis of exchange more closely approximating actual values in American dollars. Stock, par value, is $50 a share.

Administration and Repute—The Guardian ranks with the other successful pioneers of life insurance in the United States. Under sound and conservative management it has made progress, has operated efficiently and economically and established for itself an estimable reputation. It uses the full level premium reserve system exclusively. Prior to January 1, 1907 both non-participating and participating policies were issued; since that date only the latter. The Guardian Life is unexcelled in financial standing, having large surplus and exceedingly strong reserves and assets. Reductions in these items apparent in the 1921 figures were caused by readjustment of the foreign business as stated above and represented an actual safeguard prompted by a policy of careful and conservative procedure rather than any great material loss, as the reduction of figures might tend to indicate. Foreign business is being disposed of altogether. This company has met with considerable success in the extensive use of direct mail advertising which has had a stimulating effect on agents. Its life insurance conservation program which includes free health service for Guardian policyholders, through the Life Extension Institute of New York City, is meeting with increasing success; and it has other special features such as its budget service, insurance investment service, policy title service and policy conservation service. The company's actuarial practices are conservative and sound; its investments are well secured and remunerative; business acquisition costs are low, as is also the mortality rate. It is in good repute for prompt payment of death claims. It follows a well defined policy of maintaining a low net cost to policyholders. A 25% increase in dividends to policyholders was announced for 1924 to be most pronounced for life and limited payment life plans on which the bulk of the business is written.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance in all usual forms of contracts and in addition the following: Joint life on ordinary, limited payment and endowment; monthly income on ordinary limited payment and endowment; special corporation contracts; endowments for children; exchangeable endowment for children; convertible, non-renewable term and non-convertible non-renewable term. Women are written at regular rates with disability benefits granted if unmarried and employed.

Sub-standard—This class of business is accepted by the company on business originating from its own agencies. Special rates and policies are provided. The limit of insurance in the minimum or medium class accepted by the company is $30,000; and on the intermediate and special classes the limit accepted is $20,000.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $216,106,351; dividend accumulation, $7,833,185; non-participating, $4,504,107.

THE HAWKEYE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Des Moines, Iowa

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized early in 1920, in Iowa, and began business July 1, of that year. Original authorized capital was $200,000, of which $100,350 was paid-in at $1.50 per share, par value $1.00, thereby furnishing a surplus of $50,175. In 1921, capital paid-in was increased to $100,600 at which it has since remained. "Charter membership policies" were written initially up to a limited number and then discontinued. The Insurance Department of Iowa examined the company as of March 30, 1921.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed, is in the hands of insurance executives of ability and experience, and for so young an organization has made satisfactory though moderate progress. It was licensed to transact accident and health insurance as well as life but has not yet entered the former field. Premium income fell off slightly in 1923 as did total insurance in force while new insurance written was considerably less than in 1922 which also showed a decrease from 1921. Assets, reserves and surplus however, showed satisfactory gains. It has built up very satisfactory financial strength in reserves and assets. All business is on the participating plan. Stockholders control the company and proportion of earnings payable to them is not limited. No dividends have been paid to them as yet. The company's investments are well secured and fairly remunerative. Actuarial methods are standard. Operating and business acquisition costs have been fairly moderate. Mortality rate is satisfactory and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 20-payment endowments and distributive endowments with premiums ceasing at 65; 5 and 10-year convertible term policies. Maximum amount written, $25,000; retained, $5,000.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $6,668,000.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, (Illinois standard).

Officers—I. H. Allen, president; Frank L. Miner, vice-president; A. R. Ingleman, second vice-president and agency manager; B. D. Van Meter, secretary; B. B. Vorse, treasurer; W. E. Baker, medical director.

Directors—J. H. Allen, Frank L. Miner, George W. Guth, B. D. Van Meter, A. R. Ingleman, Geo. F. McCarty, B. B. Vorse.

Operates in Iowa and Missouri.

HOME BENEFICIAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

900 East Broad Street, Richmond, Virginia

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated in Virginia in 1897 and commenced business in 1899, to transact on an industrial life and sick benefit plan. It has a capital stock of $100,000. $70,000 of capital was developed through stock dividends.

Administration and Repute—This company has been conservatively managed throughout its existence and capably so. It has a large premium income and its assets are well invested, the majority being in first mortgage loans and government bonds, which have yielded a good rate of interest. It has ample reserves and a substantial surplus. It is conducted upon a standard actuarial basis and has had a favorable mortality record. Its management and acquisition costs are low. It has a good record for promptly paying death and benefit claims and its officers are well thought of in their community. Sick benefit business is written in about equal volume with the life business. It is strictly proprietary. It was examined in 1923 by the District of Columbia Insurance Department.

HOME FRIENDLY INSURANCE COMPANY OF MARYLAND

Home Friendly Building, Baltimore, Maryland

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated under the laws of Maryland in May, 1884, and began business June of the same year as an assessment industrial life and sick benefit association, styled the Home Friendly Society of Baltimore City. On December 31, 1920, following a request from the company, the Maryland Insurance Department, after an examination which disclosed the fact that the reinsurance reserve amounted to more than 230% over the legal reserve, classified it as a legal reserve life insurance company. At a meeting of the Board of Directors in 1921, a resolution was passed by which the company charged itself with the legal reserve liability and they decided to operate on that basis and at the same time change its name from The Home Friendly Society of Baltimore City to Home Friendly Insurance Company of Maryland. This new title was legally approved by a special act of the Maryland Legislature of 1922. The company was not reincorporated, but merely changed its plan of operation from an assessment association to a legal reserve company.

It was examined in 1923 by the Maryland and District of Columbia Insurance Departments. It is a member of the Baltimore Life Underwriters Association and the Baltimore Association of Commerce.

By special act of 1924 session of Maryland Legislature the limitation of the amount of insurance the company could write was removed. In 1923 company purchased a lot on which a modern home office building is being erected.

Administration and Repute—This company is upon a sound financial basis. During its 40 years of existence it has built up a high class reputation for fair dealing with policyholders and prompt settlement of claims. Its actuarial methods are standard, its mortality rate uniformly low, expenses reasonable and investments made in Government and State bonds which yield a satisfactory rate of interest. Recently its change of operation to a legal reserve basis and its progressive disposition along other lines has demonstrated that the company is capably managed by alert insurance men. It transacts industrial business only, but has in contemplation the establishment of an ordinary department. It issues accident and health coverage in conjunction with its life policies.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life, accident and health insurance on the industrial plan. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are accepted.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Industrial life, $13,726,193.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% since December 31, 1918, American 4% from 1903 to 1918, actuaries 4% from 1884 to 1903.

Officers—George A. Chase, president; David F. Zeigler, vice-president; B. L. Talley, secretary.

Operates in Maryland, District of Columbia Pennsylvania and Delaware.

HOME LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Fordyce, Arkansas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, 1900, in Arkansas, as the Home Accident Insurance Company, and began business at once with initial capital paid-in, $50,000. Capital increased: 1905, to $100,000, by stock dividend of $50,000; 1908, to $200,000, by stock dividend of $100,000. In 1909, change in plan of figuring liability reserve caused stockholders to pay in $75,000 to surplus. Capital increased by stock dividend, 1910, to $250,000, at which it has since remained. In 1915, A. B. Banks, president and holder of the largest stock interest, without reimbursement agreement, paid $3,750 to surplus and $138,203 to reserves of accident department as additional strength. This company absorbed the business of the Home Life and Casualty Company, October 12, 1911, and at the same time adopted its present name. The Home Life and Casualty, organized 1910, by identical interests, wrote life insurance only. Its stockholders were paid in Home Life and Accident stock to the amount of $107,083, exchanging their old company's certificates at the rate of three for two of the new company's shares. The Home Fire of Little Rock, Ark., is under the same management as the Home Life and Accident. This company reinsured the Mississippi Valley Life, of Little Rock, as of December 31, 1912. The company's branch in New Orleans, known as the Gulf Compensation Exchange, was opened November 1, 1919. Its particular function is the writing of workmen's compensation in Alabama, Louisiana and Texas. It is not a reciprocal. It is operated independently to a large degree and issues policies under the name Gulf Compensation Exchange of the Home Life and Accident Company. For guaranteeing this policy the Home Life and Accident receives 10% commission on the net premiums earned. Any profit earned over and above this 10% and in addition the amount of all losses and expenses deducted from the net premiums earned is distributed among holders of Gulf Compensation Exchange policies. Home Life and Accident stock, par value, was $25 a share. Early in 1923, the A. B. Banks interests announced the organization of the Home Life Insurance Company and of the Home Accident Insurance Company of Arkansas, the former to reinsure the life business of the Home Life and Accident and the latter to reinsure all of that company's casualty business. The Home Life has an authorized capital of $500,000 of which $250,000 is paid-in. The two companies are executively allied but are separately incorporated and are expected to derive certain advantages from independent operation. A. B. Banks is president of both companies. With all of its business reinsured in the two above mentioned companies, the Home Life and Accident has retired from business. The company is being examined in 1924 by the Arkansas Insurance Department. It is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—A. B. Banks and Company, managers of the former Home Life and Accident and of its successor, the Home Life, are capable, experienced and in good repute. In addition to success in its casualty business, the company has done a fairly substantial and annually increasing volume of life writing from which it has also realized profitable results. Operating surplus is adequate. The company's investments are well secured and remunerative. Its actuarial methods are standard. Its life business is conducted at fairly moderate cost, which is also the case with business acquisition. It has had a satisfactory mortality rate and is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. They include the features of double indemnity and disability. Prior to April 1, 1914, the company wrote both participating and non-participating insurance; since then only the latter has been written. It has not written accident insurance since 1915. The segregation of the original company into two separate organizations shows that the life insurance company to have had in 1923 its most successful year. Increases in surplus premium volume and insurance written and in force were recorded. In fact in that year the company shows a greater ratio of progress than ever before. Stockholders control the company; dividends paid them in 1923 amounted to $15,000.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: a full premium savings policy; a premium reduction policy; group policies; single premium; joint life and insurance with bank deposit. Maximum amount written, $25,000; retained, $8,000. Women are written with the usual restrictions at the same rates as apply to men, but without the disability feature. Colored risks are not written, except on the group plan.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, $1,396,500; non-participating, $17,756,285.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, 1909, to 1922 inclusive; actuaries 3½%, full level premium basis, ordinary life, 1919 to 1922 inclusive.

Officers—A. B. Banks, president; J. J. Harrison, J. H. Thach, J. D. Arnold, vice-presidents; John R. Hampton, secretary and treasurer.

HOME LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA, INCORPORATED

Executive Office—504 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

HISTORICAL DATA

This comapny was organized April 18, 1899, in Delaware and began business on May 1 of that year, as an industrial institution. Authorized capital was $250,000. In 1901, paid-in capital was $100,000, and in that year the company prepared policies for beginning the transaction of ordinary business, which was not begun, however, until 1908. The company's stock was originally all subscribed for by the Home Protective Company, a holding corporation, which sold it at $20 to $30 a share, par value, $10. Capital was paid-in at intervals up to 1921, when it became entirely paid-up, $250,000. It is reported that all premiums received on stock sales were turned over to the company's surplus account. In 1910, the company reinsured the business of the Union Mutual Life, of Philadelphia, and in 1912, it took over the business of the Reading Mutual Life, of Reading, Pa. The Insurance Department of Delaware and Pennsylvania examined the company as of December 31, 1919.

Administration and Repute—Under capable and experienced management, this company has had a successful and profitable career and has built up a substantial volume of business. First dividend was paid in 1908 and annually thereafter through 1916, then no dividends were paid until one of $60,000, in 1922; $40,000 was paid in 1923. Dividends to stockholders aggregate, cash, $111,901. Premium income has advanced steadily since organization. The company writes non-participating insurance only and is under the control of its stockholders. Its surplus is adequate for all operations. Investments are well selected and substantially remunerative. Actuarial methods are of the best. Mortality rate is satisfactory and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Policy contracts in ordinary business meet the entire official approval. They include the features of double indemnity and disability.

Classes of Insurance Written—Besides straight life insurance, the company writes industrial and group insurance on the non-participating basis. In straight life it writes the usual forms of life and endowment and also the following: single premium life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-payment endowment; joint life on whole life and limited payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; 5 and 10-year renewable and convertible term. Maximum amount written, $25,000; retained, $5,000. Women are insured on the same basis of rates that apply to men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, ordinary (including group), $31,032,757; industrial, $24,350,825.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%.

THE HOME LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

New York, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized April 30, 1860, in New York, and began business May 1, of that year, with a paid-in capital stock of $125,000. Walter S. Griffith, the first president, and a number of prominent citizens of Brooklyn organized the company. In its first decade of business, the company was very successful there being at the end of 1869, $23,135,000 of insurance in force and 11,009 policies outstanding. The period 1870–80 was not so successful. General conditions in life insurance were less favorable and this company did not strictly adhere to the aggressive standard it had initiated. Through the next 20 years aggressive operations were again the vogue and business increase was steady until the insurance in force at the end of 1899 was $49,258,000, and succeeding years saw the premium income continue to advance. The company was exhaustively examined by the Armstrong Investigation Committee in 1905 and to its lasting credit the investigation revealed nothing detrimental to the company. In the company's entire history there is no incident which better shows its high standing than its thoroughly creditable showing in this legislative investigation. Mutualization of the company was effected May 25, 1916. Twelve hundred and fifty shares of stock, par value, $100 were retired at $450 a share. Surplus was reduced $437,500 in order to consummate the stock retirement. Twelve per cent dividends had been paid to stockholders annually from 1867 up to the stock retirement. The company is now wholly mutual and is under the control of its policyholders.

Administration and Repute—Under thoroughly capable and long experienced management, this company has persistently shown a progressive disposition and with sound and conservative methods has grown steadily to a place of high standing among the pioneer insurance institutions. Its exemplary standard is maintained by a particularly high degree of selection in new business. Prior to January 1, 1907, non-participating policies were written, and some deferred dividend business, but since 1907, following revision of the insurance law of New York, annual dividend insurance only has been written. The company has a substantial and ample surplus and is strong in reserves and assets. Its investments are well secured and remunerative; actuarial methods unexcelled, expenses of operation most economical, business acquisition cost low, and mortality rate low. It has an estimable record in prompt payment of death claims. Substantial dividends have been paid to policyholders. It uses standard forms for policy contracts which include both disability and double indemnity benefits. It was examined in 1923 by the New York Insurance Department. All business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance in all usual forms of contracts and in addition the following: single premium life; 25 and 30-payment life; convertible 5 and 10-year term; joint life on whole life 20-payment and 20-year endowment; monthly income (10 and 20-years certain) on whole life, 20-payment life and 20-year endowment; monthly income continuous instalment (120 and 240 months certain) on whole life 20-payment life; 25, 30 and 35-year endowments; income beginning at age 60; children's endowment with or without dividends; immediate and deferred annuities. Restricted policies are issued on women except term. Limits under restrictions are $20,000. Minimum insurable age is 17. Disability benefits apply in certain cases. The company accepts full blood colored risks.

Sub-Standard—This company writes substandard insurance on persons engaged in hazardous occupations. Persons with medical impairments are sometimes taken but the company does not generally do a sub-standard business on this class of risks. The extra hazard is taken care of by the age rating method and the cash values and dividends are given at the advanced age.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Deferred dividend, $9,720,613; annual dividend, $225,425,158; non-participating, $12,227,439.

Reserve Basis—American 3% on life endowment and term policies participating 1894–

HOME SECURITY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Temple Building, Durham, North Carolina

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized and began business in 1916, with a paid-in capital of $50,000 for the purpose of writing life, accident and sick benefit policies on the industrial plan.

Administration and Repute—This company operates in North Carolina only. It has a large premium income in comparison with its assets, reserves and surplus. This latter item is small. The company does a fair volume of business and pays losses equitably. Its expenses, while a trifle high, are not unreasonably so. Its mortality record is fair. About 80% of its assets are invested in mortgage loans and yield a moderate return. It is strictly proprietary in character. It issues combination health and life policies in addition to straight industrial life only.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life, accident and sick benefit policies on the industrial plan.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Whole life policies, $3,790,046; life and health, $2,244,078.

IDAHO STATE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Boise, Idaho

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, August 30, 1909, in Idaho, and began business January 31, 1910. Authorized capital stock was $250,000. This was subsequently changed to $200,000. In April, 1924 it was increased to $250,000. Capital stock of $200,000 was fully paid-in at an early date and a fair surplus was contributed at intervals. The Insurance Departments of Idaho, Utah, Washington and Oregon examined the company as of November 1, 1911, and reported its condition to be satisfactory and with a complete reorganization of the official staff and improved future outlook the company continued business. In 1919, the company's directors paid-in $10,000 to surplus. In 1920 this amount was returned to contributors with 6% interest. The Insurance Departments of Idaho, Oregon, Wyoming and Washington examined the company as of December 31, 1923. In 1923 number of directors was reduced from 15 to 9 by charter amendment. The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—Since 1911, the company's executive management has been competent and conscientously administering affairs conservatively in the best interest of both policyholders and stockholders. Under such management, it has had a moderate but satisfactory growth, and in the last four years has paid dividends to stockholders in liberal amount, the aggregate, cash, being $42,000. In 1921, premium income fell off considerably through the general business depression, but in 1922 recovered with an advance indicative of further progressiveness. Operations of 1923 were very successful and resulted in appreciable increases in premium volume, assets, surplus and in the various items of the insurance account. Surplus has been increased regularly in recent years and is ample. The company is financially strong in reserves and assets. Investments have been well selected and are remunerative. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Operating and business acquisition costs are somewhat above average. Mortality rate is low and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. They include the features of disability and double indemnity. Only non-participating insurance is written. The company employs both managers and general agents in the conduct of its agency force.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: endowment at 65, 20-pay life and 20-year endowment decreasing premium policies, ordinary, life, 20-pay life and 20-year endowment monthly income, ordinary life continuous monthly income, joint ordinary life, joint 20-pay life and joint 20-year endowments, five and ten year convertible term policies. Maximum amount written, $50,000; retained, $10,000. Women on same basis of rates as men. Disability to self-supporting single women ceasing on marriage.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $27,124,228.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term.

Officers—E. H. Dewey, president; Geo. B. Wood, secretary and agency director; Ray H. Peterson, assistant secretary; Dr. Wm. F. Smith, second vice-president and medical director; Edw. S. Chadwick, first vice-president and general manager; Paul L. Woolston, consulting actuary; Edwin Snow, general counsel.

dated October 2, 1899, with the Illinois Life Association of Chicago, retaining the name of the Illinois Life and transacting legal reserve life insurance only thereafter. In 1912 the capital stock of the company was increased to $500,000 by sale of stock at par. Subsequently in 1920, the capital stock was further increased to $1,000,000 by a stock dividend of $500,000. Reinsurances have been as follows: 1901, Western Mutual Life of Chicago, a stipulated premium company; 1902, Mutual Life of Louisville, legal reserve company; and 1903, the Kansas Mutual of Topeka, a legal reserve company. This company is a member of the following organizations: American Life Convention, American Institute of Actuaries, Association of Life Insurance, Presidents Life Agency Officers Associations, and the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau.

Administration and Repute—The company has been under sound management since its organization. The present chairman of the board of directors, J. W. Stevens, has been connected with the company for over 25 years, retiring from the presidency in 1924 to be succeeded by his son, R. W. Stevens, who has been the active man in charge of the company's affairs for sometime as vice-president and manager of agencies, and who has been connected with the company since 1896. Its career has been noted by consistent and steady growth. Its management has been aggressive, particularly in recent years, and the company has built up a substantial business. Reserves, assets and surplus have kept equal pace with the increase in insurance outstanding with the result that a proper conservative balance has always been maintained between the new and old business. The company deals fairly with policyholders and promptly pays all just claims. Its mortality rates have been low, as has been its expenses, both operating and acquisition. Its investments are sound and return a satisfactory rate of interest. It operates upon a sound actuarial basis. The company is a properietary company, all dividends going to stockholders. The company issues non-participating as well as annual and deferred dividend policies. Dividends paid to stockholders since organization in cash amount to $992,750, and $500,000 in stock. All surplus funds are owned by stockholders in excess of any apportionment to deferred dividend policies by the board of directors. It conducts its agency staff through both managers and general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes all the ordinary limited pay and endowment forms of policies, together with a score of survivorship investment contracts, guaranteed annual edition, renewable term policies, birthday endowments, and the following: single premium, annuities, monthly income and joint life policies. It writes disability and double indemnity business. Colored risks are written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $142,388,601; deferred dividend, $2,857,866; annual dividend, $5,055,524; assessment, $415,000.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, and preliminary term since 1907, prior thereto, actuaries 4% full level premium. Instalment contracts on Danish annuity payable 3½%, annuities on actuaries 4%, American 3 and 3½%.

capital stock was all paid-in and is owned by officers. No stock was sold or offered for sale outside the directorate.

Administration and Repute—The company is strictly proprietary but dividends are limited to 8% on the capital stock. To date $12,000 has been paid stockholders in dividends. This company while doing a moderate business is in good repute in the territory in which it operates. The company reports that it has at the present time nearly $300,000 of assets, $50,000 capital, and a surplus of over $70,000. Its reserve basis is the American Experience at 3½% and 4%. The company has a progressive management and is building the company slowly and economically and along sound lines. It has a premium income in excess of $560,000, a large portion of which is derived from its sick and accident business. Since September, 1923 it writes ordinary life insurance on the twenty payment life and twenty year endowment plan in multiples up to $5,000.

Classes of Insurance Written—Accident, health, whole life, 20-year endowment, 15-payment life and 15-payment life special on the industrial plan. The company is now issuing 20-year endowment, 20-payment life and ordinary life up to $5,000. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating; ordinary, $203,500; industrial, $5,927,635 (including $2,084,750 sick and accident).

Reserve Basis—New York Experience 3½% and 4%.

Officers—Gay Green, president; J. N. Jarrett, O. E. Starnes, vice-presidents; A. W. Els, secretary, W. B. Starnes, treasurer.

Directors—Gay Green, W. B. Starnes, O. E. Starnes, A. W. Els, J. N. Jarrett.

INDEPENDENT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Nashville, Tennessee

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized November 23, 1907, in Tennessee, and by charter was authorized to write life insurance. It began business March 1908. The original capital was $100,000, and stock originally sold at $12.50, later $15.00, and a small amount at $17.50 per share (par value $10.00). Initial year's paid-in capital was $189,070. Changes followed until in 1915 paid-in capital was $201,695, at which it has since remained. The present officers with the exception of the late Dr. M. C. McGhannon, were the original organizers of this company. The promotion expense was only 12% and there has been no change in the management of this company. In 1915, the Independent Life took over the business of the Atlas, of Montgomery, Alabama, an industrial company. The Independent took over the assets of the Western and Atlantic Fire after it had reinsured its business in 1914, and issued its stock to the stockholders of the Western and Atlantic.

Administration and Repute—This company has been operated by an experienced management under whom it has developed a moderate volume of business, premium income having steadily advanced since organization. Dividends were paid in 1911 and 1912 and again in 1920, 1921 and 1922, those of recent years being larger in amount. All business is on the non-participating basis and the company control is vested in the stockholders. Operating surplus is entirely adequate. The company's investments are remunerative. Its actuarial methods are standard. As the predominating volume is industrial business, operating costs are reasonable. The company is in good repute for paying death claims promptly.

Classes of Insurance Written—It writes the regular forms of whole life, endowment and term policies, both on ordinary and industrial plans, the latter predominating. Maximum amount written, $5,000; retained, $3,000.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, ordinary, $3,602,723; industrial, $13,813,195.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, (Illinois standard) on ordinary American 4%, full preliminary term and net level per New York rule, on industrial.

Officers—Paul Roberts, president; J. W. Handly, vice-president and treasurer; J. H. Covington, vice-president; M. J. McGuire, secretary.

Directors—W. H. Raybold, G. T. Massey, Paul Roberts, Sol Shatz, J. H. Covington, T. Scott Roberts, M. J. McGuire, J. W. Handly.

Operates in Tennessee and Alabama.

INDEPENDENT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

421 St. Paul Street, Baltimore, Maryland

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized under the laws of Maryland, and commenced business in 1916, to write life and sick benefit insurance on the industrial plan. The capital authorized and paid-in is $10,000; the company is a proprietary one. Capital stock increased $5,000 to $15,000 in 1923.

Administration and Repute—The company is small; transacting business only in a restricted portion of Maryland. It is, however, in good standing in its community and seems to be paying losses incurred in a manner satisfactory to its policyholders. It had total assets on December 31 last, of $19,480, whereas its liabilities, including reserves, amounted to $24,782, leaving a deficit of $5,302. This deficit is due to the placing of reserves on a standard required by the Maryland Insurance Department. They totalled, $23,682. The company is steadily increasing its premium income.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% on all policies since December 31, 1918, prior thereto, actuaries 4%; amount of insurance outstanding on varying plans industrial, $507,386.

For the year ending December 31, 1923, the company's premium income was $59,978; total income, $61,285; death claims paid, $5,784; sick and accident, $3,596, and total disbursements, $58,441. It had $1,286,635 of insurance in force.

INDUSTRIAL HEALTH, ACCIDENT AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized as the German American Industrial Insurance Company, beginning business in 1908 as a successor to the German American Mutual Benefit Society of America. It subsequently changed its name to the above title. Initial capital, $25,000 was increased in 1912 to $50,000 by stock dividend.

Administration and Repute—This company is owned by stockholders and all profits are due them. It transacts a substantial volume of life, health and accident insurance on the industrial plan. It is under capable management and while assets and surplus to policyholders are not large in proportion to the volume of business transacted, they are adequate. Total admitted assets amount to $302,146, and surplus to policyholders $185,449. Directors own $33,050 par value of capital stock.

Officers—Henry Reeves, president; L. M. Fuhrman, secretary.

Operates in Pennsylvania only.

INDIANAPOLIS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Indianapolis, Indiana

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated July 10, 1905, and commenced business November 20, 1905, in Indianapolis. Frank P. Manly, the present president, was the principal organizer. The company is a purely mutual one. When the company began business $25,000 of surplus was contributed by officers. This was increased from time to time by additional payments. Returns to them was made at various dates and the entire amount was finally returned January 17, 1923. All the present surplus is derived from the business. The company is a member of the American Life Convention and the Indiana Legal Reserve Association.

Administration and Repute—Mr. Manly and associates, in organizing, stated that the intention of the management was to write life insurance at the lowest possible cost consistent with safety, operating without special contracts or special claims of any kind. The company has fulfilled the promises which Mr. Manly made and is unquestionably one of the cleanest life insurance companies in the country. Its actuarial methods are sound, its mortality record has been favorable, its premium rates are low, as is its management expenses. Dividends have been regularly paid policyholders, while the investment end of the company has been so managed that satisfactory returns therefrom yield a high rate of interest. The company transacts participating business, but has a small amount of non-participating business.

Agency organized on the managerial plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—All of the ordinary forms of life and limited pay life, endowment and endowments at age 65; monthly income; single premium, annuities; joint life and child's policy. Term insurance is written on the non-participating basis. Women are written upon the same basis as men except on term policies. Maximum amount written on women is $2,500. Colored risks are not solicited.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $37,062,313; non-participating, $2,975,528.

Officers—Frank P. Manly, president; Edward B. Raub, vice-president and counsel; Joseph R. Raub, secretary; A. L. Portteus, cashier; E. A. Porter, actuary; Dr. F. A. Morrison, Dr. J. B. Young, medical directors.

Directors—Frank P. Manly, Edward B. Raub, George A. Raub, Albert Goslee, A. L. Portteus.

INSULAR LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Manila, Philippine Islands

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized November 25, 1910 under the laws of the Philippine Islands and began business on December 1, of that year. Its initial authorized and paid-in capital was 250,000 pesos. In 1922 capital was increased 245,000 pesos to 495,000 pesos.

Administration and Repute—The company is conducted upon the mixed plan and profits to stockholders are such as determined by the Board of Directors. It transacts life insurance upon the legal reserve basis and has shown a consistent and steady growth over date of organization. It has had a favorable mortality record in consideration of territory in which it operates. Its reserves are based on British Life Offices and Healthy male with interest of 6%, and also the American Tropical Table with interest at 4½%; during 1923 the ratio of actual to expected mortality was a trifle less than 30%. C. S. Salmon is sole general agent.

On December 31, 1922, the company had assets of 3,061,511 pesos and reserve fund of 1,784,297 pesos, a surplus to policyholders including 260,117 pesos, funds apportioned amount to 1,190,578 pesos; insurance in force amounted to 12,788,485. During 1922 the company had a premium income of 622,552 pesos, and had paid for losses and endowments to the sum of 148,238 pesos. During the year its net issued business amounted to 5,385,000 pesos.

The officers include Vicente Singson Encarnacion, president; Teronimo Abella, secretary; Vicente Asias, treasurer; Tregorio Araneta vice-president.

Administration and Repute—The company is owned and controlled by stockholders and to date has paid $60,207 of dividends since organization. The company has had a moderate growth, but a consistent one. It is in good repute in the territory in which it operates, as it pays all losses promptly. It operates on a sound actuarial basis, its management expenses are reasonably low and mortality record well within the expected. Investments are mostly in mortgage loans, which yield a good rate of interest. It formerly wrote a participating and deferred dividend business, but discontinued the deferred dividend business in 1917, and the annual dividend business in 1923. Women are insured on the same basis as men.

Classes of Insurance Written—This company writes all the regular forms of life insurance, disability and double indemnity features. Writes non-participating insurance only. All the regular forms of ordinary life, limited pay life and endowment policies are written on the non-participating plan, as well as coupon policies on the ordinary 20-payment and 20-year endowment forms; renewable convertible term policies; monthly income; and joint life policies. Colored risks not solicited.

INTERNATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

St. Louis, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

The International Life Insurance Company was incorporated under the laws of Missouri August 15, 1908. It was licensed to do business in the State of Missouri on March 17, 1909, with an authorized capital stock of $250,-000, all subscribed and paid-in in cash. The present company, which was a consolidation of the Great American Life Insurance Company and the International Life Insurance Company above referred to, was incorporated and licensed August 19, 1909, the Great American Life being a Missouri corporation and incorporated February 13, 1908, and licensed November 6, 1908. Massey Wilson, the president of the Great American Life Insurance Company, became president of the new corporation and J. L. Babler, president of the former International Life Insurance Company became vice-president and general manager of agencies of the new company. These two men have retained that same position since the incorporation of the new company. The present International Life began business also on August 19, 1909 with a capital stock, composed of the combined capitals of the merged companies, of $620,350; $370,350 from the first mentioned and $250,000 from the latter. Par value of stock, then $50 a share, has been reduced to $25 a share. The capital stock has been increased from time to time through the merging of other life insurance companies. The present capital stock is $937,500, fully paid-in, with an authorized capital of $1,000,-000. The principal mergers and reinsurance since organization are as follows: 1910, the Father Mathew League, Chicago, Illinois and the Guardian Life, Seattle, Washington; 1912, December 7, Great Western, Missouri; 1913, February 22, Tennessee Life, Tennessee; 1913, September 3, California National, California; 1913, November 1, Jefferson Life, Oklahoma; 1914, December 31, American Home, Texas; 1915, July 20, Cherokee Life (Texas business), Georgia; 1916, March 17, Empire Life, Georgia; 1917, January 1, United States Annuity and Life, Illinois; 1917, April 2, Reliable Life, Indiana; 1918, June, National Life, Montana; 1919, Cherokee Life (remaining business); 1922, April 30, Gulf Coast Life, Mississippi. The International absorbed in all 15 life insurance companies which at the time they were acquired carried an aggregate of $56,540,107 insurance. On December 31, 1921, their accounts showed the insurance of $27,042,679. The company paid a stock dividend, of $131,250, 1921 and a similar amount in 1922. In 1923 capital was increased by $150,000 making the total paid-in capital at $787,500. The last examination of the company was made by the Insurance Departments of Missouri, Illinois and Montana, as of December 31, 1922. It was announced May 8, 1924 that a group of stockholders of the Standard Life of St. Louis had purchased a substantial interest in the International Life and J. R. Paisley, president of the former company, was elected president of the latter, W. K. Whitfield and D. W. Hill, vice-president of the Standard, were also elected vice-presidents of the International, and Massey Wilson, president of the International, was elected chairman of the board of directors. Present plans call for the conduct of the business of the two companies as separate organizations.

Administration and Repute—The International is one of the most enterprising and successful of the younger companies. Its executive management, Massey Wilson, chairman of the board, J. R. Paisley, president and W. K. Whitfield, vice-president, very capable and thoroughly experienced, has administered its affairs in such a way as to have obtained very profitable results and large expansion. An initial dividend was paid in 1910. Dividends to stockholders have been liberal. Total of dividends declared since organization is aggregate, cash, $871,991 and stock, $262,500. The company's aggressive agency system has been a strong factor in its success. Investments have been handled in a manner assuring good returns. The company was one of the first to deposit pledges of approved securities with the State to cover legal reserve on outstanding contracts. It is controlled by its stockholders and writes a broad line of non-participating insurance only, except for certain policies which pay an annual dividend based on the excess of interests earned on the policy reserve. Operating and business acquisition costs are moderate. Policies include disability and double indemnity features.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment and also the following 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowment; ordinary, 20-payment life and 20-year endowment special combination policies; 5, 10, 15 and 20-year convertible terms; preferred ordinary life, $5,000 policy; endowment at age 85; multiform policies; triple option policies with increasing coupon on whole life, 10, 15 and 20-payment life, 10, 15 and 20-year endowment plans, single premium, monthly income, annuities, joint life, child's policy. Maximum amount written, $100,000; retained, $25,000. Women are insured with certain special restrictions at same rates as men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $162,309,900.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term; Actuaries, 4%, full level premium; American 3% full level premium; Annuities McClintock's 3½%.

Sub-Standard Insurance—This company does not maintain a sub-standard insurance department, although it will accept some forms of sub-standard business. Occupational risks are accepted either with a flat extra premium or on the basis of a percentage mortality table. The impaired lives other than occupational risks if accepted are written on the rated up age plan.

Group Insurance—The company writes a moderate amount of this class of business with each policy designed to meet the particular requirements of the applicant.

Officers—M. Wilson, chairman of the board; J. R. Paisley, president; W. K. Whitfield, first vice-president; D. W. Hill, vice-president; J. P. Hinton, vice-president; W. F. Grantges, secretary; A. H. Carter, treasurer; E. A. Babler, M. D., chief medical director; G. E. Myers, actuary; E. P. Wilson, general counsel.

Directors—M. Wilson, J. P. Hinton, T. H. Glancy, A. Schlafly, J. R. Paisley, W. K. Whitfield, D. W. Hill, J. M. Atkinson, F. L. Lyston, G. M. Lecrone, J. B. Nottlemann, A. L. Harty.

Operates in Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Kansas, Kentucky, New Mexico, Wyoming, Montana, Missouri, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, Washington, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Michigan, Florida, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Ohio, Hawaii, Utah, New Jersey, Virginia, District of Columbia and Minnesota.

INTER-SOUTHERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Louisville, Kentucky

HISTORICAL DATA

The history of this company, in important respects, antedates its actual incorporation and commencement of business under the laws of Kentucky, February 24, 1915. It was organized out of the merger, in effect December 31, 1914, of a company bearing the same name, with the Citizens National Life Insurance Company of Anchorage, Ky. The former of the merging companies had been incorporated under Kentucky laws, May 16, 1906, as the Kentucky Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company which dropped the word Kentucky from its title, April 19, 1907. Consolidation of the Southern National Life Insurance Company of Louisville, Ky. with the Inter-Southern Life took place in August, 1913. The Citizens National Life Insurance Company was also a Kentucky corporation, dating from November 17, 1909, when it absorbed the Citizens Life Insurance Company, incorporated under Kentucky laws since July 9, 1904.

The present Inter-Southern Life began business following the merger with an authorized capital increased to $900,000, in shares of $1 par value. The combined paid-in capital of the two companies merged was $1,196,967. This was reduced 30% by terms of the merger, leaving the Inter-Southern an initially paid-in capital of $816,704. Since 1915 several adjustments of this paid-in capital have been made, in 1921 a decrease of $7,793 made the paid-in capital amount to $704,471. In 1922 it was decreased to $678,893 and in 1923 to $674,957. The combined cash investment of the stockholders of the two merging companies was about $1,200,000, capital and $600,000 surplus.

The former Inter-Southern Life in 1910 absorbed the Business Men's Mutual Life of Louisville, Ky., a stipulated premium company. In 1915 it reinsured the outstanding business of the Florida Life Insurance Company. The business of these is embodied in the business of the present Inter-Southern Life, which, in addition, reinsured the outstanding business of the Central Life of Lexington, Ky., in 1916. In April, 1923, the company reinsured the business of the Indiana National, amounting to about $15,000,000. Stockholders of the company since its organization have been paid cash dividends to the amount of $45,482.

It was examined in 1923 by the Insurance Departments of Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky.

Administration and Repute—The Inter-Southern Life writes only non-participating insurance and is controlled by its stockholders. Able executives of much experience have rectified certain conditions arising from errors in management that obtained in the Citizens National Life and the former Inter-Southern Life. The company has grown. It has a fair surplus. Its actuarial practices are sound. Operation and management costs are kept down, and economy is practised in getting new business. Its fair return is realized from nicely diversified investments. The mortality rate is low. Death claims are paid promptly. The company's policy contracts, meeting the requirements of the Insurance Department, include disability and double indemnity benefits. The agency organization is operated through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes the regular forms of contracts and in addition, the following: Convertible 5, 10, 15 and 20-year term; coupon and income forms; preferred life (20-payment) low premium first five years, 100% higher fifteen years; endowment maturing at specified ages, single premium, joint life, monthly income, children's policies. It writes insurance on women at the same rates as on men under all plans, with certain specified conditions, including in some cases, disability benefits. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $84,352,836; annual dividend, $2,035,330; deferred dividend, $2,114,400; assessment, $372,000.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% and actuaries 4% modified and full preliminary term; reinsured business of Florida Life retained at actuaries 4% full preliminary term. Prior to 1910 values on American 3% full preliminary term and on certain forms American 3% full level premiums.

INTERSTATE LIFE AND ACCIDENT COMPANY

540 McCaltic Avenue, Chattanooga, Tennessee

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, April 16, 1909, in Tennessee, and began business July 1, 1910, with authorized capital $100,000, of which $78,770 was paid-in by the end of 1910 in which year authorized capital was advanced to $200,000. Capital changes have been as follows: increased 1911, to $105,820; 1913, to $168,330; reduced 1914, to $102,780; increased 1915 to $150,558; 1918 to $152,598; 1919 to $200,000; and reduced 1920 to $150,000 where it now stands. In 1919 par value of capital stock was reduced from $10 to $6 and in 1920 to $4.50 where it now stands; book value January 1, 1923, 118.6%. This company took over the Employees Bonding Company, Knoxville, Tennessee, in 1911. In 1917, the company began writing life insurance. In 1920, it discontinued plate glass insurance, such business as it had being taken over by the New Amsterdam Casualty. In 1920, a reorganization of management was effected. In 1921, the company reinsured the following: weekly plan accident and health business of the Cherokee Life and of the Life and Health Insurance Company of Savannah.

This company is a member of the Bureau of Personal Health and Accident Underwriters, the Southern Industrial Insurers Conference and Accident and Health Underwriters Conference.

Administration and Repute—This company's charter authorizes it to write practically all lines of insurance except surety bonds, but its present business is confined to life and accident and health on the non-participating plan only. After the 1920 losses in plate glass and health departments which caused impairment of capital and reduction of par value of stock the company management underwent considerable change, and administration of business became vested in an executive committee. Dr. J. W. Johnson, president, has stock control of the company. Aggregate underwriting operations have resulted in a loss. Operating expenses have been high but losses moderate. Most of the caualty business is written on the weekly payment basis. No dividends have been paid. Investments are high grade. Management is experienced, especially that of the industrial department. The company is small but in good repute generally. As the bulk of this company's business is on a combined health, accident and life business, the premiums on which are collected in a lump sum, it is unfair to compare operating costs of this company with other companies transacting a life business only. During 1923 gains were made in premium volume, assets, reserves and insurance account. Lapse ratio in the industrial life department is unusually high. The business of the company is conducted through its industrial superintendents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and accident and health; both ordinary and industrial. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are accepted up to $750.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating ordinary, $1,689,710; industrial, $5,515,790.

Reserve Basis—Ordinary policies American 3½% preliminary term, Tennessee standard, Industrial actuaries 4% intermediate American 4%.

Officers—Joseph W. Johnson, president and general manager; O. B. Andrews, vice-president; J. W. Blevins, vice-president and manager of Agencies; F. L. Underwood, treasurer; J. R. Leal, secretary and actuary; Dr. Jos. W. Johnson, medical director; Finley & Campbell, general counsel.

JEFFERSON STANDARD LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Greensboro, North Carolina

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized in June, 1907, at Raleigh, North Carolina, and began business in August of that year, with $250,000 capital and a like amount of surplus. C. E. Johnson, T. B. Woomack, H. W. Jackson, of Raleigh; P. D. Gold and C. D. Benbow, of Greensboro, were among the incorporators and J. G. Brown, was elected first president, P. D. Gold, Jr., first vice-president and general manager, and C. W. Gold, secretary. Expenses of organization amounted to $8,459. In its early career, the company reinsured the business of the Carolina Life and of the Southern Life. In 1912, the Jefferson Standard and the Security Life and Annuity, of Greensboro were consolidated under the former's charter, after which it completed the purchase of the Greensboro Life and moved its headquarters from Raleigh to Greensboro. By consolidation with the Security Life and Accident, the company's capital was increased to $350,000, at which it remained until a 100% stock dividend in 1923 increased it to $700,000. The Jefferson Standard was the first Southern company organized since 1900 to pass the $100,000,000 mark of insurance in force. The North Carolina and Virginia Insurance Departments last examined the company as of December 31, 1919. In 1923, par value of stock was increased from $50 to $100. In 1923 it occupied its new home office building. The company is a member of the American Life Convention, the American Institute of Actuaries and the Life Insurance Presidents Association.

Administration and Repute—As one of the most enterprising of the younger southern life companies, the Jefferson Standard has been since organization progressive. It has always been managed by men of ability and high standing, Julian Price, president, now heading its executive staff. Following a gradual expansion policy, its business now covers practically all of the Southern together with many of the larger Western States. Investments have been made with the purpose of producing a high interest yield and yet always on a basis of conservative protection for policyholders. Premium income has steadily increased, passing the million-dollar mark in 1913. The company is financially strong in assets and regular reserves and in addition has special fund apportioned and set aside amounting to $1,124,866, in 1923. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Operating and business acquisition costs have not been high. Mortality rate has been satisfactory and the company has been in good repute for promptly paying death claims. The year 1923 was most successful large increases being made in premium income, reserves and assets. The insurance in force passed the two hundred million mark in 1923. The agency department is organized through managers. Its policy contracts include double indemnity and disability benefits.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: (participating) 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; 30-year endowment; endowment at age 65; 20-payment endowment at age 65; endowment at age 60; 20-payment endowment age 60; continuous and 20-payment endowment at age 70; continuous premium and endowment age 85; monthly income (20-years certain) on ordinary and 20-payment life; single premium life and single premium endow-ments; joint life on ordinary, 20-payment and 20-year endowment policies; (non-participating) endowment at age 85; 10 and 15-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; 5 and 10-year convertible term; monthly income endowment policy at age 85 and 20-payment endowment at 85; joint life on various forms. Maximum amount written, $100,000; retained, $25,000. Women are insured on participating ordinary, limited payment life and endowment policies, with disability granted in certain cases. Premium rates on women except in certain cases. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $100,577,136; annual dividend, $104,836,969; quinquennial dividend, $3,030,000, deferred dividend, $7,340,840; assessment, $341,700.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, full level premium, modified preliminary term and full preliminary term and select and ultimate; actuaries, 4%, full level premium, modified preliminary term and full preliminary term; American 4%, full level premium, modified preliminary term and full preliminary term; American 3% full preliminary term.

Officers—Julian Price, president; J. E. Latham, vice-president and chairman of the board of directors; J. Elwood Cox, G. A. Holderness, vice-presidents; Chas. W. Gold, treasurer; W. T. O'Donohue, secretary; J. P. Turner, J. T. J. Battle, medical directors; Ralph B. Coit, actuary; F. E. Cann, associate actuary; A. L. Brooks, general counsel.

JOHN HANCOCK MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

197 Clarendon Street, Boston, Massachusetts

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was chartered in Massachusetts in April, 1862, and began to issue policies in December of that year. It was organized by men largely interested in the passage of the non-forfeiture law in Massachusetts, and the company was for many years the main exponent of this idea in the insurance contract. It began its career as a purely mutual company and has operated on this basis ever since, both in the ordinary department and in the industrial department which was opened in 1879. The John Hancock was the first company to do the industrial or weekly premium business on the mutual plan, and it was a pioneer in the liberalization of that class of contract through the granting of cash dividends and cash surrender values. The company began writing group insurance in 1924.

Having high aims, the incorporators of the company sought to express them in the name. Hence they selected that of Massachusetts' first governor, John Hancock, whose name had become recorded in American history as a leader in the War for Independence and first signer of the Declaration of Independence. The signature of John Hancock as it appeared in the Declaration was incorporated in the charter of the company. For more than sixty years the famous John Hancock signature has appeared in the policies, literature, stationery and advertisements of the company, and has thus been made a household word in connection with the Declaration of Independence, facsimiles of which are issued by the company.

From small beginnings the company has grown, and at present is one of the ten largest life insurance companies in the country. The last triennial examination made by the Massachusetts Insurance Department was made as of December 31, 1923. The company has assets of $299,353,871; reserves of $262,360,586; other liabilities of $14,851,898; and surplus funds, $22,141,387.

Administration and Repute—Throughout its career, the company's growth has been noteworthy, especially of late years. Its management has been at all times of high character, aiming at conservative administration with security to the policyholders placed before everything else, but adopting liberal conditions as experience justified, and showing an undeviating course of fairness in the treatment of policyholders in both departments.

The company has experienced an excellent mortality rate in both branches, where efficiency in operation has also promoted economy in management. Its actuarial practices are of a high standard, and its reserves on all classes of business, on policies both new and old, have been completely adjusted to conform to the highest legal standards.

Its surplus funds are maintained on a substantial basis and in this respect the company is among the strongest. The investments are carefully made, a large portion of them being in mortgage loans. The company is notably prompt in the payment of its claims. It issues all forms of life and endowment policies, including total and permanent disability and double indemnity. It also issues annuities in all forms.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: 10, 15, 19, 20 and 25-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25, 30 and 35-year endowments; 5 and 10-year non-renewable convertible term policies; single premium whole life; 5, 14 and 18-payment ordinary forms; 40, 45 and 50-year endowments; quinquennially payable endowments at ages 35 to 75; 10-payment endowments payable quinquennially from age 45 to 75; 15-payment endowments payable quinquennially from ages 50 to 75; 20-payment endowments payable quinquennially from ages 55 to 75; monthly income policies, continuous 240 months' certain, on life, 20-payment life and 20-year endowment plan; reduced premium if beneficiary dies;

KANSAS CITY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Rialto Building, Kansas City, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized May, 1895, and commenced business June, 1895, as the Bankers Life Association under the assessment laws of Missouri. In 1899 it went on the stipulated premium basis and changed its name in 1900 to the Kansas City Life Insurance Company. In 1903, the company was reorganized as a legal reserve company, beginning business as such June 13, 1903 with a paid-in capital of $125,000. In 1904, $25,000 was transferred to surplus from capital account and the capital remained at $100,000 until 1918, when, by a stock dividend of $75,000 and the return of $25,000 previously transferred to surplus, back to capital, the capital reached $200,000. In 1923 a stock dividend of $300,000 was declared thereby increasing the capital to $500,000. It is being examined by the Missouri Insurance Department.

Administration and Repute—The company is owned by the stockholders and they have received $310,000 of dividends in cash, and $375,000 in stock since organization. The company up until 1916 issued both participating and non-participating contracts. In that year participating contracts were discontinued. This company has been very successful, being managed by experienced life insurance men, progressively inclined with the full interest of the company and its agents and policyholders uppermost. It has substantial assets, surplus and reserves, and in addition to the operating surplus carries in its liability several hundred thousands of dollars as allotted to dividends for policyholders. Insurance on women is written on the same basis as men. Its mortality rate has been uniformly low, as has been its total management expenses; its acquisition costs have been a trifle high, but well within sound underwriting practices. Its death claims are promptly paid and its policyholders are most equitably dealt with. The agency force is operated through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes ordinary life, 10, 15 and 20-payment life, 10, 15 and 20-year endowments, 10 and 20-year term, single premium life, life paid-up at age 80, ordinary life, 20 instalments, monthly income policies, joint life and annuity contracts. Disability features are included in its contracts. Limit on a single risk, $50,000, of which $25,000 is carried by the company.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $19,668,364; deferred dividends, $2,350,550; non-participating, $239,553,-541.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term since 1909, prior thereto, actuaries 4%; annuities on the American 3½%.

KANSAS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Topeka, Kansas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated May 20, 1913, by Charles W. Barnes, former commissioner of Kansas, and his associates with a capital of $100,000. Its authorized capital was later increased to $500,000. The company began business June, 1914, and on December 31, 1920, had a paid-in capital of $122,440, and a surplus of $49,517. Increases brought the paid-in capital to $422,650 in 1922 and a decrease of $3,100 made in 1923 left it on December 31 last $419,550. During 1915, $93,476 of capital stock was paid-in; during 1916, $132,060; during 1918, $42,970; during 1919, $12,660; during 1920, $12,910; during 1921, $5,860. This stock, the par value of which is $10 per share, was sold as high as $25 per share. The stock selling expense was $5 per share. The company was, by its articles of incorporation, permitted to do life insurance and industrial health and accident insurance on the participating and non-participating plan. The company has, however, confined its operations to legal reserve life on the non-participating plan. The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company was organized by C. W. Barnes and Thomas H. Bridges, experienced life insurance men, and was operated along very conservative lines with very small growth until 1918, when reorganization took place and the two organizers, who were respectfully president and vice-president, retired from the company. Since the reorganization the new management, composed of well-known and reputable business men of Kansas, revivified the company under their progressive management and marked progress has been noted. Increases in the past five years were made in assets, liabilities, surplus and outstanding insurance. In 1923 premium income was lower than in 1922 and 1921 and as well the insurance written fell off considerably. However, increases were made in insurance outstanding, assets, reserves and surplus. Operating with a low mortality upon a sound actuarial basis and with moderate acquisition costs and low operating expenses the company has prospered. Investments are made principally in mortgage loans and municipal bonds yielding good interest rates. Loss payments are promptly made and policyholders are fairly dealt with. The company is strictly proprietary and all profits belong to stockholders to whom dividends are not limited. Total dividends paid stockholders since organization amount to $81,498 of which $33,564 was paid in 1923. Business is written through general agencies.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes life insurance containing both disability and double indemnity benefits. Among the forms of life insurance written are the ordinary 10, 15 and 20-payment life, 10, 15 and 20-year endowments, 5 and 10-year term, the guaranteed premium reduction 20-payment life policy. Income and joint life policies are also written. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $12,699,138.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term Illinois standard.

Officers—John H. Edwards, president; Wm. C. Smith, vice-president; Ben S. Paulen, treasurer; F. H. Scholle, secretary and medical director; T. J. McComb, actuary.

Directors—F. H. Scholle, M. D., D. F. Longenecker, M. D., W. C. Smith, Capt. William J. Watson, J. H. Edwards, W. C. Robinson, Ben S. Paulen, W. G. Robinson, S. C. Tucker, M. D., George A. McNee, W. P. Waggener, L. L. Burchinal and P. F. Eggen.

KENTUCKY CENTRAL LIFE AND ACCIDENT COMPANY

Anchorage, Kentucky

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was first organized, 1902, in Kentucky, as an assessment association for the purpose of writing health and accident insurance on the mutual plan. It became a stock company through reincorporation March 23, 1917 and began business at once with $102,550 capital stock paid-in. Stock, par value, $10 was sold at $14 a share. There was no promotional expense. In 1920, capital was increased to $200,000 where it now stands. This increase was effected by stock dividend of $61,530 and stockholders contribution of $35,920. Surplus was also increased by contribution of $71,840. At the time of reincorporation it began writing life insurance on the legal reserve plan.

This company is a member of the Southern Industrial Insurance Conference and the Life and Health Underwriters Association.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed and successful. Underwriting operations have resulted in a substantial profit and liberal dividends have been paid to stockholders who control the company and are entitled to entire profits therefrom. The company has high grade investments; its surplus is substantial, actuarial methods of the best, losses low and expenses reasonable. It has an estimable loss paying reputation and is generally in high standing. Good increases were made in 1923 particularly in surplus funds. The lapse rate in the industrial life department as in the case of other companies transacting a similar class of business was very high. The company operates on the general agency plan. Dividends paid stockholders since organization total cash, $272,040; stock, $61,530.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and accident and health. The business is entirely industrial. Women are written upon the same basis as men but are limited as to amount. Colored risks are written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating industrial, $16,052,689.

Reserve Basis—Actuaries 4%.

Officers—F. J. Walker, president; T. H.Matthews, vice-president; T. O. West, secretary and treasurer; W. H. Beecher, actuary; W. B. Fahey, assistant secretary; E. H. Speckman, auditor.

KNIGHTS LIFE INSURANCE

5th Avenue and Liberty Street, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware, on January 10, 1917, and commenced business on March 7, of the same year with head offices in Pittsburgh. The authorized capital was $200,000, all of which was paid in at the time of beginning business. There was also surplus amounting to a trifle over $210,000, paid-in by stockholders. $12,000 was contributed by incorporators in 1922. Stock, par value of $10 sold at various prices, ranging from the par value to an amount of $30 per share.

Administration and Repute—This company is a stock corporation owned and controlled by stockholders, and writes a non-participating business on both ordinary and industrial plans. The first dividend was paid in 1923 amounting to $5,000. Its growth has been solid and volume of business written moderate; healthy increases in both branches are noticeable in 1923. This is a result of conservatism, and is therefore commendable. Its actuarial methods are sound, its mortality rate moderate, its expenses reasonably low and sound investments return a satisfactory yield. It pays all losses promptly and issues fair and equitable policies.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, ordinary, $6,728,553; industrial, $12,640,280.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, preliminary term except on 10 and 15-payment life, and 10 and 15-year endowment on which policies the select and ultimate methods are used; industrial business on American 3½%, one year preliminary term.

Classes of Insurance Written—It writes all the ordinary and limited payment life and endowment forms of contracts on the ordinary and intermediate basis and writes industrial insurance including insurance of children. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are not written.

Officers—Joseph H. Reiman, president; Herman L. Hegner, vice-president; P. Joseph Hess, secretary; Joseph G. Renvers, assistant secretary; Charles J. Jaegle, treasurer; John A. Sossong, assistant treasurer; Dr. John C. Hierholzer, medical director.

LAFAYETTE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Third and Main Streets, Lafayette, Indiana

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized September 26th, 1905, by eighteen citizens of Lafayette, as a community enterprise, and incorporated as a purely mutual company on December 26, 1905, under the Indiana Legal Reserve Compulsory Deposit law of 1897. The first million of insurance was written by the insurance men of the group with the assistance of the other directors, on citizens of Lafayette and vicinity in less than three months time, at a negligible expense to the company. Checks for the first year's premiums, payable to a trustee, to be returned in event the company failed to incorporate, were attached to all applications. From the fund thus accumulated the initial reserve deposit of $25,000 with the Indiana Insurance Department was made. The Lafayette Life enjoys the distinction of operating from the start on the legal reserve basis and, without capital stock or promotion funds, making its reserve deposits, maintaining a goodly surplus, and paying all claims and operating expenses, out of its premium and interest receipts.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention, Indiana Association Legal Reserves Life Company, Life Agency Officers Association and the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Administration and Repute—The company's earlier operations were necessarily limited to a small territory, but it has nevertheless enjoyed a continuous and healthy growth. No mergers or reinsurances have been indulged in. Its methods have been sound, progressive and liberal to policyholders; its assets are of high character, including a ten-story, fireproof home office building. Participating insurance only is issued; all deferred dividends are payable in event of death, a special mortality reserve is being carried in addition to reserves for deferred dividends and other sums left with the company, and an annual depreciation charge is carried against its home office building; its policies are models of simplicity, completeness and liberality. The management of the company has been continuous, all of its present executive officers having been officially connected with it from its inception. The operating expenses are reasonable and the mortality record favorable. Claims are promptly paid and policyholders are equitably dealt with. Insurance on women is written on the same basis as men. All business is written through general agencies.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary life, limited pay 10, 15 and 20-year; endowments 10, 15, 20 and 30-years, a decreasing premium 20-payment life policy, term insurance with privileges to exchange for ordinary, 20-payment and 20-year endowment, birthday endowments at ages 60 and 65, a full premium endowment 25-payment life premium reducing every five years, joint life policies on the whole life, 20-payment and 20-year endowment plan, child endowments, monthly income, single premium and guaranteed instalment insurance are also written. Disability and double indemnity features are optional. Women are written upon ordinary life and higher forms upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $15,500,133; deferred dividend, $3,047,946; extended insurance, loan insurance and company insurance, $1,650,232.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, Illinois standard and prior to July 1, 1909, full preliminary term.

Officers—A. E. Werkhoff, president; Edgar Goldsberry, vice-president; W. W. Lane, secretary and treasurer; M. M. Lairy, M. D., medical director; E. L. Marshall, actuary; W. R. Smith, superintendent of agencies; F. L. Alexander, comptroller; J. W. Link, cashier.

LAFAYETTE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Lumberton, North Carolina

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated August, 1922, and commenced business January 1, 1923. The company was organized to take over the Lafayette Mutual Life Insurance Company with an authorized and paid-in capital of $50,000, which was sold to create an initial paid-in surplus of $25,000. On December 29, with the approval of the North Carolina Insurance Department, it purchased and reinsured all the business of the Lafayette Mutual Life Insurance Company and took over all of its assets, the Lafayette Mutual thereby retiring from business. Following the consolidation the company began writing ordinary life insurance as well as industrial insurance.

Administration and Repute—This company in its first full year of operation did a good volume of business. It has well invested assets and reserves meet every legal requirement. Its surplus is small due to the upbuilding of business. Its officers are capable and experienced. It is strictly proprietary and conducts all business on the non-participating plan. The Lafayette Mutual Life Insurance Company was in good repute for the prompt paying of loss claims and had built up a fair amount of business during its years of operation. The company operates on a sound actuarial basis with a moderate expense rate. Business is written through agency managers.

LAMAR LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Jackson, Mississippi

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized April 6, 1906, in Mississippi, as the Lamar Mutual Life Insurance Company, with a paid-in capital stock of $50,000 distributed among some 300 prominent business men of the South, and with a board of 52 directors composed of many of the most successful men of the State. First president was A. C. Jones, who was also president of the Mississippi Bank and Trust Company, of Mississippi. R. P. Moore, secretary, was for many years superintendent of agents in Mississippi. Bishop and Lotterhos, Jackson, were initially appointed general agents. In 1908, stockholders voted to change to company's present title. Capital stock was increased by small payments at intervals up to 1920, when it amounted to $130,000 at which it has since remained. Authorized capital is $130,000. Total contributions to surplus amount to $120,273. In 1924, the company erected and occupied a fine new home office building in Jackson. Stock, par value, is $10 a share. The company is a member of the American Life Convention and the Association of Life Agency Officers Administration and Repute—This company originally wrote both non-participating and participating insurance, but now writes the former only. It has been well managed and successful to a substantial degree, having increased its business volume regularly since organization and very substantially in the last two years. The first dividend was paid in 1913 and larger ones have been paid at intervals since, stockholders having received in total dividends, cash of $84,142. The company is financially strong in assets and reserves and has ample surplus. It has expanded on a conservative plan and is now doing a substantial volume of business distributed through six of the principal Southern States. The company's investments are well selected and give satisfactory yields. Its actuarial methods are standard. Operating and business acquisition expenses are fairly moderate. Mortality rate is satisfactory and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. They include the features of double indemnity and disability. Very appreciable increases in assets reserves, insurance written and in force and premium income were made in 1923. It operates on the general agency and managerial plans.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; 5 and 10-year convertible term; special 20-payment coupon policy; accumulative ordinary life policy; single premium life and endowment forms; multiple option policy; joint life on ordinary payment and 20-year endowment; income policies on various plans; home guardian policies. Special commercial policies (for corporations and partnerships) and educational endowment policies. Maximum amount written, $100,000; retained, $10,000. Women are insured except on term forms, up to age 50, at same rates as apply to men. Colored risks are not solicited.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $29,650,084; participating, $125,000.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, full preliminary term on ordinary, life, accumulative, home guardian and joint life policies, American 3½%, full level premium on all term policies including paid-up term and paid-up insurance on O. LIBERTY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Grand Boulevard and 35th Street, Chicago, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated June 30, 1919, and commenced business August 19, 1921, following receipt of license from the Illinois Department on July 25, of that year. The company has an authorized capital of $100,000, which was paid-in when the company commenced business. There were 10,000 shares, (par value $10, per share), sold at $30 per share. Capital increased in 1923 to $150,000, stock being sold at a premium or $50 per share thereby providing $150,000 additional surplus.

Administration and Repute—The company is officered and managed wholly by colored people, and writes ordinary insurance on all forms of policies from $500 to $10,000. The company originally did business only in Illinois. It is a corporate organization, profits going to stockholders. Examination of the company was made as of August 31, 1922, by the Illinois Department. The company is writing a moderate amount of business, the volume of which, in considering the size of the company, bespeaks of a progressive disposition on the part of the management. During 1923 the company more than doubled its assets, reserves, surplus, insurance written and outstanding, and trebled its premium income. Losses have been paid promptly. The company operates on a sound actuarial basis with a moderately low expense rate. Business is written through general agencies.

Classes of Insurance Written—All forms of ordinary life, limited pay life, endowment and term policies on a participating basis. Disability and double indemnity benefits are features of their policy contracts. Women are written upon the same basis as men. The company specializes in colored risks.

LIBERTY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Topeka, Kansas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was chartered March 22, 1919 by the Kansas Charter Board, with an authorized capital of $100,000, to write all classes of life insurance. Principal among its organizers were Chas. A. Moore, of Topeka, Will W. McBride of Omaha and B. R. Bays of Lincoln, Nebr. Ten thousand shares of stock were sold at $12.50 per share, thereby creating an initial surplus of $25,000. This stock was subscribed and paid for with the understanding that the Company would permit each purchaser of a $5,000 life insurance policy to subscribe for five shares of said capital stock of the company on the basis of $20 per share, the stock to be paid for from dividends accruing on the policies applied for, and the company to receive the full benefit of the additional surplus accruing by reason of the increased price paid for the stock by the policyholders. In 1921 the company by charter amendment increased its authorized capital stock to $300,000. The new issue of stock to be handled very much the same as was the original issue. In each instance the stock was assigned in blank by the original purchasers and deposited with The Prudential Trust Company as trustee. The Prudential Trust Company is the oldest and one of the strongest trust companies in the state of Kansas. During 1923 the authorized capital was fully paid-up and $11,080 was paid into the surplus of the company by the policy-stockholders. The charter amendment in 1921 permitted the writing of accident and health insurance and in December of that year the company purchased the assets and business of the Farmers and Merchants Life and Casualty Company of Topeka, an assessment accident and health company which had been thrown into the hands of the receiver as a result of a quarrel among the officers.

Administration and Repute—This company is in the hands of experienced and reputable insurance men. It is operated with a low mortality cost upon a sound actuarial basis. Its expenses have been well within the limit prescribed for a new company. Its growth has been such as to stamp it as a very progressive institution. The fact that this growth has been so accomplished indicates that the policyholders have been fairly dealt with and that this new plan is having the anticipated results. Modern forms of contracts are issued including double indemnity and disability privileges. The year 1923 was one of marked success, premium volume was greatly increased as were assets and insurance outstanding. Losses are paid promptly and the company is in good repute. Good returns were made from a comparatively small volume of business on the accident and health department.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes all the ordinary forms of life, limited pay life, endowment and term policies in its life insurance department, as well as accident and health insurance.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, $16,182,011.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, Illinois Standard, on child's endowment, ordinary life, 20-payment life, 20 year, 15 and 17-payment life, 5 and 10-year term; American 3% on the 1919, 1920 and 1921 issue of the 20-payment life.

Officers—General Wilder S. Metcalf, president; Charles A. Moore, vice-president and manager; Will W. McBride, second vice-president; Eli G. Foster, secretary; Claud L. Clark, actuary and treasurer, Dr. Henry B. Hogeboom, medical director; B. P. Scott, third vice-president and manager accident department.

stockholders in 1922. The company was organized by W. Frank Hipp, of Greenville, South Carolina, who has been president since organization. No commission or expenses were paid for the sale of stock, nor were there any organization expenses. In September, 1922 it reinsured the Home Life and Accident of Charleston, South Carolina. In beginning business, it transacted life, health and accident insurance on the industrial plan only. On August 1, 1923, it began to write ordinary life insurance on the non-participating basis.

Administration and Repute—This company is strictly a proprietary one and all profits are due the stockholders. It has a good volume of business as regards premium income and insurance written and outstanding. Its management is capable and energetic. Its operating and acquisition costs are reasonably low and it has a good reputation for paying death claims. Their statement verified by the statement of December 31, 1923, to the insurance department shows a surplus above capital and liabilities of $13,244, which is quite adequate. During the year the company transacted a good volume of business with industrial sick and accident business predominating. The management of the company is in good standing in its community, and losses are equitably and promptly settled, there being none unpaid at the close of the year.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary life and accident, health and life insurance on the industrial plan.

Officers—W. Frank Hipp, president and treasurer; H. L. Vogel, secretary.

Directors—Dr. P. J. Carlisle, W. Frank Hipp, B. C. Mathews, Dr. T. C. Stone, H. L. Vogel.

Operates in South Carolina only.

LIBERTY NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY

Cape Girardeau, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated March 16, 1912 as The American Life Association with head offices in Campbell, Missouri, as an assessment life insurance association. In 1919, the name of the company was changed to Liberty National Life Insurance Company and home offices moved to Cape Girardeau, and it reincorporated as a stipulated premium company, with a capital stock and began business as such a company on April 15, 1918, with a paid-in capital stock of $21,690. It operated as such until 1921, when it was again reincorporated on August 19 of that year as a legal reserve life insurance company with a paid-in capital of $100,000. In 1923, its president, H. L. Albert, was succeeded by J. H. Himmelberger.

Administration and Repute—The succeeding reincorporations of this company denote that it is managed by men desirous of placing this company upon the soundest possible basis. While it has a comparatively small premium income, assets and outstanding insurance there is noted a tendency of increase in all of these essential items. An appreciable increase in premium income was made in 1923. The consequent reserve necessary in the increased insurance together with a heavy death loss and rather high expenses caused a decrease in surplus of almost $40,000. As the bulk of this company's financial strength is in real estate (on December 31 last $280,000 of the $329,078 of admitted assets was real estate), the borrowing of money is almost a necessity in order that liquid assets may be procured for payment of death claims when unusually high as in 1923. All business is written through general agents. Management expenses are rather high. Under conservative management, this company would prosper. It operates upon standard actuarial basis. Claims are equitably paid.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes both participating and non-participating insurance, including disability and double indemnity benefits. On the participating basis it writes ordinary, 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowment and a joint life policy. On the non-participating basis it writes an ordinary life special policy, ordinary 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowment; endowment at age 65; 20-payment life coupon policy and 5 or 10-year term.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $1,957,050; participating, $2,044,400.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, Illinois standard.

Officers—J. H. Himmelberger, president; G. L. Meyer, J. P. Meyers, vice-presidents; J. M. Himmelberger, secretary; J. P. Meyers, treasurer.

Directors—J. H. Himmelberger, G. L. Meyer, J. P. Meyers, O. A. Knehans, W. F. Bergmann, L. E. Comer, F. A. Groves, H. E. Sproat, C. A. Himmelberger, R. E. L. Lambkin, T. C. Allen, Frank R. Dillmann, W. J. Hunter.

LIFE AND CASUALTY INSURANCE COMPANY OF TENNESSEE

Nashville, Tennessee

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized as an assessment company, 1903, in Tennessee and began business September 12th of that year with an authorized capital of $25,000. Authorized capital was advanced to $150,000 in 1909, of which $80,000 was paid in by the end of that year. In 1910 when the company was changed to a legal reserve basis, the paid-in capital was $100,100. From 1911, when paid-in capital was $100,800, increases have been made as follows: 1912, to $107,300; 1913, to $128,700; 1914, to $150,000; 1917, to $200,000; 1919, to $350,000; 1921, to $500,000; 1922, to $600,000; 1923, to $700,000; $60,000 by stock dividend. In 1923, $167,221 was paid into surplus as premium on new stock sold. The company has paid since organization, cash dividends to the amount of $703,082 and stock dividends to the amount of $222,610. Stock, par value, $100 per share. The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company has had a satisfactory development. It has backing of the most substantial character. Its business has been profitable as denoted by its steady increase in net premiums written. In 1916, the company entered the million-dollar class in business volume. It writes non-participating insurance only and is controlled by its stockholders. Surplus is ample; investments high grade and remunerative; operating expenses above average and loss ratio high because business is largely industrial. The company has a contingency reserve of $300,000. Loss claims are equitably and quickly settled. The company is generally in excellent repute. It was examined, in 1923, by the Insurance Department of District of Columbia. In concluding his report the examiner states: "The company sets aside in its liability account the sum of $300,000 to cover a contingent reserve for health and accident policies, which is commendable. Claims are paid promptly upon presentation of proper proof.

"There is a fund established for the employees of the company by which to encourage systematic savings. It is called the Thrift Department.

"The accounting system of this company is one of the best and most complete that I have ever had the privilege of examining. The books of record are set up to comply with the insurance blanks for the State of Tennessee, and are very easily checked from the original record to the general ledger."

Both ordinary and industrial life as well as accident and health insurance is written. Growth in the ordinary department in the past few years has been especially appreciable. Agency operations are conducted through managers.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary and industrial life; accident and health. The company issues a single policy covering life, health and accident and the scope of its business in general is broad in its form of coverage. Among its policies are the following: monthly income; joint life; term; child's policy. Women are written upon the 20-payment life plan at the same rates as men and upon policies of higher premiums. Colored risks are written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, ordinary, $17,811,073; industrial, $64,544,120.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, Illinois standard. Actuaries 4%. Craig's modified actuaries for endowment age 65 and paid-up endowments, standard and sub-standard industrial 3½%.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF VIRGINIA

Richmond, Virginia

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated March 21, 1871 by an act of the Virginia General Assembly and commenced business April, 1871, with an authorized capital of $200,000 in Petersburg, Virginia. The incorporators were for the most part residents of Petersburg and included its first president, Mr. A. G. McIlwaine. Increases were made in the capital stock, and on December 31, 1903, it had a paid-in capital of $150,000. In 1906 this amounted to $200,000 and has been increased in the following years to the amounts named: 1909, $250,000; 1910, $300,000; 1911, $400,000; 1913, $500,000; 1916, $600,000; 1917, $800,000; 1920, $1,200,000; 1921, $1,500,000; 1922, $2,000,000. The last increase was made by a stock dividend of $500,000. In 1880 the home office of the company was moved to Richmond, Virginia, and in 1886 the management of the company was transferred to the present managers, Mr. G. A. Walker being elected president, to which title he was succeeded in 1901 by his brother, John G. Walker, the present incumbent. The par value of the stock is $100 per share. Dividends have been paid consistently by the company and amounted to $2,614,923.50 cash and $1,200,000 stock since organization.

The company is a member of the following organizations: Life Agency Managers Association, Association of Life Insurance Presidents, Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the Richmond, Va., Chamber of Commerce.

Administration and Repute—The company under capable and efficient management, has long pursued a policy of conservative progressiveness and has thereby gained an excellent reputation by its honorable and liberal business methods and fair dealing with policyholders. Its growth has been steady and in 1920 reached the $200,000,000 class. Excellent progress was made last year and appreciable increases were noted in all of the principal items of the company's statement. Its assets are well invested and remunerative, the majority being in high class mortgage loans and well distributed government and municipal bonds. It operates upon sound actuarial basis, and in addition to its legal reserve, maintains substantial contingent fund and dividends apportioned. It has in addition, an ample operating surplus. With a large volume of business, its management expenses are moderate and its acquisition costs are normal. Its mortality rate has been low. It has an excellent reputation for promptly paying all death claims and is in general in high standing. It is a strictly proprietary company and all profits belong to stockholders. It writes non-participating contracts only. The ordinary business is written through general agencies, as well as through industrial district offices.

Classes of Insurance Written—It writes only non-participating in both the ordinary and industrial departments. Women are insured on the same basis as men, with a limit of $10,000 with the exception of term and economic policies. Disability and double indemnity benefits are granted. Among the policies written on the ordinary plan are ordinary life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; endowments at age 60 and 65; premiums continuous and limited to 10, 15 and 20 years; various instalment policies; a 20-payment reduced premium policy; 20-payment investment policy; ordinary life and 20-payment economic policy; single premium life and endowments; 5 and 10-year terms; joint life policies; monthly income policies and annuities. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $757,752; deferred dividend, $9,884,592; non-participating, $244,526,224.

Reserve Basis—Ordinary: Actuaries 4% on issues prior to 1901; American 3% 1901 to 1907, American 3½% 1907 and subsequent. Industrial: Standard Industrial 3½% on all issues, annuities American 4½.

Additional information on other pages; detailed statements in Compendium Section; Statistical History in department Life Insurance history; Gains and Losses in Gain and Loss Exhibit.

Sub-standard Insurance—While no solicitation is made for this class of risk, this company accepts cases where mortality rating is not over 200% because of occupational or medical impairments, upon payment of premiums based on special mortality tables.

Officers—John G. Walker, president; W. L. T. Rogerson, A. S. Hurt, L. R. Walker, vice-presidents; A. C. McKenney, secretary; G. C. Hall, M. D. medical director; J. S. Davenport, Jr., actuary; R. Gilham, treasurer; P. St. G. Cooke, I. T. Townsend, assistant secretaries.

Directors—J. G. Walker, J. M. Miller, Jr., W. L. T. Rogerson, A. S. Hurt, L. R. Walker, B. H. Walker, J. S. Davenport, Jr., A. C. McKenney, Reginald Gilham, Miss A. R. Walker, J. T. Lawrence and R. E. Henley.

LINCOLN LIBERTY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Ganter Building, Lincoln, Neb.

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated and received its license to begin business May 14, 1919, beginning business on that date with a capital stock of $100,000, which was sold at $150 per share in order to create an initial surplus of $50,000. The principal promoters who organized the company without any expense of promotion were Ira Crook, the present vice-president, and Joseph Goldstein, now secretary of the company. The company was originally licensed as the Liberty Life Insurance Company of Nebraska, but in January, 1922, changed its name to the Lincoln Liberty.

Administration and Repute—This company is owned by stockholders, but issues both participating and non-participating contracts. There is no limit as to profits to stockholders. Its officers are progressive and experienced life insurance men of good standing in their community. The company has shown a satisfactory growth, pays its losses promptly and operates on a moderate cost and with low mortality. Its actuarial methods are sound. Assets, surplus and reserves are adequate. The company does not accept colored risks. It operates its agency organization upon both the managerial and general agency plans. Women, except married ones, are accepted on the same basis as men, not including double indemnity nor disability as to health.

Classes of Insurance Written—All the regular forms of ordinary limited pay and endowment life insurance contracts; also single premiums, monthly income, children's policy, and joint life.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, full preliminary term and $10,136,087 and select and ultimate 3½% $74,500.

LINCOLN LIFE COMPANY

First National Bank Building, Lincoln, Nebraska

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized 1910, in Nebraska, and began business May 3, of that year, with $55,000 paid-in capital stock, par value, $100 a share. There were no promotional expenses. Capital was increased 1918 to $100,000 and in 1920 to $220,200 where it now stands. Stockholders' contribution to surplus, in 1920, amounted to $240,400. It reinsured the Frontier Accident Insurance Company, Lincoln, Nebraska, in 1913. Originally it wrote only accident and health business, but in 1920 added life insurance to these lines. The company was known up to April, 1923, as the Lincoln Accident and Life, when the name was changed to above.

Administration and Repute—This company is strictly a proprietary one and all profits belong to stockholders to whom since organization dividends have been paid amounting to cash, $173,128; stock, $57,275. Directors own $122,600 par value of the capital stock. The greater portion of the premium volume of this company is derived from its accident and health department in which it has been moderately successful. Following a reorganization in 1920, at which time the company undertook writing all life insurance, the premium volume in the accident department decreased considerably, however, a good gain was noted in 1923. The business of the life department, small in volume, shows an annual increase. Expenses in the life department are moderate but slightly above average in the accident department. Assets are well invested, reserves are on a satisfactory basis, and the company has a comparatively large surplus. Its loss paying reputation is excellent. The management is experienced and the company has sound backing and is in high standing generally. It was examined in 1923 by the Nebraska Insurance Department. In 1923 the Lincoln Life absorbed the Federal of Lincoln, Nebraska, an accident and health company, with a premium volume of about $240,000.

Classes of Insurance Written—Accident and health and life.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $1,751,715.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, (Illinois standard).

Officers—S. H. Burnham, president; C. W. Rieger, Geo. W. Holmes, W. A. Selleck, O. J. Collman, vice-presidents; R. E. Weaverling, secretary; G. W. Collman, treasurer.

LINCOLN NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Fort Wayne, Indiana

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, June 12, 1905, in Indiana, and began business Sept. 15, 1905, with $150,000 paid-in capital. This capital was increased as follows: 1909, to $164,000; 1910, to $166,000; 1911, to $177,170; 1912, to $200,000; 1917, to $300,000, and 1919, to $500,000; 1922 to $1,000,000, where it remains. Surplus was contributed by stockholders from time to time and through other ways built up to $1,000,000 in 1922. Dividends paid stockholders since organization total $562,423. Company has reinsured the business of the following: Michigan State Life Insurance Company of Detroit June 14, 1914, and the Pioneer Life Insurance Company of Fargo, North Dakota, March 31, 1917.

Administration and Repute—The company has grown rapidly of late years, having the unsual record of writing a greater volume of business in 1921 than in 1920, the banner year generally. Following increases in 1922, the year 1923 was unquestionably the best year the company has ever experienced. Substantial increases were made in premium volume. Assets, reserves, and insurance in force and for the first time the company paid for more than $100,000,000 of new business. Able management has developed this new business and other factors contributing to the company's success are its high grade backing, substantial surplus, sound actuarial methods, satisfactorily yielding investments, economy of operation, low costs of new business, low mortality rate, prompt payment of death claims and a general reputation that is excellent. Company writes only non-participating policies since March 1, 1923. Disability and double indemnity benefits are included in its liberal policy contracts. A convention examination under the direction of the Indiana Insurance Department began December 10, 1923. In 1923 the company occupied its new home office building.

Classes of Insurance Written—Besides life, the company writes group, insured savings and sub-standard policies. It issues policies on the continuous and 20-payment plan maturing as endowments at age 85; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; 10-payment 20-year endowments; single premium life and 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; convertible 5, 10, 15 and 20-year term; preferred risk policies on whole life and 20-payment life plans; joint whole life; 20-payment life and 20-year endowment plans. Women written at same rates as men on all forms except term; disability benefits will be granted to self-supporting unmarried business women engaged in desirable occupations.

Insured Savings Plan—The Lincoln National has met with unprecedented success with its combined life insurance and savings account plan, a form of coverage which the Lincoln National inaugurated and has operated with over 15,000 policies under the name Bankers Insured Savings Account. On July 1, 1922 the name was changed to the Lincoln Thrift Account which the company briefly describes as follows: A simple statement of the plan is that by the correlation of decreasing monthly term insurance with a regular monthly and therefore regular increasing savings account, one who desires to save a given sum of money ($500, $1,000, etc.) in a given time (120 months), will, if he lives and continues to make his deposits, be enabled to draw out the amount he set out to save; but should he die at any time during the period he will immediately have a savings account matured for his beneficiary for the amount he intended to save. Under this plan we will issue insurance on people from ages 10 to 50 inclusive. The monthly deposit rate of age 10 to 33 is $7.60; 34 to 40, $7.70; 41 to 45, $7.80; 46 to 50, $7.90. Thus only four groups of savings account books are required by the bank.

Group Insurance—While the Lincoln National may be said to transact this kind of business through having a few group contracts in force, it has not issued a new contract in four years, and cannot therefore be considered active in this line.

Sub-Standard—The Lincoln National issues sub-standard insurance on, first, extra percentage tables of mortality; second at extra premium; third with graded death benefits.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $16,525,685; deferred dividend, $6,967,974; non-participating, $272,603,266.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term; preferred risk policies select and ultimate basis; Annuities McClintock's 3½%.

Officers—Arthur F. Hall, president; Daniel B. Ninde, first vice-president and general counsel; Walter T. Shepard, vice-president and manager of agencies; T. D. Hughes, vice-president and manager of Northwest Agencies; Franklin B. Mead, secretary and actuary; Howell C. Rockhill, treasurer.

MANHATTAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

66 Broadway, New York, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated May 29, 1850, in New York, and began business August 1, of that year, with authorized and paid-in capital, $100,000, capital stock being divided into 2,000 shares, par value, $50 each at which it has since remained. By charter provision half of the directors must be stockholders to the extent of at least 10 shares each and the other half may be policyholders. Policyholders whose premiums amount to $75 or more annually or who hold annuities of at least that amount may vote for one-half of the directorate. The company originally wrote participating and non-participating insurance but since January 1, 1907, has confined its business to the former only. Majority of the stock was acquired in 1913 by Thomas E. Lovejoy, president, formerly president of the Alabama Fidelity and Casualty Company and also of the Montgomery Bank and Trust Company, both of Montgomery, Alabama. John F. Roche, vice-president, experienced insurance man and eminent consulting actuary, joined the company in 1913. Triennial examinations of the company are scheduled by the New York Insurance Department; the last one was in 1922 and commended the company on its improved condition and favorable mortality record. Stock, par value is $50 a share.

Administration and Repute—As one of the pioneer life insurance companies, the Manhattan, while somewhat slower of growth than a few of its contemporaries, has earned a good reputation for promptness, liberality and general efficiency of service and treatment accorded its policyholders. Stockholders are entitled to interest at not exceeding 7% per annum. Profits of the company, according to charter, shall be divided one-eighth to stockholders, and seven-eighths to policyholders. The company is well managed. It has paid liberal dividends both to stockholders and policyholders. Its premium volume has increased with regularity in recent years. It has substantial reserves, ample surplus and thorough financial strength in total of admitted assets. Actuarial practices follow the best methods; investments are well secured and remunerative; mortality is favorable; the loss paying record is good; records are carefully and accurately kept and departmental work efficiently performed. Annual dividend policies are issued at very low rates. Disability and double indemnity benefits are granted in all policy contracts.

Classes of Insurance Written—Since 1907, the company has issued only annual dividend policies of life insurance. They include all the usual forms of contracts and in addition the following: 5-year term non-renewable and non-convertible joint life on ordinary and limited payment life; single premium life; continuous income on ordinary and limited payment life; annuities in several forms. Women over age 18 are written at the same rates that apply to men on ordinary, limited payment and endowment forms not to exceed $5,000 and without disability benefits.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $65,168,748; deferred dividend, $5,000,000; non-participating, $5,782,779.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% select and ultimate since January 1919; American 3%

MARYLAND ASSURANCE CORPORATION*

Fortieth Street and Cedar Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland

HISTORICAL DATA

The company was incorporated in Maryland, September 1, 1917, and commenced business on January 1, 1918 with an authorized capital stock of $500,000 fully paid-in, and a paid-in surplus of $300,000. There were 50,000 shares of stock issued at $10 par value, all sold to the Maryland Casualty Company, its stockholders, employees, and agents at $16 per share. The Maryland Casualty Company subscribed and paid for 30,000 shares out of the 50,000 shares of stock authorized and issued. There was no promotional or organization expense. In starting business the company reinsured the accident and health business of the Maryland Casualty Company which gave it a premium income of about $1,000,000 annually as well as a life agency corps. The company began business January 1, 1918, with a full organized agency corps and office staff. On May 21, 1919, 10,000 shares of Series A stock were authorized and issued at a par value of $10 per share. The Maryland Casualty Company subscribed and paid for the entire issue at $40 a share, threrby increasing the capital stock of the Maryland Assurance by $100,000, and the paid-in surplus by $300,000. August 1, 1920, the corporation reinsured its accident and health business with the Maryland Casualty and permanently retired from that class of business, at the same time redeeming the outstanding 10,000 shares of Series A stock at $40 a share and reducing its capital $100,000 and its surplus $300,000.

* In 1924 the company was merged with the Eureka Life of Baltimore. Interests identified with that company purchasing the entire capital stock.

This company is a member of the following organizations: American Life Convention; Association of Life Insurance Medical Directors; Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau and the Advertising Club of the World.

MARYLAND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

8-10 South Street, Baltimore, Maryland

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated under the general laws of Maryland, March 10, 1864, and commenced business July 12, 1865, with a paid-in capital of $100,000, par value of which is $20. It has paid consistent dividends since organization. Reinsurances have been that of the Georgia Life Insurance Company, of Macon Georgia, in 1913.

Administration and Repute—The company has throughout its over 50 years of operation enjoyed the confidence of the insuring public in the territory in which it operates. It has been conservatively and economically managed and has grown with consistency comparable with its operating assets and surplus. Its investments have been mostly made in Government and municipal bonds and mortgage loans upon which the rate of interest has been sufficiently high to permit dividend payments to stockholders and policyholders in the participating class. It operates on a sound actuarial basis and has had a uniformly low mortality cost. It is a stock corporation and the profits are accruable to stockholders and policyholders. Costs of operation have been low. All business is written through general agents. The company was examined as of April 30, 1923 by the Maryland Insurance Department. Their report states "The financial condition of the company is sound, its affairs are efficiently managed and it is being conservatively underwritten. Its policyholders are fairly dealt with and claims paid promptly.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary life, 10, 15 and 20-payment life, and 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments, single premium life and joint life policies on the participating plan and on the non-participating plan, ordinary, 10, 15 and 20-payment life, 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments, 5, 10, 15 and 20-year convertible term, single premium life and a guarantee bonus policy. Disability features are included in the policies. Unmarried women are written the same as men term excepted. Married women under 48 are accepted on all plans except endowments running for 30 years or less. Colored risks are accepted.

Reserve Basis—American 3¼% level premium on participating policies, and 3½% on non-participating policies.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $4,410,658; deferred dividend, $4,380,508; annual dividend, $8,949,903.

Officers—Douglas H. Rose, president; Wm. S. Blackford, first vice-president; George R. Kolb, treasurer and comptroller; Charles G. Smith, secretary; Gordon Wilson, M. D., medical director; Chas. C. Clabaugh, general supervisor of agencies.

MASSACHUSETTS MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

500 Main Street, Springfield, Massachusetts

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was chartered by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts on May 15, 1851. Its charter by the State law required $100,000 capital stock before it could start business. This was raised and dividends thereon limited to 7% to the stockholders. This stock was retired in 1867, from which time the company has been purely mutual. The first policy was issued August 1, 1851, and the first dividend was paid August 1, 1861. The company began paying annual dividends in 1868, and in that year also occupied a new home office building which was burned February 5, 1873. The company changed from actuaries 4% to American 3½% in 1901. In 1907 it adopted the American 3% basis. Examinations by the Insurance Departments have been commendatory to the company.

Administration and Repute—This company was organized to build a business constantly moving forward to meet varying conditions; to develop life insurance and uniform service; to create a personality of strength and friendliness; to win confidence and keep the policyholder satisfied. The control of the company is in the Board of Directors, numbering twenty, elected annually for a term of four years by the policyholders. The company has throughout its existence been ably, humanly and capably managed. Policyholders' interests have predominated in the counsels of the company.

Additional information on other pages; detailed statements in Compendium Section; Statistical History in department Life Insurance history; Gains and Losses in Gain and Loss Exhibit.

Assets have been invested in bonds of the Government, State, railroads and municipalities, in mortgage loans on real estate and loans to policyholders. These investments have been made in a conservative way and with great discernment, and yield a high rate of interest. The company had paid annual dividends since 1868 of such an amount as to make the cost of insurance low. The company has a large operating surplus, operated upon a sound actuarial basis with large reserves. Its cost of operation is low, as is its acquisition expenses. Death claims have been promptly paid and policyholders equitably dealt with in every respect. With sound management, low operating costs, sound actuarial principles and fair treatment to policyholders, the company has grown steadily and prosperously and ranks with the best in the United States. It writes participating insurance only, and includes disability features in its policies. The company never issued deferred dividend policies. In 1923 the company passed the one billion mark in insurance in force. In this year also the company surpassed all of its previous marks in the various items denoting a company's progress. The average policy in force was over three thousand dollars. During the past three years this company has enjoyed quite a remarkable period of successful expansion. During that time insurance in force was increased over $300,000,000. Despite heavy cost incident to new business, company has paid $15,000,000 to policyholders and increased its surplus fund by about $3,500,000. All business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—This company writes life insurance on the following plan. Ordinary, 10, 15, 20, 25, 30 and 19-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35, 40, 45, 50-year endowments; endowments at age 60, 65, 70 and 75 years; various 10, 15 and 20-payment endowments; single premium life and endowments; joint life; monthly income policies and life annuities and deferred annuities.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $1,028,401,673.

Reserve Basis—American 3% full level premium since October 1, 1907; American 3½% full level premium from January 1, 1901 to December 30, 1907. Actuaries 4% prior to January 1, 1901. Annuities on the actuaries 4%, American 3½% and 3%, McClintock's 3½% and 4% and Meech's 3% tables.

Officers—W. W. McClench, president; W. H. Sargeant, vice-president; Henry Loeb, second vice-president; W. H. Hall, secretary, C. H. Angell, actuary; G. S. Stebbins, M. D., Morton Snow, M. MASSACHUSETTS SAVINGS BANK LIFE INSURANCE AND ANNUITIES OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

Boston, Massachusetts

HISTORICAL DATA

In 1907 the Massachusetts Legislature passed the law permitting Savings Banks to write life insurance. Its regulation is contained in Chapter 178, Chapter 26, Sections 9-12 and Chapter 63, Section 18 of the General Laws of Massachusetts, also in Acts of 1921, Chapter 416 and Acts of 1922, Chapter 79. These provide that any savings bank may establish an insurance department if two-thirds (⅔) of the trustees of the bank, at a special called meeting vote so to do. Special expense and insurance guarantee fund must be provided for of not less than $5,000 and $20,000 respectively.

It further provides that not more than $1,000 insurance might be secured at any one bank for annuity contract of not more than $200 yearly. Monthly premium policies written for smaller amounts than $500 are issued. Employers group insurance is also written. At the present time the Whitman Savings Bank of Whitman, the Peoples Savings Bank of Brocton, the Lynn Five Cents Savings Bank, the Lynn Institution for Savings, the City Savings Bank of Pittsfield, the Berkshire County Savings Bank and the North Adams Savings Bank are providing this form of insurance. All policies are issued upon a participating plan and good dividends have been paid.

The combined premium income on life insurance of these savings banks amount to about $800,000. The total insurance in force is $30,335,000. The department is officered as follows;

George L. Barnes, commissioner; Alice H. Grady, deputy commissioner; Ervin R. Hurst, state actuary; Malcolm Seymour, state medical director, with offices in Room No. 207, State House, Boston, Massachusetts. More detailed information will be given in succeeding editions.

THE MEDICAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Black Hawk National Bank Building, Waterloo, Iowa

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized September 20, 1920, in Iowa, as an old line legal reserve institution, to specialize in the writing of sub-standard risks, besides doing a regular business in the usual forms of life, limited payment and endowment insurance. The organizers were successful Iowa medical men and bankers of high standing with considerable business experience in their home communities. At the beginning of business, August 13, 1921, the company's authorized capital was $300,000. Original paid-in capital was $100,200 with an equal amount of surplus, derived as premium from the sale of stock, par value $10 at double par. During 1922 paid-in capital was increased to $133,580 and $33,380 was also paid-in to surplus. In 1923 capital increased to $226,640 and $93,060 was paid-in to surplus as premium on stock sold. The Iowa Insurance Department examined the company, just prior to licensing it for operation in 1921 and again as of October 31, 1922.

Administration and Repute—Under management of ability and progressive disposition this company has energetically set out to give life insurance service to the public which in completeness of conception is unexcelled. Nonparticipating insurance only is written but all limited payment life policies are to participate after being paid up. The company's 1923 volume of business showed a satisfactory increase of premium income over that of 1922 as well as an increase of insurance in force. It has a backing of sound character and has satisfactory financial strength of assets and resources. Surplus showed a small gain in 1923. Practically all of the investments for the company are well secured in farm mortgages and have been fairly remunerative. Business acquisition expense ratios have been normal for a young company. Up to December 31, 1923, it had experienced but two losses for mortality claims. Following a definite plan of conservative business expansion small volumes of business were written in states other than Iowa; policy contracts under certain conditions include disability and double indemnity features. Women are written on same basis as men except as to disability. The company operates upon the general agency plan. It excludes colored risks. It is strictly a proprietary company and all profits belong to stockholders. There was $15,000 of loans outstanding to stockholders not directors on December 31 last.

Sub-standard Risks—Physical impairments are accepted on rated up mortality tables of 125, 150, 175 and 200 per cent mortality on ordinary life, 20-payment life, 10 and 15-year endowments, and for the extremely hazardous risks a graded death benefit policy is issued. Occupational hazards are charged a flat extra premium. All policies issued sub-standard on account of physical impairments are issued with the understanding that if, at any time in the future the insured can show to the satisfaction of the company that he is entitled to a lower rating, the policy may be changed for one with a lower rating. On occupational hazards, the flat additional premium may be removed at any time the policyholder changes permanently to a less hazardous occupation. The company's 1923 volume of business showed a satisfactory increase of premium income over that of 1922 and an increase of $2,757,000 in insurance in force. It has a backing of sound character and has a satisfactory financial strength of assets and resources. Surplus showed a small but satisfactory gain in 1923.

Additional information on other pages; detailed statements in Compendium Section; Statistical History in department Life Insurance History; Gains and Losses in Gain and Loss Exhibit.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment and also sub-standard. Among the contracts written are joint life; monthly income and child's policies. The company's leading policy is the 20-payment life preferred guaranteed coupon. Maximum amount written, each risk, $50,000. Retain $5,000 life and $5,000 disability.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $4,261,000.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term (Illinois standard).

Officers—Dr. W. A. Rohlf, president; I. C. Londergan, vice-president and general manager, T. A. Bearmore, Dr. C. E. Dakin, vice-presidents; H. W. Wilhelms, treasurer; J. V. Gregory, counsel; Dr. E. Rohlf, medical director; E. E. Brown, secretary and J. H. Shanks, assistant secretary.

MERCHANTS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Des Moines, Iowa

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated under the laws of Iowa, April 4, 1894, as the Merchants Life Association, an assessment company. It commenced business as such June 14, 1894. In February, 1915, it was reincorporated as a legal reserve life insurance company with a capital stock of $100,000; par value of stock being $100. In June, 1917 the capital stock was increased from $100,000 to $400,000, and at that time the Merchants Life Insurance Company, combined with the Preferred Life Insurance Company, and W. A. Watts, the organizer and president of the Preferred Life, became president of the Merchants Life, which position he has continued up to the present time. About $150,000 was contributed to surplus by stockholders in 1918–1920. A trifle over $50,000 of this was returned to stockholders in 1921 and the balance in 1923. The company was examined by the Insurance Department of Iowa in 1922 with favorable comment.

The company is a member of the following organizations: American Life Convention; Life Agency Officers; Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau and the Life Extension Institute.

Administration and Repute—This company has been ably and efficiently managed by its president, W. A. Watts and its executive staff. Under their guidance it has grown remarkably, particularly during the past few years. Its assets are well invested and remunerative. About 80% of them are in first class mortgage loans, mostly upon farm property in Iowa and adjoining state. It operates on a standard actuarial basis, maintaining ample reserves, including legal reserves on assessment business. It has a substantial operating surplus. It has consistently shown good gains from mortality. It operates with a moderate management cost and with low acquisition expenses. Claims are promptly paid and policyholders are justly and equitably dealt with. The company is strictly proprietary and all profits belong to stockholders. $72,000 has been paid them in dividends since organization. The company operates through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company's policies, including disability and double indemnity insurance, are written upon a non-participating basis. Women are insured with the exception of term on the same basis as men. The limit accepted is $5,000 and disability provisions are not granted. Among the policies written are ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowment; 20-payment life decreasing premium; the same with a 20-year endowment option; 10 and 20-year term; convertible and non-renewable; single premium life and endowment; monthly income; joint life; annual income; life expectancy convertible term. METHODIST MINISTERS RELIEF INSURANCE & TRUST ASSOCIATION

531 Boylston Street, Boston, Massachusetts

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated and began business May 1, 1878 in Massachusetts as the Methodist Ministers Relief Association, an assessment fraternal society. It was reincorporated April 2, 1910 upon the legal reserve basis under the present title, and since that time operates as a mutual legal reserve company. The company has certificates of guaranteed surplus, which the company states is not a liability to reduce surplus, amounting to $50,536 upon which the company held as a liability, accured interest, amounting to $630.45.

Administration and Repute—This company is backed by high class religious interests including several bishops of the Methodist Church. It has been uniformly successful and capably managed. Its mortality rate has been uniformly low with the exception of the first few years, following the period of reincorporation when lapses due to it, disturbed, in a measure, the company's equilbrium. The company has always been economically managed. It only accepts insurance from Methodist ministers and their wives and due to this fact, its growth has been slow but consistent. Loss payments have been promptly made and policyholders fairly dealt with. All business is transacted by mail. The company was examined in 1923 by the Massachusetts Insurance Department.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company issues all policies on the participating plan and includes whole life, 10, 15, 19 and 20-payment life; and 10, 15, 20, 25, and 30-year endowment, birthday endowments at age 60, 65, a double endowment at age of 65, pension policies commencing at ages 60 and 65, combination endowment annuity, and term annuity contracts, various yearly renewable term policies and annuity contracts.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, $2,469,823.

Reserve Basis—American 3% full level premium, annuities McClintock's 4%.

Officers—Lemuel H. Murlin, president; William I. Ward and Leopold A. Nies, vice-presidents; Chas. W. Blackett, treasurer; Henry L. Wriston, secretary and manager.

METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

1 Madison Avenue, New York, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated May 5, 1866, being inceptively chartered to write health and accident insurance only, and beginning business in January, 1867, as the National Travelers Insurance Company with a $200,000 capital stock of 4,000 shares at $50 each. The company omitted the casualty features and by act of April 9, 1867, adopted regular life insurance, under provisions of the general act of June 24, 1853 (New York) which permitted insurance upon lives of individuals and annuity transactions. By charter amendment, March 24, 1868, the company took its present title. In November, 1879, the company began to issue industrial policies under a systematic plan which developed rapidly, becoming popular and very successful. In 1892, a clause was put into the industrial contracts providing for paid up insurance after five years of premium payments. In the next several years further concessions and increasingly liberal provisions were granted to industrial policyholders. During the period, 1897-1915, without stipulation, either expressed or implied in contract, holders of industrial policies were paid or credited with an amount in excess of $49,000,000, and cost of concessions in reserve liability was, in addition, more than $4,500,000. For a few years prior to 1900, the company was much interested in considerable State legislation over child insurance which resulted in no prohibiting measures nor salient changes. A mortality table compiled from company's findings in its industrial mortality investigation of 1906, has been adopted as New York State standard for industrial lives. In 1912, a new industrial policy clause allowed 10% of premiums to industrial policyholder who, for a period of a year or over, made direct payments to home office or district offices, thereby relieving company of expense of collection through agents. Accident and health policy writing was again begun by charter amendment of April 17, 1913. Capital, apportioned into 80,000 shares at $25 each, on December 31, 1914, was $2,000,000, $500,000 of which was cash paid in, the balance in stock dividends. Company had paid to stockholders cash dividends totalling $3,834,936 prior to January 6, 1915. On that date mutualization became effective by retirement of capital stock at $75 per share, par value $25, and by adoption of a new charter.

In post-war years the company, always pioneering in welfare activities, made substantial headway in systematically relieving the acute housing shortage, having appropriated special mortgage loan funds to this purpose. The Metropolitan has reinsured a number of life insurance companies, among them the following: Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company of Pennsylvania, May 7, 1917; Niagara Life, Buffalo, March 1, 1923; Mercury Reinsurance Company (United States business) of Cologne, Germany, as of December 31, 1918, and the Prussian Life Insurance Company (United States business), of Berlin, Germany, as of December 31, 1918. Business of these German companies and other reinsurance operations are handled by the company's reinsurance division, managed by Morris W. Torrey. Among the less recent reinsurances were the following: In 1893, Peoples Industrial, Norwich, Connecticut; in 1897, United States Industrial, Newark, New Jersey; in 1900, Covenant Mutual Life, St. Louis, Missouri and Vermont Life, Burlington, Vermont; in 1901, La Canadienne Life Insurance Company of Canada, Central Life of Missouri, St. Louis, Missouri and Provident Life, Wheeling, West Virginia; in 1902, Economic Life, Wilmington, Delaware and Sun Life, Louisville, Kentucky; in 1908, Buffalo Life, Buffalo New York; in 1909, Union Life, New York, New York; in 1913, Union Life of Canada. The Metropolitan has also reinsured the industrial business alone, of several other companies. The report of the New York Insurance Department's last examination of this company was filed May 5, 1923.

Administration and Repute—The Metropolitan Life exceeds all other companies in the world in total of assets, volume of insurance in force and number of policies outstanding. It is wholly mutual in operation with control vested in its policyholders. Its management is very capable and thoroughly experienced, backed by a directorate of prominent men who discharge with acumen and care their duties arising from the heavy obligations to the public placed on them by their trusteeship of the company's colossal assets. As an example of the company's many-sided welfare work, highly developed in the last decade, in 1923 its free visiting nurses made 2,482,919 health calls upon its industrial and group policyholders The company's field service has also contributed valuably to Government and private sociological and industrial investigations of great constructive purpose. The company's growth in recent years is phenomenal, due, for the most part, to sound and substantially remunerative investments (over 40% of admitted assets being invested in mortgage loans on real estate); conservative and efficient actuarial and general operative methods; economical management; low cost of new business; low mortality rate; good repute for prompt payment of death claims, and liberal policy contracts, meeting nearly every need of any one desiring personal insurance.

Accident and Health Branch—The Metropolitan introduced some new features of accident and health underwriting when in 1921 it began issuing standard and renewable term policies in this branch. These accident and health policies are the first and only of the kind issued on a participating basis. Rates, for all forms of health insurance, are equitably graded according to ages, and are constant from age of entry to age of 60. Health insurance can be renewed up to age 60. Accident policies provide for flexible scales of indemnity instead of the usual fixed scale. They further provide that accident disability is covered, whether commencing at date of accident or within two weeks thereafter. All policies provide a 31-day period of grace for renewal premium payments. Metropolitan organization in the Accident and Health Branch, as well as in its life department, makes premium rates generally as low as those of other companies. Careful selection of risks is the practice in issuance of Accident and Health Branch policies. Medical examinations are not required for issuance of standard accident policies, standard accident and health policies or death and dismemberment policies. Medical examinations are, however required on all renewable term policies.

Classes of Insurance Written—The Company's contracts, all on the participating plan include disability and double indemnity benefits. It writes ordinary policies for $1,000 and up, intermediate for $500 and its multiples, industrial, group, many forms of annuities and non-cancellable and cancellable accident and health at low rates. Forms of contract include the following: Regular, ordinary, $5,000 whole life; limited payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25, and 30-year endowments; endowment at 85; life premium reduced after 20 years; mortgage redemption, special class (sub-standard), whole life, limited payment life, and 10, 15 and 20-year endowments, instalment policies on life and endowment forms; 25 and 30-year endowments; 10-payment, 20-year endowments, 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments and modified endowments. Women are written at same rates as apply to men, disability and double indemnity benefits being granted if woman is self-supporting.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Ordinary business, annual dividends, $5,328,097,749; industrial, $3,910,156,319.

MICHIGAN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Detroit, Michigan

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized November 6, 1867, in Michigan, and began business November 12, of that year, with a paid-in capital of $100,000, which was increased in 1876 to $250,000 at which it has since remained. Prominent among the organizers of the company were its first executives, J. J. Bagley, president; J. S. Farrand, vice-president; J. T. Liggett, secretary and J. C. Watson, actuary. Initial stockholders included about an equal number of reputable persons of Detroit, and others of equally good standing in their several cities throughout Michigan. Original stockholders numbered 74 in all. Stock, par value, is $50 a share.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed and successful. Its progress and success have notable evidence in the fact that it has paid dividends to stockholders annually since organization and although now writing only non-participating insurance it continues as formerly also to pay very fair dividends on participating business in force. Stockholders have received aggregate, cash dividends of $1,337,021. The company is unquestionably strong in assets and reserves and has a large surplus. Premium income has advanced steadily in the past decade and insurance in force commensurately except in 1918. Actuarial methods are of high standard. The company's invested assets are well secured and remunerative. Operating and business acquisition expenses are moderate. The mortality rate is favorable and the company has a good reputation for promptly paying death claims. It issues an attractive line of policies which include the features of double indemnity and disability. In 1923 the company had over one hundred million dollars of insurance outstanding. The company was examined in 1923 by the Michigan Insurance Department.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies are as follows: ordinary life; endowment at age 85; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; 20-payment 30-year endowment; endowment at age 65; special 20-payment optional clause policy; 5 and 10-year convertible term renewable and exchangeable, monthly income on ordinary policy; and also the following plans: single premium on whole life and endowment forms; preferred life paid up to one-half face value at 65; non-renewable term; instalment plan forms; returned premium forms and various additional endowment forms. Maximum amount written, $100,000; retained, $20,000. Women are insured on 20-payment life and higher premiums, limit $3,000, married, $5,000 single, with double indemnity and not disability at same rates as apply to men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $98,703,962; annual dividend, $4,189,852; deferred dividend, $810,043.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, full level premium, preliminary term, and modified preliminary term from January 1, 1908, on issues since January 1, 1903. Prior issues were on actuaries 4%.

MID-CONTINENT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized May 11, 1909, in Oklahoma, and began business May 12, 1910, with an authorized capital of $1,000,000, of which at the time of being licensed $174,000 was paid-in with $80,000 surplus. H. G. Baker was president, Samuel Quinn, director of agencies, and original home office was in Muskogee, Oklahoma from which it was moved to Oklahoma City, in 1916, at the time controlling interests were bought by R. T. Stuart, now president, and his associates, who entirely supplanted the former management. Authorized capital had been reduced to $400,000, and of that amount $279,400 had been paid-in by 1915, when capital was reduced to $100,584 at which it has since remained. Of the amount reduced $50,292, was transferred to surplus and with the balance paid to stockholders they organized the Mid-Continent Trust Company, with paid-in capital of $100,000 and $28,000 surplus. Although stockholders are identical, the two institutions are in no other way allied. Stock, par value, is $50 a share.

This company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company was at first slow of development, but since coming under its present management, it has shown satisfactory gains, especially salient during the period 1916–1921 inclusive. Following a decrease in premium income and insurance written in 1922 better results were obtained in 1923 and increases in business were noted. The company has satisfactory financial strength of assets and reserves and ample operating surplus. R. T. Stuart, president, is experienced having represented the Pacific Mutual, of California, the Equitable Life, of New York and more recently the American Home Life of Texas. The company is strictly proprietary in character and writes non-participating insurance only. Investments are profitable; actuarial methods are of high standard; operating costs slightly above average; business acquisition above average; mortality rate favorable. The company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Policies include double indemnity and disability features. In addition to the life business the company operates an accident and health department from which the income in 1923 amounted to $2,836. The company was examined in 1923 by the Oklahoma Insurance Department. No dividends have been paid stockholders since organization.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowment; 20-payment life decreasing premium with 20-year endowment option; 10 and 20-year convertible term; guaranteed premium reduction on 20-payment life and paid up at age 70; joint life on ordinary, 20-payment and 20-year endowment plans; monthly income on whole life and 20-payment life; continuous instalments with optional monthly income disability on ordinary and 20-payment life; health and accident. Maximum amount written, no limit, retained, $5,000. Women are insured, except on term plan with certain restrictions, on same rates applying to men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans Written—Non-participating, $24,090,966.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term.

Officers—R. T. Stuart, president; Edwin Starkey, vice-president; R. W. Reese, secretary; O. E. Stuart, treasurer; M. Smith, medical director; T. J. McComb, actuary.

Directors—R. W. Reese, J. A. Lawrence, W. C. Jones, M. Smith, R. T. Stuart, O. E. Stuart, C. E. Trumbo, Edwin Starkey, J. Krouch, I. L. Cook.

MIDLAND INSURANCE COMPANY

St. Paul, Minnesota

HISTORICAL DATA

On April 27, 1908, the Midland Life Association, was incorporated under the Assessment Laws of Minnesota and commenced business September of that year. On September 10, 1910, its charter was amended and name changed to present title. It began business as a legal reserve company March 24, 1911 with an authorized capital of $200,000, par value per share $10. $100,000 was paid-in of which $92,605 was contributed to surplus. September 29, 1913, the company was merged with Indemnity Life and Accident of Minnesota which had, at time of organization, a paid-in capital of $100,000. The increased insurance, by virtue of this merger amounted to $1,144,885. The Indemnity Life and Accident was insolvent at the time of the merger, and stockholders of that company were given two options for transferring their stock as follows: (a) For each share of stock in the Indemnity Company surrendered by a stockholder thereof, he shall be entitled to seven-tenths (7–10) of a share of the capital stock of the Midland Company, as so increased, or, (b) There shall be executed and delivered to him one full share of the capital stock of the Midland Company, after the same shall have been so increased, for each share of the capital stock of the Indemnity Company surrendered by him, on payment by him to the Midland Company of the sum of $3.50 as to each share so surrendered and for which he received one full share of the Midland Company, after capital stock has been increased. On April 26, 1923, the Midland reinsured the outstanding business of the Twin City Life of St. Paul, by which it added to its insurance in force about four million dollars. The company was organized and the organization stock sold by H. W. Strickler, who has been president since organization. The organization stock of the company was sold for $20 per share. The contributed surplus to date amounts to a little over $100,000. No assessments have been levied and two (2) stock dividends have been paid, amounting to $16,735. The capital stock at present amounts to $167,965; it is widely scattered, there being over eighteen hundred stockholders and no individual or organization has majority control. The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company is strictly a proprietary one and all profits are due stockholders—dividends have been paid them amounting to but $16,736 since organization. The company is very economically and capably managed, the president being an experienced life insurance man. He is surrounded with an able official staff and the company is in generally good repute. It has substantial assets well invested, particularly in first mortgage loans. It operates upon standard actuarial plans and maintains adequate reserves. Its surplus is ample and well invested. A sizable premium income is increasing yearly. The management expenses are low and the acquisition costs normal. The company insures women on the same basis as men and provides optional disability contracts. Has a good record for paying death claim policies and deals equitably with its policyholders. Agency operations are conducted through general agencies.

Classes of Insurance Written—Among the policies written are ordinary, 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20 and 23-year endowment; 5, 10 and 20-year term; special whole life contract and monthly income policies; children's policies. Colored risks are accepted.

Insurance Outstanding in Varying Plans—Participating, $11,253,096.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary terms, Illinois standard.

Officers—H. W. Strickler, president; A. E. Strickler, F. W. Greaves, vice-presidents; E. L. Shinnick, secretary and actuary, E. M. Mortensen, treasurer.

Directors—E. W. Young, H. W. Strickler, E. L. Shinnick, J. T. Schiesler, G. K. Henshall, E. M. Mortensen, A. E. Strickler, F. W. Greaves, H. W. Benton, E. J. Owens, G. M. Hopp.

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated January 26, 1909, and began business August 1, of the same year with an authorized and paid-in capital stock of $100,000. The par value of the stock was $10 and was sold at $25 per share. $50,000 of this sum was paid for promotion expenses. The sum of $3 per share or $30,000 being paid to the salesman who placed the stock and $2 per share or $20,000 was paid to Daniel Boone and Company. A partnership composed of Daniel Boone, Senior and Junior. Out of this last sum all legal actuarial and incorporation expenses were paid, supplies and all necessary office equipment were also purchased from this fund. Promoters therefore received a very nominal compensation for organization expenses. In October 1919, because of the abnormally high epidemic mortality a capital impairment of $16,000 existed. This impairment was remedied by a contribution to surplus of $50,000 made by Daniel Boone Senior, Daniel Boone, Junior, Walter J. Bales and O. V. Dodge under an agreement of repayment from subsequent profits, these payments to be made when the directors felt that the earnings of the company warranted it and then with the consent of the Insurance Commissioner. Final repayment of this contribution was paid upon November 1, 1921. The company has never acquired any business through mergers or purchase. The management has been the same since organization, its first president, Daniel Boone, Senior, being succeeded on his death in January 1920, by his son Daniel Boone, Junior, and he, with the vice-president and treasurer, Walter J. Bales, and the secretary, J. M. Smullin, were connected with the company since organization.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company is a strictly proprietary one, and all profits are due stockholders. It has been very capably managed since organization with the best interests of policyholders and stockholders always in the foreground. It was built upon sound lines and with progressive policies, has prospered accordingly. It has a substantial premium income and is managed economically, with low acquisition costs. It has ample assets which are well invested, mostly in remunerative mortgage loans. It is operated upon sound actuarial bases and has adequate reserves. It has not large but satisfactory operating surplus. Its rate of mortality has been moderate with the exception of the epidemic period. It has enjoyed a good reputation for promptly paying death claims and is generally in good standing in its community. Dividends paid stockholders since organization total $48,000. It operates on the general agency plan. In 1923 it was examined by the Missouri Insurance Department. New rates were issued in 1923.

Classes of Insurance Written—It writes non-participating insurance only with optional disability and double indemnity benefits; it writes ordinary; 10, 15, 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments on the non-participating plan. Also ordinary 20-payment life; and 20-year endowment policies on the guaranteed premium reduction plan. A 20-payment life guaranteed increasing benefit policy, a standard mortality life policy monthly income, joint life single premium life and endowments premium returned at death in full, and in half, if occurring in 20 years. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $25,756,559.

the capital stock from date of its original issue. The stock, par value of which is $100, was sold at $150 per share without promotion or stock selling expense. The company began business July 2, 1906, with a paid-in capital of $120,500, and a contributed surplus of $62,300 The paid-up capital was increased yearly; at the close of 1909 it reached $225,000. The total surplus contributed was $112,500. The charter of the company provides for mutualization by retirement of the stock at $200 per share, as well as the return to stockholders of surplus paid-in. During 1923, $75,000 stock was sold at par which increased the paid up capital stock to the limit of $300,000. The surplus of $112,500 paid in by the stockholders has been returned to them and the dividends paid stockholders are now limited to 10% of the par value of the capital stock as prescribed by the charter.

This company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—The company is owned by stockholders and has been under the same management during its entire existence. Its growth has been healthy, assets, reserves and surplus funds increasing commensurate with the outstanding insurance. Assets are well invested, principally in mortgage loans which yield a high rate of interest. The actuarial methods are sound, and the company has been capably and economically managed, with low operating and acquisition expenses. It has a low record of mortality. The company writes participating insurance only and policyholders have been fairly dealt with. Liberal dividends to policyholders have been maintained even through the period of the influenza epidemic and the great war. It is to be further noted that at the close of the war this company paid all war claims in full and returned policyholders all extra war premiums collected. Death claims have been promptly paid. The company operates upon the general agency plan. In 1923 it was examined by the Ohio Insurance Department. Their report was favorable to the company.

MIDWEST LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF CHICAGO

Chicago, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized under the insurance laws of the State of Illinois early in 1924 to provide life insurance operating on the legal reserve basis, participating plan. Frederick R. Warner, at the head of the Board of corporators, composed of prominent professional and business men of Illinois, was responsible for the founding of the company. It was intended to begin business soon after receiving its charter. Authorized capital is $500,000, of which the company had initially paid in capital stock of $100,000, with a surplus of $100,000. The intention is to specialize in endowment insurance. F. R. Warner, president, in addition to being an experienced executive is an insurance man of more than ordinary ability, having served well on the staffs of the Northwestern Mutual Life and the Travelers Insurance Company. The Board of Corporators of the Midwest Life, in addition to Mr. Warner, are: Frederick H. Lord, secretary of the board; James H. Cartwright, counsel; Asa S. Bacon, Dr. Charles M. Bacon, Edward C. Carlton, Henry V. Warner, E. L. Fee, Robert J. Campbell, C. P. Mead.

MINNESOTA MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

St. Paul, Minnesota

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was orginally incorporated on August 6, 1880 as the Bankers Association and was organized on the assessment plan. It was operated as such until August 5, 1901 when it re-organized as a legal reserve com pany under the name of The Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance Company. The company has been under practically the same management since its re-incorporation as a legal reserve company. Its president ,E. W. Randall, has been president since November 1908. The company was recently examined by the Insurance Department of Minnesota with nothing but favorable comment.

Administration and Repute—This company is a purely mutual legal reserve company and all profits are due policyholders, to whom liberal dividends have been paid, making a low net cost of insurance. It is operated by capable officials of long experience in life insurance underwriting. It has built up a large volume of business, and with a substantial premium income, is economically managed with low operating costs and low acquisition costs. Its assets are well invested with mortgage loans and well selected government bonds, the predominating investments, and these yield a good return. It is operated upon sound actuarial practices and ample reserves are maintained. It has a substantial operating surplus with large contingent reserves and deferred dividend allotments. Recently the company was commended by the Insurance Departments of Minnesota, Virginia and Colorado, who participated in a joint examination of it. It has had an excellent mortality record with a possible exception of the year of the influenza. It has a high class agency staff and is in good repute for prompt payment of claims and in general is in high standing in its field of operation.

Classes of Insurance Written—It writes participating insurance only with optional disability and double indemnity benefit. Women are insured without extra charge in all policies but term. Limit for a married woman is $3,000. Among the policies written are whole life; 10, 15, 18, 20, 25, 30 and 35-payment life; life paid up at age 60; 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35 and 40-year endowment; endowment at ages 60, 65 and 70; various 10 and 20-payment endowments; 20-payment life with a 20-year double protection. A salary continuance policy, single premium life, and endowments, 5, 10, 15 and 20-year renewable and convertible term monthly income; joint life; children's endowments and life annuities.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Deferred dividend, $2,265,581; non-participating, $9,529,800; participating, $84,257,691, assessment, $80,000.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, Illinois standard, on all policies, except term which are valued on the full level premium

Group Insurance—This company commenced writing group insurance in 1916, with a general plan outlined as follows: Ages covered 15 and over; minimum in group, 50; maximum, individual risk usually not to exceed 2½ times the average amount of the entire group.

A blanket policy is issued to the employer and a certificate to each employee. An individual policy on ordinary life form will be issued to employee on termination of employment or within 31 days upon application thereafter. Premiums payable annually or monthly. Rates may be adjusted by the company at the end of each five year period. Dividends after the first policy year. The policy provisions include a grace period of one month and an incontestibility clause of one year with permission for military and naval service.

Bank Deposits and Insurance—This company accepts life insurance in connection with bank deposits but makes no active canvass for same.

Sub-standard Insurance—This company has been writing sub-standard business for many years past. Risks are classified on the annual rating system and the extra mortality anticipated is covered by means of either a rating up in age or an extra premium.

Officers—E. W. Randall, president; T. A. Phillips, vice-president; O. J. Lacy, second vice-president in charge of agencies; and H. W. Allstrom, secretary and actuary; C. N. McCloud, medical director; James McIntosh, associate actuary; T. H. Dickson, Jr., associate medical director; William F. Hagerman, cashier.

Trustees—D. S. Culver, L. Betz, E. S. Warner, C. M. Griggs, F. G. Leslie, F. Schlick, G. Bohn, J. E. Burchard, A. H. Lindeke, E. W. Randall, T. A. Phillips, H. W. Allstrom, Myron McMillan, C. N. McCloud.

MISSISSIPPI LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Kosciusko, Mississippi

Executive offices: Memphis, Tennessee

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized 1909, in Mississippi, as the Mississippi Beneficial Life Insurance Company. It began business in April of that year, with $100,000 authorized capital of which $52,800 was paid-in. The entire $100,000 capital is now paid up. Home office of the company was located in Indianola, Mississippi, until 1920, when it was moved to Kosciusko, and the executive headquarters at the same time were set up at Memphis, Tennessee. At this time also, the company adopted its present name. Stock, par value, is $100 a share.

Administration and Repute—This company has been managed in such a way as to have built up a substantial volume of business with steady increases in premium income until 1921, when a slight reduction was recorded. The premium income in the last two years again indicated a progressive trend. Industrial business, conducted in five of the principal Southern States, is its predominating line. It writes also ordinary life and some health and accident insurance. The company has satisfactory strength in assets and reserves. It has well secured and remunerative investments. Standard actuarial methods are used. Considering the large amount of industrial business transacted, expenses of operation are reasonable. Mortality rate is favorable and the company has a satisfactory death claim paying record. Policies include disability under certain conditions but not double indemnity and are both non-participating and participating. It was examined in 1923 by the Mississippi Insurance Department.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading forms of policies; ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments. Women are insured on all forms, except ordinary life, at same rates as apply to men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Ordinary, participating, and non-participating, $4,142,475; industrial, $16,502,227.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term (Tennessee standard), on ordinary business and American 3%, full preliminary term on ordinary; American 3½%, full preliminary term on industrial life; American 4%, on life element of combined sick, accident and life contracts; annuities, 50% of weekly premium of sick and accident element of combined S. A. & L. policies.

Offices—Herman E. Perry, president; M. B. Burnett, W. H. King, vice-presidents; J. A. Robinson, secretary-treasurer.

MISSOURI INSURANCE COMPANY

St. Louis, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized as an assessment association in Missouri in 1907, and in 1917 reincorporated as a stipulated premium company. It operated as such until 1922, when it reorganized on the legal reserve basis with a capital stock of $100,000, which has gradually been built up from an initial capital of $25,000. Capital was increased to $50,000 in 1923 by a stock dividend of $25,000. Early in 1924 the company changed its name from Missouri Life & Accident to the above title. J. A. Walker who was the principal organizer was elected president following a service with the company since organization.

Administration and Repute—This company is a stockholders' company which transacts a legal reserve life insurance, though the bulk of its business is upon the accident and health business. In this latter department it has been successful and under progressive management it may well be anticipated that the future

MISSOURI STATE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

St. Louis, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized under the laws of Missouri, was incorporated November 23, 1892, and began business December 1, of that year, as an association operating on the assessment basis. A change of operating plan placed it upon the stipulated premium basis in October, 1899. Reorganization, March 11, 1902, made it a legal reserve company with capital stock of $100,000. Capital has been increased as follows: December, 1909, to $300,000 with $50,000 contributed to surplus; December 31, 1912, $1,000,000, at the time that the company reinsured the legal reserve business and absorbed the agency system of the Hartford Life Insurance Company; and in 1922, to $2,000,000 by a 100% stock dividend. In 1921, the company began writing accident and health insurance. In this department it developed a concentration upon commercial lines. Examination of the company was conducted as of June 30, 1921, by the Insurance Departments of Missouri, Indiana and Arizona.

Administration and Repute—This company had on its books, December 31, 1923, $475,735,998, of insurance in force, and possessed an unquestionable strength in assets, reserves and surplus. It has followed a definite schedule of expansion. Its field of operations is large and its adoption of the multiple line idea has proved very successful. The company's initial dividend was paid in 1902. The company's executive management is capable and thoroughly experienced. The company has found its accident line to be a force beneficial to its life business and accordingly has painstakingly developed the accident department as an important part of its multiple line expansion program. Both participating and non-participating insurances are written. Stockholders control the company and directors determine the amounts payable to stockholders out of earnings. Investments are very well secured and are remunerative. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Operating and business acquisition costs are fairly moderate. Mortality rate is satisfactory and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Policy forms include disability and double indemnity features.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance, group life insurance and accident and health. Industrial risks written on 3, 6 or 12 months term basis only. It writes regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: on participating basis, 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; 5, 10, 15 and 20-year renewable and convertible term; single premium life; 10-payment endowments; single premium endowments; monthly income on ordinary and 20-payment plans; joint life on ordinary, 20-payment and 20-year endowment plans; child's exchangable endowments; children's pure endowments. On non-participating basis: 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; endowments maturing at ages 60, 65, 70 and 75; increased benefits on ordinary, 20-payment life and 20-year endowment plans; children's pure endowments; term policies; monthly income policies; single premium policies; 20-payment life, guaranteed additions; joint life policies; policies with waiver of premium disability benefit and educational endowment.

Group Insurance—This company writes group insurance on the following plans: minimum number in group: 50. Insurance on an employee terminates with his employment, whereupon individual policy may be issued on any regular form at attained age within thirty-one days on application. Policies renewable annually at attained ages and at the end of each five-year period the company may establish rates in accordance with their group mortality experience. Installation and supervision of records furnished the insured.

Policy Provisions—Grace period, thirty-one days; incontestable after one year, employer

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized May 4, 1921, in Minnesota, with J. A. A. Burnquist, former governor of the State, as executive head. It began business October 19, 1921, with an authorized capital of $200,000. Paid-in capital, $100,000; surplus, $25,000. There was no promotional nor organization expense. Stock, par value, $10 a share, originally sold at $12.50. No additional stock has since been sold. It is planned to offer the additional $100,000 of capital stock at such price as may later be agreed upon under option agreement made with the charter membership contract holders.

Administration and Repute—This company is being guided in its operations by able business men of high standing, eminently qualified for service on the executive staff and directorate of this progressively disposed institution whose charter provisions provide that one-third of the directorate shall be chosen from policyholders that are not stockholders. Charter further provides for specialization in the issuance of a one class 20-payment life policy ranging from $2,500 to $5,000 and subsequent to January 1, 1921, confining it to $5,000 only. The issuance of this policy will continue until $10,000,000 of business is in force. On December 31, last its insurance in force amounted to $8,325,500, a record of progress. The company at this time, however, is preparing its commercia policies and will shortly commence issuing them. It is a participating policy and is designed to be of particular attractiveness both to agents and prospects. The company made a very substantial gain, both in premium volume and insurance in force during both years of its operations. Each insured is given a stock pur-

MONTANA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Fuller Avenue and Lawrence Street, Helena, Montana

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized June 20, 1910, in Montana, and began business September 10, of that year, with an authorized capital of $250,000, which within two years was entirely paid-in along with a slightly more than equal amount of surplus. It was the first old line company to have its home office in Montana. Authorized capital stock was increased to $500,000, on March, 1923, and the company having more than ample surplus to provide for all possible or required contingencies, accordingly paid up the full amount out of excess surplus funds. Stock, par value, is $10 a share. The company is a member of the American Life Convention, the Medical Inspection Bureau, the Life Agency Officers Association and the American Institute of Actuaries.

Administration and Repute—The company's progress has been made under the able direction of the present management, active operations being supervised by H. R. Cunningham, vice-president and general manager, ex-commissioner of insurance for Montana. C. E. Herfurth, secretary and actuary is also broadly experienced in the business. This company made early deposits of even more than the legal requirements as reserves with the State Department. It is financially strong in assets and reserves, and has ample and regularly increased surplus. Liberal dividends have been paid to stockholders, although the company keenly felt the general business depression in lapsation. Company paid its stockholders 8% on its capital of $250,000 in 1914; then 10% regular annual dividends from that time until the present, except in the year 1919 when the dividend was passed. An additional dividend of 5% was paid in 1922 ,or 15% total for the year. The annual dividend of 10% was paid in February 1923, out of the earnings of 1922. On July 23, 1923, an extra dividend of 4% upon the new capital of $500,000 was paid to stockholders. Total dividends to stockholders, cash, $227,500; stock, $250,000. Investments are well secured, mostly satisfactorily remunerative mortgage loans. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Operating expenses are farily moderate. The company has an excellent reputation for promptly paying death claims and is generally in high standard. Policy contracts are on the non-participating basis only, are standard in form and include the features of double indemnity and disability. The general agency system is in vogue.

Classes of Insurance Written—Along with its regular forms of life and endowment it writes: 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; guaranteed premium reduction on ordinary, 20-payment life and

MORRIS PLAN INSURANCE SOCIETY

19 West Forty-Fourth Street, New York City, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was chartered June 17, 1917 as a legal reserve life insurance company by the New York department and was authorized to begin business September 18 of the same year, issuing its first policy two months later on November 10, 1917. Its original paid-in capital was $100,000 which was sold to create a surplus of $100,000. It was organized by the Industrial Finance Corporation which organizes all of the Morris Plan banks and subisidiary companies with very little organization or promotion expenses.

Administration and Repute—This company is strictly a proprietary one and there is no limit to the profits which may be given stockholders. A dividend of 20% was paid February 1, 1923. The original purpose of this company is to insure the payment of notes due to the Morris Plan Banks, by insuring the makers of such notes to an amount equal to the amount of their loans. All policies are non-participating. The compay is backed by very high class interests of substantial standing. All of its policies are written on the term plan. The company has a moderate operating and acquisition cost. It has naturally a low rate of mortality as all policies are term policies, the majority of them being of one year's duration. There is an excellent record of promptly paying all claims. Progress has been made yearly. Policies written formerly classified as industrial are now classified as ordinary term insurance. An initial dividend of $20,000 was paid stockholders in 1923. All business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes non-participating life insurance on the ordinary and industrial plan, specializing in the term policies. Colored risks are accepted. Women are written on the same basis as men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, ordinary, $9,122,350; industrial, $7,350.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% full level premium, yearly renewable and one year term policies. American 3½% select and ultimate on five year term policies.

Officers—Arthur J. Morris, president; John Markle, Henry R. Towne and Henry H. Kohn, vice-presidents; Joseph B. Gilder, secretary; R. W. Watson, treasurer.

MOUNTAIN STATES LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Denham Building, Denver, Colorado

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated October 27, 1920, with an authorized capital stock of $250,000, $100,000 paid-in and $50,000 surplus. The company began business November 1, 1920. At that time all stock was subscribed. On December 31, 1922, paid in capital was $101,105. During 1923, capital was increased $57,725 to $158,830 on December 31, 1923 and $32,774 was paid into surplus as premium on payments received on stock subscriptions for stock sold at time of organization. Stock par value is $1 and was sold at from $1.50 to $2.00 a share. There was no promotion expense in selling the stock. All stock was paid for and subscribed through an agreement with the stockholders, placed in trust with the Home Savings and Trust Company of Denver, to be resold in blocks of 50 shares at $2 per share, the proceeds going to the company. Original subscribers thus had their money returned to them as stock was paid and secured 6% interest on notes taken for stock subscriptions. It is the purpose of the organizers, to have the capital stock owned, by a large number of small stockholders. March 21, 1923, the company reinsured the Phoenix National of Phoenix, Arizona. This business including $1,000,000 of insurance outstanding and $72,000 free capital and surplus, was taken without expense, in exchange for the capital stock of the Mountain States at $1.50 a share. This stock was placed in trust, to be resold by Phoenix National stockholders. The company has nothing to do with selling this stock, which was placed in trust in order to eliminate any stock promotion schemes beyond the fact that there is an agreement, that no individual shall receive more than 500 shares. The Phoenix National issued, what was termed a Stock Ownership Policy, which amounted to approximately $500,000. These policyholders were to be cared for by the original stockholders, of the Phoenix. The Mountain States in taking over the business, did not assume the stock liability under these policies. Effective November 10, 1923, the company reinsured the business of the Fidelity Reserve of North Platte, Nebraska, assuming about $2,000,000 of insurance, this merger being made without commissions or other expense to either company. The officers and directors receive no salaries, their compensation coming from commissions on insurance written.

A convention examination was conducted by the Insurance Departments of Colorado, Arizona, Wyoming, New Mexico and Nebraska as of June 30, 1923. The following is from their report dated September 19, 1923:

"Our examination discloses that the company is not selling any stock, nor offering to sell any stock, either as an inducement to insurance or otherwise. The amount actually issued, outstanding and paid for, is $155,845 par value, all sold at a premium above par. There have been paid no commissions, salaries or other expenses for the sale of stock at any time and no 'promotion' stock issued. We find that there has been no promotion or organization costs whatsoever, except the fees required for filing Articles of Incorporation and such other fees as are required in that connection. The company has made the deposit of securities as provided by law with the Insurance Department of the State of Colorado for the capital stock."

Administration and Repute—This company is strictly proprietary in character. The organizers and officers of the company are reputable business men in good standing and include the president, Claude W. Fairchild, former Colorado Insurance Commissioner, Leslie Hubbard, former Attorney General, W. A. Otis, president of Otis & Company, New York brokers, with offices in Cleveland and Denver, and William L. Vernon, for 17 years in the life insurance business. The company during organization, was unfortunately litigants in several suits brought by several interests, which gave the company unfavorable notoriety. The company was successful in these law suits. It has had good growth. On December 31, it had assets of $566,036 and insurance in force of $8,009,580, reflecting a satisfactory growth for a company of its age. It operates upon sound actuarial basis and with a low mortality cost. For a new company, its management, expenses and acquisition cost have been low. Few death claims have been made, but have been promptly paid.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes the usual forms of ordinary policies including annuities; monthly income policies; term policies, with or without disability and double indemnity. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are accepted.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating annual dividend, $5,215,000; deferred dividend, $1,842,500 (acquired by reinsurance); non-participating, $952,080.

Reserve Basis — American 3½%, mean monthly full preliminary term.

Officers—Claude W. Fairchild, president; William A. Otis, James A. Forbes, vice-presidents; W. L. Vernon, secretary-treasurer; Robert G. Miller assistant secretary and actuary.

Directors—C. W. Fairchild, W. L. Vernon, James B. Forbes, F. M. McMahan, Shirley Christy, Charles P. Gaylord and Wm. A. Otis.

MUTUAL BENEFIT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

750 Broad Street, Newark, New Jersey

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was chartered January 31, 1845 and began business in April, charter being limited to 20 years; this charter was later amended so as to make it perpetual. The company was organized without promotion expense and is purely mutual. The company has never changed its name and it has not had any amalgamations, mergers, or reinsurances with any other company. John R. Hardin, a director since 1905 became president in January 1924, upon the death of Frederick Frelinghuysen, president since 1902, who had maintained the high ideals upon which the company was founded and operated during its early history. This company is a member of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, the Life Agency Officers Association, the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau and the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company is one of the most ably managed and largest of the life insurance companies in the country. It has the enviable reputation of considering its policyholders' interest as of first and predominating importance throughout its entire career. It has never issued special contracts, deferred dividend policies, or policies containing frills of any kind. At the time of the life insurance investigation in 1906, its practices and treatment of policyholders were highly commended by the investigators. Substantial dividends have been yearly paid policyholders, the same rate being maintained from 1915 through the trying periods of the epidemic and war years. The rate was increased in 1924 and the company has announced that it contemplates a further increase in 1925. Special cash dividends were declared in 1910, 1913, 1914, 1916, 1923 and 1924. Dividend scale results in a low net premium cost to policyholders. The company has a judiciously selected list of investments predominated by mortgage loans which earn a good rate of interest. Its business methods are exemplary and treatment accorded policyholders and employees of the best. Its actuarial methods are sound. Its assets, reserves and extra reserves, the latter of which are carried in place of surplus, are ample to permit the high schedule of dividends which the company has consistently paid policyholders. It has a low mortality record and death claims are promptly paid. All business is written through general agents. The company was examined in 1923 by the New Jersey Insurance Department. The report states: "The results obtained indicate a very efficient and careful management of the company's affairs as well as a liberal attitude towards its policyholders.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company transacts life insurance, exclusing disability and double indemnity features. Forms written include: ordinary life; 5, 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35, 40, 45 and 50-year endowments; 5 premium endowments maturing in 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35, 40, 45 and 50 years; 10 premium endowments maturing in 15, 20, 25, 30, 35, 40, 45 and 50-years; 15 premium endowments maturing in 20, 25, 30, 35, 40, 45 and 50 years; 20 premium endowments maturing in 25, 30, 35, 40, 45 and 50-years; also 5 year non-renewable convertible term policies. Colored risks are not solicited.

Reserve Basis—American 3% full level premium since December 31, 1899, and on all non-participating policies and non-forfeiture allowances; American 3½% full level premium, prior thereto; annuities, McClintock's 3%.

MUTUAL LIFE OF ILLINOIS

5th Street and Capitol Avenue, Springfield, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized June 18, 1919, in Illinois on the legal reserve basis, for the purpose of taking over the business of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of Illinois, which had been operated by the same management on an assessment basis. Business began January 10, 1920. Authorized capital stock of $200,000 became fully paid up in 1922 and a surplus of about an equal amount is figured to have been realized from the total stock sale. In June, 1922, H. B. Hill, president, announced that the company had entered the field of health and accident insurance and deposited $200,000, with the Illinois Insurance Department in accordance with the requirements. The company started its accident department with the business of the Commercial Health and Accident Company, of Springfield, which it reinsured. That company had had a premium income of about $300,000 and total admitted assets of $26,682 and had operated as a mutual accident and sick benefit association. The Mutual bought the business of the Marquette Life of Springfield, Illinois, as of June 30, 1923. Marquette stockholders received for their stock, $12.50 per share of par value, $10. The Mutual Life was strengthened by the deal, which gave it the Marquette Life's $7,575,159 of insurance in force (December 31, 1922), upon which the reserve was $1,012,937. Through consummation of the transaction, the Mutual Life of Illinois, had $20,000,000 of insurance in force. The Illinois Insurance Department endorsed the consolidation of the two companies with favorable comment regarding them. The company has occupied its own handsome office building since early in 1922. Stock, par value, is $20.00 per share.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention and the Health and Accident Underwriters Conference.

Administration and Repute—This company is thoroughly sound and strong in its assets and reserves. Its management is experienced and progressive of disposition. It formerly operated only in Illinois, the bulk of business coming from among the farming class, which it circularized in a successful educational campaign. Its ordinary business has now expanded into Iowa also. Premium income has shown a steady growth since organization. Investments are in the soundest of securities. Policies issued and service to agents and policyholders are of the highest type securing confidence and co-operation. Surplus is ample. H. B. Hill, president, merits credit for the successful and enterprising methods employed and the high class men he has drawn around him as associates. Operating costs have been slightly above averge but business acquisition expenses quite reasonable. Mortality rate is satisfactory and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Policy contracts include the features of disability and double indemnity. In addition to its life department it conducts an accident and helath business from which it has a good premium income amounting in 1923 to $313,194. Agency business is conducted upon the general agency plan. The company is strictly proprietary and all profits accrue to stockholders.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and accident and health. It writes the regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; endowment at age 65; single premium annuities, joint life monthly income; childs' policy; and on the non-participating basis, 10 and 20-year term policies. Maximum amount written, no limit; retained, $5,000. Women are insured, under the usual restrictions, on all but term plans at the same rates as men. Colored risks are not written.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term (Illinois standard).

Officers—H. B. Hill, president; J. Fairlie, first vice-president and actuary; N. H. Walt, second vice-president and agency director, Life Department; F. M. Feffer, vice-president and agency director, Accident and Health Department; J. R. Neal, M. D., secretary and treasurer and medical director; J. M. Loring, general counsel.

Directors—H. B. Hill, J. Fairlie, J. R. Neal, J. M. Loring, F. M. Feffer.

Operates in Illinois, Iowa, Indiana and Missouri.

MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

15 South Street, Baltimore, Maryland

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized and began business 1870, in Maryland, operating on the mutual legal reserve basis, and transacting industrial business only. Prominent Baltimorians of a half century ago were the organizers, and up to the present, the company has experienced a succession of executives of the highest type. Throughout its career up to 1922, this company wrote only industrial life insurance, in that year it began writing ordinary insurance.

Administration and Repute—By adherence to a policy of conservative and sound development, this pioneer industrial company has grown steadily since organization and kept pace with the more rapid progress of business generally in the last 20 years. Concentration of the service effort, in all transactions has given the company an estimable reputation among its policyholders. The present management headed by Paul M. Burnett, president is imbued with the company's well founded principles and being also of progressive disposition, in 1922, expanded the company's writing activities to include business of substantial initial volume in Kentucky and Kansas. It already had developed fair sized volumes in Ohio and Missouri, in addition to the business in its home State. The company is strong in assets and reserves and has a large operating surplus, show ing excellent increases of recent years. MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

32 Nassau Street, New York, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was chartered in New York April 12, 1842, and issued its first policy February 1, 1843. Alfred Pell, a marine underwriter and Morris Robinson, the company's first president, were its primary organizers. The company is the oldest company in the United States from the standpoint that it was the first to regularly issue scientific level premium legal reserve life insurance policies. There was no promotion expense. At the end of the first fiscal year, the company had insurance outstanding of $1,480,718. The company at first issued only ordinary life and term insurance, and the first valuation table used was the Carlisle table at 4%. Its first dividend payments were made every five years; one three-year dividend was paid in 1866, since which time annual dividend payments have been made as stated below. Beginning in 1870, the company wrote a few Tontine policies; and from 1884 to 1907 the deferred distribution plan was written, dividends being apportioned every 5, 10, 15 or 20 years. Since January 1, 1907, annual dividends only have been issued. No reinsurance of entire companies was ever effected. The company, prior to 1907, issued both non-participating and participating insurance. Since 1907, however, participating business has alone been issued.

The company is a member of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents and the Life Agency Officers Association.

Administration and Repute—The company has been skillfully managed throughout its years. It is a purely mutual one, and all profits at all times have been for policyholders. Its progressiveness has been an outstanding feature of its career. Its growth in insurance in force has been paralleled by its asset and reserve accumulations. While the company does not report a surplus, it maintains a fund for depreciation of securities and general contingencies which is ample. The assets are varied and earn good interest rates. Actuarial methods are of the soundest. The Mutual Life through its actuary, Sheppard Homans, compiled the American Experience Table of Mortality in 1861. Mr. Homans also originated the contribution method of apportioning surplus. The mortality rate has been low, when considered with the age of the company. The policyholders have been fairly treated and claims promptly paid. The company has paid large annual dividends to policyholders. Operating expenses are well within the demands of economy. Agency force is established on the managerial plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary, 5, 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-payment life; single premium life, 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35 and 40-year endowment; endowments at ages 60, 65, 70 and 85; term policies convertible and nonrenewable at 5, 10, 15 and 20; a 1-year renewable and convertible term; annuities; joint life; single premium endowments; life income; continuous instalments; disability and double indemnity features are granted and women are written with the same.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $93,461,419; annual dividend, $2,593,716,659; deferred dividend, $130,583,117.

NATIONAL AMERICAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF IOWA

420 Washington Street, Burlington, Iowa

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was first organized, March 5, 1887, in Iowa, to operate on the assessment plan, with the name German-American Mutual Life Association. In 1901, it was reincorporated, as a stipulated premium company, and the name was changed to German-American Equation Premium Life Association and operated, as such, until further reorganization in 1912, made of it mutual legal reserve company with the title German-American Mutual Life Insurance Company of Iowa. Its present title was adopted late in 1917. The company was placed on a stock basis in 1920. Authorized capital was designated as $250,000. Stock, par value, $100 a share, was sold at double par, and by December 31, 1920, $100,900 had been paid-in both to capital and surplus. Paid-in capital has since increased to $123,900, on December 31, 1922. In 1923 capital was increased $22,950 to $146,850 stock being sold at double par and $22,950 being realized as premium on new stock sold.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed by capable executives of considerable experience. In the last decade since its reorganization in 1912. It has made determined strides forward and met with fair success, principally denoted by a growing volume of business, with steadily increased strength of assets and reserves, and the payment of dividends at intervals. The company is proprietary in character, and writes both non-participating and participating business. It has a rather small operating surplus. Despite the increase of $45,900 paid into surplus and capital in 1923 the combined figure December 31, 1923 was but $10,668 more than at the close of 1922. This was undoubtedly due to the large increase in reserves required of a growing company. It uses standard actuarial methods; has remunerative investments, a favorable mortality rate and is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Operating costs and business acquisition expenses are above average. The features of disability and double indemnity are included in policy contracts. The company is conducted upon the mixed plan; business being about equally divided between participating and non-participating. The company was examined in 1923 by the Iowa Insurance Department. General agents are used in the operation of the agency organization.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; endowment at age 65; 20-payment coupon reduction; 5, 10, 15 and 20-year non-renewable convertible term; joint life on ordinary, 20-payment and 20-year endowment forms; ordinary life with monthly income for disability; life expectancy convertible term; continuous monthly income on ordinary and 20-payment forms; single premium policies; children's policies. Maximum amount written, $50,000; retained, $5,000. Women are insured at same rates applying to men with disability and double indemnity granted. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, $4,459,472; non-participating, $4,359,432.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, (Illinois standard).

THE NATIONAL EQUITY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
Little Rock, Arkansas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized in July, 1923, with articles of incorporation under the laws of the State of Arkansas. Operating as a legal reserve mutual company, the National Equity initially confined its writings to one policy form, a 20-pay life, with a graded policy value. The company filed with the State an indemnity bond in the amount of $20,000. In August 1923, the Arkansas Insurance Department, after examination, returned a favorable report and endorsed its proposed activities. The chief organizer of the company, who became its president, was C. E. Lowry, an experienced insurance man who, for fourteen years, was agent and assistant superintendent of agents for the North American Life of Omaha. V. C. Pettie, vice-president of the National Equity, a banker and financier, is well known in Little Rock, and one of the prominent public men in Arkansas. D. R. McClurg, secretary, treasurer and actuary, was for three years an examiner for the Nebraska Insurance Department, and subsequent to that, a consulting actuary. Dr. W. R. Richardson, medical director, is a prominent practising physician of Little Rock, and a member of the faculty of the University of Arkansas. E. A. Conaway, general agent, has been a practising attorney in Omaha, Nebraska, for about fourteen years and legal adviser to several insurance companies.

Administration and Repute—The report on National Equity Life by the Arkansas Insurance Department stated that initial expenses of operation were taken care of by the incorporators and that no salaries were to be drawn for the first year, all business being placed on the books at approximately 93% of the first premium. The department commented favorably on the company following examination. In its initial activities of building up its agency force, the National Equity Life shows an aggressive attitude in campaigning for business. The company's present single policy of 20-pay life is based on the American Experience Table of Mortality at 3½% interest, full preliminary term. This policy is written in multiples of $2,500. The first policy year the value of the $5,000 policy is $1,000 and for the second policy year the value of the policy is $3,000, the $5,000 valuation being in effect at the beginning of the third year. The net premiums and reserves are calculated on a basis of increasing insurance during the first two years and not as a level face policy. The net premium is less than a level pay net premium and the reserve values are higher from the second to the nineteenth year inclusive. At age 35, the net premiums for the five-year amount to $8.64 and for the second to twentieth years to $143.12. The loading of $183.06 for the first year and $48.58 for the second to twentieth years makes a gross premium of $191.70 as the annual premium at age 35. The company's policy includes double indemnity and total and permanent disability clauses. Premiums, 1923, $14,298, total income, $16,040; total disbursements, $13,052, policies written, 87, amount, $74,500.

NATIONAL FIDELITY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
Federal Reserve Bank Building, Kansas City, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated under the laws of Iowa, September 21, 1914, and began business with head offices in Sioux City, Iowa, January 18, 1916, with an authorized capital of $200,000, all of which was paid-in before business began. The initial paid-in surplus was $120,000. The company was promoted by Ralph H. Rice, formerly connected with the Oklahoma National and the International Life of St. Louis. The par value of the stock was $10 a share and was sold at double par or $20 per share. The cost of organization and promotion was at the rate of $4 per share or $80,000. Mr. Rice has been president since organization. In 1919 capital stock was reduced to $100,000, by transferring $100,000 from capital to surplus. In April 1923, the company was reincorporated under the Missouri laws and moved its home office from Sioux City, Iowa to Kansas City, Missouri. Par value of stock was made $5 per share. There was at the time no change in management. The company is a member of the American Life Convention, the Association of Life Agency officers and the Life Insurance Research Bureau.

Administration and Repute—This company is strictly a proprietary one, and all profits are accruable to stockholders. It has been carefully and capably managed since organization, with moderate expenses and at reasonably low acquisition cost. The epidemic in 1918 and 1919 caused considerable mortality losses, necessitating a transfer of funds from capital to surplus. In other years however, this mortality cost has been normal. Assets are well invested, majority being in mortgage loans which have been remunerative. It has a good reputation for promptly paying its death claims and the management being in good persona standing, the company is in high repute throughout the territory in which it operates The examination of the company was made as of April 18, 1923, by the Insurance Departments of Missouri, Iowa and South Dakota. Their report was favorable to the company

NATIONAL GUARDIAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

1 West Main Street, Madison, Wisconsin

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized September 28, 1909 by S. M. Brandt, at that time secretary of the Wisconsin Life, for the avowed purpose of absorbing the Wisconsin Life, but without having taken up the matter with the Insurance Department. The preliminary organization was undertaken under the name of the Wisconsin State Life Insurance Company. Before organization, Mr. Brandt retired. The company was capitalized at $200,000, and following incorporation September 28, 1909, commenced business October 11, 1910, with $108,660, capital paid-in, which had been sold at a premium of 100%. The organization expenses, including equipment of home office totalled $33,000. While organizing, the company changed its name from Wisconsin State to Guardian Life and in 1920 it changed its name to the National Guardian. In 1916 the authorized capital of the company was reduced to $100,000, by purchase of $8,660, of outstanding stock and par value of shares were increased from $10 to $50. The present charter of the company forbids the increase in capital by stock dividends or otherwise. There has been no change of management since the company issued its first policy, nor have there been reinsurances or mergers. Dividends paid stockholders since organization, $12,000. The company is a member of the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau, American Life Convention and American Institute of Actuaries.

Administration and Repute—This company is a strictly proprietary one and all profits belong to stockholders. It has been capably and economically managed throughout its existence and has shown a good growth in outstanding insurance consistently. It has ample assets, reserves and surplus and maintains a sizable additional contingent fund. It has paid two dividends to stockholders. Its management expenses are low, and acquisition cost moderate. Its mortality record is low and it operates upon a sound actuarial basis. The company is in good repute, with men of standing directing its affairs. It has a good record for the prompt paying of death claims. The company was examined in 1923 by the Wisconsin Insurance Department.

NATIONAL HOME LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Dallas, Texas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company is understood to be in process of organization with G. W. and I. Jalonick, of Dallas, Texas, as prime promoters. The proposed capital is $150,000 with an equal amount of surplus. The company will write life insurance on the legal reserve basis. The Jalonick interests have long been identified with the fire insurance business in Texas and have operated and owned a number of fire insurance companies whose home office has been in Dallas. The principal one being the Republic Fire Insurance Company. Backed by these reputable interests, the company will undoubtedly be successful. We are informed, however, by the Texas Insurance Department that no papers of incorporation have as yet been filed.

NATIONAL LIFE AND ACCIDENT COMPANY

Nashville, Tennessee

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was first organized in January 1898, in Tennessee, as the National Sick and Accident Association, and was operated on the fraternal benefit plan. In 1900, it was made a stock company with $15,000 paid-in out of $20,000 authorized capital stock. With this guarantee capital its operation was continued on the assessment basis until January 1905, when the present owners who had acquired control in 1902 reorganized the company on the legal reserve basis, adopted its present title and increased capital to $100,000 by contribution of $50,000 and stock dividend of $34,500. Capital was further increased: 1907 to $150,000, by stock dividend; 1912 to $200,000, by stock dividend; 1916 to $300,000 by stock dividend; 1921, by another stock dividend to $600,000 where it now stands. Stock, par value, $100 a share; book value January 1, 1923, $353.93. In 1913, the company absorbed the $1,378,946 industrial business of the Arkansas Life Insurance Co., Little Rock, Arkansas. It originally wrote only industrial, accident and health but in 1920 began writing life insurance. The company is a member of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, American Life Convention, Southern Industrial Conference and the Health and Accident Underwriters Conference.

Administration and Repute—Under capable and experienced management, this company has operated very successfully and has grown accordingly. It has built up a large business volume, energetically developing substantial premium income mostly from its accident and health business but increasingly from life operations also. Its president, C. A. Craig, is largely responsible for the successful growth of this company, he being a man of progressive ideals long experienced in the insurance business. The company is the leading company in the south writing industrial accident and health insurance. Stockholders control the company and it writes non-participating insurance only. Its operations have been very profitable as noted by payment of liberal dividends, total of which amount to $1,189,150 in cash to stockholders and $534,500 to stock. It has built a substantial surplus, has well secured and remunerative investments, moderate operating expenses and losses which are in no way excessive for a large industrial business. The company has an estimable loss paying reputation. Its directors, one in addition to the company executives and all locally prominent, in 1921, held, $443,143, par value, of the $600,000 capital stock. The Tennessee, Missouri and Texas Departments examined the company in 1924. All business is written through industrial managers.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and health and accident. Ordinary, industrial and commercial plans. All usual forms of policies.

NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Montpelier, Vermont

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated by an act of the General Assembly of the State of Vermont, November 13, 1848. Among its incorporators are noted Henry Clay, of Kentucky; Amos Abbot, of Massachusetts; William M. Treadway, of Virginia; William C. Kittredge and Robert Pierpoint, of Vermont; Benjamin Balch, of Massachusetts, and Julius Y. Dewey, were the moving spirits in the organization. An original safety fund stock, or reserve guarantee capital of at least $100,000, and not to exceed $1,000,000 was to be subscribed prior to organization. An amendment to the charter, October 26, 1849, called for the securing of 200 members with an aggregate insurance of $200,000, or the payment of $25,000 of guarantee capital. This company began business February 1, 1850. In October 1858, an amendment of the charter changed the name of the company by omitting the words "of the U. S." from its name. Inasmuch as 200 members required by the charter as the alternative of capital stock was gained before organization the company began business without the safety fund. On July 17, 1850, subscriptions were opened for a guarantee capital of $100,000; this was subscribed by September 14, 1850. In January 6, 1851, provision was made for a creation of a safety fund. To comply with the laws of Massachusetts and New York, requiring foreign life insurance companies to have a $100,000 capital stock paid-in, the company on July 6, 1852, required the payment of the subscribed capital. In 1856, steps were taken to retire this capital, and in 1867, final retirement of this capital was made. In 1868, an authorization for recapitalization of $250,000 was made, but this was never utilized, though $66,000 was paid-in. Participating insurance is now the only class written; non-participating insurance was written to January 1, 1913.

Administration and Repute—This company was organized by far-seeing and astute New Englanders, who built the company upon solid foundations predicated upon honest and equitable dea ing with their policyholders. The company through judicious management and sound business principles with liberal and up-to-date contracts has become one of the leading life insurance companies in the country. It operates upon a sound financial basis with ample assets and reserves and large funds both apportioned and unapportioned. Its investments are securely made, and with mortgage loans and Government bonds predominating, yield a high rate of interest. Its financial statements have always been made on the market value basis. With sound actuarial methods, their mortality rates have been low. The operating and expense rates have been uniformly below average. As the company, since July 6, 1879, has been a purely mutual company, all profits belong to policyholders. Death claims are promptly paid and liberal dividend payments to policyholders render the cost of insurance low.

Reserve Basis—American 3% full level premium since January 1, 1901, prior thereto, actuaries, 4% annuities McClintock's 3½% and American 3%.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $374,464,716; deferred dividend, $5,329,027; non-participating, $9,287,296.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary life, 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-payment life; endowments at 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 25 and 40-years; endowments at age 55, 60, 65 and 70; 5-year non-renewable convertible term; 5 and 10-year renewable and convertible term, single premium life, and endowment policies, monthly income prolicies, annuities and annuities with reversions. Disability features are written. Women are insured the same as men.

Officers—F. A. Howland, president; H. M. Cutler, vice-president; O. D. Clark, secretary; A. B. Bisbee, M. D., second vice-president and medical director; C. E. Moulton, actuary; W. W. Russell, treasurer; E. D. Field, second vice-president and supervising underwriting; E. A. Colton, M. D., assistant medical director; G. B. Young, general counsel; Geo. K. Putnam and Herbert R. Pierce, assistant secretaries; Henry Holt and Henry H. Jackson, assistant actuaries; Loriman B. Prigham, superintendent of agencies; Paul Dillingham, assistant treasurer; Frank M. Kendall, cashier, Frank A. Dwinell, supervisor Farm Loans; William B. Stratton, superintendent of Policy Loans; Maurice W. Dewey, inspector; Stanley Jayne, superintendent of Mortgage Loans; Robert P. Withington, agency supervisor; Alson B. Shepard, agency supervisor; Peter O. Osterhus, agency supervisor.

Directors—H. M. Cutler, W. W. Stickney, G. H. Olmsted, C. P. Smith, F. A. Howland, C. W. Gammons, O. D. Clark, F. C. Partridge, H. R. Platt, A. B. Bisbee, J. G. Estey, John M. Thomas, E. S. Brigham.

NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

29 South La Salle Street, Chicago, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized under an act of Congress, by which charter was granted, and it was incorporated July 25, 1868, in the District of Columbia, with headquarters in Washington. A number of prominent eastern bankers were interested in its organization. It began business August 1, 1868, with a paid-in capital of $1,000,000. In 1874, the company's headquarters which had previously been moved to Philadelphia, were removed to the home office, which the company has since maintained at 29 South La Salle Street, Chicago. In the period 1880 to 1899, the company withdrew from the lively competition then excessively in vogue, and pursued a conservative policy which, though not supported by a substantial amount of new business income, enabled it to maintain legal reserves on all its policies and properly defray all expenses and pay all claims promptly. After reinsuring the business of the Iowa Life Insurance Company in 1900, the National Life again actively entered the field of campaigning for business. In 1902, the company's present valuable office building was completed. Although retained for offices, it will soon be superseded by a splendid new home office skyscraper planned for erection at a choice location on Michigan Avenue. In 1902, also, Albert M. Johnson, president since 1905, joined the company as its treasurer and with his associates obtained control of stock. The company was reincorporated under the laws of Illinois, March 3, 1904. In 1911, an accident department was established. The company's capital was reduced in 1908, from $1,000,000 to $500,000. In 1923 it was again increased to $1,000,000 by a $500,000 stock dividend. Stock, par value, is $100 per share. Interests identified with this company in 1923 organized the United States National Life and Casualty Insurance Company in which the National Life reinsured its industrial and monthly accident and health business.

Administration and Repute—This company is unique in originally having had a Congressional charter. It is also notable as having been one of the first stock companies in this country. It showed an excellent growth in its early career and the wisdom and sound judgment of its early management was on a par with its present day executive force, as shown by its following of conservative standards for the score of years prior to 1900, when radically progressive methods were often fraught with risk. Its 20th century writing activities have been profitable and premium volume has shown satisfactory increases of sound nature. The company's financial strength is unquestionably founded in most substantial assets and reserves and a large surplus. The firm's agency force has been a powerful factor in its up-building. R. D. Lay, vice-president, has been behind the gratifying strides of agency development. C. H. Boyer has also figured in the upbuilding of the company's successful department devoted to personal accident and health insurance. Albert M. Johnson, president, is in general, responsible for the company's success. In 1898, a dividend of $100,000 was declared. The next was paid in 1908, and since then liberal dividends have been declared annually; stockholders have received an aggregate of cash of $1,165,000, stock, $500,000. The company's stockholders control it. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Its investments are high grade and remunerative. Operating and business acquisition costs are low. It writes non-participating insurance only. The mortality rate is moderate and death claims are paid promptly. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. They include the features of disability and double indemnity.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and industrial (personal) accident and health. The company issues a "Complete Protection Five Point Policy" in which accident and health coverage is included with life. It writes the regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: ordinary and 10, 15 and 20-payment life policies becoming endowment at age 85; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments, 10 and 20-renewable convertible term; 10, 15 and 20-year non-renewable convertible term; endowments at ages 60, 65 and 85; single premium on ordinary and 10, 15, 20 and 25-year endowments; special joint life on whole life, 20-payment and 20-year endowments; instalment coupon policies; commercial policies and continuous income forms. Maximum amount written, no limit; retained, $23,000. Women are insured with certain restrictions at same rates applying to men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $129,530,014; deferred dividend, $20,165,964; annual dividend, $4,340,092.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, full level premium, preliminary term and modified preliminary term on insurance issued subsequent to 1907, and balance of insurance issued from 1903 to 1907, inclusively; actuaries 4%, on insurance prior to 1903 and part of business from 1903 to 1907 inclusive.

Officers—A. M. Johnson, president; R. E. Sackett, vice-president; Robert D. Lay, vice-president and secretary; Walter A. Jaquith, vice-president and medical director; Walter E. Webb, vice-president; Levering Moore, treasurer; J. W. Guest, assistant medical director; E. R. Carter, actuary.

Directors—A. O. Burdick, Robert D. Lay, R. E. Sackett, A. M. Johnson, E. P. Cockrell, Wm. T. Bruckner.

NATIONAL RESERVE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
Topeka, Kansas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized November 9, 1920, in Kansas, and began business January 1, 1921. Authorized and paid-in capital is $225,000, and initially contributed surplus $22,500. The executive staff at the time of incorporation, was practically the same at present with Geo. G. Moore, president; Geo. Kreeck, and J. H. Mercer, vice-presidents; A. B. Jeffrey, medical director, and J. H. Lee, secretary-treasurer. Stock, par value, $10 a share was sold at $11, and promotional activities were conducted without expense by President Moore. The company was one of a group contemporaneously organized in Kansas in which stock sales and insurance sales were combined, the policyholders buying a certain amount of stock at the time of taking out insurance and the earnings of the company paying for the stock. All insurance has been issued at face value of the policy. The original stockholders agreed that at least one-half of the stock should be placed in the hands of J. H. Lee, as trustee and thus by him be made available to purchasers of charter membership policies under the combination stock and policy purchase plan. The Kansas Insurance Department last examined the company in 1921. $10,000 surplus was contributed by stockholders, December 19, 1923.

Administration and Repute—This company's initial year of business furnished a fairly substantial inceptive volume of business confined entirely to its home state. Following a definite schedule of expansion, the business of 1922 carried the company into Arkansas, Iowa, Missouri and four other states, and favorably increased both premium income and insurance in force. Continued progress was noted in 1923 and premium income approached the $500,000 mark while insurance in force was over thirteen million dollars a good record for a company of its age. The company is financially strong in assets and reserves and has an adequate operative surplus. Investments are well secured and fairly remunerative. Actuarial methods are sound. Management and business acquisition expenses were initially high but have since arrived at normalcy. Mortality rate has been low. The general agency method was adopted for its agency staff. In 1923 company acquired possession of a site in Topeka on which it proposed to erect a twelve story office building. Following a court action in which the company requested a writ of mandanus to permit it to erect an office building large enough for its future needs, the Kansas Supreme court held that the directors of the company had ample authority to erect the building. It held however that company could not give deed for the proposed building to the superintendent of insurance and set up this deed as part of its reserve in the state.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading forms of policies include, (participating): ordinary; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; (non-participating): ordinary; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 20-year endowment; 20-payment reduced premium; and 20-payment guaranteed term with option of guaranteed settlements at the end of 20 years. Maximum amount written, $50,000; retained, $6,000. Women are insured under certain restrictions at same rates as apply to men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, participating, $11,369,000; non-participating, $1,783,000.

Reserve Basis—American 3%, and American 3½%, modified preliminary term, (Illinois standard).

Officers—George Godfrey Moore, president; William Horley, George L. Kreeck, J. H. Mercer, vice-presidents; J. H. Lee, secretary and treasurer.

Directors—George Godfrey Moore, J. H. Lee, Robert Stone, A. Balfour Jeffrey, George L. Kreeck.

NATIONAL SAVINGS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Union National Bank Building, Wichita, Kansas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated under the guarantee deposit laws of Kansas, October 31, 1921, and began business April 1, 1922, as a legal reserve life insurance company. The company has an authorized capital of $300,000. It began business with a capital paid-in of $150,000, which was sold to create a surplus of $37,500. The par value of the stock was $10 per share and was sold at $12.50. In outlining the plan by which this stock was sold, it may be stated that the financial plans are in the hands of the Wichita Underwriters, Incorporated, which holds a general agency contract with the company. The underwriters purchased 10,000 shares of the original stock at $12.50 per share, which was deposited with the First Trust Company of Wichita, to be later sold to policyholders at $20 per share. Coincident with this purchase, 25 directors purchased 5,000 shares at $12.50 per share. When the Underwriters Company stock is placed with policyholders, 10,000 more shares will be purchased by them, and 5,000 by the directorate. This latter issue will be resold to policyholders at $25 per share. In financing the company, the Wichita Underwriters sold 250 $1,000 collateral gold notes, due in five years, bearing 7% interest. Each note is secured by 80 shares of the capital stock of the National Savings Life. This stock is sold to policyholders by issuing one share of stock to each $1,000 of insurance. Louis A. Boli, Jr., formerly vice-president of the Inter-Southern Life, is vice-president and agency manager as well as chief promoter.

Administration and Repute—This company was organized on the stock-with-policy plan which has recently become so popular in the middle west. It seems to be capably managed by progressive interests. The organizer has interested some of the most prominent men in Wichita, Kansas, including its president, who is mayor of the city of Wichita. It shows a fairly good growth, though its expenses for the year ending December 31, 1922, were a trifle high. Its assets are well invested and it has an adequate surplus. Moderate progress was made in 1923 and increases were made in premium income, assets and insurance in force. Expense rate was lowered. Surplus showed a decrease. Standard actuarial practices are in vogue. It writes both non-participating and participating insurance, including disability and double indemnity features. All business is written through general agents. It was examined in 1923 by the Kansas Insurance Department and reported that in its opinion the affairs of the company are ably and conservatively managed.

Classes of Insurance Written—It writes all classes of life insurance, including life and endowment policies. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating $321,768; participating, $1,586,963.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, Illinois standard.

Officers—W. C. Coleman, president; W. M. G. Howse, secretary; L. W. Clapp, treasurer; L. A. Boli, Jr., vice-president and agency director; R. E. Booth, L. A. Boli, Jr., and C. M. Jackman, vice-presidents; F. J. Haight, actuary.

Aggregate, cash, paid to surplus since organization, $000,000. At the beginning of business in 1917, Lem Allen, former Governor of the State, was president of the company, and P. L. Woolston, consulting actuary had also become connected with it. Stock, par value, is $000,000 a share.

Administration and Repute—This company does a very small volume of business. Premium income has shown a decrease since 1920 and there has been also a falling off of the amount of insurance in force, although a small gain was recorded in 1923. The company is strictly proprietary in character and the proportion of profits payable to stockholders is not limited. No dividends have as yet been paid to stockholders. The company owns the Nevada State Life Building Association. Only non-participating insurance is written. The company's surplus is ample. Investments have yielded a small return. The company has a satisfactory strength of assets and reserves.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies issued are ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 20-payment guaranteed premium reduction; accumulative coupon 20-year endowment; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments and single premium policies on whole life and 10, 15 and 20-year endowments. Maximum amount written, $50,000; retained, $5,000. Women are insured on all plans at the same rates as apply to men, limit, $5,000, ages 20-60 with disability, but not double indemnity granted.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $536,000.

NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Boston, Massachusetts

HISTORICAL DATA

This company is the oldest of the present existing New England life insurance institutions and by date of charter is the oldest of its kind in the United States. It was incorporated April 1, 1835, in Massachusetts, but the hard times of 1836 came on and as the prospect offered little encouragement for attempting an enterprise so new and uncertain as life insurance, eight years elapsed before the charter was availed of and business begun on December 1, 1843. The incorporators were Ebenezer T. Andrews, George Bond, Willard Phillips, Charles P. Curtis, and Samuel H. Walley, Jr., of whom Willard Phillips was chosen president. Jonathan Amory, was the first secretary. Business began with a guarantee fund of $50,000, paid-in cash as a part of the $100,000 fund authorized. Guarantee fund was entirely redeemed out of surplus in 1853. A notable feature of the company's early efforts was its educational activity to give the public an understanding of the value of insurance. The company's first policy was issued February 1, 1844. Operating on a purely mutual basis, progress was steady and uniform and by 1857, the company's assets had reached $1,000,000. In 1865, Benjamin F. Stevens, was elected president. Expansion of the business required the erection of a large home office building in 1858. Having been so thoroughly founded and early developed upon, conservative principals of the highest character, it is only natural that the company's later progress should have built up a record of exemplary success. Daniel F. Appel, senior vice-president, was elected president of the company, January 28, 1924, Alfred D. Foster, retiring president, becoming chairman of the board. The company is a member of Life Insurance Presidents Association.

Administration and Repute—Conservatism in its management has placed this company in line with the best of the old line life insurance institutions, and its present able management, headed by Daniel F. Appel, president, aims to keep it there, following the rule of quality and not quantity, although in its normal course, it has grown to be one of the largest companies with a steadily increasing premium volume and had on December 31, 1923, $719,421,634 of insurance in force. Economy of operation, judicious investment of funds and care in the selection of risks have been cardinal points of functioning, observed harmoniously by the thoroughgoing agency force and the home office operatives. Liberal dividends have been paid to policyholders, keeping their net cost of insurance at an attractively low rate. In 1922, the company more than made good the reduction in surplus due to excessive death losses from war and pandemic influenza. Surplus was very materially increased during 1923 as a result of increased business of uniformly high selective character. The excellent results of the past three years have justified the company's judgment and courage in maintaining its full dividend scale, as established in 1912, through the recent years of exceptional conditions. The company's eightieth year of active business has placed it in its strongest position and it deservedly stands high in public esteem. Policyholders control the company. Mortality rate has been unusually low and the company is in excellent repute for promptly paying death claims. It has a large operating surplus.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance, including features of double indemnity and disability. The leading policies are whole life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; 5 and 10-year convertible term; endowment at age 75; 10-payment, 20-year endowment; 20-payment, 30-year endowment; 20-payment, endowment at age 75, and also the following policy forms: 19-payment life; single premium on whole life; monthly income on whole life and on various limited payment and endowment forms; continuous monthly income on ordinary; 20-payment and 20-year endowment; joint life on ordinary; 20-payment and 20-year endowment; 25-payment endowment at age 75 and a wide range of other endowment forms. Joint life and endowment at ages 60 and 65. Maximum amount written and retained, $100,000. The company does not reinsure, neither does it accept reinsurance. Women are insured with certain age restrictions, disability and double indemnity granted, at same rates as apply to men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, annual dividend, $711,533,201; quinquennial dividend, $7,888,433.

Reserve Basis—American 3%, full level premium reserve on issues after December 15, 1907, in 1908 and after, and additions thereon; American 3½%, on issues from January 1, 1901, to December 15, 1907, except joint life; additions on all policies to January 1, 1908; actuaries 4%, on issues prior to 1901; American 3%, annuities.

NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

New York, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

A special Act of the New York Legislature passed May 21, 1841, authorized the organization of the Nautilus Insurance Company, with a stock capital of $200,000, for the purpose of writing fire and marine insurance. Addison Dougherty, J. B. Nones, D. A. Cushman, H. W. Childs, Caleb S. Woodhull and William V. Brady were among the organizers named to receive subscriptions and promote the company through the two years allowed for its organization. By charter amendment of April 18, 1843, the mutual plan of operation was introduced and with it authorization to write life insurance. The company was organized by the election of trustees on April 10, 1845. On April 12, James de Peyster Ogden, was elected president, A. M. Merchant, vice-president and Lewis Benton, secretary. Five days later Pliny Freeman was appointed actuary. On April 5, 1849, the company's present name was adopted, and by charter amendment its operations were restricted to life insurance. The company developed rapidly under capable executives, prominent among whom were A. M. Merchant, president, 1847-1848, Morris Franklin, president, 1848-1885, William H Beers, president, 1885-1892, John A. McCall, president, 1892-1905. Darwin P. Kingsley has been sponsor for the company's exemplary growth as president since 1907. Following its initial years, when life insurance was in the experimental stage in this country, this company continued to grow steadily through financial panics and the throes of the Civil War. The decade, 1880-1890, showed the company to have made particularly rapid growth. In 1893, it was re-incorporated with an amended charter under the insurance laws of New York. Early spread of the business was international as well as throughout the United States. By charter amendment, in 1912, the scope of the company was extended to include, besides all kinds of life insurance, the writing of policies against injury, disablement or death resulting from travel or general accident and disablement resulting from sickness. In post-war years, the company took an active part in the alleviation of the housing shortage when it was most acute, by the appropriation of large sums for mortgage loan funds. Its farm loans have also run into large figures.

Administration and Repute—The New York Life is the largest ordinary life insurance company in the world. It is purely mutual and control is vested in its policyholders. The management consists of highly capable and long experienced executives who conduct the company's affairs on the soundest possible basis of safety as well as energetically showing a most progressive disposition. It has a large surplus, and in the form of special funds carried on a market value basis which reduces the total considerably below that gained from figures allowed by law on the basis of averages or amortized values. In actuarial methods, the company is conservative and sound. Its phenomenal growth has been due in large measure also to carefully selected investments which are well secured and emunerative, economical management, low cost of new business, low mortality rate, estimable repute for prompt payment of death claims, and liberal policy contracts of broad coverage including disability and double indemnity benefits.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment and also the following: 25 and 30-payment life; premiums ceasing at ages of 60 and 65; endowments payable at ages 70, 75, 80 and 85; accelerative endowments for terms of 25, 30, 35, and 40-years; ordinary and endowment monthly income policies; joint life on ordinary and endowment; pure endowments for children, single premium life and endowments; convertible 5, 10, 15 and 20-year term; and various forms of annuity policies. Women are in general insured on the same basis as men. Polices are all on annual dividend plan. The New York Life was the first company to develop and issue the non-forfeitable policy contract. It has also advanced many other ideas beneficial to the business as a whole. Maximum amount retained, $300,000.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Deferred dividend, $227,756,006; annual dividend, $3,989,905,312; non-participating, $159,068,486.

Reserve Basis—American 3%, full level premium, double American, 3% on tropical insurances and on policies issued prior to 1907, on impaired lives; Sesqui American, 3%, on semi-tropical insurances and on policies issued prior to 1907 on partially impaired lives; McClintock's annuity 3%.

Officers—D. P. Kingsley, president; T. A. Buckner, R. W. Weeks, vice-presidents; J. C. NcCall, W. Buckner, second vice-presidents; Harold Palagano, treasurer; S. M. Ballard, F. M. Corse, W. H. Pierson, secretaries; J. M. Hudnut, junior secretary; E. A. Anderson, F. A. Jackson, comptrollers; A. Hunter, chief actuary; A. R. Grow, A. Davidson, W. Young, W. Macfarlane, actuaries; O. H. THE NORTH AMERICAN LIFE AND CASUALTY COMPANY

Minneapolis, Minnesota

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized April 17, 1896, in Minnesota, and beginning business May 8, following, operated on the assessment basis until September 1, 1915, when reorganization on the legal reserve basis made a stock company of it with an initial paid-in capital of $100,000. Capital was increased in 1916 to $125,000 where it now stands. Increase was effected by a stock dividend. Stock, par value, $10 a share was sold at double par. Surplus paid-in was $44,525, in 1915 and $25,000 in 1917.

Administration and Repute—This company's small volume of business has decreased slightly from 1920 to 1922, on account of policy lapses in the general business depression. A moderate increase in premium income assets and insurance written was noted in 1923. The Insurance Department of Minnesota, examined the company in 1920, with no unfavorable report. The company operates with a satisfactory surplus according to the dictates of sound actuarial direction. It derives a small income from its investments. Operating expenses have been above average. Business acquisition has been normal. Losses have been below average. Its loss paying reputation is estimable. Business is written through and managed from the home office. The company's principal business is health and accident insurance.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and accident and health. Policies written on nonparticipating plan only. Life policies include disability but not double indemnity. The company issues all usual forms and in addition a 30-year endowment contract. It insures women equally with men including disability. Colored risks are not prohibited.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $1,124,965.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% full preliminary term.

NORTH AMERICAN NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Omaha, Nebraska

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated April 11, 1906, as the German-American Life Insurance Company. It commenced to write the business of life insurance April 12, 1906; all policies are on the legal reserve basis. On June 8, 1917, articles of incorporation were legally amended and the name of the company was changed to the North American Life Insurance Company. The company was originally upon the mutual plan, but changed to the capital stock plan as of May 19, 1922, with an authorized and paid-in capital of $100,000, and a contributed surplus of $25,000, the par value of the shares being $1 each. In February, 1923 the management of the North American changed hands, stock control passing to F. J. Uehling, formerly president of the Commonwealth Life of Nebraska; Clark O'Hanlon, formerly vice-president of that company and W. Bruce Young, formerly insurance commissioner of Nebraska. Its name at the same time was changed to the above title.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company is a strictly proprietary one, being controlled by stockholders to whom all profits are accruable. It writes only non-participating insurance. It has had a small but consistent growth with an ample surplus. Its actuarial methods are sound, and adequate reserves are maintained. The cost of operation is normal, and acquisition expenses are moderate. Its assets are mostly invested in mortgage loans whch are fairly remunerative. All claims are promptly paid. The new management is in good repute, and under it progressive measures are being undertaken. New forms of policies have been placed on the market and the company is understood to be doing a splendid business. The record of 1923 indicates that the new management is one of capability and experience, as during the year increases were made in premium income, assets, reserves and surplus. Increased writings of new business enabled the company for the first time since 1920 to show an increase in insurance in force. All business is written through general agencies. The company was examined in 1922 by Iowa and Nebraska.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes non-participating insurance only and includes disability benefits. Among the policies written are whole life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; endowment at age 85; 10, 15 and 20-year endowment; a preferred risk $5,000 policy and the ordinary life and 20-payment life plan; 5 and 10-year convertible terms; single premium life and endowments; joint life; and continuous monthly income. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $140,310; deferred dividend, $4,996,222; non-participating, $9,230,778.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, Illinois standard. Some older business is retained on the actuaries 4% and the American 3% net level premium.

Officers—F. J. Uehling, president; Clarke O'Hanlon, vice-president and treasurer; H. W. Kingery, vice-president; Dr. Frank Simon, medical director; W. D. Young, actuary and secretary.

Directors—F J. Uehling, Clark O'Hanlon. Reed O'Hanlon, Dr. Frank Simon, W. B. Young and H. W. Kingery.

NORTH CAROLINA MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY
Durham, North Carolina

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized October 1898, in North Carolina, as an assessment association. Contributions were made to meet initial expenses, but actual business was not begun until April 1, 1899. At first the association did not thrive but 3 of the principal organizers bought out the interests of the others and with new energy and ideas turned the business toward progress. These principals were John Merrick, A. M. Moore and C. C. Spalding, the last being the chief promoter. Industrial straight life and sick benefit policies were the first issued, followed in 1904 by the industrial 20-payment life and 20-year endowment policies. In that year also, the company bought a lot on which it has recently erected a fine home office building. General expansion of the company dating from 1904 includes establishment of a branch office in Columbia, South Carolina, in 1905, the valuation of the entire business in 1909, for the purpose of voluntarily setting aside a reserve for every policy. Expansion of operations has given the company substantial business in 11 of the principal southern States and the District of Columbia. Since June 30, 1914, the association has been writing ordinary policies of standard type based on the American Experience Table of Mortality. On April 7, 1919, the company's charter was amended converting it into a legal reserve institution. Reinsurances include Toilers Mutual, Tarboro, N. C., 1921; Afro-American Mutual, Rock Hill, S. C., 1922; Afro-American Mutual, Charlotte, N. C., 1923. The company is a member of the National Negro Insurance Association.

Administration and Repute—This company has made a noteworthy record. It has had an enterprising management, which has taken advantage of the opportunities, existing in the South for business institutions operated by colored men in the service of the colored people. The company has been capably managed, as denoted especially by the steadily advancing premium income since 1905. It has become the largest colored life company in the world. Its investments are well secured and remunerative. Actuarial methods are of the highest standard. Operating and business acquisition costs are about average. Mortality rate is favorable and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Numerous lapses in the general business depression of 1921 affected the company adversely but the business of 1922 and 1923 was indicative of a further progressive trend.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary and industrial life insurance, the latter predominating; also sub-standard risk carefully selected. Disability and double indemnity features are included on policies under certain conditions. The principal policies it issues are as follows: whole life, 20-payment life; 20-year endowment, 10-year endowment, 10-payment life, endowment at age 60, 15-payment life and 15-year endowment.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, ordinary, $17,407,383; industrial, $23,741,404.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% and American 4% full preliminary (Illinois standard), on both ordinary and industrial. Industrial business according to Massachusetts and New York rule with deductions.

Officers—C. C. Spaulding, president; J. M. Avery, vice-president and secretary; R. L.

NORTHERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

1118 Fourth Avenue, Seattle, Washington

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated July 14, 1906, organized July 24, and the first policies were issued October 10th of the same year. Its organizers were T. M. and D. B. Morgan. The company was organized to issue combination policies embracing life, accident and health insurance and this is still the dominant idea with the company, seventy-five per cent of its business being upon this form. The articles of incorporation are perpetual and the company which started with a paid-in cash capital and surplus of $93,750 now has a paid-in cash capital of $250,000 and a net surplus of $173,000. Surplus contributed by stockholders has amounted to $102,000, of which $33,500 has been returned in cash, besides a stock dividend of $50,000 and cash dividends amounting on August 1st, 1923, to over $152,000. During the war and "flu" period although suffering a direct loss from those causes of $175,000, the company paid regular dividends to stockholders, kept up its regular scale of dividends to policyholders which had never been changed since the inception of the company until substantially increased last year, and at the same time increased its net surplus. There was no promotion expense or stock selling cost either in its initial capital or the subsequent capital paid in. The company has been under the same management since organization and has not been connected with any mergers or reinsurances. It is regularly examined by the Washington Insurance Department each year and in 1921, a Convention examination of the company was participated in by the departments of Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

Administration and Repute—This company is very capably managed by substantial business men of high standing in their community. The company, while owned by stockholders, has a provision in its charter for mutualization. It has ample assets, reserves and surplus. Its assets are well invested with mortgage loans the predominating class. The company earns a good rate of interest. Cost of operation is ow as is its acquisition expense. It operates upon a sound actuarial basis and has had a very favorable mortality record. Capably managed, it has grown steadily and consistently and with increased resources its growth will undoubtedly continue to be substantial.

Classes of Insurance Written—It issues policies on the participating plan with disability, double indemnity and accident and health features, upon all the regular life, endowment and term plans. It has also issued policies with a guaranteed premium reduction during the early years with full participation at stated periods thereafter.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $4,119,948; participating, $31,802,737.

Reserve Basis—American 3 and 3½%, first year preliminary term approximating Michigan Standard.

Officers—D. B. Morgan, president; F. K. Struve, T. S. Lippy, vice-presidents; James B. Eagleson, vice-president and medical director; Arthur P. Johnson, secretary; John F. Bamford, assistant to president; J. H. Sargent, assistant secretary; D. M. Morgan, cashier; E. S. Campau, agency supervisor.

Directors—J. W. Maxwell, J. B. Eagleson, D. B. Morgan, T. S. Lippy, Henry A. Kyer, F. K. Struve, F. L. Van Nice, Arthur P. Johnson, M. A. Arnold, Reginald H. Parsons, Moritz Thomsen.

NORTHERN STATES LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Hammond, Indiana

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized May 31, 1910, in Indiana, and it began business January 17, 1911, as the Employees' Life and Casualty Insurance Company. Original officers of the company were J. D. Smalley, president; Dr. H. E. Sharrer, vice-president and medical director; F. K. Hosler, secretary; J. C. Seitz, consulting actuary and L. L. Bomberger, counsel. Authorized capital was $100,000; par value of stock $10 a share; capital paid-in at beginning of business $50,000. Capital has been increased at intervals until on December 31, 1922, it amounted to $162,000. In January 1915, the present president was elected to office and it has since that time been under his capable management. This company reinsured the German National Life, of Chicago, in 1913. In 1919, the Forest City Life of Rockford, Illinois, was consolidated with this company, following which, the Northern States reduced the par value of its capital stock from $10 to $8 a share, thus increasing surplus by the substantial amount of the capital reduction. In 1922 the company reinsured the Central States Life of Crawfordsville, Ind.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company is financially strong in assets and reserves which have been steadily increased in recent years along with an annually advancing premium income. It is well managed and since 1920, paid dividends to stockholders amounting in aggregate, cash, to $52,012. It writes both participating and non-participating business but is strictly proprietary in character. Under a management of progressive disposition, it is doing a fair volume of business. It has ample operating surplus. Investments are well secured and remunerative. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Mortality rate is favorable and it is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. They include the features of disability and double indemnity. All business is written through general agents. The company was examined in 1923 by the Indiana Insurance Department.

Classes of Insurance Written—The leading forms of policies are (participating), 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; endowments at age 85; 20-payment endowment at age 60 and 20-payment endowment at age 65; 5 and 10-year term forms; (non-participating) ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; endowments; 10, 15 and 20-year and at age 85; 10-year term; 20-payment coupon; and several special forms of paid up, deferred endowment and life annuity. Maximum amount written, no limit; retained, $7,500. Women are insured at same rates applying to men. Colored risks are not written.

NORTHERN STATES LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Metropolitan Life Building, Minneapolis, Minnesota

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized in January, 1917, in Minnesota, and began business October 8, 1918, with $100,000 of paid-in capital. Stock, par value, $10 a share, was sold at double par, 25% of which on the first $50,000, and 20% on the remainder were granted for promotional expenses. This item included all management expenses to January 1, 1919. The Minnesota Insurance Department last examined the company in 1923.

Administration and Repute—This company has been managed in such a way as to have built up a small but substantial volume of business. Its premium income received a setback through the general business depression of 1921, but in 1922 results were indicative of a slow recovery and return to progressiveness. This was further indicated by the record of the company in 1923. The company is strictly proprietary in character and writes only non-participating business. It is financially strong in assets and reserves and has an ample operating surplus. Investments are well selected and remunerative. Actuarial methods are standard. No high pressure methods have ever been used. Operating and business acquisition expenses were initially high, a usual experience in the upbuilding of a new company, but have been reduced to about normal. Mortality rate is low and death claims are paid promptly. The features of double indemnity and disability are included in the company's policy contracts which are standard, in form.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment, including ordinary 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 20-year endowment and 5, 10 and 20-year term form. Maximum amount written, no limit; retained, $5,000. Women are insured on all plans, without additional cost.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $6,556,538.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term (Illinois standard).

Officers—F. W. Dalton, president; M. F. Wagner, vice-president; R. F. Marquis, actuary and secretary; T. M. Pettigrew, treasurer; Dr. H. C. Cooney, medical director.

Directors—F. W. McLean, George L. Petrie, T. M. Pettigrew, Dr. H. C. Cooney, F. W. Dalton, T. J. Dougherty, J. W. Hoover, A. Egeland, J. A. Jorgenson, W. F. Robertson, R. F. Marquis, O. M. Ness, M. F. Wagner, G. E. Stubbins, Linus Johnson.

NORTHWESTERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Omaha, Nebraska

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated in Nebraska, May 5, 1919, as a mutual legal reserve company and began business May 17, of the same year. On December 11, 1922, the company was changed from a mutual to a stock company with a capital of $155,000 fully paid up; par value of stock is $1.00 per share and it was sold at $1.25 per share, thereby creating a contributed surplus amounting to $38,750. There was no promotion or organization expense. The organizers were Clyde G. Smith and James A. Rodman, the present president and vice-president. There has been no change in the management, no mergers or reinsurances. The company was examined by the Nebraska Insurance Department in 1923.

Administration and Repute—The company is controlled by stockholders to whom all profits are due. It formerly wrote participating and non-participating insurance, but now confines itself to non-participating insurance. The company is progressing and is well managed, its expense of operation being moderate as is also its acquisition costs. It has ample assets, all investments are first class and real estate securing loans are worth double the amount loaned thereon. The company is operated on a sound actuarial basis and has ample reserves and surplus, as well as a large amount held as a deferred dividend. Death claims have been paid promptly and the company is generally in good repute with a fair volume of

NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Milwaukee, Wisconsin

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated by special charter, in March 1857, under the name, Mutual Life Insurance Company of the state of Wisconsin. Gen. John C. Johnston, a unique character even in the pioneer days, was the organizer. The original 36 incorporators, associated with General Johnston, were men of accomplishment in those early times whose names remain familiar to citizens of Wisconsin. The company's bill of incorporation, introduced into the Wisconsin Legislature was duly passed as Chapter 129 of the Private and Local Laws of 1857 and approved March 2, 1857. The company thus created was authorized to begin business, operating on the purely mutual plan, as soon as a preliminary $200,000 of insurance was at hand. Janesville, Wisconsin, was the original location of the home office. In spite of the general financial difficulties prevalent in 1857, and continuing for some time thereafter, General Johnston and his associates vigorously proceeded to establish the company on an operating basis, which made possible beginning of business November 25, 1858. Removal of the home office to Milwaukee was voted on March 7, 1859. The company's present name was adopted January 20, 1865. Expansion of sound character began as early as 1865, when the company entered Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, thus beginning the development of a scope of business which has become national. The company suffered in common with business in general through the Reconstruction period of panic and depression in the seventies, notwithstanding the fact that the company's records disclose a continuing increase in results of business during that time. Toward 1880, marked recuperation pointed the way to the progressive era of the late eighties in which the company records the acquisition of its second $100,000,000 of insurance. The nineties produced still more remarkable growth, which with its continued success in the twentieth century has in every respect placed this company among the leaders of the life insurance world. Examination of the company was conducted in 1922 by the Insurance Departments of the States of Wisconsin, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Virginia, Michigan, Iowa and Minnesota.

Administration and Repute—This company's growth has been characteristic of its home locality and of the rising West in general. Its career has been exceptional in every respect. Without the prestige of strong financial backing in some thriving metropolis of the Atlantic seaboard, this company may be said to have been opportunely born of genius and to have surmounted all obstacles by the vigor and integrity of its management composed, from the pioneer days to the present, of executives of most estimable ability and personal repute. A corporation of unquestionable financial strength in assets and reserves, and having its home in the West, in its developing period required something more than ordinary contact for the competitive development of its transactions in eastern business centers; accordingly the company now has an agency system that is unexcelled in its efficiency of service to members and harmony of intercourse with the home office. This company has been called the Colossus of the West in view of its substantially increasing premium income, on December 31, 1923, $88,090,371, and its excellent volume of insurance in force now more than two and one-half billion dollars. In 1923, assets increased over $42,000,000 to $589,029,701, and funds apportioned and contingency reserve, which is maintained in lieu of surplus, advanced over $9,000,000 to $63,316,352. Mortality rate has been favorable, for example in 1923, it was but 50% of expected. Insurance in force during that year increased $189,000,000; new business amounted to $313,859,983, including restorations, dividend additions, etc. Investments are well secured, largely in mortgage loans in real estate, and they yield remuneratively. Actuarial methods are of the highest standard. Efficiency of operation, both at home and in the field, has made a low cost of management and business acquisition. Large dividends to policyholders have made their insurance net costs attractively low. Policy contracts are well devised and highly regarded. They do not include the features of double indemnity or disability except as to waver of premium in event of disability. Business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment including the following: ordinary life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; endowments at age 65; ordinary life paid up at age 65; 5-year convertible term; single premium life and endowment policies payable in limited or continuous monthly instalments. Maximum amount written and retained, $200,000. Women are not insured.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $2,643,824,461; deferred dividend, semi-tontine, $151,500; renewable term, $3,804,683; non-participating, $41,437,394.

Reserve Basis—American 3%, on issues since February 1, 1899. Actuaries 4%, on issues prior to February 1, 1899. Annuities, on Actuaries 4%, American 3%, and McClintock's 3½%.

Officers—W. D. Van Dyke, president; P. R. Sanborn, M. J. Cleary, vice-presidents; E. D. Jones, secretary; George Lines, general counsel; Percy H. Evans, actuary; J. W. Fisher, medical director; Geo. E. Copeland, superintendent of agencies; T. J. Knox; G. L. Anderson, Ralph E. Perry, H. R. Ricker, assistant secretaries; Joseph R. Dyer, Sam T. Swansen, H. N. Laflin, A. G. Millers, W. W. NORTHWESTERN NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Oak Grove and 15th Streets, Minneapolis, Minnesota

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated September 15, 1885, as an assessment association and began business on the same day. In 1901 it was reincorporated under the Stipulated Premium Law of Minnesota and from that time conducted its business on the legal reserve plan, and setting up proper reserves therefor. In 1906 following a reorganization in 1905, it was reincorporated under the old line law as a legal reserve company. The company reinsured the American Life and Investment, Madison, Wisconsin, 1902; National Mutual Life Association, Minneapolis, Minnesota, 1901; Northwestern Life and Savings, Des Moines, Iowa, 1903; Northwestern National Life, Madison, Wisconsin, 1901; Annuity Life Association, Des Moines, 1902; Wisconsin National Life, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, 1903; The company is a member of the Reinsurance Association, Life Insurance Presidents Association, American Life Convention, American Institute of Actuaries, Association of Life Insurance Counsel, American Association of Life Insurance Medical Directors.

Administration and Repute—The directorate of this company has included, since 1905, some of the principal business men and leading bankers of the northwest. Its management has been in charge of experienced life insurance men of progressive and capable disposition. Under their guidance the company has grown steadily, and during 1921 entered the $100,000,000 class. Its assets are well invested, principally in mortgage loans and government bonds which are remunerative. It operates upon a sound actuarial basis and in addition to its ample statutory reserves, carries special reserves, contingent funds and dividend reserves of goodly portions. It has a substantial surplus in addition to its reserve. Management expenses are normal and its acquisition costs are moderate. It has shown for years, with the possible exception of the epidemic year, substantial savings on mortality. It has a good standing in the community as a result of the efficient and capable management and the repute of its Board of Directors, and is known to pay all losses promptly and equitably. The company is a purely mutual one and all profits belong to policyholders. Liberal dividends have been paid them in the past years, making the net cost of insurance reasonably low. Business is written through general agencies.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes all the regular forms of life insurance, including income disability and double indemnity features. Among these written are included the whole life; 10, 15, 17, and 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20 and 30-year endowment; endowment at age 60, 65 and 70; 20-payment endowments at age 60 and 65; 5, 10 and 20-year convertible and non-renewable term, and 10-year renewable and convertible term; various single premium life and endowment contracts; joint life policies; monthly income policies; and a 20-year child's endowment; special endowment at age 65; 2, 3, 4, 5-year term automatic convertible to whole life. Sub-standard insurance is transacted.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Group and non-participating, $30,080,408; deferred dividend, $2,075,920; annual dividends, $141,152,838; assessment, $715,770.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term since July 1, 1906. Prior thereto actuaries 4% full preliminary term.

Group Insurance—Insurance on this plan is written with a minimum age 16 and 50 as the minimum in group. Individual risks minimum $500, maximum, $3,000. No individual shall be insured for more than 2½ times the amount allotted for other members of the group. Individual policies on regular form may be issued to employee on termination of employment within 30 days after such termination. Premiums payable annually, rates may be adjusted by the company at the end of each five-year period. The new rates shall be given to the employer at least two month's before they take effect. Policy provisions include a grace period after 31 days, an incontestability clause after one year and grant total and permanent disability clauses.

Bank Deposits and Life Insurance—The company's plan in connection with bank savings is based upon a whole life policy with premiums payable quarterly for the first year and annually thereafter, if the bank balance is sufficient. The plan is styled The Thrift and Protection Plan and restricts the securing of business to agents of the company.

OCCIDENTAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Albuquerque, New Mexico

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated under Nevada laws with main office in Albuquerque, June 13, 1906, and began business January 1, 1907. Reincorporated in New Mexico, April 7, 1909, following the passage of the first insurance code there. The capital stock originally paid-in $100,000, surplus, $10,000; par value of stock $50, sold at $60. The original incorporator was A. B. McMillen, the present president. The company was organized without promotion expense or commission on sale of stock. On January, 1910, $40,000 new capital was issued and $10,000 surplus paid-in without selling expense in connection therewith. As a result of the influenza epidemic in 1918 and 1919 the company incurred a special loss of over $100,000, and in January 1919, reduced its capital from $140,000 to $70,000, and issued $30,000 new stock at a premium of 33⅓%, thus resulting in a net reduction of capital from $140,000 to $100,000, and $80,000 payment to surplus. In 1922, the capital was increased $50,000 by payment of a stock dividend. The company has paid $134,200 dividends since organization, including $50,000 stock. There has been no change in management or controlling ownership since beginning business, neither has there been any merger or reinsurance transaction of any kind. The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—The company is a strictly proprietary one and all profits go to stockholders. The company has been carefully and economically managed by its president, A. B. McMillen and George Roslington, its present vice-president and secretary, who has been the manager since January, 1909, when the company started active business. The company issues non-participating policies along liberal lines, including double indemnity and disability features. It issues also accident and health policies in combination with life contracts. It has never issued any special contract or made any special propositions to enlarge its business. It has, however, had a steady and consistent growth, and now operates with substantial assets well invested, principally in mortgage loans that yield a high rate of interest. It is operated on a sound actuarial basis with ample reserves and surplus. With the exception of the influenza years, the company has had a low rate of mortality.

Additional information on other pages; detailed statements in Compendium Section; Statistical History in department Life Insurance history; Gains and Losses in Gain and Loss Exhibit.

Death claims have been promptly paid and the company is in good repute with policyholders and in its general standing in the community. The company insures women on the same basis as men limited to $5,000. No term is issued to women. Colored risks are excluded. The company operates upon the general agency plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life, accident and health. This company writes among other plans the ordinary life, 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowment, accumulation policy, 20-payment coupon policy 5, 10 and 20-year non-renewable convertible term and single premium life and endowment policies and perfect protection policies, monthly income and annuities. Women are limited to $5,000 and are not written in term policies. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, $421,700; non-participating, $19,137,462.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% preliminary term (Illinois standard) since January 1, 1921; American 3½% full preliminary term, 1913 to 1921; actuaries 4% prior thereto.

Officers—A. B. McMillen, president; George Roslington, vice-president and secretary; C. E. Hyre, treasurer; W. L. Noneman, assistant secretary and actuary; R. A. Gibson, assistant secretary; C. A. Frank, M. D., medical director; M. K. Wylder, assistant medical director.

Directors—A. B. McMillen, George Roslington, Lawrence F. Lee, M. K. Wylder, F. O. McMillen.

OLD COLONY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Chicago, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

When this company was incorporated May 12, 1905, in Illinois, its name was the American Mutual Life Insurance Company, but just prior to beginning business June 18, 1907, its present title was adopted. Original authorized capital was $500,000, but prior to beginning business it was reduced and the amount of authorized capital is now $300,000, with stock par value $10.00. Paid-in capital stock reached $126,552 in 1918 and has since remained at that figure. The company has reinsured the following four companies: 1909, The Provident Annuity Life Association, Bloomington, Illinois, and the Cosmopolitan Life Association, Freeport, Illinois. In 1911, the Commercial Life Chicago, Illinois, was merged into the company. The merging of the Commercial Life gave the latter's stockholders a capital stock interest in the Old Colony Life. The fourth and last company reinsured by the Old Colony Life was the Savings Life, Peoria, Illinois, in 1911. In recent years the company has erected and occupied a large and valuable Home Office building on excellently located real estate in the financial district of Chicago.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—Under able and experienced management this company has made steady and consistent gains in business volume except in 1921, when premium, but not total, income fell off slightly in the general depression of business. Operations of 1922 with the substantial gain in premium volume were indicative of a return to progressive trend. The company is financially strong in assets and reserves and it has adequate operating surplus. Investments are well secured, mostly in real estate and government bonds, and issue a sure and regular return of interest. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Expenses of management and business acquisition are about the average. Mortality rate is moderate and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. The features of double indemnity and disability are included in policy contracts.

Classes of Insurance Written—Participating; ordinary life; 10, 15, and 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; endowment at age 60, 65 and 85; (non-participating) same life and endowment forms as participating 5 and 10-year convertible and renewable term. Maximum amount written, $25,000; retained, $5,000. Females are insured on all forms except term at the same rates as apply to males. The company insures children from age one up, for amounts up to $5,000, on the annual, semi-annual and quarterly premium plan, under life and endowment policies.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $18,616,836; annual dividend, $7,487,185.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, full level premium, preliminary term and modified preliminary term.

Officers—B. R. Nueske, president; A. W. Rathbun, vice-president; R. C. Van Dyke, vice-president and secretary; J. McGauley, vice-president and treasurer; Dr. L. W. Martin, medical director.

Directors—C. E. Botsford, A. F. Poehlmann, A. B. Irwin, J. M. Speer, A. W. Rathbun, W. T. Vawter, J. W. Weldon, B. R. Nueske, J. L. Bobo, J. McGauley, W. R. Todd, Carl Klocke, J. H. Krause, R. C. Van Dyke, A. T. Mathewson.

OLD LINE INSURANCE COMPANY

Lincoln, Nebraska

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized June 1913, in Nebraska, as the Old Line Accident Insurance Company, with $10,000 initial paid-in capital. Capital was increased in 1914, to $20,000, in 1916 to $150,000 and in 1919 to $200,000 where it now stands. Present title was adopted and company began writing life insurance in 1916. Capital increases were effected through the issue of new stock at, par value, $100.

Administration and Repute—This company has been carefully managed and its health and accident underwriting operations, since organization, show a profit in spite of rather heavy losses experienced in 1919 and 1920 because of the influenza and penumonia epidemic. The company recovered, however, and its business, in 1921, was again profitable. In 1922, the company's life and casualty lines both showed substantial advances in premium income; surplus was increased and the management evinced a progressive disposition. There was a slight premium decrease in 1923 as well as a smaller amount of life insurance written but insurance in force increased as did assets, reserves and surplus. Expenses of management and business acquisition costs have been above average but loss ratio has been low. The company's investments are high grade and remunerative loss claims are settled promptly and the company is generally in excellent repute. The Nebraska Insurance Department examined the company in 1923, without adverse comment. Agency operations are conducted through both managers and general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and accident and health. Policies are issued both on participating and non-participating plans. Contracts include double indemnity benefits only. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $14,928,318; participating, $487,000.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, Illinois standard.

Officers—John G. Maher, president; R. A. Fate, D. Radford, Jr., vice-presidents; E. P. Martin, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Directors—John G. Maher, Katherine Maher Nellie Maher, E. P. Martin.

Operates in Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Illinois, Wyoming, Missouri and Kansas.

OREGON LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Portland, Oregon

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized February 24, 1906, in Oregon, without expense, by L. Samuel, subsequently general manager, who had been for many years successful as Oregon manager for the Equitable Life, of New York. It began business April 12, 1906, operating on the mutual basis, although having a guarantee capital of $100,000, fully paid-in in shares of $1,000 each, held, though not more than two to any one person, by a group of the leading citizens and business men of the State, each one of whom used his best influence in promoting the company's welfare. Upon completion of organization, a board of 39 directors was elected. A. L. Mills, president, is also president of the First National Bank, of Portland. Preservation of policyholders' interests was given particular attention in organizing, but the charter provided also that capital stock might be retired at any time after 5 years from March 1, 1906, so as to make the company purely mutual. Retirement of guaranteed stock must be accomplished by payment therefor of not more than the par value, $1,000. Policyholders then become eligible to elect the directorate which shall manage the company.

This company is a member of the American Life Convention and the Association of Life Insurance Presidents.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed by the late L. Samuel, and since his death in 1916 by his son, C. S. Samuel, underwriters of experience, who have operated it upon the mutual plan, writing both participating and non-participating insurance. It has the soundest kind of financial backing and is itself strong in assets and reserves. It has annually paid a dividend of 7%, provided in the charter to stockholders, the aggregate cash, since organization, being $119,000. With an annually increasing premium income, it has steadily progressed with commensurate increases of insurance in force. It has a comparatively large operating surplus, also regularly increased in recent years. Investments have been carefully selected, are well secured and very remunerative. Operating and business acquisition expenses are moderate. Mortality rate is very favorable

PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA

Los Angeles, California

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized in 1867 in California, and began business May 1868. Capital was increased in 1897 from $100,000 to $200,000 and in 1901 to $500,000. In 1906 the stockholders of the Conservative Life, Los Angeles bought stock control of the Pacific Mutual which on March 12, of that year reinsured the Conservative Life. Capital was soon after increased to $1,000,000 and $300,000 paid-in to surplus. Further increase followed: 1919 to $1,200,000 by new stock paid-in, par value $100 at $250 a share thereby furnishing surplus with $300,000; 1920 to $1,500,000 and $300,000 to surplus. April 1, 1913, the company wholly absorbed the Pacific Mutual Indemnity of Los Angeles which it owned and had been operating separately. The company's accident department and the non-participating division of the life department are operated strictly on a stock basis and stockholders are accordingly entitled to the profits thereof. Stock par value, $100 a share.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed as denoted by the increasing volume of business which has for a number of years steadily advanced the premium income. It has properly increased its reserves, built up a large surplus and paid liberal dividends with regularity. Life insurance is the company's predominating line but accident and sickness has been very profitable. In these latter lines the company issues noncancellable contracts. The company has sound backing, has high grade investments and is in excellent repute in the matter of loss payments. Its directors, mostly substantial local business men and officers of the company, owned $422,700 par value of the $1,500,000 capital stock in 1923.

PAN-AMERICAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Whitney Building, New Orleans, Louisiana

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized March 28, 1911, in Louisiana, by E. G. Simmons, formerly fiscal agent of the Southern Union Life and J. T. Boone, formerly president of the Southland Life, both well versed in the practical knowledge necessary to the successful executive conduct of a life company. Original authorized capital was $1,000,000 with proposed surplus of $750,000. The company began business March 28, 1912, with about two-thirds of its capital paid in. Payments continued at intervals and by 1914 entire capital of $1,000,000 was paid-in, a total of $750,000 having been contributed to surplus. In 1912, the Pan-American absorbed the business of the Louisiana National Life Assurance Society, thereby acquiring about $6,000,000 of insurance in force. Following this deal, the company decided to establish a number of branch offices in several central American countries, in which about one-tenth of its 5,000 stockholders resided. Since 1922 the company has issued accident and health policies in addition to life contracts. The Pan-American has also reinsured the following: The Four States Life, of Texarkana, Arkansas, in 1914; the Cosmopolitan Life, of Atlanta Georgia, in 1915; and the Meridian Life, of Indianapolis, Indiana, in 1916. Stock, par value is $10 a share.

This company is a member of the following organizations: American Life Convention, the Life Agency Officers Association and the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau. The Company is also a member of the Reinsurance Association.

Administration and Repute—This company's management, headed by Crawford H. Ellis, president, and E. G. Simmons, vice-president, is efficient, progressive of disposition and sound in its aggressive measures as denoted by the salutary results of its operations. It is thoroughly strong financially in assets and reserves and has a large operating surplus. All three have been substantially advanced at intervals in recent years. Premium income has increased steadily in the last decade. There was a slight decrease in 1922, although insurance in force continued to show an excellent gain. In 1923 the company attained its largest volume of premium income and passed the $100,000,000 mark in insurance in force. Total dividends paid stockholders since organization aggregate $740,000. Its administration is modern in every respect and includes the writing of not only regular life insurance, but also substandard risks and accident and health insurance including non-cancellable income policies. The company's assets are wisely invested and remunerative to a large degree. Actuarial methods are of the highest standard. Operating and business acquisition costs are fairly moderate. Mortality rate is favorable and the company is in excellent repute for promptly paying death claims. Policy contracts are standard in form and attractive of character, including the features of double indemnity and disability. The company was examined in 1923 by the Indiana, Virginia and Louisiana Insurance Departments. Their comment was very complimentary to the management of the company. All business is written through general agencies.

PENN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Sixth and Walnut Streets, Philadelphia Pennsylvania

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated February 24, 1847, by the charter granted by the legislature of Pennsylvania. The company was promoted by John W. Hornor, its first secretary. The articles of incorporation conveyed large privileges and under it the right exists to transact almost every kind of financial business. One hundred thousand dollars of insurance required to inaugurate business was secured early in May and the company began business May 24, 1847. The charter gives to every insured member the right to vote for trustees. The company is purely mutual, but to insure in its early days prompt payment of claims a guarantee capital of $100,000, was authorized and $50,000 was subscribed. The first table used was the Carlisle. The guarantee capital of $100,000, was fully paid up in 1852. The guarantee capital was discontinued in 1861. In 1873 the National Capital Life, of Washington, transferred its business to the Penn Mutual. In 1875 the North American Life, of Philadelphia, reinsured in the Penn Mutual. Insurance of women on the same basis as men was started in 1886. The company is a member of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents.

Administration and Repute—The company is purely mutual, being run by and in the interest of policyholders to whom all profits are accruable. The company was organized by substantial business men of Philadelphia, to give life insurance at near actual cost. The records show that the company has, throughout its existence, continued this policy of service and at the present time the company is in charge of reputable Philadelphia men of affairs. The company has been well managed, is progressive and at the same time conservative. It has a high ratio of assets, surplus and reserves to insurance in force. The assets are well invested and return a high rate of interest. It is operated upon a sound actuarial basis and has a low mortality record. Economy in management has kept the acquisition and operating expenses well below normal. Death claims are promptly paid and substantial dividends have made the net cost reasonably low. Business is written through general agents.

A joint examination, thorough and detailed, into every department of the company's affairs was made in 1923 by the states of Pennsylvania, Kansas, Missouri, Alabama, and Utah. The report, signed by all of the Examiners, sustained the accuracy of the Company's financial statements, confirmed its possession of listed assets and the values placed upon them, and commended the management for its conduct of the affairs of the Company, both as to methods and as to the spirit in which its policyholders' interests are handled. The report further states: There are at the Home Office of the company 29 officers and 515 clerks. Their salaries for the year 1922 totaled $939,362.98.

After reviewing the schedule of compensation we venture to express the thought that the management is ultra-conservative in the matter of salaries. The examiners are of the opinion that, considering the progress and size of the Company and the negligible increase of overhead expense that would ensue, a material readjustment of salaries in both the official staff and the clerical force in order to more fully compensate demonstrated ability and to meet increasing living costs, which seemingly have come to stay, would be wholly justified; and such action on the part of the management would be heartily approved by us.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes life insurance, including disability and double indemnity benefits, on the participating plan. All the ordinary forms of life, limited pay at 10, 15, 19, 20, 25 and 30 years, endowments at 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35 and 40 years, 10 and 20-payment endowments maturing at various years, endowments at age 50, 55, 60, 65, 70, 10-year convertible and non-renewable term, trust certificates monthly income, single premium life and endowment, dual income, yearly renewable term and other terms, joint life policies and life annuities. Colored risks are not solicited.

Reserve Basis—American 3% full level premium annuities American 3% and McClintock's 3½%.

PENNSYLVANIA MUTUAL LIFE INSURNACE COMPANY

The Parkway at 16th Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized and began business April 26, 1870, in Pennsylvania. Since the management now in charge took hold of the company in 1906, it has operated on a legal reserve basis, at present having a paid-in guaranty capital of $128,500, divided into 12,850 shares, par value, $10 each. Guaranty capital originally authorized was $2,000,000. In 1911, the company reinsured the Pennsylvania business of the American Catholic Union.

Administration and Repute—Writing both ordinary and industrial business, the latter predominating, this company has in the last decade shown a progressive disposition reflected in its annually increasing volume and substantial amount of insurance in force. Management expenses were average in 1923. The company's guaranty fund may be retired at the option of the directors when accumulated funds shall have equalled or exceeded the amount of the fund. In recent years, guarantors have been paid 3% semi-annual interest on the guaranty capital stock. It may be noted that this guarantee fund exceeds the surplus over liabilities by about $20,000. The company states that this guarantee fund is not a liability. The company has satisfactory strength of assets. The bulk of the company's business is on the industrial plan. Reserves are on a standard actuarial basis and are adequate. It was examined in 1923 by the Pennsylvania Insurance Department. No dividends were paid policyholders in 1923.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes ordinary and industrial insurance, mainly the latter, on the mutual plan. Its policies include the following: whole life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-payment life; and 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowment. Ordinary policies carry the disability feature to the extent of paying one-half of the face of policy, the other half paid-up. Maximum amount written, no limit; retained, $2,500. Women are insured at same rates as apply to men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, industrial, $13,824,221; ordinary, $3,563,873.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, preliminary term.

Officers—John J. Coyle, president; F. J. McSorley, Chas. M. Town, vice-presidents; E. J. Moore, secretary; John O'Keefe, treasurer, Dr. E. J. Moore, medical director.

PEOPLES LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

130 North Wells Street, Chicago, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized October 9, 1908, in Illinois. E. A. Nelson, elected president, has since continued as incumbent of that office, and initially associated with him were Fremont Hoy, vice-president and secretary; M. L. Nelson, treasurer, and C. O. R. Stabeck, L. T. Hoy, U. S. Marshall, Dr. A. M. Markle, B. A. Wilson, A. C. Obsorn and C. F. Hoy. Business began October 21, 1908, with a paid-in capital of $100,000, and an authorized capital of $150,000, operation being conducted on the legal reserve plan. The company proceeded at once with the taking over of the business of the Peoples Life Assurance Company, amounting to about $1,000,000, the latter having been a stipulated premium company, operating since 1906, with rates on the 3½%, American standard. The company reinsured the business of the Modern Life in 1911, the American Life, of Chicago, in 1914, and the business of the Royal Life, of Chicago, in 1916. Capital changes have been as follows: 1915, increased to $201,000; 1916 increased to $231,000; 1917 reduced to $101,937; and 1918 reduced to $101,737. The Cooperative Society of America, represented by Edward C. Kissler, Seymour Stedman, and John Coe, as a trusteeship, acquired control of the Peoples Life, in 1921. This society, having a number of other large interests under its control, went into a receivership late in 1921, the Central Trust Company of Illinois, being appointed receiver for it. The receiver was dismissed as the charges were unfounded. The financial vicissitudes of its control have not affected the stability and general course of operation of the Peoples Life Insurance Company. The company owns 1925 of the 2,000 shares of the stock of the City State Bank of Chicago.

The company is a member of the following organization: American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This proprietary company has had a conservative growth. It developed a small but steadily increasing premium volume up to 1917, the business consisting of both ordinary and industrial insurance, the former predomintting with field of writing confined as yet to Illinois and Indiana. Premium income and insurance in force showed considerable decrease in 1920, but 1921 and 1922 business has been indicative of a return to the progressive trend. In 1923 premiums insurance written and in force decreased due primarily to the fact that the company wrote no new industrial insurance. Dividends have been paid to stockholders in 1921 and 1922, and two at previous intervals, the aggregate, cash, being $35,714. The company is strong in assets and reserves and especially apportioned funds and has ample operating surplus. Investments are well secured and remunerative. Actuarial methods are standard. Expenses of management and business acquisition costs rose slightly to a little above normal in 1922, a slight reduction was noted during 1923. Mortality rate is low and death claims are promptly paid. Policy contracts include double indemnity and disability features. Business is written through general agents. The company was examined in 1923 by the Illinois Insurance Department with no adverse comment.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies, include ordinary life; 10, 15, 20 and 30-payment life; low cost whole life, $2,500; 10 and 20-year endowments and endowments at age 65 and 85; 5, 10, 15 and 20-year non-renewable term; single premium; monthly income; child's policy. Maximum amount written, $50,000; retained, $5,000. Women are written on all forms except term, and without disability feature at same rates applying to men. Colored risks are accepted but not solicited.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $7,277,221; annual dividend, $374,000; deferred dividend, $58,500.

Officers—Seymour Stedman, president; A. J. Caraker, vice-president; George L. Lutterloh, secretary and treasurer; W. O. Wheelock, M. D., medical director.

PHILADELPHIA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized April 17, 1906, in Pennsylvania, and began business at once. It was organized for the purpose of succeeding to the business of, and in due course taking over, the Philadelphia Mutual Life, which had been established on the assessment basis, in October 1905, and in a few months time had met with the phenomenal success of writing over $7,500,000 of insurance. The first officers of the Philadelphia Life were: Andrew J. Maloney, president; D. K. Trimmer, vice-president; W. H. Hubbard, secretary; W. F. Donaldson, treasurer and Russell Duane, general attorney T. Lewson Bradford was the medical director. The parent company had an original $100,000 subscribed as a guarnatee capital fund. This amount was converted into stock held by policyholders only, and new stock was sold exclusively to policyholders according to the amount of his insurance. In 1909, the paid-in capital was $560,320, at which it has since remained with 56,032 shares of stock fully paid for. Contributed surplus in 1909, amounted to $258,984. On January 14, 1910, the Philadelphia Life reinsured the ordinary business of the Pennsylvania Mutual, and December 17, 1913, the business of the Standard Life, Camden, New Jersey. The company added a department for accident and health in 1911, but in 1914, reinsured all such business written in the Massachusetts Bonding and Insurance Company, Boston, Massachusetts. On January 20, 1917 it reinsured the ordinary business of the American Assurance Company.

Administration and Repute—Under capable and experienced management, this company has had a persistent growth notable by the confidence of its many policyholders. It has paid stockholders dividends of 6% per annum since February 1, 1908. Writing participating insurance, the company has paid substantial dividends to policyholders making the net cost of their insurance attractively reduced. All direct business is participating. Besides showing gratifying advances in premium volume and insurance in force, the former passing the million-dollar mark in 1917, the company is financially strong in assets, reserves and especially apportioned funds which have also been advanced regularly. It has in addition, an ample operating surplus. Investments are well secured and remunerative. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Management and business acquisition costs have been decreased in recent years, and are now below average. Mortality rate is moderate and the company pays death claims promptly. The features of disability and double indemnity are included in the company's attractive policy forms.

Classes of Insurance Written—Usual forms of life and endowment including 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; 10, 15 and 20-year renewable and convertible term; 20-payment life, with 50% premium reduction after 10 years; 18-payment life; single premium on ordinary; annual instalment forms; monthly instalment forms; returned premium forms; joint life policies on various forms. Maximum amount written, $100,000; retained, $20,000. Women are insured on all except term forms, limit, $50,000, with double indemnity and disability granted at the same rates as apply to men.

PHOENIX MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

79 Elm Street, Hartford, Connecticut

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated May 15, 1851, by an act of the Connecticut General Assembly. It was sponsored by several prominent men in Hartford, and in the original charter of the company was called the American Temperance Life Insurance Company. The charter provided for a capital stock of $100,000, of which 16% was paid in cash at the time of organization. Its original officers believed that if its membership could be confined to those abstaining from all liquor, it could safely grant insurance at rates somewhat lower than those in general use. Applicants were required to state that they did not use liquor as a beverage and would abstain from it. The company commenced business in May 1851, and for ten years the company wrote a moderate but successful business. In 1861 a charter amendment changed the name of the company to its present title. No existing contracts were changed by the charter amendment, but the name of the company permitted a greater activity and membership and assets increased materially. In 1875 the remainder of the capital ($84,000) was paid-in in cash. In 1889, by a general amendment and by mutual agreement between policyholders and stockholders, the capital was retired and the company became purely mutual. At the time of organization, the stock was subscribed without expense. It is interesting to note that some of the present officers, including the president and the senior vice-president, were with the company when the company was mutualized.

Administration and Repute—This company is a purely mutual one and all profits belong to its policyholders, who through consistent annual dividends have received their insurance at a moderate net cost. The company has been progressively managed, particularly in regard to its field force, it being one of the first to inaugurate the plan of thoroughly educating its field men, having established at the home office, a school for that purpose. Agent selections are made on as near a scientific basis as is possible. This company has a very substantial premium income and is operated capably and most economically. Its operating expenses are moderate as are its acquisition costs. It has a large volume of assets well invested, principally in first mortgage loans and high class government, municipal and industrial bonds, which yield a goodly rate of interest. Its actuarial practices are of the soundest, and an operating surplus of substantial character is maintained under various fluctuation funds. Future dividends are provided for by ample contingent apportionments. It is managed by very experienced life insurance men of high standing in their field. Loss claims are paid promptly.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes participating insurance only, and its policies contain optional disability and double indemnity features. Women are insured without extra charge and on the same limit as men between the ages of 14 and 65. Among the policies written are: the ordinary life; 10, 14, 15, 18, 19, 20, 25 and 30-payment life policies;

PILOT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

112 East Market Street, Greensboro, North Carolina

HISTORICAL DATA

This company had its origin in the Worth-Wharton Real Estate and Investment Company, incorporated in 1890 and more directly in an insurance department of its successor, the Southern Loan and Trust Company, which instituted the department following sanction of its adoption by the stockholders in meeting June 2, 1903. The company had previously conducted a general banking, real estate, fire insurance and trust business. Organization of the life business was in the hands of A. W. McAlister, vice-president and general manager, initially assisted by W. W. Johnson, of Charlotte, North Carolina and T. N. Winslow, of Greensboro, both of the latter also experienced insurance men. Business was begun July 1, 1903, on a legal reserve basis. At that time, the company's capital stock was increased from $100,000 to $200,000. In 1905, the name Southern Life & Trust Co. was adopted. In 1907, the life department was separated from the general banking business of the company, retaining such of its former trust business as fitted nicely with the operation of a life insurance company. E. P. Wharton, was president, A. W. McAlister continuing in active management as vice-president. The American Exchange Bank of Greensboro, of which E. P. Wharton was also president, was the purchaser in 1907 of the Southern Life and Trust Company's banking business, thereby leaving the company able to devote its entire attention to life insurance and associated trust matters in the best interests of and service to its policyholders. In 1924 name was changed to above title. The company paid its first annual dividend in 1907. Capital stock has been increased at intervals to $1,000,000 in 1920, at which it has since remained. The capital department owns the controlling interest in the McAlister, Vaughn and Scales General Agency Inc., a very successful fire insurance business covering North and South Carolina and Virginia, the George Washington Fire, the Southern Real Estate Co. and the Irving Park Co. all of Greensboro N. C. The company is executively allied in management with the three successful fire insurance companies of Greensboro, known as the McAlister Group. At the close of 1923 the company announced that it was proceeding to dispose of its trust business, and thereafter its activities would be devoted to the insurance business. In consequence the change of name omitting the word 'Trust' was logical Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed by executives of capability, large capacity and long experience. It has shown a progressive, but conservatively sound disposition and accordingly has built up a solid volume of business. Premium volume has averaged a fair rate of advance and insurance in force has increased commensurately. The company is strong in assets and reserves and has also a special fund set aside. Operating surplus is ample. Besides its life business, it does a considerable amount of business in its accident and health and weekly premium departments. The success of this department is an added protection to its life insurance business and the latter is safeguarded to the utmost against any possibility of being affected by adverse results in the trust department. The company is strictly proprietary in character, but writes participating as well as non-participating insurance. Proportion of earnings payable to stockholders is fixed by charter with a limit of fifty cents per $1,000 of insurance on participating business. During the past twenty years the company has doubled its insurance in force every five years. Premium volume fell off considerably in the business of 1921, but business of 1922 resulted in a gain indicative of a return to the company's normalcy of progress, while the year 1923 was the most successful from every angle that the company has experienced. It formerly issued deferred dividend policies which have been discontinued, participating insurance is now only written on the annual dividend basis. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Operating and business acquisition expenses are below average. Mortality rate is low, and the company is in excellent repute for promptly paying death claims. Standard forms are used for policy contracts and they include the features of disability and double indemnity.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment including: 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; 20-payment endowment at age 65; monthly income; continuous monthly income; term policies; life income at ages 60 and 65; joint life; life annuities; special policies classes A, B, C and D; 20-payment convertible policies on various forms; semi-endowment at age 68; single premium; children's policies and other special forms. Maximum amount written, $100,000; retained, $25,000. Women are insured on all except term forms, limit $25,000; with certain restrictions at same rates as apply to men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $29,586,640; deferred dividend, $2,458,295; non-participating, $20,815,786; industrial non-participating, $2,575,087.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, full level premium modified preliminary term and preliminary term, (Illinois Standard). Standard industrial 3½%, annuities on American 3½% and McClintock's 4%.

Officers—A. W. McAlister, president; R. G. Vaughn, first vice-president and treasurer; A. M. Scales, second vice-president and general counsel; H. B. Gunter, third vice-president; Arthur Watt, secretary and actuary; Dr. H. F. Starr, medical director; T. D. Dupuy, assistant treasurer and comptroller; T. D. Blair, assistant secretary and assistant manager of agencies; Fackler & Fackler, consulting actuaries; H. B. Gunter, agency manager.

Directors—J. M. Hendrix, E. E. Bain, E. J. Davis, A. W. McAlister, W. C. Boren, D. White, T. D. Blair, A. M. Scales, R. G. Vaughn, Arthur Watt, C. A. Mebane, H. E. Gunter, T. D. Dupuy, C. P. Frazier, H. F. Starr.

POLICYHOLDERS NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Sioux Falls National Bank Building, Sioux Falls, South Dakota

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized August 28 1919, in South Dakota, licensed October 27, and began business November 24, of that year, operating on a mutual legal reserve basis,under practically the same officers and directors it has today, and listed below. It was first called the Policyholders Life, and present title was not adopted until in 1922, consolidation of the company with the United States National Life Insurance Company, of Sioux Falls, was effected, with the approval of the South Dakota Merger Commission consisting of the governor, attorney general and commissioner of insurance. Both companies had been operating approximately 2 years in the same field and were organized on much the same plan, issuing $5,000 policies with graded death benefits during the first 5 years. Policies are now issued without graded benefit as well as with graded death benefit. A further provision in the company's charter anticipates a change from mutual to stock basis, when accumulated surplus will permit creation of a capital of $150,000.

Administration and Repute—This company is managed by executives of ability and experience in other lines of business as well as insurance. Premium volume fell off considerably in 1921, the second year of business, but in 1922 volume again showed an upward trend, and general improvement seemed indicative of progress. This trend was continued in 1923. Only participating insurance is written and policyholders control the company. The company has satisfactory strength in assets and an adequate surplus. It realizes a fair return from investments. Actuarial methods are standard. Expenses of operation and business acquisition were originally high but are now about normal. Mortality rate is low. All business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance, specializing at present in the 20-payment charter membership policy, also ordinary life. Maximum amount written and retained, $5,000. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, annual dividend, $1,765,500.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term (Illinois standard).

Officers—Guy C. Barton, president; S. H. Witmer, vice-president; H. O. Chapman, secretary-treasurer; R. Reagon, medical director; W. B. Young, actuary.

Directors—G. F. Barnes, Guy C. Barton, S. H. Witmer, H. O. Chapman, E. W. Berdahl, B. H. Millard, R. Reagon.

Operates in South Dakota only.

POSTAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

511 Fifth Avenue, New York City, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized under the laws of the State of New York, and incorporated November 22, 1906. As its name implies, it sells life insurance by mail or postal method. It succeeded in the beginning to insurance in force of about $900,000 of the Life Insurance Club, which had qualified to write policies, June 2, 1905, and had been incorporated November 12, 1904. It was not a reinsurance. The Club was refinanced and pursuant to the state authority underwent a change of name. William R. Malone, who was organizer and has been president since organization, acquired with associates the shares of stock and sold them without profit, mostly among policyholders. The capital stock is $100,000, par value $10, the shareholders numbering about 700. In June 1908, an arrangement was made with the receivers of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Company, in liquidation, by which the Postal Life was permitted to circularize certain classes of policyholders and issued to them the standard policies; $2,000,000 of insurance was realized from this source. In April 1909, the Economic Life Insurance Company was reinsured, the Postal securing about $3,000,000 of insurance. On January 20, 1911, the company took over the Provident Savings Life Assurance Company, which was organized in 1875. The business transferred amounted to nearly $60,000,000. As the Provident Savings had no surplus, the stockholders and trustees of the Postal Life made a formal agreement to contribute funds if it should prove to be necessary to sustain the solvency of the merged companies. A number of the Provident policyholders were unsettled by the change, and $10,000,000 was lapsed the first year. The company transacts business only at headquarters, where it receives applications all over the United States and from foreign countries. Its business is transacted in the State of New York. Premiums from non-resident policyholders are therefore untaxed. The company will accept service of summons by mail issued in a district court of the United States wherever located. No person whosoever is authorized to represent or act as agent for the company in any manner outside the State of New York. The company writes business directly through advertising and correspondence. It is now eighteen years old; its growth was hindered in the beginning by an interpretation of the new insurance law of New York by the attorney general. The Postal had elected to write policies on the participating plan. The permissible expenditures were percentages of premium income which being small for a new company, halted its advance for a time. The particular point about the decision was that the company, being on a participating basis, could not change to a non-participating basis that would admit of the use of funds contributed for the promotion of the company. Because of this, the president sought reinsurances in order to acquire a premium income that would give an expense fund for effective advertising. In 1917 the Post Office Protective Association was reinsured and also the Fraternal Order of Oaks.

Additional information on other pages; detailed statements in Compendium Section; Statistical History in departme Xt Life Insurance history; Gains and LOsses in Gain and Loss Exhibit.

Administration and Repute—The company is operated on sound actuarial lines and has had a favorable mortality experience on its mail policies. On its reinsured business the mortality in some years has exceeded the American Experience Table. It has dealt fairly with policyholders and paid all death claims promptly. It holds no deferred dividend funds; none was turned over on its reinsured business. The policy dividends being paid are the Postal's original issues. The company has aimed to maintain as uniform a contribution of dividends as is consistent with the gradual expansion of its business. Its Board of Trustees which control the company are elected by stockholders and number 15. The proportion of profits that may be paid to stockholders is not specified. Beginning with the first year it pays policyholders a guaranteed dividend of 9½% of the annual premium on its present issues. Contingent dividends are paid if earned. The company holds a policy reserve as required by the New York Insurance Law, together with other reserve funds of sizable amount. The semi-annual statement as of June 30, 1923, shows unassigned funds of $253,000, and total gross assets of $10,272,000.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes participating policies only. They provide for "waiver of the premium" in the case of total and permanent disability; and one free medical examination each policy year, at the option of the policyholder, the purpose being to assist the policyholder in prolonging his life by detecting impairment or disease in its incipiency or early states. Besides all the regular standard forms of contracts, including ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life and endowments, it issues group yearly renewable term, convertible term, economic, monthly income on life and endowment forms; joint life; educational endowments, and immediate and deferred annuities; single premium annuities; children's policy; insurance with bank deposit. The company sets no limit to the largest amount it will write on one life, but will retain $15,000. Insurance on women is written on the same basis as men. Colored risks are not solicited.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% on direct Postal Life business. Policies issued prior to 1907, modified preliminary term basis; since then, select and ultimate plan. Of the business in force December 31, 1923, $20,404,290 was full level premium; $386,500 modified preliminary term; $5,615,763 full preliminary term; select and ultimate, $17,063,545.

Officers—William R. Malone, president; Sidney R. Conklin, secretary; John B. Wyckoff, treasurer.

Directors—Franklin Brooks, Elmer Dover, George H. Grone, Frank E. Howe, Frank C. Hoyt, Herbert D. Kingsbury, William R. Malone, David A. McKinlay, Halbert E. Payne, Wesley Sisson, Merritt S. Squires, Theodore C. Visscher.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $1,777,509; participating, $41,692,589; of which $27,879,520 was obtained by the non-agency or direct-by-mail method.

Operates in all states of the United States and Canada. The company is licensed only in New York but accepts applications by mail from all parts of the world.

PRAIRIE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Omaha, Nebraska

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized June 24, 1913 under the laws of Nebraska by the Prairie Finance Company of Omaha. The authorized capital was $150,000. The paid up capital as recorded December 1913 was $133,067. Par value of stock, $10 per share. In 1917 the capital stock was reduced to $100,000, at which time the surplus amounted to $28,900. The capital on December 31, 1923 was $100,000.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—Dr. W. R. McGrew, was elected president of the company in 1917. Its first vice-president T. W. Blackburn, has an exceptionally extensive knowledge of insurance. Under its present management, this company has shown conservative, but solid growth. It has recently launched an expansion movement which gave it a small volume of business in Colorado. This broadening of effort beyond its customary confines of Iowa and Nebraska is indicative of progressive disposition; but premium income and insurance in force both fell off slightly in 1922, having previously shown steady gains since organization. A return to a progressive trend however is noticed in the 1923 statement. The company is proprietary in character and writes non-participating business exclusively. Its investments are well secured and remunerative. Operating and business acquisition expenses are about normal. Mortality rate is very favorable, the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Its actuarial methods are of high standard. Policy contracts include double indemnity and disability features. All business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment including ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; continuous premium and 20-payment endowment at age 60; continuous premium and 20-payment endowment at age 65; endowment at age 79; 10 and 20-year convertible term; decreasing premium on 20-payment life with optional endowment form; policies with special premium first 5 years; joint life policies. Maximum amount written, no limit; retained, $5,000. Women are insured on all forms except term, limit $5,000, with disability and double indemnity granted in certain cases, at same rates as apply to men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $5,655,753.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, preliminary term (Illinois standard).

Officers—W. R. McGrew, president; T. W. Blackburn, L. R. Thornburg, vice-presidents; M. J. Flynn, treasurer; H. L. McGrew, secretary; W. R. McGrew, medical director.

Directors—W. R. McGrew, T. W. Blackburn, M. J. Flynn, H. L. McGrew, W. C. Donaho.

PREBYTERIAN MINISTERS FUND

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

HISTORICAL DATA

This company is the oldest insurance organization in America, antedating the Government of the United States, having been organized and begun business, in Pennsylvania, in the year 1759. Throughout its career, it has operated on the mutual plan, specializing exclusively in protection for the families of ministers of Evangelical denominations. The company was last examined by the Insurance Department of Pennsylvania, as of December 31, 1919.

Administration and Repute—Perry S. Allen, president and actuary of the Presbyterian Ministers Fund has administered its affairs for 30 years past and has succeeded in steadily building up the business and financial strength of the fund. Its entire record of 165 years is noteworthy for its continuous and honorable operation. It employs no agents, new members being obtained by correspondence, the system followed having been devised by president Allen, and having worked out very successfully as is demonstrated by the writing in 1923, of over $5,000,000 of insurance. This plan enables the fund to maintain its expense rate at a very low level. The 1923 income exceeded disbursements by $1,007,672. Prior to 1903, the Fund issued non-participating policies, but none of these are now in force and only annual dividend insurance is sold. The Fund is keeping up an annual record of progress and rendering service in growing degree which is the more notable because of the restricted classification of persons to whom the Fund offers protection. In recent years, the mortality rate has been exceptionally favorable. Its investments are diversified, well secured and remunerative. Actuarial methods are of high standard. The strength of the Fund in assets and reserves is unquestionable and it maintains a large and increasing operating surplus. It has in general an excellent reputation.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies are as follows: ordinary life; 10, 15, and 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; 20-payment cumulative endowment. Maximum amount written, and retained, $15,000. Women are insured at same rates applying to men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating annual dividend, $40,199,406.

Reserve Basis—American 3%, full level premium, all present issues. Some previous issues on American 3½%, and actuaries 4%. McClintock's 3½%, and deferred 3½%, on annuities.

Officers—P. S. Allen, president and actuary; T. Elliot Patterson, vice-president; J. C. Neff, treasurer; M. S. Johnson, secretary; C. R. Craig, M. D., medical director; A. M. Clifford, assistant secretary.

Directors—P. S. Allen, J. G. Bolton, W. P. Fulton, W. S. Furst, George H. Stuart, Jr., M. J. Hyndman, C. N. Ligget, T. E. Patterson, E. Y. Hill, J. H. R. Acker, J. C. Neff.

Operates in Pennsylvania.

Birmingham, Alabama

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized July 24, 1907, in Alabama, and began business September 16, 1907, with an authorized capital of $400,000, par value $10 per share. $100,000 capital stock and $25,000 surplus, which was sold without cost was paid-in, at that time. Later, $41,680 was sold at a cost to the company of from 10 to 20%. In 1923 capital was increased $258,320 to $400,000 by a stock dividend of $141,680 and by sale of $116,640 of new stock, par value $10 per share, at $15 per share and $58,320 was paid in to surplus from premium on new stock sold. In sale of stock entire amount was offered to stockholders and was immediately oversubscribed three for one without any expense to the company. The company was organized by the present president, William D. Jelks, and the management has been the same since organization. No mergers or reinsurances have taken place.

This company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—The company is a stock corporation, but writes both participating and non-participating insurance. It has been capably and economically managed during its existence, and has shown a moderate, but consistent growth. Increased capital in 1923 placed the company in good condition with relation to its protection to policyholders. Its assets are well invested and return a high rate of interest. The predominating investments are mortgage loans. It has ample reserves and surplus and is operated upon a sound actuarial basis. Operating and acquisition costs have been moderate. Death claims have been promptly paid and the company bears a good reputation. The company was examined in 1923 by the Alabama Insurance Department. Their report on same commended the company for the results obtained and the conservative manner in which the company is managed. Business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company's policies are liberal and include disability and double indemnity benefits. Insurance written includes participating endowments, age 85; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowment, endowment at age 65, joint life, single premium life and monthly income policies. Non-participating endowment, age 85; 10, 15 and 20-payment life, 10, 15, and 20-year endowment policies, single premium and 5, 10, 15 and 20-year term convertible and non-renewable. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Husbands can not be made beneficiaries and all policies over $2,500 are reinsured. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividends, $7,409,568; non-participating, $9,823,485.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% select and ultimate or ordinary life, American 3½% modified preliminary term on all others.

Officers—Wm. D. Jelks, president; R. W. Massey, vice-president; W. W. Crawford, treasurer; Ben W. Lacy, secretary; W. G. Harrison, medical director; Cabaniss, Johnston, Cocke and Cabaniss, attorneys.

Administration and Repute—The company's management is experienced through long operation of it on its former basis. It is also progressive of disposition, as demonstrated by its recent change of operating method. It now issues non-cancellable policies and pays sick, accident and death benefits. Along these lines, it has developed a fair volume of business and shown some progress indicative of which are the facts that it paid a dividend both in 1922 and 1923, and substantially increased the volume of premiums written over previous years. Operating surplus is small. The company and its executives are generally in good repute. Assets, December 31, 1923, $90,832; net reserve, $23,390; total liabilities, $57,908; capital, $25,000; net surplus, $7,925; premium received in 1923, $206,194; total income $209,706; weekly benefits paid, $64,677; death claims paid, $11,878; total disbursements, $196,754.

Officers—Chas. O. Finley, president; David M. Welder, vice-president; William E. Corey, secretary-treasurer.

Directors—C. O. Finley, D. M. Welder, W. E. Corey, Irwin Oberholtzer, Wm. W. Stranger.

PROVIDENT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

First National Bank Building, Bismarck, North Dakota

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized March 8, 1915, in North Dakota, and began business June 12. 1916, with an authorized capital of $250,000. O. S. Basford, former insurance commissioner of the State, was one of the incorporators. and J. L. Nedderson, former secretary and actuary of the Wisconsin National Life was also interested in the project. The company proposed to do a surety as well as a life business. Initially subscribed capital was $150,000, of which $66,110 had been paid-in by the end of 1916. On December 31, 1918, the paid-in capital was $135,915. During 1919 the remainder of the $250,000, authorized capital was sold at par, $10 a share, following which the number of shares was reduced by one-half, the par value remaining the same, thereby reducing the paid-in capital to $125,000, at which it has since remained. This reduction of capital effected a transfer of sufficient funds to surplus, to relieve the pressure on the company caused by the pandemic influenza of 1918-1919. In 1921 the word "Life" was added to its title. Total surplus contributed, including the transfer of capital funds, amounts to about $180,266. The Insurance Department of North Dakota last examined the company during 1923.

The company is a member of the following organizations: American Life Convention, National Association of Life Underwriters, State of North Dakota Association of Life Underwriters.

Administration and Repute—This company is managed by executives of experience. Regular annual increases were shown in premium income up to 1921 when the general business depression affected the business to such an extent as to cause decreases. The company is however, financially strong in assets and reserves. It has ample operative surplus, increased substantially in recent years. The company is proprietary in character and issues non-participating insurance exclusively. Its investments are well secured and remunerative. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Operating and business acquisition expenses are about normal. Mortality rate is low and the company has an excellent reputation for promptly paying death claims. Policy contracts include the features of disability and double indemnity. Business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policy forms are ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; a 20-payment life savings accumulation; 5, 10, 15, 20-year convertible term; single premium on whole life and endowment forms; and joint life on ordinary and 20-payment forms. Maximum amount written, $100,000; retained, $5,000. Women are insured on all except term forms, with double indemnity, but not disability, granted at the same rates as apply to men. Colored risks are written under special conditions.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $11,840,072.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, on all issues except child's endowment.

Officers—C. B. Little, president; C. L. Young, vice-president and general counsel; F. L. Conklin, secretary; H. B. Beach, assistant secretary and actuary; J. L. Bell, treasurer; W. H. Bodenstab, medical director.

Directors—J. L. Bell, F. L. Conklin, H. H. Dahl, W. L. Richards, H. H. Steele, W. H. Mann, L. S. Platou, J. E. Davis, P. J. Meyer. C. L. Young, L. B. Hanna, C. B. Little, W. J. Morrish, G. H. Garnett, N. O. Ramstad.

Operates in North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota.

PROVIDENT LIFE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY

725 Broad Street, Chattanooga, Tenn.

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized 1887, in Tennessee, as an assessment league and was operated as such until reincorporation in January, 1910, made it a stock company with an initial paid-in capital of $150,000 and $15,373 of surplus. Too-thirds of original capital was common stock and the balance preferred. There were no promotional expenses. Capital was increased, in 1917, to $200,000 and in 1922 to $300,000, where it now stands. The company originally wrote only accident and health insurance, but in 1917 began writing life. In that year, also, it reinsured the Ordinary life transactions of the Southern Insurance Company, of Tennessee, and later in the same year, it reinsured the industrial accident and health business of the Republic Casualty Company. Stock, par value, $100 a share.

Administration and Repute—This company is carefully managed by capable and experienced executives. Its operations for the past decade have yielded an underwriting profit and it has made a satisfactory growth. In 1920, it entered the million-dollar class in volume of business written. The company has arrangements whereby a considerable volume premium income is derived from factory workers whose employers are authorized by the policyholders to discharge premium obligations directly from the pay rolls. Non-participating insurance only is written and the company is controlled by its stockholders. Surplus is adequate, actuarial methods of the best, investments well selected and remunerative and dividends liberal. Operating costs have been above average but business acquisition and rate of losses have been low. The company was examined by the Insurance Departments of District of Columbia, in 1923 with favorable comment. December 31, 1923, directors owned $150,900 of stock. It has an excellent loss reputation and stands high generally in public regard. Dividends paid since organization amount in cash to $282,888 and stock, $125,000. All business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and accident and health. Policies are all on non-participating plan. Intermediate policies are written in sums from $500 to $2,500. Its life policies are endowments maturing at age 80. It issues regular forms and in addition accelerative limited payments life with endowment option; joint life policies; monthly income policies. Women written at same rates as men; limit, $2,500. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $15,701,233.

PROVIDENT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF PHILADELPHIA

Fourth and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

HISTORICAL DATA

Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia was incorporated as the Provident Life and Trust Company of Philadelphia under the laws of Pennsylvania, March 22, 1865. It commenced business June 30th of the same year with a paid-in capital of $150,000 (par value of stock $100). This was increased in 1873 to $500,000, in 1883 to $1,000,000 and in 1917 to $2,000,000. In each case the increases were paid in fully in cash at par. The company was founded to promote life insurance among members of the Society of Friends in the United States. However it has not confined its operations to Friends alone but has insured other persons of careful habits of life. The company's charter empowered the company, in addition to writing life insurance, to transact a trust business. On December 29, 1922 the company was mutualized under the provisions of Act. No. 103 of the Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the name of the company changed to the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia. The company however maintains unbroken its continuous corporate existence. The trust business which had been transacted under its charter was taken over by a new and entirely separate corporation, Provident Trust Company of Philadelphia. The mutualization plan provided for the retirement of the capital stock ($2,000,000) by exchange, share for share at par for stock in Provident Trust Company, and for the transfer thereto of all the business of the trust department of The Provident Life and Trust, together with the capital and surplus accumulated by that department, and also for payment to the new trust company of a lump sum of $2,577,128 because of relief to the Provident Mutual from payment of the expenses of conducting the trust business, this trust business being taken over by the Provident Trust Company. The plan of mutualization was approved by the insurance commissioner of the State of Pennsylvania, by the stockholders and by the policyholders of the company.

The insurance business of the company has always been conducted on the mutual plan and the net cost of its insurance has been remarkably low. No dividends either in cash or in stock had ever been paid the stockholders from insurance funds. The mutualization of the company was of decided advantage to the policyholders, relieving them of certain taxes and expenses, and should result in an even lower net cost of their insurance.

The company is a member of the Life Agency Officers Association and the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau.

Administration and Repute—This company has been one of the foremost life insurance companies in the United States for over 50 years. It was built upon high ideals and sound actuarial principles. Equitable treatment to policyholders has always been a predominating feature of its business. Its practices have been such during its years of operation that criticism has never been directed to it. It has been most economically managed, with low acquisition and operating costs. Its mortality rate has been consistently low and was long one of the company's advertising features. Its investments are judiciously and conservatively made and yield a good return. Its assets, reserves and reserve funds are adequate and ample to pay the high rate of dividends which has been in vogue for many years and which have made this company one of a remarkably low net premium cost. The company has never issued any kind of business excepting participating annual dividend business. No deferred dividend or special contracts were ever issued by this company. Business written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance including all the regular forms: 10, 15, 20, 25, 30-payment life, endowments at 10, 15, 20, 25, 35 and 40-years, endowments at ages 55, 60, 65, 70, 75-years, various 10, 15 and 20-payment endowments, single premium whole life and endowment policies, 5 and 10-year convertible term, survivorship income, monthly income, joint life and annuities.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% full level premium annuities, McClintock's 3½% and American 3½% on annuity features of continuous instalment certificates.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $657,609,790.

Officers—Asa S. Wing, president; John Way, vice-president; M. Albert Linton, vice-president and associate actuary; Andrew J. Davis, vice-president and general solicitor; David G. Alsop, actuary; Edward W. Marshall, associate actuary; Samuel H. Troth, treasurer; Leonard C. Ashton, secretary and assistant treasurer; Franklin C. Morss, manager of agencies; J. PROVIDERS LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Chicago, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized February 18, 1915, in Illinois, and began business February 19, 1916, with an authorized and paid-in capital of $100,000, and a surplus of $229,000, derived from sale of stock, par value, $10, at $30 and $40 a share. The company was organized by Max. Spiegel, previously with the Metropolitan Life, for the purpose of specializing on industrial business. Mr. Spiegel, as president, and general manager, initially opened 7 district offices in Chicago, and one in Joliet, and proceeded to expand the company's activities beyond the bounds of economy and conservatism. Such activities were not long in causing an investigation, precipitated by the filing of a suit on a charge of insolvency by Samuel Lasker, former superintendent at Joliet and Dr. F. Le Blanc, former medical examiner at Joliet, both stockholders. Examination by the Illinois Insurance Department resulted in the complete severance of Mr. Spiegel's connection with the company. The succeeding management, by the other executives then in control, brought about a reduction of expenses and initiated adherence to an economical and conservative policy of management and business acquisition. Paid-in capital is $145,960, and total of contributed surplus, $481,220.

Administration and Repute—In recent years, this company has shown conservative progress and has been well managed. Premium income advanced steadily, until in 1921, it fell off considerably due to the general business depression. But the business of 1922 continued through 1923, reestablished the progressive trend. The largest growth of business has been in the ordinary line, industrial department having become of minor importance, following the change of management in 1916, and having ceased writing that kind of business in 1919. The company is financially strong in assets and reserves and has an ample, although small operating surplus. It is strictly proprietary in character and writes non-participating business exclusively. In 1922, it paid a small dividend to stockholders. Investments are well secured, for the most part in bonds, and are remunerative. Actuarial methods are standard. Management and business acquisition expenses are about normal. Mortality rate is low and the company is in good repute for paying death claims promptly. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. They include the features of disability and double indemnity. All business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—The regular forms of life and endowment including 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; 20-payment life with cash valuation; joint life policies; single premiums policies; childs' policy. Maximum amount written, $20,000; retained $10,000. Women are insured without disability and with certain restrictions at the same rates as apply to men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating ordinary, $9,324,590; industrial, $41,444.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, full level premium, preliminary term and modified preliminary term (Illinois standard on all ordinary business). Standard industrial, 3½%, on industrial business.

Officers—Dr. M. F. Bozinch, president; J. T. Fortin, V. Ruszner, vice-presidents; J. S. Bartkowski, secretary and treasurer.

Directors—Dr. M. F. Bozinch, J. T. Fortin, J. S. Bartowski, Victor Kuszner, H. Becker, Wm. E. Habel, Wm. V. Wexberg, F. Biedka, H. J. Hillebrand, William Brezezinski, I. Bartowski.

Operates in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan.

PRUDENTIAL INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA

Newark, New Jersey

HISTORICAL DATA

John F. Dryden founded this company in 1873. For some years he had been a student of life insurance. After perusing a report made to the Legislature of Massachusetts, by Elizur Wright, Mr. Dryden became convinced that a system of insurance that would embrace the industrial masses as well as the more fortunate classes, could be formulated that could be applied quite as successfully and even more so in this country than it had been in England. He devoted himself to formulating such a system, in the early seventies completed it, and with the encouragement of a number of prominent business men and manufacturers prepared to make the applied test of it through the establishment of The Widows' and Orphans' Friendly Society, 1873, in Newark, New Jersey, which was then as now a great industrial center. During the next two years, in which the name was changed (1875), to The Prudential Friendly Society all that was done was in the nature of further experiment and preparation for the real work that was to be done by the permanently organized institution which, under its present name, began business in 1876, although the first industrial application was written November 10, 1875. John F. Dryden, was not elected president until 1881. First ordinary policy was written, January 19, 1886. Closely associated with Mr. Dryden in the establishment and up-building of the Prudential was Dr. Leslie D. Ward, for many years vice-president. Edgar B. Ward, for many years second vice-president and general counsel, took a prominent part in the company's affairs in its early days. On the death of the founder, his son, Forrest F. Dryden became president and held that office until his retirement in 1922 when he was succeeded by Edward D. Duffield. Original capital authorized was $25,000. This was increased at intervals to $2,000,000, only $91,000 of which was paid-in cash, the balance consisting of capitalized profits. Mutualization of the company was authorized by the passage of a bill drafted and presented by the company to the New Jersey Legislature in 1913. Capital stock was appraised at a valuation of $455 a share, par value of which was $50. This appraisal was approved both by stockholders and policy holders. Procedure with the purchase of stock from stockholders was authorized early in 1915, and all of it except $110,163 is now deposited in trust with Austen Colgate, trustee for the policyholders of the company. Mutualization actually dates from 1915. Under the authorized schedule of mutualization capital stock will be wholly retired as soon as all of it has been surrendered. Meanwhile dividends declared on stock held on trust are payable to policyholders. Such cash dividends returned to policyholders since 1915, were, on December 31, 1923, in aggregate, $3,253,165. The Insurance Departments of New Jersey, New York, Massachusetts, Indiana and Missouri examined the company in 1921. It was last examined during 1922, by the New Jersey Department.

The company is a member of the following organizations: Association of Life Insurance Presidents, Association of Life Insurance Medical Directors, and Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association.

Administration and Repute—No single insurance institution has risen to greater eminence than the Prudential as an instrumentality of service to mankind, dually strong in its avowed and long proven, splendid service to the policyholder and service to the nation. John F. Dryden's practical vision was the harbinger of remarkable success attained throughout this company's career by the hard work and strict adherence to high principles on the part of its thoroughly capable and experienced executives. Results show that the Prudential has more industrial insurance than any other company in the world. At the end of 1923, the company had in its possession one billion dollars of assets. It has an efficiently organized and harmoniously operating agency system and in 1922 and 1923, business acquisition costs were lower than those of any other industrial life company transacting business in the United States. The Prudential has moreover a greater number of outstanding, comparatively small, individual loans on real estate than any other company. Its activities in relief of the post-war housing shortage were far-reaching, an estimate of 18,729 families having been materially benefited by sharing in the company's mortgage loans which in 1923 showed a total of $138,963,000. The company is national in scope of operation but still progressive of disposition as evidenced by the fact that in 1921, new industrial departments were opened in various Southern States results from which have been gratifying. On the participating plan only, the company writes industrial, ordinary, intermediate and group business. It also issues annuities. Non-participating business only was written between August 1, 1907 and April 4, 1915; prior to the earlier date both classes were written and since the later date only participating. All these policies are now receiving annual dividends, whether issued as participating or not. The net cost of insurance to Prudential policyholders is on the average unprecedentedly low. Control of the company is vested in its policyholders through Austin Colgate, trustee. The company has diversified, well secured and remunerative investments. Its actuarial methods are of the highest standard. Mortality rate is very moderate both in the industrial and ordinary departments and the company has a most estimable reputation for promptly paying death claims. Policy contracts are of most attractive and liberal character, ordinary carrying with it disability and double indemnity and industrial forms, the former only.

Classes of Insurance Written—In ordinary business the company's leading forms are as follows: whole life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; 20-payment, 30-year endowment; 20-payment life with pure endowment additions; 10-year term; single premium on ordinary and various endowments; 15-year term convertible within 12 years; endowments at age 60 and age 65; joint life on ordinary, 20-payment life and 20-year endowment forms; and various annuities. Maximum amount written and retained, $250,000. Women are insured on all plans; term forms open to business women only; limits, $1,000 in case of women without children; $5,000 otherwise; single women are granted disability and double indemnity.

Group Insurance—Minimum age, 15. Minimum number of group, 50. Individual risk, minimum, $500; maximum, $5,000. Wholesale insurance is issued for groups of less than 50. Not over $3,000 on basis of personal statement included in application, without medical examination, regardless of age. PUBLIC LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized December 16, 1918, in Illinois. It was licensed May 5, 1920, and began business the same day. Of the original authorized capital of $500,000, initial paid-in capital amounted to $100,000, with surplus of $150,000. During 1920, the paid-in capital was increased to $200,000, and in February, 1922, a stock dividend of $300,000 was declared, thereby increasing paid up capital stock to $500,000, at which it has since remained. A. G. Clover, who became president of the company, was its principal organizer. Stock, par value of $1 a share, was sold at the following prices: $1.25, $2.00, $3.00, $5.00 and shares of the second issue at $10.00. Stockholders are about 7,000 in number and are practically all residents of Chicago. Promotional expenses were limited to 15%, of stock sale price. It was originally proposed that the company should write health and accident insurance, also as soon as the second issue of stock had been paid-in. Louis Narowetz succeeded Alfred Clover as president in 1922, the latter becoming chairman of the Board of Directors. The company was examined by the Illinois Insurance Department during 1919.

Administration and Repute—Business volume of this company has shown development both in advancing premium income and in commensurately increasing amount of insurance in force. It has satisfactory strength of assets, maintains proper reserves and has an adequate operating surplus. The company's management in its initial year of business allowed the operating and business acquisition expenses to become excessive. A slightly improved record in this respect was shown for 1922 and continued improvement in 1923. Disbursements for 1921 and 1922 were considerably over income, as a result of apparent laxity in methods of administration but in 1923 there was improvement in this respect also. Assets are fairly well secured, but not largely remunerative. Undue publicity emanating from stockholders altercations over the company's internal affairs has had a deletereous effect on its general standing. The company is proprietary in character, writing only non-participating insurance, both industrial and ordinary, the latter predominating. Disability and double indemnity features are not included in policy forms.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment including: ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; and endowments at ages 60, 65, 70, 75, 80 and 85. Maximum amount written, and retained, $100,000. Women are insured on all except term forms at the same rates as apply to men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, ordinary, $5,819,840; industrial, $270,875.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, Illinois standard. Standard industrial 3½%.

Officers—Louis Narowetz, chairman of Board of Directors; Fred. H. Welsch, president; Joseph Damiani, vice-president; A. L. Linder, secretary; Maximilian J. St. George, general manager and general counsel.

PUBLIC SAVINGS INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA

147 East Market Street, Indianapolis, Indiana

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized July 6, 1909, in Indiana, under the Indiana Compulsory Deposit Law, and began business January 3, 1910, with an authorized capital of $500,000. H. Thomas Head was first president, and George W. Head vice-president. Both had had considerable insurance experience. With them were initially associated on the directorate: Dr. M. C. Leeth, J. L. Kimmel, Chris. A. O'Connor, L. G. Cummins, George Vondersaar, and Bernard Korbly. Paid-in capital at the end of the first year of business was $100,000. Capital increases were paid-in from time to time; but, in 1919, following a reduction of par value of stock from $5 to $2.50 a share, paid-in capital was $144,505, at which it has since remained. Surplus contributed totalled $354,475, including the $144,505 transferred from stock by the 1919 par value reduction. The company acquired a substantial industrial business in 1910 by reinsuring the industrial section of the Peoples Life, Frankfort, Indiana, and the Indiana Industrial Life, Terre Haute, Indiana.

The company is a member of the following organizations: American Life Convention and Indiana Association of Legal Reserve Life Companies.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed and shown a progressive disposition with a steadily increasing premium income which passed the million-dollar mark in 1921, and continues in the 1923 business to show a substantial upward trend which is also commensurately true of its record of insurance in force. The business of the company in 1923 surpassed by substantial margins the records of any previous year, and it closed the year with over $74,000,000 of insurance outstanding. Industrial insurance is the company's predominating line, but its ordinary business is also thriving. The company is proprietary in character and writes only nonparticipating business. In recent years stockholders have received dividends; the aggregate cash, $43,353. It is financially strong in assets and reserves, and has an adequate operative surplus. Investments for the most part, well secured in mortgage loans, are nicely remunerative. Actuarial methods are of high standard. For such kind of business, operating and business acquisition expenses are fairly moderate. Mortality rate is favorable and the company is in excellent repute for promptly paying death claims. The features of disability and double indemnity are included in policy contracts. All business is written through agency managers.

Classes of Insurance Written—The leading policies include whole life; 20 and 30-payment life; 20 and 30-year endowments; preferred life $2,500 form; coupon policies on whole life; 20-payment and 20-year endowment forms; intermediate $500 policies on whole life; 20-payment and 20-year endowment; monthly income policies; children's policies. Maximum amount written, $50,000; retained, $10,000. Women are insured on all forms except term and preferred life, with the usual other restrictions, but with double indemnity granted, at the same rates as apply to men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, ordinary, $21,500,433; industrial, $52,680,815.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, (Illinois standard). Standard intermediate 3½%, standard industrial, 3½%, (Juvenile policy).

Officers—E. G. Sourbier, president; W. Scott Deming, vice-president; William M. Elles, second vice-president; C. W. Folz, secretary; W. S. Wenzel, treasurer; T. J. Sourbier, W. J. Hering, assistant secretaries; Clifford H. Folz, actuary; Bernard Korbly, counsel; E. E. Wishard, medical director.

Directors—Wm. M. Elles, Chas. W. Folz, Bernard Korbly, Ed. G. Sourbier, George Vondersaar, Carl G. Winter, W. Scott Deming, T. J. Sourbier, W. S. Wenzel.

Operates in Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and Michigan.

PURITAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

70 Westminster Street, Providence, Rhode Island

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was chartered April 17, 1907 in Rhode Island. The bill of incorporation passed the state legislature with capitalization fixed at $100,000, and the privilege of increase to $1,000,000, and granting the right to engage in life, health and accident insurance. A large number of prominent citizens in Rhode Island were interested in the company, serving on the directorate. The company issued its first policy November 12, 1907. Paid up capital, increased at intervals, amounted to $200,000 in 1920 and has since remained at that amount. Stockholders contributed $107,759, in aggregate surplus. Of this amount $7,500 was returned to stockholders in 1920 and $5,000 in 1921; $6,250 in 1922 and $6,250 in 1923. The Rhode Island Insurance Department has examined the company annually since organization, the last being made in 1924.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed by capable and experienced executives, and has made progress of a slow, but uniform and solid character since organization, notable in its regularity of premium income advances and commensurate increases of insurance in force. It has unquestionable financial strength of assets and reserves and some additional funds especially apportioned. Its operating surplus is ample. It writes participating as well as non-participating business but almost all of its new business for some years has been non-participating. No limit has been placed upon the proportion of earnings payable as dividends to stockholders. It has paid small dividends to policyholders. The company's investments are well secured and remunerative. Actuarial methods are standard. Operating and business acquisition expenses are below average. Mortality rate is favorable and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. All business is written through agency managers and all agents receive agency contracts direct from the company.

The active management of the company is in the hands of a Committee of Management consisting of Clinton C. White, treasurer and secretary, as chairman; the medical director, Edmund D. Chesebro, M. D.; and the actuary, Henry S. Redstone. This committee reports monthly to the executive committee which consists of the president, the treasurer, and five members of the board of directors. The board of directors is composed of the leading men of the state.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of term life and endowment including ordinary; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20 and 30-year endowments; and 20-payment endowment at age 65; a special child's educational fund; life paid up at age 65; annuities, and joint life policies. Maximum amount written, $25,000; retained, $5,000 ($3,000 on term). Women are insured on all forms, except term at the same rates as apply to men. Colored risks are written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $4,469,803; annual dividends, $288,250, quinquennial dividends, $846,230; deferred dividends, $125,250.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% full level premium on term, pure endowment child's educational fund paid up, reversionary additions; full preliminary term on 20-payment life; modified preliminary term on all others. McClintock's 4%, on annuities.

Officers—Charles Perry, president; Henry D. Sharpe, first vice-president; Edward H. Rathbun, second vice-president; Clinton C. White, treasurer and secretary; E. D. Chesebro, M. D., medical director; Henry S. Redstone, actuary and assistant secretary.

Directors—Walter Callender, Edmund D. Chesebro, Lyman B. Goff, A. J. Pothier, Charles Perry, Edward H. Rathbun, Henry G. Thresher, Clinton C. White, Dutee W. Flint, Webster Knight, Henry F. Lippitt, Edgar J. Lownes, Stephen O. Metcalf, Henry D. Sharpe, Eben N. Littelfield, William P. Sheffield.

THE QUICK PAYMENT OLD LINE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

St. Louis, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized August 7, 1914, in Missouri, and began business August 17, of that year, with an authorized and subscribed capital of $100,000, of which the capital paid-in amounted to $20,000, at which it has since remained. In 1916, stockholders paid-in $1,600 to surplus, and $14,360 in 1918.

Administration and Repute—As a very small company writing non-participating industrial business exclusively, this company has been managed in such a way as to produce gradual development in the up-building of premium volume and insurance in force. It has, at the same time, annually increased its assets which give it satisfactory financial security. It has adequate operating surplus. It paid an initial, small dividend to policyholders in 1921. Investments are well secured and remunerative. Operating expenses are about normal. Mortality rate is low and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. The company operates upon the agency plan.

Classes of Insurance Written—Industrial insurance on the weekly premium plan, including both white and colored risks, but in the case of the latter, policies are rated up 5 years. Usual forms of whole life, endowment and term are written. Colored risks are accepted.

REINSURANCE LIFE COMPANY OF AMERICA

Hubbell Building, Des Moines, Iowa

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated August 15, 1917, in Iowa. The company had, and has, an authorized capital of $500,000 divided into 10,000 shares at a par value of $50 each. The company commenced business August 18, 1918. The company was organized by the late Dr. J. M. Emery, who was at that time one of the country's prominent consulting actuaries. He had associated with him, H. B. Hawley, H. H. Stipp, Alex Fitzhugh, Dr. Carl Stutzman, and just about the same board of directors as is now serving the company. In October of 1921, R. M. Malpas, was elected secretary of the company and served in that capacity to January 17, 1923, when he was elected president. He was succeeded in the secretaryship by Dr. E. L. Marshall.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention and the Institute of Actuaries.

Administration and Repute—Under capable and experienced management, this company has shown steady and substantial amount of development. A number of first rate middle-western companies early agreed to place their reinsurance with this company and it has justified their confidence in the connection. Strength of assets and reserves has been rapidly built up, assets passing the million-dollar mark. Surplus is ample and has also been advanced regularly, amounting on December 31, 1923, to $500,000. Business of recent years has warranted the paying of dividends of substantial amount. Investments have been well selected and are remunerative. Actuarial methods are of the best. The company is economical and efficient in its aggressive business acquisition efforts. Mortality rate has been low. Claims are promptly settled. The company is generally in excellent repute.

The company confines its business to the reinsurance of life, both standard and sub-standard, double indemnity and total disability business. It has never issued a policy direct.

Classes of Insurance Written—Exclusively reinsurance of life business, both standard and sub-standard, on one year term basis or co-insurance on forms of 1, 5 and 10-year renewable term policies, with double indemnity and total disability. Maximum amount reinsured, no limit; retained, $15,000.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Life reinsurance, $35,299,068.

Additional information on other pages; detailed statements in Compendium Section; Statistical History in department Life Insurance history; Gains and Losses in Gain and Loss Exhibit.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, full level premium, (Illinois standard).

Officers—H. B. Hawley, chairman of the board; R. M. Malpas, president; Alex Fitzhugh, vice-president and treasurer; E. L. Marshall, secretary; Carl Stutzman, medical director.

RELIANCE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Fifth Avenue and Wood Street, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized March 31, 1903, in Pennsylvania, and began business May 4, of that year, with $1,000,000 paid-in capital and a like amount of initially contributed surplus. The company originally wrote only life insurance but in 1912 expanded its field to include accident and health lines. Stock, par value, $100 a share.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—Capable and experienced management has energetically built up a large volume of business for this company. Its Board of Directors include some of the most reputable and influential men in Pittsburgh. This company has been one of the most successful life insurance companies. Its growth has been substantial and consistent. Life insurance in force has shown increases yearly since organization. It passed the $100,000,000 mark in 1918 and the $200,000,000 mark in 1921 three years later, an exceptional achievement. Assets reserves, premium income and surplus have grown commensurately. The underwriting of the company for the past twenty years has been in the hands of its present vice-president and secretary, H. G. Scott. Since beginning its casualty lines, its accident and health business has shown an underwriting profit with moderate losses and expenses. Stockholders control the company and the amount of earnings payable to them is not limited. Both non-participating and participating insurance is written. The company has an adequate surplus. Its actuarial practices are thoroughly sound; its investments high grade and remunerative. Its operating costs, business acquisition expenses and the mortality rate have all been low. It has an estimable loss paying reputation and is generally in high standing. The Pennsylvania Insurance Department examined the company in 1922, without adverse comment.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and accident and health. Casualty coverage is effected only in conjunction with life policies. All usual forms of policies are written and in addition, joint life on whole life, 20-payment and 20-year endowment; single premium on ordinary and endowment; continuous monthly instalments payable for life to beneficiary, and face amount at beneficiary's death; guaranteed monthly income on whole life and 20-payment mortuary addition on life and 20-year endowment; educational endowments; child endowment, all ages 10, 15 and 20-year, 20-payment 30-year endowment; convertible 5, 10, 15 and 20-year term. Women are written at same rates as men but an extra premium is charged in case of term policies; disability granted is insured is self-supporting.

REPUBLIC LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF DES MOINES, IOWA

Des Moines, Iowa

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized June 14, 1919, in Iowa, and began business August 5, of that year. The principal organizer was C. S. Byrkit, formerly deputy insurance commissioner of Iowa. The company is purely mutual, operating under Chapter 6, Title IX, Code of Iowa 1897, and amendments thereto.

Administration and Repute—This is a small company with business as yet confined to Iowa. Premium income doubled in 1923 over that of 1922, and insurance in force increased commensurately. During 1922, $7,500 and 1923, $4,500 was contributed as a guaranty fund. Interest payments on the guaranty fund contributed amounted to $1,963.89 in 1923 though no record of the account is shown in the company's liabilities. The company states that this is not a liability but a contribution and bears interest as agreed with Insurance Commissioner and can only be retired on his approval when surplus is ample. Operating and business acquisition expenses are at present high, but under the direction of M. B. Alldredge, president since December 1921, efficient management has tended to reduce them to normal upon the acquisition of a substantial business volume. Mr. Alldredge is an insurance executive of considerable experience and his associates are business men of high standing. The mortality rate has been very low, and the company is in excellent repute for promptly paying death claims. Assets are small, though doubled in 1923. Surplus is small. All business is written through general agents. The company was examined in 1923 by the Iowa Insurance Department.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment including: 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; endowment at age 85; whole life paid up at age 65; endowment age at 65; 5, 10,15 and 20-year term; life income at age 65 on $5,000 policy; monthly income policies and child's endowment. Maximum amount written $10,000; retained, $5,000. Women are insured on all except term forms, limit $20,000, and with certain other restrictions, at the same rates as apply to men. Colored risks are accepted upon the 20-year endowment plan.

Sub-standard—Some sub-standard insurance is written when reinsurance is obtainable.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating annual dividend, $949,138; nonparticipating, $20,850.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, (Illinois standard).

Officers—M. B. Alldredge, president; Max B. Ruffcorn, vice-president; J. E. Keck, secretary and treasurer; F. W. Lehmann, Jr., general counsel; F. E. Foulk, M. D., medical director; H. R. Peasley, M. D., assistant medical director.

Directors—M. B. Alldredge, Max B. Ruffcorn, J. E. Keck, F. W. Lehmann, Jr., F. E. Foulk.

RESERVE LOAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Indianapolis, Indiana

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was first organized in Indiana, and began business in 1897, operating as an association on the assessment basis. Four years later, it was reincorporated as a mutual legal reserve company and continued successfully to operate as such until capitalization was brought about by its policyholders, who by vote authorized the incorporation of the company on its present stock legal reserve basis, December 11, 1909. Original paid-in capital was $100,000. This was increased to $200,000 in 1922 by a stock dividend. Stock, par value, is $10 a share.

The company is a member of the following organization: American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed and has met with exemplary success throughout its career, having started with no assets and having accumulated over $7,000,000 of assets with also at present over $750,000 surplus to policyholders. A very substantial increase in premium income resulted from the operations of the company in 1923 when increases were also made in every other item of importance. The insurance in force which has steadily increased advanced over 10% last year. It has firm financial strength of assets, reserves and funds set aside in special reserve and it has a very substantial operating surplus. Investments are well secured, farm mortgages predominating, and they yield a regular and fair remuneration. The experience of the company in its mortgage loan investments indicates careful supervision and excellent judgment. Actuarial methods are of the best. Operating and business acquisition expenses are below average. Mortality rate is low and death claims are paid promptly. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. They include the features of disability and double indemnity. All business is written through general agents. In 1923 it was jointly examined by the Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Missouri and Iowa Insurance Departments who commented favorably on the company's dealings with its policyholders. Their report states: "In the opinion of your examiners the company is to be commended for its promptness in the settlement of all just claims."

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment including: 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; 10 and 20-year term renewable and convertible; guaranteed coupon additions on ordinary and 20-payment forms; 20-payment life with income benefit; 5-year special term policy; single premium life; joint life; state deposit bonds and beneficiary insurance; monthly income policies and children's policies. It writes sub-standard as well as standard risks. Maximum amount written, $50,000; retained, $10,000. Women are insured on all plans, limit married, $2,500; single, $5,000; disability allowed under certain conditions, at same rate applying to men. Colored risks are not written.

ROMAN STANDARD LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Manistee, Michigan

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated July 24, 1912, and began business October 1, of the same year. It was organized by interests identified with the Modern Romans, a fraternal society. The company has an authorized and paid-in capital of $100,000 with a par value of $50 per share. The original stock was sold to create a surplus of $5,000. The organization expenses included $3,000 commission on sale of stock and $344 of other expenses. The company has always been under the same management, and has never reinsured or merged with any other company.

Administration and Repute—While the company's growth has not been rapid, it has been steady. Surplus is small, but there is ample assets and reserves in considering the outstanding insurance. The mortality rate has been low, death claims have been promptly paid and the company has been economically and satisfactorily managed. Sound actuarial practices are in vogue. The company is strictly proprietary. Dividends are limited to 4% and one-half the profits thereafter. A dividend of 6% was paid in 1923 making the total to stockholders since organization $51,500. It would seem to have been the wiser course in

ROYAL UNION LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Seventh and Grand Aves., Des Moines, Ia.

HISTORICAL DATA

This company is founded upon the merger of the Royal Union Mutual Life Insurance Company and the State Life Insurance Company of Iowa, effected unanimously at a special meeting of the policyholders of the two companies December 31, 1923. Each party to the merger had been financially strong and the combination gave promise of making the Royal Union one of the largest and most successful western companies. The company has a capital stock paid in of $250,000 and surplus of $357,734. The company's history is well rooted in the success of its two antecedents, the elder Royal Union Mutual, having been organized March 15, 1886 in Iowa, and having maintained an exemplary record of business throughout its career. The State Life of Iowa was organized December 18, 1907 in Iowa and commenced business August 2, 1919. It is on the basis of this latter company's charter that the new Royal Union records its business history. M. J. O'Donnell and Leo. C. Webster were back of the State Life of Iowa with its authorized capitalization of $1,000,000. The original officers were: president, J. P. O'Malley, president of the American Trust and Savings Bank; vice-president, John A. Elliott, cashier of the Commercial Savings Bank; vice-president, Wm. Koch, a successful printing business executive; secretary and counsel, C. L. Snyder, prominent Des Moines attorney; treasurer, J. C. Kirby, cashier of the American Trust and Savings Bank. T. F. Wallace and Roy Beery were in charge of the promotion. The company began business August 2, 1919, with a paid-in capital of $564,350. Stock, par value, $100, was sold at prices of $150 to $200 per share, the premium derived from stock sale furnishing an initial surplus of $105,813. When the present management took charge of the Company in February, 1921, they found a surplus of approximately $56,000 and in order to secure the necessary funds to carry out their program of rapid expansion through direct writing of new insurance, and the reinsuring of other companies having desirable insurance risks and assets, the capital was reduced in March, 1922, to $204,705, which released $476,350 of the former capital to surplus. As the reduction of the capital below $250,000 would disqualify the company from entering and operating in some states, the capital was increased to $250,000 in December, 1922, through the sale of additional stock at par to the stockholders in an amount not to exceed 25% of their holdings. The State Life has effected the following reinsurances: 1921, the Surety Fund Life, Minneapolis, Minnesota; 1922, the life business of the Union Life and Accident, Lincoln, Nebraska, and also the entire business of the Occidental Mutual Benefit Association, Salina, Kansas. The Iowa, Kansas and Utah Insurance Departments examined the company as of December 31, 1922, with favorable comment by the examiners. Following the merger of the State Life of Iowa with the Royal Union Mutual, the Iowa Insurance Department early in 1924 made examination of the Royal Union Life.

Administration and Repute—This company has drawn together from its two sources of origin insurance executives of long experience and large capabilities. Its management is accordingly of sound and progressive dispositions. The consolidated company started off with $110,000,000 insurance in force, which was calculated to reduce the pro rata cost of overhead expense to every policyholder. Policyholders' contracts in the former companies were not disturbed but rather strengthened in value of protection offered. A larger per cent of new blood in the company each year was figured to cut down the mortality cost and enable the company to increase its dividends, thereby reducing the net cost of insurance to policyholders. The two merged companies had covered different territories, the State Life being largely in the western and northern states, and the Royal Union in the eastern and southern states. This fact accounted for the total absence of conflict in the uniting of their agency forces which, under the one management, should have capacity for much larger production. Continuing the definite schedule of expansion followed by its fore-runners, the Royal Union should become one of the largest and strongest companies in the west. Its ample surplus furnishes excellent opportunity for execution of its broad plan of expansion and activity. Assets are well invested and yield a substantial profit. The company is financially strong in reserves as well as assets. Actuarial methods are standard. Operating and business acquisition expenses in 1923 were average. The mortality rate is low and death claims are paid promptly. Standard forms are used for policy contracts which include the features of disability and double indemnity.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating taken over by reinsurance, $811,780; non-participating, $32,499,230; assessment taken over by reinsurance, $3,730,832; Royal Union business, non-participating, $1,304,325; annual dividend, $60,137,805; deferred dividend, $10,963,821.

Reserve Basis—American, 3½%, full level premium and modified preliminary term on all issues since October 1, 1907. Actuaries 4%, all issues prior to October 1, 1907. American 3½% on all coupons payable under guaranteed allotment policies. Annuities on Danish Government Tables 3½%. The Reserve Basis on State Life of Iowa is as follows: American 3½%, modified preliminary term, (Illinois standard), and preliminary term on all legal reserve issues, except a portion of surety fund reinsurance on American 4%. Actuaries 4%, on assessment group.

Officers—A. C. Tucker, president; William Koch, Wilbur M. Johnson, vice-presidents; D. C. Costello, secretary; G. Turner, treasurer.

Directors—A. C. Tucker, William Koch, D. C. Costello, W. G. Turner, D. H. McKee, F. E. Shane, J. J. Shambaugh, C. J. Locker, Frank Shane, Dr. C. M. Whicker, R. F. Lee, B. M. Kirke, F. L. Tucker, W. G. Hunter, W. C. Barron.

ST. JOSEPH LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Seventh and Felix Streets, St. Joseph, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated October 31, 1913, under the laws of Missouri, and commenced business at St. Joseph, Missouri on November 18, 1923. It has an authorized capital of $100,000, and an initial surplus of $50,000. The par value of the stock is $100, and was sold at $160; $10,000 being assigned to the promoters for organization expenses. Among the incorporators were its present president, A. L. McPherson, formerly with the Bankers Life of Lincoln, and Walter W. Head, its present vice-president. Stockholders were limited to 30 in number.

Administration and Repute—This company is strictly a proprietary one and all profits are due stockholders. The company writes the majority of insurance upon the deferred dividend plan although it has a small amount of annual dividends and non-participating insurance in force. The company has been very conservatively managed and has grown slowly, but steadily and soundly. The management is a very capable one, and has been in the same hands since organization. Many of the officers and directors who were with the company as principal promoters and first officers are still in its official family. Operating expenses and acquisition costs have been and are very low. Dividends have been paid to stockholders during the last few years at the rate of 6% per annum. A fair volume of business is transacted and with economical management

ST. LOUIS MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

3640 Washington Boulevard, St. Louis, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized November 23, 1857, in Missouri, and began business in January 1858, as the German Mutual Life Insurance Company, operating on the purely mutual basis, which has been adhered to ever since. Its present title was adopted by an act of the Legislature in 1919.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—Under sound and conservative management, this company has progressed, but its growth has been very slow. It has, however, shown more rapidity of increase in recent years and has built up a substantial volume of insurance in force. It is thoroughly strong in assets which are securely invested and yielding a satisfactory return of interest. Operating surplus is ample. Operating and business acquisition expenses are low and have been decreased in recent years. Mortality rate is low and the company pays death claims promptly. Policyholders control the company and it writes participating annual dividend business exclusively. The features of double indemnity and disability are covered by rider attached. All business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies include ordinary life; 10, 15, 18, and 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; 10-year convertible term; 20-payment 30 and 35-year endowments; continuous monthly income policies; and annuities. Maximum amount written, $25,000; retained, $10,000. Women are insured on limited payment and endowment forms, limit $5,000, at same rates as apply to men. Colored risks are not solicited.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating annual dividend, $9,460,583.

Reserve Basis—Actuaries 4%, on all policies numbered 1 to 1885 inclusive. American 3%, all policies, 1886 to 2882 inclusive. American 3½%, full level premium all policies after 1883. In 1924 the company adopted the Illinois standard modified preliminary term 3½%.

SAN JACINTO LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

San Jacinto Life Building, Beaumont, Texas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized February 23, 1914, in Texas, and began business May 9 of that year, with a paid-in capital of $100,000 and a surplus of $40,000. The officers and directors, from among the most prominent men in that section of the State, were H. M. Hargrove, president (actively in charge of the company's affairs during and since its organization); Ed. Paggi, and J. J. Nathan, vice-presidents; E. E. Townes, acting secretary and general counsel; B. R. Norvell, treasurer and Dr. D. S. Wier, medical director. Capital was increased at intervals until in 1918, the paid up amount reached $200,000, at which it has since remained. Total contributed surplus was $90,000. Stock, par value, is $100 a share.

Administration and Repute—By dint of careful and conservative, but simulatneously energetic management on the part of President Hargrove and his associate executives, this company has made a record of steady progress except when premium volume fell off slightly during the general business depression of 1921. Operations in 1922 produced a return to consistent gains and resumption of dividend payments to stockholders. In 1923 the company successfully continued its progression and increases were shown in all important items. Financial strength of the company is assured in its firmly built up assets and reserves. It has also ample operating surplus. Investments are well selected and yield a fair return. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Management expenses have decreased for several years and are now moderate and indicative of increasing efficiency. Mortality rate is low and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. The company's policies are equitable and attractive and include the features of disability and double indemnity. All business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies include ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; 10, 15 and 20-year term; coupon reduction on ordinary, 20-payment and 20-payment life endowment option; also monthly income; annuities, joint life policies and children's policies. Maximum amount retained, $5,000. Women are insured with no premium less than ordinary life, without disability and double indemnity, at the same rates as apply to men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, ordinary, $15,007,763.

Reserve Basis—Actuaries 4%, and American. 3½%, full level premium and preliminary term, (Illinois standard).

Officers—H. M. Hargrove, president; W. H. Stark, C. R. Moore, I. R. Bordages, J. S. Edwards, vice-presidents; B. R. Norvell, treasurer; Oliver J. Todd, attorney; D. S. Wier, medical director; Chas. H. Stroeck, assistant treasurer; Geo. A. Wells, secretary C. A. Riggs, Kyle Wheelus, assistant secretaries; J. F. Gilbert, agency director.

SCRANTON LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Spruce Street and Adams Avenue, Scranton, Pennsyvania

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized October 30, 1908, in Pennsylvania, and began business at once with $300,000 paid-in capital out of $1,000,000 capital authorized. Commencing operation on a legal reserve basis as a joint stock life company it took over, through a process of absorption and reincorporation, the business of the Scranton Mutual Life Insurance Company which had been established since August 29, 1907. Assimilation of the mutual business was economically accomplished, due to the fact that it had charged adequate rates and the volume of business in excess of $7,000,000 which had been built up, had been entirely, though by a mutual concern, written on the full legal-reserve plan. The Scranton Life was thus able to start its career with an annual premium income of over $300,000. The contract of transfer of the risks of the Scranton Mutual to the Scranton Life fully safeguarded the rights of both companies and consequently amply protected policyholders. Initially, $200,000 of the company's capital was placed in the hands of a trustee. This stock was absorbed under options, the premium on it going to the company by pre-arrangement with the trustee. By the end of 1914, capital had been paid-in to an amount of $340,000, at which it now stands. Capital stock, par value, is $10 a share.

Administration and Repute—This company has shown a progressive disposition and a good growth, with steadily advancing premium income. Its management, headed by James S. McAnulty, president since organization, is capable and experienced. It writes both participating and non-participating insurance and is controlled by its stockholders. Substantial interests give the company strong backing. There is no restriction on the proportion of profits payable to stockholders. The company follows the soundest acturial practices; has high grade and remunerative investments; moderate expenses of operation, a low mortality rate and an expense of new business only slightly above average. Policy contracts are issued on standard forms. They include disability and double indemnity benefits. The company was examined in 1923 by the Pennsylvania Insurance Department. In their summary is the statement, "the affairs of the company are capably and efficiently managed." All business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary, life, term, endowment in all usual policy contract forms, and in addition the following: ordinary life endowment at age 85; single premium life, 10, 15 and 20-payment life endowment at age 80; joint life on ordinary, 20-payment and 20-year endowment; 20-year endowment bond; annual instalment on ordinary life; monthly income on whole life and 20-payment life; non-renewable 10, 15 and 20-year term; monthly income policies. Women are insured at same rates as apply to men, on endowment plans, with $5,000 limit and disability benefits. Colored risks are not written.

Officers—J. S. McAnulty, president; Alfred E. Connell, vice-president; G. G. Lindsay, M. D., medical director; Walter P. Stevens, vice-president; Madison F. Larkin, treasurer; Joseph F. Lavis, assistant treasurer; W. E. Napier, secretary, E. W. Evans, J. A. H. Gilbert, assistant secretaries; Robert Merriman, actuary.

Directors—James S. McAnulty, Madison F. Larkin, F. W. Wollerton, Mortimer B. Fuller, Alfred E. Connell, Walter P. Stevens, John B. Fassett, W. E. Napier, G. G. Lindsay, M. D.

Operates in Pennsylvania and Delaware.

SECURITY LIFE AND TRUST COMPANY

223 North Main Street, Winston-Salem, North Carolina

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized March 11, 1920, in North Carolina, and began business March 22, of that year, with $1,000,000 of authorized capital of which $150,000 was initially paid-in, and has since remained as the capital. Initial contributed surplus was $75,000, stock par value $100, having been sold at $150 a share. There were no promotional expenses. Capital was increased $100,000 to $250,000 in 1923 by sale of new stock at $200 per share thereby creating $100,000 new surplus paid in. Further increase will be made in 1924. The company was last examined by the Insurance Department of North Carolina, in 1921.

Administration and Repute—This company is well managed by executives of ability and high standing, who have had considerable insurance experience. G. A. Grimsley, president, and C. C. Taylor, secretary, successfully conducted the business of the Security Life and Annuity Company, which was merged with the Jefferson Standard Life and the Greensboro Life, in 1912. These two executives formerly held similar offices in the Jefferson Standard Life. The company is proprietary in character, but writes participating as well as non-participating business. It shows a progressive disposition. Premium income has advanced annually in substantial amounts since organization and insurance in force has increased at a commensurable rate. Particularly substantial increases were made in these items in 1923. The company is financially strong in assets and special reserves and has an ample operating surplus. Investments are well secured and remunerative. Operating and business acquisition expenses are about normal. Mortality rate is favorable. The company in general, has a good reputation and is backed by substantial interests. All business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies include ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; guaranteed option on ordinary, 20-payment life and 20-year endowment; 5 and 10-year term; special $5,000 ordinary life. Additional policy forms include various joint life policies; single premium and endowment on ordinary and endowment forms; endowment at age 65; mortuary dividend addition forms; monthly income policies and children's policies. Maximum amount written, no limit; retained, $7,500. Women are insured on all except term forms with certain other restrictions at the same rates as apply to men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $6,943,275; quinquennial, $1,438,800; non-participating, $2,633,202.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, and full level premium, Illinois standard, American 4%, on guaranteed option policies.

SECURITY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA

Richmond, Virginia

Executive Offices: 209 South La Salle St., Chicago, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized 1902, in Virginia, as the Security Life and Annuity Company of America, located at Woodstock, Virginia. It began business in March of that year under the executive direction of E. D. Newman, president; H. H. Baker, vice-president; John K. Tenner, treasurer; E. L. Shelton, secretary; and F. L. Smart, general manager. Executive headquarters were in Philadelphia. In 1903, an additional deposit of $100,000 was made with the state treasurer of Virginia, and the company qualified as a legal reserve institution having been operated on that basis since inception. It was authorized to write general life business, and following reincorporation with $100,000 paid-in capital in 1903, it was authorized also to write health and accident business, but has not availed itself of this privilege. Executive headquarters were moved to Chicago, in 1906, home office remaining in Richmond, Virginia. The company's present title was adopted in 1907. During 1908, paid-in capital reached $500,000, and contributed surplus about $566,615. Controlling power had passed by purchase to E. E. Duff, W. T. Durbin, W. O. Johnson, P. J. Kiernan, and J. E. Otis, who entered into a 25-year trusteeship with pooled stock. The present trusteeship is composed of E. A. Bancroft, W. T. Durbin, G. C. Gale, O. W. Johnson and J. E. Otis. Paid-in capital was reduced to $220,000 in 1913, at which figure it has since remained. The $280,000 of reduction was paid back to stockholders in cash.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed and has shown a progressive disposition and steady, though conservative progress. Premium income has advanced more rapidly in recent years, having passed the million-dollar mark in 1920, and since continued its upward trend with commensurate advances of insurance in force. The company is financially strong in assets and reserves and has an adequate operating surplus. Its 1922 business warranted the payment of a dividend to stockholders after a period of no dividends since 1918 and another was paid in 1923; aggregate cash of dividends since organization, $138,000. The company writes non-participating insurance exclusively at this time. Its investments are well secured and remunerative. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Management and business acquisition expenses are about normal. Mortality rate is favorable and death claims are paid promptly. The company's contract forms include the features of disability and double indemnity.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies issued include: 10, 15 and 20-payment life, the latter becoming endowment at age 85; straight endowment at age 85; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; 10, 15 and 20-year renewable and convertible term; special guaranteed cash 20-payment form; and other policies also, including single premium whole life; 20-payment diminishing premium; monthly income on ordinary endowment at age 85, 20-payment, and 20-year endowment, joint life on whole life, 20-payment and 20-year endowment form; and annuities. Maximum amount written, $50,000; retained, $10,000. Women are insured on all forms except term, limit $5,000, with disability and double indemnity granted, at the same rates as apply to men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $45,862,739; annual dividend, $10,500; deferred dividend, $1,151,750.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, full level premium, preliminary term and modified preliminary term. Annuities on American 3½%.

Officers—O. W. Johnson, president and treasurer; S. W. Goss, vice-president; J. C. Seitz, secretary and actuary; O. W. Johnson, treasurer; C. B. Irwin, M. D., medical director; F. W. Bull, general counsel.

Directors—E. A. Bancroft, C. A. Carlisle, Irving Randall, G. W. Dixon, Fletcher M. Durbin, G. C. Gale, P. A. Myers, E. D. Newman, J. E. Otis, O. W. Johnson, W. M. Johnson.

THE SECURITY MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

12th and O Streets, Lincoln, Nebraska

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized October 3, 1895, at Fremont, Nebraska, as a mutual company to do business upon the stipulated premium plan. Among the incorporators were R. B. Schneider and F. L. Esmay, the first president and secretary. The company was promoted by contributions of money from time to time by the directors. These amounts at no time exceeded $5,000, and were all returned within six years. November 18, 1898, the company removed its office to Lincoln, Nebraska, and changed its method of doing business from a stipulated premium plan to a legal reserve plan. Though transacting a legal reserve business, Nebraska had no law providing for the organization of legal reserve companies up to 1903. Following the passage of that law in Nebraska, the company was reincorporated under it. The company has changed the personnel of its management and directors several times in its career. There have, however, been no amalgamations, mergers, or reinsurances of other companies.

This company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company is at the present time, capably managed. It is purely mutual, and all profits are due policyholders. Dividends have been paid to policyholders in fair amounts for a number of years. The company has grown steadily and substantially during the past few years. It has ample assets well invested in mortgage loans and high class bonds. Something over 20% of its assets are in real estate, a rather high percentage. It operates upon a sound actuarial basis and has adequate reserves. While its surplus is not large, it has adequate funds apportioned to care for all future dividend payments. Its costs of operation has been low and its acquisition expenses are moderate. It has a good reputation for promptly paying all losses incurred and is in favorable standing in the territory in which it operates. The mortality record has been low since 1913, with the exception of the epidemic year. The company was jointly examined by the insurance departments of Nebraska and Kansas in 1923. The company and its management were favorably commented upon in the report on same. Business is written through managers and general agencies.

Classes of Insurance Written—It writes participating insurance on the annual and quinquennial dividend basis including disability and double indemnity clauses. Among the policies written are ordinary, 10, 15, 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 30-year endowment; continuous payment and 20-payment endowment at age 65; 5, 10 and 20-year term policy; single premium life and endowment policies; annuities; monthly income policies on the annual dividend plan and ordinary, 10, 15 and 20-payment life and 10, 15, 20 and 30-year endowment on the quinquennial dividend plan. Women are written on the same basis as men on rates of an equal or higher amount than the 20-payment life. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividends, $12,657,045; deferred dividend, $4,510,488.

Officers—E. B. Stephenson, president; F. W. Sloan, vice-president; C. D. Mullen, vice-president and secretary; W. A. Lindly, treasurer; M. A. Hyde, assistant secretary; T. A. Sick, cashier; H. B. Miller, medical director; Field, Ricketts, Ricketts, attorneys.

Directors—E. B. Stephenson, F. W. Sloan, W. A. Lindly, Fred Foster, M. Weil, A. C. Lau, C. D. Mullen, C. J. Guenzel, D. B. Cropsey.

Operates in Nebraska, Kansas, South Dakota, Iowa, Oklahoma, Missouri and Wyoming.

SECURITY MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Security Mutual Life Building, Binghamton, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated under the laws of New York, on November 6, 1886, and began business January 1, 1887, as an assessment association under the name of Security Mutual Life Association. On May 31, 1898, it was incorporated under Article 10, of the insurance laws of New York, as a stipulated premium company under the name of Security Mutual Life Insurance Company. In December 1899, it again reincorporated under the same name as a legal reserve company under the provisions of Article 2, of the insurance laws of New York. The company is purely mutual issuing participating insurance only. The president of the company, David S. Dickenson, has held that office since 1915. He has been with the company since 1903, when he became actuary.

This company is a member of the Life Insurance President's Association and the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau.

Administration and Repute—This company has, during the past decade, been managed economically and capably. It has grown consistently and under progressive management is conservatively increasing its already large volume of insurance and assets. It has a good volume of premium income which it acquires at a reasonable cost. Its management expenses are normal and it pays good dividends to policyholders, by whom it is owned, and in whose interest the company is operated. It has a special department for temperance risks whose mortality experience is reflected in larger dividend returns. It has substantial unassigned surplus as well as amounts held for future dividend payments. Its assets are well invested in first mortgage loans and a well selected list of bonds which are fairly remunerative. It operates on a mutual basis, issuing participating contracts only and all profits are accruable to policyholders. Its officers are of high standing and the management is in generally good repute in the territory throughout which it operates. It was examined in 1923 by the New York Insurance Department. Business is written both through agency managers and general agents.

SOUTHEASTERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Main and Broad Streets, Greenville, South Carolina

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized October 1905, in South Carolina, and began business in January 1906, with an authorized capital of $100,000, entirely paid up and at which it has since remained. The company was originally located at Spartanburg, South Carolina. It was moved to Greenville in 1910. Stock, par value is $100 per share.

Administration and Repute—Under capable and experienced management this company built up a substantial volume of business with regularly advancing premium income until 1921, when the volume fell off slightly during the general business depression. Business in 1922 showed a resumption of premium gains and a return to the company's generally progressive disposition and in 1923 marked increases reflected a continuation of this condition. It is financially strong in assets and reserve. The former are soundly and remuneratively invested. Operating surplus is adequate. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Operating and business acquisition expenses are about normal. In recent years liberal dividends have been paid to stockholders. Mortality rate is low, and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. They include the features of disability and double indemnity. Business is written through general agents. The company was examined in 1923 by the South Carolina Insurance Department. The company is proprietary and all profits belong to stockholders.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies include: ordinary life; 15 and 20-payment life and 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowment forms classed as elective policies; endowment at ages 60 and 65; 20-payment endowment at ages 60 and 65; 20-payment life investment. It issues also single premium policies on ordinary life and endowment forms and monthly income and term policies. Maximum amount written, $100,000; retained, $15,000. Women are insured on all except term forms; limit, $2,000 to $8,000, without disability feature, at the

SOUTHERN LIFE AND HEALTH INSURANCE COMPANY

308 North 21st Street, Birmingham, Ala.

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was first organized, 1890, in Alabama under the title Southern Mutual Aid Association, with an authorized capital stock of $5,000. By the mergence of several industrial associations, this company which was originally designed to write industrial insurance developed its authorized capital to $50,000 in 1908. The most important of these mergers were as follows: In 1905, with the Globe Protective Insurance Company of Virginia; in 1908, with the Southern Industrial Assurance Association. In 1917 the company's present title was adopted. In 1911 authorized capital was increased from $50,000 to $150,000, stock being divided into $75,000 common and an equal amount of preferred. Capital has been increased to $110,830. Book value of stock, December 31, 1923, $175.

Administration and Repute—This company is strictly proprietary in character, issues only non-participating policies and all earnings payable in the form of dividends are due to stockholders. Most of the business is conducted upon the weekly basis though there is at present nearly $500,000 of insurance in force on the ordinary basis. Management and acquisition costs have been rather high and the loss ratio has also been above average. The company has paid dividends with considerable regularity, the most substantial one of $18,661, being on the business of 1922. There is a fair amount of assets well invested. The company was examined by the Alabama Insurance Department in 1923.

Classes of Insurance Written—Weekly health, accident and life, both ordinary and industrial; accident and health.

Reserve Basis—Ordinary insurance American 3½% full preliminary term; industrial insurance American 4%, full preliminary term.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Ordinary life, $491,000; industrial, $5,693,893; life element mutual aid business, $3,732,363.

Officers—C. P. Orr, president; W. R. Lathrop, secretary and treasurer; P. P. Pepper, assistant secretary; A. L. Kidd, superintendent of agencies.

Directors—C. P. Orr, L. M. Orr, W. R. Lathrop, Jelks Cabaniss, P. P. Pepper, A. L. Kidd.

Operates in Alabama, Florida and Louisiana.

1841 Penna Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized under the laws of Maryland, June 1906, and commenced business in August, 1906. It has a paid up cash capital of $10,000, and operates on the legal reserve basis, transacting industrial insurance exclusively.

Administration and Repute—This company is mutual in character, although it has a paid-in capital of $10,000. It is under the management of C. H. Jones, president and Alfred Nixon, secretary. It has a small premium income acquired at a moderate expense ratio. Its assets amount to but $18,967. The setting up of required reserves amounting to $24,509 is quite satisfactory to the company. Its total liabilities including capital amounted on December 31 last, to $29,433. It is understood that losses are paid promptly.

Classes of Insurance Written—Industrial life.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, industrial, $474,072, divided among 7,340 policies.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, all issues since December 31, 1918; prior to that time actuaries 4%.

SOUTHERN INSURANCE COMPANY

Nashville, Tennessee

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized, 1908, in Tennessee, and began business in 1909, with an authorized capital of $500,000. Paid up capital, increasing and decreasing at intervals, in 1922 increased by $13,645, thus making a total paid-in, December 31, 1922, of $158,853; during 1923 capital increased $14,850 to $173,702. In 1913, the company took over an industrial accident and health concern known as the Cumberland Valley Insurance Company, of Nashville, Tennessee. The following year, the Southern reinsured this class of its business in the Inter-State Life and Accident, of Chattanooga and discontinued writing accident and health. The Provident Life and Accident, of Chattanooga, purchased the Southern's ordinary business in 1917. In 1922, the company again took up the writing of ordinary life insurance, and reinsured the business of the Masonic Annuity, of Georgia. Stock, par value, $10 a share.

Administration and Repute—This company has had a rather slow growth up to 1920 since that time under a capable and progressive management substantial and consistent gains are noted throughout the company's statement and a substantial premium income has been developed exceeding a million dollars in 1923. While the company has a good volume of ordinary life insurance, the major portion of its business has been in industrial life, accident and health insurance in which it has met with good success and built up an enviable reputation for prompt settlement of claims. All its insurance is on the non-participating basis and the company is strictly proprietary in character. Business in 1922 and 1923 warranted the payment of dividends of $28,880 to stockholders in cash, a considerable advance over the dividend of $9,440 paid them in 1921. The company has ample operating surplus and is strong in its assets and reserves. Actuarial methods are standard. Doing a rather large volume of industrial business accounts for the high expenses of operation and business acquisition. Investments are well secured.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary, intermediate and industrial life insurance.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, ordinary, $5,468,152; industrial, $21,659,464.

Reserve Basis—American 4%, modified preliminary term (Tennessee standard); actuaries 4%, full preliminary term on intermediate business; American 4%, full preliminary term, and net level premium on ordinary business; and American 4%, full preliminary term, and net level premium on industrial business.

Officers—Will G. Harris, president; Will L. Harris, vice-president; Oury Harris, secretary and treasurer.

Directors—Will G. Harris, Nat Ryan, John R. Baker, R. C. Jordan, B. C. Sims, J. F. Sullivan, W. C. Lemans, Will L. Harris, H. Claud Guerin, Oury Harris, J. T. Wilkerson, Will G. Harris.

SOUTHERN STATES LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Candler Building, Atlanta, Georgia

HISTORICAL DATA

The Southern States Life Insurance Company was chartered by the State of Alabama, April 16, 1906, and commenced business in the following month, first policy being dated May 10, 1906. The original capital stock was $100,000, fully subscribed and paid-in when incorporated. The stock was sold at $150 a share, thus providing a surplus of $50,000, the par value of the stock being $100 per share. The only organization or promotion expenses were those paid to the state on incorporation, no commission being paid to any one on sale of capital stock. The entire stock is owned by the Southern Securities Company, which formerly had a general agency contract with this company. The company has been building along natural lines, its growth not being stimulated by reinsurances, amalgamations or mergers. The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company is strictly a proprietary one and all profits are accruable to stockholders; it has been under practically the same management since organization. Conservatism and ability have marked the progress of this company. It has grown steadily, its increases in premium income, assets and insurance outstanding being in harmonious proportion. It is officered and backed by reputable men of high standing in Georgia. The company, though incorporated in Alabama, has always operated from Atlanta, Georgia. Its acquisition costs have been moderate, and its management expenses reasonably low. Substantial assets have been well invested in remunerative mortgage loans and bonds. Its actuarial practices are of the best and it has adequate surplus. It confined its activities to four southern States until 1923, when it entered Texas and Tennessee. It writes non-participating insurance, and in its standard policies insures women on the same basis as men. Business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Non-participating, ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowment; ordinary and 20-payment life select economic; 20-year endowment at age 65, and 20-payment at age 65; reducible endowments; 5, 10, 15 and 20-year convertible term, single premium life; endowments and continuous monthly instalments; joint life policies; monthly income policies. Colored risks are not solicited.

years it has remained. Contributed surplus totalled $108,031. Stock, par value, is $10 a share. The Texas Insurance Department last examined the company as of December 31, 1920. The controlling interest in the stock of the Fort Worth Life Insurance Company of Fort Worth, Tex., was purchased in 1924 by L. Mistrot, Tom Poyner, of Waco, Tex., and E. M. Wilson, of Bartlett, Tex., president, vice-president and one of the chief stockholders, respectively, of the Southern Union Life of Waco. In May, 1924, upon approval of the Texas Insurance Department consolidation of the Southern Union Life of Waco and the Fort Worth Life of Fort Worth was effected under the title of Southern Union Life and with home office at Fort Worth. The combined companies assets are in excess of $4,000,000, and it has approximately $40,000,000 of insurance in force. By this merging of the two companies it is expected that added benefits will be offered to policyholders.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed by executives of capability and experience. Its growth has been slow, but premium volume has advanced steadily and insurance in force has shown commensurate increases. A substantial gain in premium volume was recorded in 1923. The company is financially strong in assets and reserves, and has a small, but adequate operating surplus. It is proprietary in character, writing non-participating insurance exclusively. Investments are well secured and remunerative. Combined operating and business acquisition expenses have advanced in recent years, but are about normal. Mortality rate is moderate and the company is in excellent repute for promptly paying death claims. Policy contracts include the features of disability and double indemnity. With the impetus gained by consolidation the Southern Union is expected to be an aggressive factor in its field of operation.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies include ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; 5 and 10-year term forms; single premium ordinary and endowment forms. Maximum amount written, $50,000; retained, $5,000. Women are insured on the endowment plan only at the same rate as applied to men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $17,007,590.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term; committee of 15 basis.

Officers—J. L. Mistrot, president; Tom Poyner, vice-president and agency manager; J. L. Mims, vice-president and actuary; J. H. Barker, secretary and treasurer; J. W. Irion, medical director.

Directors—J. L. Mistrot, T. W. Poynor, J. H. Barker, J. L. Mims, J. W. Irion, E. M. Wilson.

SOUTHLAND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Commerce and Browder Streets, Dallas, Texas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized October 3, 1908, in Texas, and began business April 26, 1909, with an authorized capital of $300,000, of which $275,387 was paid-in up to December 31, 1909. On January 12, 1915, it was voted to increase capital to $400,000, and also to take over the assets and business of the Sam Houston Life, which was soon thereafter effected, the Southland as a result of the consolidation being able to show assets over $2,000,000, insurance in force over $23,000,000, and annual income over $1,600,000. In the same year, the Southland absorbed the San Antonio Life. Capital stock was subsequently reduced to $300,000, which was entirely paid up by January 1, 1918, and continued at that figure since then. Total contributed surplus amounted to about $293,095. The company was last examined by the Texas Insurance Department during 1923.

The company is a member of the following organizations: American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—The Southland Life has been successfully operated throughout its career by men of high standing in the community and excellent repute for their ability and experience. It is financially strong in assets, reserves and funds especially apportioned and has an ample operating surplus. Premium income has averaged an excellent advance regularly since organization. The general business depression of 1921 caused a decrease in premium volume and a consequent falling off of insurance in force, but 1922 business indicated a return to the established progressive trend. In 1923 material increase in business enabled the company to pass the

STANDARD LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

180 Auburn Avenue, Atlanta, Georgia

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was first incorporated in June 1908, by Heman E. Perry, a prominent colored man of the South, to be owned and operated for, and by members of his race. A charter was secured in January, 1909 and Mr. Perry was given two years in which to raise his capital. By the end of January 1911, $85,000 of the required $100,000 was raised. All checks were immediately returned and on June 24, the company was reincorporated with two years given by the charter to complete organization. This time Mr. Perry fulfilled his task and operations were begun. Par value of the stock $100 per share; was sold at $125 and $150 per share to create a surplus of $50,000. The company commenced business on June 12, 1913, with an initial paid-in capital of $100,000, and a surplus of $17,599. In 1917, $25,000 additional capital was sold at $200 per share. Capital was increased $125,000 to $250,000 in 1923 by sale of new stock and $210,000 was paid into surplus as premium on new stock sold.

Administration and Repute—This company has been capably and efficiently managed by Heman E. Perry, who has been president from the organization of the company. It operates upon sound actuarial basis and has grown consistently and steadily. It has ample assets, reserves and surplus. Assets are well invested in mortgage loans, government and municipal bonds which yield a good rate of interest. Its reserves are on an approved basis and its surplus is ample. Its mortality rate has been low and the cost of operation and acquisition expenses below normal. It has a good reputation for promptly paying death claims. The company is strictly a proprietary one and has paid liberal dividends to stockholders to whom all profits are due. All business is written through agency managers. The company was examined in 1923 by the Georgia Insurance Department.

Classes of Insurance Written—All policies are written on the non-participating basis and include disability clauses. Ordinary policies are written on the endowment at age 80 plan; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25, 30 and 35-year endowment. In the intermediate department the company writes whole life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life and 10, 15, 20, 25, 30 and 35-year endowment. The company specializes in the writing of colored risks.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $28,823,231.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, Illinois standard and American 3% select and ultimate basis.

STANDARD LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Decatur, Illinois

Executive Offices, 716 Locust Street, St. Louis, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated as a legal reserve stock company September 15, 1914, and began business as such October 29 following, taking over the business of the Mutual Protective League upon a reorganization plan. The incorporating name of the company at that time was the Protective League Life Insurance Company with a capital stock of $100,000, the par value of the stock being $1.00 per share. This stock was sold to members of the Mutual Protective League at $1.25 per share in order to create an initial surplus of $25,000. No commissions of any kind were paid in connection with the financing.

The Mutual Protective League was a fraternal society organized in 1897 and had been operating upon a legal reserve rate basis from 1903 onward under the same actuarial supervision as at the present time. The name, Protective League Life Insurance Company, was changed to Standard Life Insurance Company in October, 1918, at the time the business of the old Standard Life Insurance Company, organized 1909 as a purely mutual, in Des Moines, Iowa, was acquired. The Standard Life, Des Moines, originally assumed the business of an assessment association, styled the Limited Term Life. The capital stock of the company was increased in 1919 to $159,000; in 1921 to $225,000; in 1922 to $280,000 and in 1923 to $325,000. It is understood that in 1922 a syndicate of Missouri men headed by John F. Atkinson and John F. O'Neil, obtained control of the company, which had more recently purchased the controlling interest of the Commonwealth Life, of Omaha, Nebraska, and moved the executive offices from Decatur to St. Louis. J. R. Paisley, the present president of the company, has been connected with the organization since 1897 and has been president of it during all its years of progress. Reinsurances effected include the Clay Life, of Missouri, an assessment society, 1916; Modern Fraternal Order of Illinois, 1917; Provident Life of Iowa, a legal reserve company in 1920. In 1923 the company reinsured Commonwealth of Omaha, Nebraska, which had insurance in force of about $30,000,000. In 1924 interests identified with the Standard purchased control of the International Life of St. Louis and Mr. Paisley was elected president of that company. Both institutions will be developed separately. The Standard is a member of the American Life Convention and the American Institute of Actuaries.

Administration and Repute—The company has stimulated its growth from time to time by successful reinsurance. It is a stock corporation and all the profits belong to the stockholders excepting those allotted to holders of participating business. Both participating and nonparticipating insurance, including disability and double indemnity features are issued. Its expense ratio and mortality record have not been high. Its assets are well invested, mainly in mortgage loans which yield good interest rates. It operates on a standard actuarial basis and is progressive in every respect. Death claims are promptly paid and policyholders are very fairly dealt with. The acquisition of the business of the Commonwealth Life coupled with aggressive management enabled this company to show handsome gains in insurance in force, business written, premium income, assets reserves and surplus during the past year. It was examined in 1923 by the Nebraska Insurance Department. Business is written through general agents and agency managers.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary, 10, 15, 20-payment life; and 10, 15, and 20-year endowment on the participating plan and similar forms on the non-participating plan, reducing commercial life form, premium reduction form, single premium; monthly income; joint whole life form, ten-year convertible term and various annuities. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are not written.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, (Illinois standard).

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $19,471,000; deferred dividend, $15,009,787; non-participating, $41,631,405. It has $767,000 of assessment insurance in force.

Officers—J. R. Paisley, president; W. K. Whitfield, D. W. Hill, vice-presidents; Geo. L. Tipton, treasurer; John B. Nottlemann, secretary; T. C. Rafferty, actuary.

Directors—John M. Atkinson, Salem Ely, W. J. Hampton, F. E. Harrold, S. O. Kennedy, Geo. M. LeCrone, John R. Pogue, R. Zink Sanders and J. C. Martin.

This company was organized October 20, 1908, in Pennsylvania as the Standard Mutual Life Insurance Company of America and was operated on the assessment plan until reincorporation made it a stock company as of June 14, 1910. It began business under its present title April 1, 1911, and has since been operated on a legal reserve basis. The capital stock is $356,095 paid-in out of $1,000,000 authorized. Promotional expenses were guaranteed by a few of the most heavily interested parties. The former mutual firm was thoroughly sound and had adequate reserves. Its policyholders were accorded the privilege of purchasing from 3 to 5 shares of capital stock, par value $10, for each $1,000 of insurance held. Initial paid-in capital was $300,000, with $21,433 surplus and $28,972 promotional expenses. The company began writing accident and health insurance February 1, 1913. Stock par value, $10.

Administration and Repute—Under careful management, this company has made moderate but appreciable progress. It is backed by strong interests in good repute. Stockholders control the company, only non-participating business being written. Operating surplus is comparatively small but adequate. Dividends have been paid to stockholders, totalling since organization, $103,459. Operating and new business costs are comparatively low as are also the company losses. The company's accident and health business is small but developing consistently. It has high grade and remunerative investments. Its settlements of loss claims are prompt and equitable. The Pennsylvania Insurance Department examined the company in 1923.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and accident and health. Ordinary and all other usual forms are written and in addition the following: guaranteed premium reduction on life and endowment; income and legacy guaranteed premium reduction on ordinary and 20-payment life; continuous income on ordinary 20-payment and 20-year endowment; guaranteed premium reduction payable in 20 instalment on life and endowment; 5-year term. STAR LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA, INCORPORATED

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized under the laws of Maryland, and began business November 16, 1908. It has a paid up capital stock of $25,000, and operates on the stock legal reserve basis, doing both ordinary and industrial life insurance, as well as industrial sickness and accident insurance, the latter kind predominating.

Administration and Repute—This company is strictly proprietary in character and all profits belong to stockholders. No dividends, however, have thus far been paid them. It has been managed throughout its career by George W. Miller and Ezra Miller. It has built up a substantial volume of premium income acquired at a reasonable cost. It would seem as a result of almost sixteen years of operation that the company would have built up a more substantial amount of assets. On December 31, last, the total admitted assets amount to $73,255. Of this amount, $35,000 or almost 50% is invested in real estate. This would seem to be a proportion of investment in this class of security beyond the dictates of sound business judgment. The company's statement further shows that it has not sufficient money to care for its required reserves, they being shown as $82,607. Further liabilities increased the total liabilities to $85,127, which is $11,871 in excess of the admitted assets. In addition, to this excess, it will be seen that no provision is mahe for the capital of $25,000 which is therefore wholly impaired. It would seem necessary for this company to undertake immediate measures to rectify this balance sheet. The company is understood to have a good reputation for promptly paying death claims, tfiere being but $497 of claims due and unpaid on December 31, last. It was examined in 1923 by the Insurance Department of Maryland and the District of Columbia.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary and industrial life insurance in usual whole life; endowment and term forms, with accident and health provisions included.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, ordinary, $136,500; industrial, $2,626,730.

Reserve Basis—Actuaries 4%, all issues prior to December 31, 1918. American 3½%, all issues since December 31, 1918.

Officers—George W. Miller, president; Daniel A. Miller, vice-president; Ezra C. Miller, secretary-treasurer.

Directors—George W. Miller, Irines C. Lewis, D. E. Eaton, Daniel A. Miller, Fred C. Brockman, John R. Kerns, Ezra C. Miller, John M. Foard.

STATE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF MONTANA

Minot Building, Great Falls, Montana

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized January 6, 1913, in Montana, by prominent Montana business men, among whom were Thomas A. Snidow, Nesbit Rochester, E. E. Esseltyn and A. M. Hart, who became directors, and former state senator George H. Stanton, president of the Commercial Trust of Great Falls and Savings Bank, who was elected president, and Wayne B. Wheeler, treasurer. When the company began business April 1, 1914, the above named directors were vice-presidents and F. E. Beatty, had been elected secretary. Original authorized capital was $160,000, of which $62,776, was paid-in and $35,926 at the same time credited to surplus account. In 1919, $5,875 was paid into surplus and in 1920, $29,375. Paid-in capital has at intervals since been increased to $117,500, at which it now stands. Stock, par value, is $10 a share. The company was last examined during 1922, by the Montana, Idaho and Wyoming Insurance Departments. The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company has progressed steadily though conservatively, showing increases regularly in premium income commensurately in volume of business in force. It is strictly proprietary in character and writes non-participating business exclusively. It is financially strong in assets and reserves and has also a special reserve fund established in 1922, and an annually increased operating surplus of adequate proportion. Investments are well secured and remunerative. Actuarial methods are standard. Management and business acquisition expenses are low. Mortality rate is also low and the company pays death claims promptly. Disability and double indemnity features are included in policy contracts. Business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies include endowment at age 85; 5 and 15-year convertible term, 20 year endowment; 15 year endowment; 20-pay life; 20-payment coupon policies on various forms some bearing options; savings accumulation coupons; endowment option; semi-endowment at age 70; joint life policies on various forms; 20-payment life premium savings endowment; child's policy; monthly income policies. Maximum amount written, $50,000; retained, $5,000. Women are insured, on 20-payment life and endowment policies, with certain restrictions, at same rates as apply to men. Colored risks are not solicited.

STATE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Rome, Georgia

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized 1905, under the laws of Georgia, to succeed to the business of the State Mutual Life and Annuity Association, which had been organized in 1898, and had by 1905 built up a business of more than $30,000,000 of insurance in force and assets of $3,800,000. In 1912, following a conference between the company officials and comptroller general and insurance commissioner, William A. Wright, several changes in the executive staff were made including the succession of John W. Maddox to the presidency, replacing Charles R. Porter, resigned. The company's statement for 1912 showed several reductions in assets and promised necessary economies. Under decree of Judge Thomas of the Superior Court, Southern Circuit, the State Mutual Life was placed in the hands of the Georgia Insurance Department, January 15, 1915. This action was taken as a result of examination by the department which disclosed an impairment of the company's reserve liability of between 15% and 20%. The company ceased writing business and expenses were substantially reduced, the agency department and officers' salaries being entirely eliminated. After 7 years of latent operation in the hands of the department, insurance commissioner W. A. Wright, announced in June, 1922, that the company would be allowed to resume business, the department being of the opinion that the company's recuperative powers had been sufficient to authorize it to be returned to the policyholders for further operation in their best interests. A petition, however, was filed in the Superior Court asking for the sale of the business in order to pay the interest on certificates said to have been issued by the company for more than a million dollars. Policyholders of the company cannot be affected by any such suit as the company's reserve fund is ample to take care of the petitioners' claims.

STATE MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

340 Main Street, Worcester, Massachusetts

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated March 1844, under an act of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Legislature. The charter granted was perpetual and provided that when 150 persons subscribed to insurance an organization meeting would be held and one-half the directorate chosen. Following which, prior to organization, a guarantee capital of $100,000, should be provided for, half of which to be paid in before commencing business. The remaining half of the directorate to be chosen when the guarantee capital was fully subscribed. Provision was made for the redemption of the reserve fund by surplus accumulations in ten years. The charter also called for the payment to the Massachusetts General Hospital of one-third of its net profits annually. This latter tax was to be discontinued upon organization of any other company. The original incorporators and prime organizers were John Davis, Benjamin Balch and Clarendon Harris. While the law required a guarantee fund, the company was organized to operate on a purely mutual basis and has continued to do so since organization. The company commenced business June 1, 1845. The guarantee capital was retired in 1882.

Administration and Repute—The company has been most capably managed from its organization. Its foundation was ably supervised by New Englanders of far-seeing vision and sound and upright principles. It is a purely mutual company and the interests of its policyholders is its predominating desire. While always enjoying a reputation for ultra-conservative business principles, it has been among the most progressive of companies in its prompt recognition and adoption of such new methods that might prove themselves for the benefit of policyholders. The company has large assets, well invested, and yielding a goodly rate of interest. It operates upon sound actuarial practices and maintains adequate reserves. There has always been in addition adequate surplus funds in excess of the legal reserve to afford an absolute margin of safety. In 1868 it adopted the contribution plan of dividends and since then has declared annual dividends. This has resulted in a consistently low net cost to policyholders. The company has grown steadily and soundly, persistently but not rapidly. Its management expenses have always been low as has been the expense of putting new business on its books. It has never been noted for issuing untried or special policy contracts. It has a good record in the paying of claims and its general reputation is of the best. Its present management is capable in keeping with the management which it has succeeded.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company issues participating insurance only on the annual dividend basis and includes a disability feature. Among the policies written, the ordinary life, 5, 10, 14, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 25 and 30-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35, 40, 45, 50-endowment; various 10, 15 and 20-payment endowments; endowments at age 35, 40, 45, 50, 55, 60, 65, 70, 75, 80, 85; also 10, 15 and 20-payment birthday endowments; single premium life and endowments; joint life and monthly income policies and annuities.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $389,649,187; 5-year dividend, $5,017,322; 7-year dividend, $51,591; non-participating, $3,464,959.

Reserve Basis—American 3%; full level premium since January 1, 1908 prior thereto American 3½% full level premium. Annuities McClintock's 3½% and American 3%.

Officers—B. H. Wright, president; A. G. Bullock, vice-president and chairman of the Board; G. F. Blake, vice-president; Chandler Bullock, vice-president and general counsel; D. W. Carter, secretary; G. W. Mackintire,

SUN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA

109 East Redwood Street, Baltimore, Maryland

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized January 12, 1897, in Maryland, as the Immediate Benefit Life Insurance Company. It began business March 1, 1897, operating on the stock legal reserve basis and having an original capital paid-in of $15,000. This capital was increased to $100,000 in 1916, to $140,000 in 1919, and to $300,000, in 1921, in both cases by payment of dividends to stock. In 1922, another stock dividend of $325,000 increased paid-in capital to $625,000. The company's present title was adopted in 1916.

The company is a member of the Baltimore Life Underwriters and the Merchants and Manufacturers Association, Baltimore.

Administration and Repute—Under capable and efficient management of considerable experience, this company has successfully developed a very substantial volume of industrial and ordinary business, the former largely predominating. It is strictly proprietary in character, writing non-participating insurance exclusively. It has paid liberal dividends to stockholders as well as making large increases in capital stock out of dividends. Premium volume has steadily built up passing the million-dollar mark in 1921, and insurance in force has kept up with the trend by commensurate advances. Insurance written in 1923 more than doubled that written in any previous year and the gain in insurance in force was equally substantial. The company is financially strong in assets and reserves. It has moreover, a special reserve set aside and ample operating surplus. Business is about equally divided in volume over Maryland and Pennsylvania. The company's assets invested mainly in high class bonds, which yield a good return of interest. Considering its kind of business, operating and business acquisition expenses are fairly moderate. Actuarial methods are of the best. Mortality rate is low, and the company is in excellent repute for promptly paying death claims. Business is written both through general agencies and agency managers.

Resolution adopted by board in 1923 to pay dividend in 1924 on ordinary non-participating policies five years or longer in force and on non-participating industrial policies twenty years or longer in force. These dividends are now being paid.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies include: whole life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 20-payment premium option form; premium reduction forms; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; 10-payment, 20-year endowment; 15-payment, 20-year endowment; 20-payment, 30-year endowment; 5-year term convertible; equation policies; child's endowment; intermediate forms, special $2,500 policy; monthly income policies. Maximum amount written, no limit; retained, $15,000. Women are insured, all forms except term, with certain other restrictions at the same rates applying to men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $46,448,094; deferred dividend, $229,000.

Reserve Basis—Acturies 4%, prior to January 1, 1903; since then American 3½% full level premium, except for American 3% on 20-payment optional industrial policy. American 3½%, on annuities.

TEACHERS INSURANCE AND ANNUITY ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA

522 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated March 4, 1918, in New York, and began business May 17, of that year, with an authorized capital of $500,000, which was entirely paid-in along with a surplus of $501,469, also contributed in 1918, by the Carnegie Corporation of New York, which was founded and endowed with $125,000,000 by Andrew Carnegie, in 1911, with prescribed activities for promoting the spread of knowledge and understanding. For purposes of efficient operation, the company is capitalized, but entire capital is held by the Carnegie Corporation. Under its charter no profits accrue to the benefit of the corporation or its stockholders. The company has no agency system and has met overhead expenses from the income from the paid-in capital and surplus, which is in accordance with the prescribed plan to provide at actual net mortality cost insurance, specializing in annuities, particularly suited to the needs and income of members of the teaching professions. The Insurance Department of New York examined the company during 1919.

Administration and Repute—This institution is unique in character and has unquestionable financial backing of the highest character. It is provided that policyholders may have a voice in the selection of the company's board which at the present time includes men of international eminence and success in business and finance of world-wide proportion. The Carnegie Corporation, as the holder of stock, also has a share in control of the company. Since organization, the company has annually made substantial gains in premium income, and commensurately in amount of insurance in force. While all policies are issued upon the non-participating basis, the stockholders of the company are prohibited by charter from receiving any profit on the enterprise: therefore the company is distributing surplus to policyholders. It is of itself financially very strong in assets, reserves, special reserve funds set aside; and it has a comparatively large operating surplus. Investments are diversified, well selected, for the most part railroad and government bonds, and are substantially remunerative. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Operating and business acquisition expenses are very low. Mortality rate is also very low. The company's special line of policies include the feature of disability.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company's special policies are designed particularly for members and teaching staffs of educational institutions. It also writes a full line of non-participating policies, which include the usual forms of whole life, endowment and term, decreasing life, survivorship life and deferred annuities, single premium policies and monthly income policies. Maximum amount written, $25,000; retained, $15,000.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $11,519,422.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, full level premium, on all insurance except the following: McClintock's 4% on survivorship annuities, and on deferred annuity premiums accumulated at 4%.

Officers—Frank A. Vanderlip, chairman; Henry S. Pritchett, president; Michael A. Mackenzie, vice-president; Clyde Furst, secretary; Robert A. Franks, treasurer; Eugene F. Russell, M. D., medical director; Raymond L. Mattocks, actuary; Samuel S. Hall, Jr., assistant treasurer.

Trustees—Thomas S. Adams, Robert A. Franks, James W. Glover, Frederick A. Goetze, Samuel S. Hall, Henry R. Hayes, Michael A. Mackenzie, Henry S. Pritchett, Frank A. Vanderlip, George Whitney, Elihu Root, Jr., Samuel McC. Lindsay, Charles E. Mitchell, W. T. Oliver, Frank Aydelotte, Howard F. Beebe.

Operates in United States and Canada from home office by mail.

TEXAS MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Central Bank Building, Dallas, Texas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized early in 1920, under the laws of Texas, as the Commonwealth Cooperative Life Insurance Company. Its original directors were J. W. Blanton, H. B. Fisher, A. Hargrave, T. J. Jones, W. S. Mosher, J. H. Payne, E. M. Powell, Frank Reedy, and P. H. Smith, all of Dallas. On June 25, 1921, the company effected a reincorporation and adopted its present title. The change was made by filing an amendment to its charter with the State Department of Insurance and Banking. This amendment also changed the purpose clause, so as to include in the company's policies the usual provisions for permanent and total disability and double indemnity for accidental death. The charter was presented by Thomas J. Jones, of Dallas, president of the company.

Administration and Repute—This company is strictly mutual in character and all profits belong to policyholders. It has been organized and is capably managed by experienced life insurance men. In 1923 it transacted a small but satisfactory volume of business and had a moderate cost ratio. Its assets are not large. Its reserves are computed on a standard actuarial basis and meet all legal requirements. Its surplus is adequate. Under economical management, the company should profit.

TRAVELERS EQUITABLE INSURANCE COMPANY

Minneapolis, Minnesota

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized August 5, 1893, in Minnesota, as an accident and health assessment operating concern, known as the Benefit League. In 1915, the title was changed to the Equitable Life and Indemnity Association and in 1916 the present name was adopted. On July 11, 1918, the company was reorganized on the stock plan to operate on the legal reserve level premium basis and reincorporation was effected with an initial paid-in capital of $100,000 and $100,000 surplus. Capital was increased in 1920 to $131,360 and in 1921 to $136,010 and in 1922 to $136,200 where it now stands. The company formerly wrote only casualty lines but in 1920 opened its life insurance department. Stock, par value, $10. The Insurance Holding Company of Minneapolis holds the controlling stock. In 1923 it reinsured the outstanding business of the Merchants Life and Casualty of Minneapolis.

Administration and Repute—This company's management shows a progressive disposition denoted particularly in the steady annual advances in the business volumes of each department. Progress was most appreciable during 1923. Its operating surplus is adequate. Stockholders control the company, non-participating insurance only being written. The company paid liberal dividends in 1920 and 1921. The life department while considerably smaller in premium volume than the casualty department has since inception shown repeated gains while insurance in force has grown commensurately being stimulated in 1923 by the acquisition of the business of the Merchants Life and Casualty. The underwriting operations in the casualty department in 1923, resulted in a slight loss which was much more than offset by the profit derived from high grade, well secured investments. Losses incurred have been low in aggregate and underwriting expenses not above average. Substantial interests are back of the company and it has an estimable reputation in general. The Minnesota and Wisconsin Insurance Departments examined the company in 1920 and reported upon its condition favorably.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life and accident and health. Life forms include disability and double indemnity benefits. Ordinary and other regular forms are written and in addition the following: convertible 5, 10 and 20-year term policies; 5-year term convertible in 3-years; 10-year term in 7 years and the 20-year term in 14 years. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $3,345,800.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, Illinois standard.

Officers—G. Lindquist, president; H. L. Hosford, vice-president and treasurer; C. P. Diepenbrock, secretary; E. D. Lacy, actuary.

Directors—G. Linquist, C. P. Diepenbrock, A. E. Bjorklund, I. A. Caswell, O. D. Hauschild, E. L. Mattson, George Lidren.

Operates in Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

THE TRAVELERS INSURANCE COMPANY

700 Main Street, Hartford, Connecticut

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was chartered June 17, 1863 in Connecticut, and began business writing accident insurance, April 1, 1864, with $250,000, capital stock. July 1, 1866, by charter amendment, it began to write life, having increased the paid-in capital to $500,000. Capital increased: 1875, to $600,000; 1892, to $1,000,000 by stock dividend on accident business; 1908, to $2,000,000; 1910, to $2,500,000; 1913, to $5,000,000, each stockholder being permitted to double his holdings by purchase of new stock at $100 per share; 1916, to $6,000,000 and 1920, to $7,500,000 and in 1923 to $10,000,000 by sale of stock to old stockholders at par. Various lines begun: 1889, employers' and general liability contracts; 1899, health policies; 1911, workmen's compensation insurance. The Travelers Indemnity Company of Hartford is owned by the Travelers Insurance Company.

Administration and Repute—The Travelers is a very large and thoroughly strong company, sound and efficient in its writing of life insurance as well as in its coverage of practically all classes of casualty hazards. Ever since it was founded, by James G. Batterson, it has been very ably managed as denoted by its steady progress and excellent service. Its reputation and general standing are of the highest. It is the largest company in the world writing non-participating life insurance. Its policies are low cost and are modern in every detail including disability and double indemnity features. Monthly premiums are accepted where monthly premiums is $10 or more. The company is a pioneer in group insurance and has more of this class of insurance in force than any other company. The Travelers is offering a new departure in life insurance which it classifies as another form of "employer-employee insurance." It is payroll deduction life insurance on the monthly payment plan. By this means the employees of concerns interested are enabled to buy life insurance on small monthly payments without paying the additional charges required by industrial companies for small payment insurance. These payments are collected through the payroll department of the concern interested. The rates are the same for larger amounts of insurance in the Travelers. In the casualty department its total underwriting experience shows a small profit while its invested reserves have shown large profits. Its repute for settling claims is good. There is no limit to the proportion of profits which may be paid to stockholders. The company is affiliated with the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters.

Classes of Insurance Written—The leading policies issued include ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 5, 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35 and 40-year endowments; 5 year renewable and 10-year convertible term; 5 year term with conversion to ordinary life; income bond and monthly income policy on ordinary life; 20 payment life and 20-year endowment, with or without continuous instalment. Additional policies include premium reduction forms on various kinds of policies; limited payment endowment; single premium policies of wide range on endowment forms; single premium life; insurance annuity, 65, pension insurance, 65, each with or without continuous instalment; $1,000 insurance to age specified with cash settlement, and endowment to age specified with monthly life income thereafter; life insurance premiums payable to age 60; ideal contract for business women; joint life and endowment; other special forms; return premium factors; immediate and deferred life annuity with and without cash refund, both single and annual premiums. Maximum amount written, no limit; retained, $100,000.

Insurance outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $2,429,002,760; participating annual dividend, $4,813,474; deferred dividend, $4,500,911.

Reserve Basis—Full level premium, American 3%, on all participating business and on all policies with surrender values based upon this reserve; American 3½%, on all other policies. All group insurance is valued on a basis producing reserves in excess of the legal standard of the State of Connecticut, Medico Actuarial Table at 3½%. Annuities on McClintock's 3½%.

Group Insurance—This company transacts a group insurance according to the following plan: Minimum age: 14, Minimum group, 50. Individual risk: minimum, $500; maximum, $5,000. No individual shall be insured for more than 2½ times the average amount of insurance allotted to other members of the group. Individual insurance will be automatically cancelled at termination of employment unless caused by disability. Individual insurance may be converted into regular plans except term insurance within thirty-one days after employment termination. Premiums payable annually, semi-annually, quarterly or monthly. Policy renewable each year at attained ages, except that at the end of a period not exceeding five years the company may establish new premium rates upon its classified group mortality experience. The company's service includes suggestions as to improvement in working in sanitary and living conditions, issuance of bulletins on health and accident prevention; nursing service and accident prevention inspection at small extra cost.

Policy Provisions—Grace period, thirty-one days; incontestable after one year; total disability benefits granted before age 60; will waive

TWO REPUBLICS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Two Republics Life Building, El Paso, Texas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated on June 9, 1909, with an authorized capital of $150,000, and commenced business February 8, 1911, with the full amount of capital paid-in The par value of the stock is $100 a share and the original 15,000 shares of stock issued was sold at an average price of $230 per share, the maximum being $250, and the minimum $200, thus creating a surplus of $150,000. The promotion expense of the company involved 15% or $45,000 on the $300,000 turned over to the company. The promotion of this company was in the hands of B. F. McNulty and Company, who also have organized the Louisiana State Life and other companies. In March 1918, the capital stock of the company was reduced from $150,000 to $100,000, by transferring $50,000 to surplus. In 1920 the capital was increased from $100,000 to $125,000 at $150 per share, thereby securing a contribution of $12,500 to surplus. In December 1922, the National Life of the Southwest was merged with the Two Republics and the contract of merger provided that the capital of the two companies would be added together and a reduction of one-half of the amount of capital, released by such reduction to be turned to surplus. On consummation of this, the capital stock of the Two Republics on December 31, 1922, was $156,000, and after taking care of the liabilities of the National, the surplus remaining was $73,000. The present management of the company became effective September 1, 1915, although prior to that time the president, A. H. Rodes, had an agency contract for writing insurance in the Two Republics.

This company is a member of the following organizations: American Life Convention, Texas Life Convention and the American Institute of Actuaries.

Administration and Repute—The company is strictly a proprietary one, and all profits are accruable to stockholders; the management is in excellent repute and has been capable and economical in the conduct of the affairs of the company, the interest of both policyholders and stockholders being well protected. It writes non-participating insurance only and has built up a good volume of business secured at moderate cost, while the management expenses are low. It operates upon sound actuarial practices and a substantial volume of assets is invested principally in real estate and mortgage loans. It has ample reserves and an adequate operating surplus. Its mortality record has been low and payments of claims have been prompt. In 1919 it adopted a policy which had for its slogan "every man has an insurability", and announced that it would issue a policy of some kind at some price on every applicant applying for insurance, as far as physical condition is concerned it will not insure risks that it regards as speculative or moral hazard. This plan of sub-standard insurance has been reasonably successful and has been adopted by a number of other companies. The company was examined in 1923 jointly by the Texas, Arizona and New Mexico Insurance Departments.

Classes of Insurance Written—The company writes non-participating insurance only and has optional disability and double indemnity clauses. The policies include: ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowment; optional life and endowments; 5, 10, 15 and 20-year term policies; monthly income policies; joint life and single premium life and endowment. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are accepted.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $10,897,969.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, Illinois standard.

Officers—A. H. Rodes, president; R. H. Hanna, vice-president; H. W. Lackland, secretary and actuary; John Becker, treasurer; E. W. Rheinheimer, medical director; C. R. Coriell and Wm. A. Munster, assistant secretaries; Irene Stewart, cashier and assistant treasurer; R. F. Burges, general counsel.

UNION CENTRAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, Ohio

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated February 12, 1867, in Ohio, with an original authorized capital of $500,000, of which $100,000 was paid-in, and began business at once. John Cochnower was president, and N. W. Harris, secretary. Authorized capital of $2,500,000, has been entirely paid up, increases having been made as follows: 1909, from $100,000 to $500,000; 1916 to $2,000,000; and 1920 to the fully paid, $2,500,000. The insurance departments of a number of states objected to the payment of a $400,000 stock dividend in 1908, in addition to a cash dividend to stockholders of $30,000. The matter was taken into the courts, where a decision was rendered in favor of the company, and a judgment given sustaining the dividend payments. In 1916, the company's by-laws were amended, limiting dividends to stockholders. A convention examination of the company was made as of December 31, 1922, by the Insurance Department of Ohio.

Administration and Repute—As a pioneer company in the middle western agricultural district, this institution early established an excellent reputation. Under capable and experienced management it built up a strong and growing volume of business and continued in its aggressiveness throughout the pioneering period of uncertainty and many vicissitudes encountered by life insurance in general. Following a definite schedule of expansion, the company has now a national scope of writing and one of the best developed agency forces in the country. The company is proprietary in character, but conducts business on the mixed plan. The by-laws permit a semi-annual dividend of 5% on the capital stock and additional dividends from the profits of non-participating policies. Total dividends paid stockholders since organization of the company, cash, $2,316,983; stock, $2,400,000. The company is in no way connected with any other company or corporation. Premium volume has advanced steadily in large amounts especially in the last decade and volume of insurance in force has increased commensurately. The latter passed the billion-dollar mark in 1923. The company has unquestionable strength of assets and reserves, and an additional special reserve fund set aside. It has, moreover, a large operating surplus. Investments are diversified, carefully selected and substantially remunerative. Operating and business acquisition expenses are moderate. Mortality rate is also moderate, and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Policyholders have received liberal dividends which have made the net cost of their insurance attractively low. The company's policy contracts are equitable and pleasing. They include the features of disability and double indemnity.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies include whole life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30-year endowments; 5, 10 and 20-year convertible term; monthly income on ordinary and 20-payment life It issues also single premium policies on life and endowment forms and special policies on various endowment term, income, business protection, personal life income, joint life, and single premium life annuity forms. Maximum amount written and retained, $100,000. Women are insured, limit, $25,000, within certain restrictions at the same rates applying to men; otherwise at an extra premium based on 125% mortality.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Annual dividend, $984,704,592; deferred dividend, $8,476,303; non-participating, $13,-929,490.

Reserve Basis—Actuaries 4% on issues of 1900 and prior thereto. American 3½%, full level premium only on issues of 1901 and subsequent years. Annuities on actuaries 4% American 3½%, (personal life income), and McClintock's 3½%.

Officers—John D. Sage, president; George L. Williams, Louis Breiling, John W. Pattison, vice-presidents; R. Frederick Rust, secretary; Jesse R. Clark, Jr., treasurer; E. E. Hardcastle, actuary.

UNION LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Rogers, Arkansas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized September 15, 1920, in Arkansas, and began business in January 1, 1921, with an authorized capital of $100,-000, and a paid-in capital of $50,000, which was increased to $65,000, in 1922 and $75,000 in 1923. The company's present officers, who are also on its directorate, organized it without any promotional expenses, stock selling at par, $100 a share.

Administration and Repute—The management of this small company, adopted the course of good judgment by waiting for the general business depression of 1921 to pass over before pressing ahead with aggressive measures of writing business. Accordingly a very small volume of premium income and corresponding amount of insurance in force, was written in its first year. The business of 1922 showed a trend toward the upbuilding of a conservative, and sound line of non-participating life insurance, and this constructive work was continued throughout 1923, for the present confined to the State of Arkansas. It has satisfactory strength of assets and reserves. Its assets are represented for the most part in real estate holdings. Premium income and insurance in force have shown annual gains. The company has an ample operating surplus. Operating and business acquisition expenses are rather high, but not unusually so for a small company in its early efforts to get well established. Claimants are equitably dealt with and the company is in good repute throughout its operating territory.

Classes of Insurance Written—The usual forms of life and endowment including ordinary life; 20-payment life and 20-year endowment; 10 and 15-payment life; children's policies; single premium policies are written. Women are written upon the same basis as men with the exception of the disability privilege. Colored risks are not written.

UNION MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

396 Congress Street, Portland, Maine

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized July 17, 1848, in Maine. It began business October 1, 1849, and has always operated as a purely mutual institution.

The company is a member of the following organizations: Association of Life Agency Officers, Association of Life Insurance Medical Directors and Actuarial Society of America.

Administration and Repute—This company's management is experienced and capable, although not of particularly progressive disposition, the company having shown a very small average increase in premium volume and insurance in force in the last twenty years. It has however, successfully maintained the volume which had been successfully and profitably developed during its earlier career up to 1905, in which a definite schedule of expansion had established a national scope of writing business. Liberal dividends to policyholders have made the net cost of their insurance attractively low. The company's operative surplus is substantial in amount. It has for many years had a low cost of management and business acquisition. Investments are well secured and remunerative. Actuarial methods are standard. Mortality rate has been low and the company has earned an estimable reputation for promptlyp aying death claims. Policy contracts are fair and equitable, but do not include the features of double indemnity and disability. All business is written through agency managers. The company was examined in 1923 by the Maine Insurance Department.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies include: ordinary life; 10, 15, 20 and 25-payment life; 10, 15, 20 and 25-year endowments; 5 and 10-year convertible terms; monthly income ordinary and 20-payment policies; 30-payment life; annuities; monthly income policies; single premium policies; and a large number of special endowment forms. Maximum amount written, $100,000; retained, $25,000. Women are insured, limit $10,000 at the same rates as apply to men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Participating, $73,455,808.

Reserve Basis—American 3% all issues subsequent to January 1, 1901; actuaries 4% all issues prior to January 1, 1901; annuities on actuaries 4%, American 3% and McClintock's 3½%.

Officers—Arthur L. Bates, president; J. Frank Lang, vice-president; Sylvan B. Phillips, secretary; Harold D. Lang, assistant secretary; Samuel S. Boyden, consulting actuary; Fred A. Hamblen, actuary; Wadleigh B. Drummond, solicitor; Edwin M. Northcott, M. D., medical director.

UNION NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF HOUSTON, TEXAS

Houston, Texas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized May 5, 1921, in Texas, and began business on the following day. Original authorized capital of $100,000, was entirely paid up at the beginning of business and by the sale of stock at double the par value of $100 per share, the surplus of $100,000, was initially provided. A. M. Miller, the company's first president was its principal organizer.

Administration and Repute—This company is strictly proprietary in character, although it writes participating insurance exclusively. Management expenses are high. There was no mortality experience in its first year, and the rate in 1922 was low. Policy contracts have the official approval of the Texas Department. They include the features of disability and double indemnity. The company has been handicapped by changes in management and for a time its license for 1924 was held up by the Texas Insurance Department. We understand that the difficulties impeding its licensing have been adjusted and that the company will confine its operations to industrial insurance. No statement covering 1923 has yet been filed.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies include: ordinary life; 10, 15, 18 and 20-payment life; 20-year endowment; 20-payment endowment at age 65 and continuous premium endowment at age 65; 5 and 10-year term. It also writes joint life on various forms and child's endowment Maximum amount written, no limit; retained, $5,000. Women are insured on all except term forms, with disability and double indemnity allowed, at the same rates as apply to men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—1922—Participating, only, annual dividend, $1,355,000; deferred dividend, $631,500; deferred dividend industrial, $583,092.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, (Illinois standard).

Officers—J. C. Stribling, president; T. M. Neal, vice-president and medical director; J. M. Yois, secretary and treasurer; J. Wesley Anderson, assistant secretary-treasurer; C. D. Creviston, assistant medical director.

Directors—J. C. Stribling, J. M. Yois, T. M. Neal, J. Wesley Anderson, C. D. Creviston

UNITED FIDELITY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Texas and Pacific Building, Dallas, Texas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated September 27, 1920, and began active business December 1, 1920. The Company had an initial paid-in capital of $400,000, and a contributed surplus of $200,000. The par value of the stock, $100, having been sold at $150 per share. No commission or compensation was paid to anyone in connection with the sale of the stock. The present officers and directors were leaders in the organization of the company, with D. E. Waggoner as principal organizer. The management has been the same since organization and no mergers or reinsurances have been effected.

Administration and Repute—The company is a strictly proprietary one and all profits are accruable to stockholders. Non-participating insurance only is written. The company has been well managed with economic interest predominating. In its short period of existence, it has had an exceptionally good growth. Its assets are quite adequate. On December 31, 1923, $735,000 of its admitted assets of $886,047 was invested in its Home Office building. It operates upon a sound actuarial basis with moderate acquisition expenses, but rather high operating costs. Its mortality record has been low. Death claims are promptly paid. Liberal policy contracts are issued and disability and double indemnity benefits included. All business is written through general agents. The company was examined in 1923 by the Texas Insurance Department. The examiner stated the company was in "excellent condition in every way and that the company will under continued good management be steady and progressive and that the confidence of the insuring public in its stability indicated by results accomplished, is and will continue to be ample justified."

Classes of Insurance Written—Among the policies written are ordinary life, 10, 15 and 20-payment life, 10, 15 and 20-year endowment, endowment at age 65; 5 and 10-year term, 20-payment life coupon policy; life expectancy term, home protection, various monthly income policies; annuities, joint life and single premium. Women are written upon the same basis as men. Colored risks are not written.

UNITED LIFE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY

United Life Building, Concord, New Hampshire

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated by a special act of the New Hampshire Legislature April 2, 1913, with an authorized capital of $500,000. and commenced business, July 14, 1914. The stock was sold mostly by mail at $50 per share, par value being $25, thereby paying $500,000 to capital stock and $500,000 to surplus. Organization expenses were $117,214.36. The company began business with a paid-in capital of $250,000. This has been increased as follows: November 15, 1915, $60,000; February 18, 1915, $30,000; June 29, 1915, $35,000; December 31, 1915, $35,000; June 30, 1916, $30,000; December 31, 1916, $60,000. The company was promoted by S. W. Jameson, who was removed from the presidency by the directors in August, 1923. Allen Hollis, who succeeded him, was formerly vice-president, which office, together with those of general counsel and director, he had held since the organization of the company. Its first vice-president and secretary, Robert J. Merrill, has been connected with the company since November, 1917. He was formerly insurance commissioner of New Hampshire. In 1916, the company reinsured the business of the North State Life of Kinston, North Carolina.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention and the Health and Accident Underwriters Conference and the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau.

Administration and Repute—The company has been capably and efficiently managed since organization. It has been developed along sound, but progressive lines and is consistently increasing its now substantial business. This business was developed around the combination policy which pays double indemnity for accidental death and triple indemnity for certain travel accidents. The company has ample assets invested in mortgage loans and well distributed bonds yielding satisfactory returns. It is operated upon a sound actuarial basis and maintains adequate legal reserves. It has ample operating surplus for the volume of business transacted. Its management is efficient and economical and operating expenses are normal, while acquisition costs are low. The company is strictly a proprietary one, and all profits belong to stockholders. The company has a good record for the payment of losses and is in good repute with the insuring public. Business is written through general agents. It was examined jointly in 1923 by the Insurance Departments of New Hampshire, Kansas, Oklahoma and Massachusetts.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life, health and accident. All policies are written upon a

THE UNITED STATES LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

New York, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized February 25, 1850, in New York, and began business March 4, of that year, with a paid up capital of $100,000. Increases were made in capital stock occasionally both by contribution and by stock dividends until at the end of 1906 it amounted to $440,000. The following year it was reduced to $264,000 at which it has since stood. Stock dividends paid since organization total $190,000. On January 1, 1923, Henry Moir took office as managing director of the United States Life and later in the year became its president. The New York Insurance Department examined the company as of its condition, December 31, 1918 and issued report on it, dated March 17, 1919. An examination has been completed by the New York Insurance Department but their report has not been received. Stock, par value, is $30 a share.

Administration and Repute—United States Life has been one of the more conservative of the pioneer companies well known and of good repute in the advancement of the institution of life insurance in the United States. This company has always had strong and estimable backing. Its development has been slow; it has, nevertheless, done a sound and substantial business as denoted particularly by payment of $1,690,025 total cash dividends to stockholders since organization. Premium income has decreased steadily in recent years. Considerable of its business lapsed during the economic depression of 1921, and like many other companies it suffered in consequence. This unfavorable experience, however, only served to stimulate progressive action, a most auspicious result of which was the selection of Henry Moir, formerly vice-president of the Home Life, New York, to manage the company. Mr. Moir is one of the leading actuaries in the business, internationally prominent in the insurance world and a conservative and careful executive. Results from his progressive management were apparent in 1923 when for the first time since 1915 an increase in premium income was made and more business was written than in any year since 1905. Early in 1923, it was decided to lower the premium rates of the company and to provide for acceptance of many classes of sub-standard risks not previously written. The policy adopted, with these changes named, have tended to conserve the work of the agents. Changes in certain forms were instituted to give the company every advantage of the best modern underwriting practices. New low rates and special devised contracts have attracted the attention of alert independent life insurance brokers, and the company's progress is a result. The company has comparatively small but ample surplus, and is strong in reserves and assets. Its actuarial methods are of the best, expenses of operation moderate, business acquisition cost low, mortality rate favorable and investments well selected and remunerative. It writes only non-participating insurance and is controlled by its stockholders. It uses standard forms for policy contracts which include disability benefits and accident death benefits.

Classes of Insurance Written—Ordinary, 20-payment and endowment life insurance and in addition to these usual forms the following: single premium life; 18 and 25-payment life; 25-year endowment; 5, 10, 15 and 20-year term; life annuities survivorship; joint life policies; monthly income policies, children's policies; group insurance. Unmarried business women who are independent and self-supporting are written upon the same basis as men. Married women under 25 are limited to $1,000; 25 to 30 to $2,500; above 30, $5,000.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $21,317,773; annual dividend, $57,000; deferred dividend, $1,079,600; other participating, $2,200,693.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% full level premium since January 1, 1901; excepting as follows: American 3½% preliminary term on whole life and endowment issues from June 1, 1905, to December 31, 1906; prior to 1901 actuaries 4%; annuities actuaries 4% prior to 1901, American 3½% 1901 to 1906; McClintock's 3½% after 1906.

Officers—J. P. Munn, M. D., chairman of the board of directors; Henry Moir, president; C. P. Fraleigh, vice-president; G. W. Hubbell, secretary and actuary; Wm. C. Littlewood, cashier; H. A. Pardee, medical director.

UNIVERSAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

973 Main Street, Dubuque, Iowa

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized August 8, 1919, in Iowa, received its license and began business April 20, 1920, with an authorized capital of $1,000,000. More than half of the authorized capital was subscribed and about one-quarter of the authorized capital was originally paid-in at double par, thereby supplying an equal amount of surplus. In 1921, a resolution passed by stockholders enabled the company to cancel certain subscription notes and at the end of that year, paid-in capital amounted to $326,300. On December 31, 1922, paid-in capital had increased to $330,200, and on December 31, 1923, it was $340,800 not including $14,164 partially paid. During 1922, there was a decrease of subscribed capital of $88,400. The company holds $62,198 stock notes as an unadmitted asset. The company was originally located at Mason City, Iowa, but moved to Dubuque during its organization period. Stock, par value, is $100 a share. The company was last examined by the Insurance Department of Iowa during 1923.

Administration and Repute—Under its present executive management, this company has since organization displayed a progressive disposition tempered with conservatism on account of which premium income has been steadily if not rapidly advancing and insurance in force commensurately. Notable evidence of success is observable in the fact that the company actually earned during 1922, about 7%, and paid a dividend of 3% to stockholders on February 1, 1923. Transactions during 1923 were profitable. It is financially strong in assets, has built up required reserves and has adequate operating surplus. Investments are well secured and remunerative. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Combined operating and business acquisition expenses are average. Mortality rate is very low, and the company is in excellent repute for promptly paying death claims. Policy contracts include the features of double indemnity and disability. All business is written through general agents. The report by the Iowa examiners commended the company for its efficient business methods and for its small amounts of lapses.

Classes of Insurance Written—Regular forms of life and endowment including the following: 10, 15 and 20-payment life and continuous premium life, all maturing as endowments at age 85; $5,000 policy paid up at age 65; premium reduction form; 10, 15 and 20-year endowments; endowments at ages 60, 65, 70, 75 and 80; monthly income policies; joint life policies and children's policies. Maximum amount written, $25,000; retained $5,000. Women are insured on all except term forms, limit, $5,000, without disability or double indemnity, at same rates applying to men. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $3,028,476; deferred dividends, $1,981,000.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, (Illinois standard).

Officers—D. J. Murphy, president; Fred J. Figge, vice-president; F. W. Coates, secretary; J. F. Becker, treasurer; Chas. E. Ward, general manager; J. L. McGeough, auditor, J. R. Guthrie, medical director.

VICTORY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

New England Building, Topeka, Kansas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated November 20, 1920, under the laws of Kansas, and began business March 2, 1921, under the name of the Preferred Life Insurance Company, with a paid up capital of $100,000, and a surplus of $50,000. Par value of the stock is $10 per share, and it is sold at $15 to create the initially paid in surplus. There was no money spent for promotion or in organization. The stock was all issued to 14 men, elected as directors of the company. W. J. Bryden, who is secretary and actuary of the company, and who is general manager in full charge of the company's affairs, was the moving spirit in the promotion of this company. In October 19, 1922, the company changed its name to the above title.

Administration and Repute—This company having been well managed under progressive direction, and operated on sound principles, has flourished. It operates upon sound actuarial basis and issues all standard forms of policies, including disability and double indemnity features. The company has adequate assets for the amount of insurance outstanding, and its reserves are valued on standard legal reserve tables. The surplus is ample and it is noteworthy that after approximately three years of operation, its surplus, after setting aside reserves, is slightly in excess of its original surplus. Its investments are mostly in first mortgages on Kansas land, and Kansas municipal bonds, yielding a rate of interest ranging from 5 to 7%. It is in good standing in the territory in which it operates and its directorate is composed of men of good repute in Kansas. The company is a strictly proprietary company, but issues only participating insurance. It was examined in 1922 by the Kansas Insurance Department. All business is written through the general manager of the company as general agents of the company under the supervision of the general manager.

Classes of Insurance Written—It writes all the standard forms of policies, including ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15 and 20-year endowment policies and various birthday endowments. Colored risks are not solicited.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—$6,309,145.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% modified preliminary term, (Illinois standard).

Officers—James A. Allen, president; W. J. Bryden, secretary, treasurer and general manager; Arch M. Catlin, first vice-president; Frank G. Hunsicker, second vice-president; Ralph T. O'Neil, general counsel, Milton B. Miller, medical director; W. J. Boyden, actuary.

THE VICTORY NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

309 Marion Street, Tampa, Florida

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized April 9, 1923, under the laws of Florida, with an authorized capital of $500,000. It began business October 1, 1923, with $100,000 capital subscribed and $80,700 initially paid-in. Capital was sold at double par the reby creating a surplus of $80,-700. Since that time $100,000 has been paid in and $150,000 additional authorized to be sold at double par and with no expense. S. L. Lowry, Jr., moving spirit in the organization, was elected president and general manager, and four vice-presidents were named as follows: Dr. La. A. Bize of Tampa, president of the Citizens-American Banking and Trust Company; Dr. J. H. Ross, president of the Florida Citrus Exchange; H. T. Lykes, of Lykes Brothers of Tampa; and W. M. McCrory of Jacksonville, head of the largest insurance agency in the State. Capital stock is $000 a share.

Administration and Repute—This company is designed to be a high grade legal reserve institution with definite and sound plans of operation and expansion. Its expansion beyond the confines of Florida will not be attempted for at least two years during its thorough establishment within the State. It has sound backing and its executives and directors are men of excellent reputation. The company acquired a good volume of business in the first three months of operation, obtained at a moderate cost. Assets are well invested and reserves are upon a standard actuarial basis. being sold at $125 per share. In 1908, the capital was reduced by $100,000 to $100,000 because of a change in ruling of the Tennessee Insurance Department on the valuation of policies. In 1916, the capital was restored to $200,000 by utilizing a contingent fund, which had been accumulated in previous years. In 1919, the capital was increased to $500,000 by a subscription of stockholders for $200,000 at par and $100,000 at $110 for each $100 share. Capital increased to $600,000 in 1923 by $100,000 stock dividend and to $800,000 in 1924 by additional issue of $200,000, of which $120,000 has been subscribed and paid for. Total cash dividends paid to stockholders since organization aggregate $286,000. The company was recently examined without adverse comment by the Insurance Department of Tennessee, North Carolina and Texas. Among the organizers was the present president, Z. C. Patten. This company is a member of the American Life Convention and The American Institute of Actuaries.

Administration and Repute—This company has been managed capably and successfully since its organization, practically the same management being in charge of affairs throughout. It has had a good growth under progressive officers. Its assets are well invested and are ample. It is operated on sound actuarial basis and has adequate reserves. It is a strictly proprietary company and there is no limit in the charter to dividends, which may be paid to stockholders. It issues non-participating insurance only. Its operating expenses are low as is the acquisition expense. Mortality record has been moderate and under liberal contracts policyholders have been equitably dealt with and claims promptly paid. Officers and directors are in good repute. Business is written through general agents.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance. Among policies issued by the life insurance department are endowment, at age 85; 10, 15 and 20-payment life, 10, 15 and 20-year endowment, preferred risk whole life policies, 5 and 10-year convertible term. Sub-standard risks are accepted. Women written on the same basis as men. Colored risks are not solicited.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Deferred dividend, $6,170,675; non-participating, $61,886,426.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% preliminary term and modified preliminary term; since 1912 actuaries 4% Tennessee Standard.

WASHINGTON LIFE AND ACCIDENT COMPANY

56 W. Randolph Street, Chicago, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was first organized under the laws of the State of Illinois to provide health, accident and life insurance, operating on the assessment plan. Reorganization took place November 9, 1923. A new charter granted by the Illinois Insurance Department established the company on the legal reserve basis, as a stock institution. As such it began business January 1, 1924, with a paid-in capital of $200,000 and a surplus of $10,000. The company is a member of the following organizations: Health and Accident Underwriters Conference, Southern Industrial Insurers Conference.

Administration and Repute—The change of the company to a legal reserve stock operating basis has in no way changed the policy which was previously offered under the old plan and with which the company had been operating in Illinois and Michigan to the extent of $750,000 in annual dues. G. R. Kendall, president of the new company, was secretary of its predecessor. J. C. Vogt, former company's president, retires from active official connections with the new company but remains a member of its directorate. C. B. Crawford, formerly vice-president and supervisor of agencies. H. R. Kendall is also vice-president of the new company, and C. P. Kendall, secretary. Reorganization enables the company to anticipate expansion from its old territory to the added States of Missouri and Ohio as soon as feasible. As policies can now be written for larger amounts, the old form of organization having limited it to $100 funeral benefits. Policies for regular amounts can now be issued. The company confines itself for the present to the writing of health and accident with life insurance benefits on the weekly premium plan. Women are written on the same basis as men and colored risks are accepted.

WEST COAST LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

605 Market Street, San Francisco, California

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was originally organized in 1906, in Cllifornia, without any promotional expense, with an authorized capital of $350,000, which was entirely paid up by the end of 1914, in which year it reinsured the risks of Empire Life of Seattle, Washington. On February 8, 1915, the company reinsured the business of San Francisco Life Insurance Company of San Francisco, California, and also merged its interest with that company's under the name of West Coast San Francisco Life Insurance Company. That name was shortened to its present title in March, 1920. Beginning of business following the merger and reincorporation is dated February 18, 1915. Paid-in capital stock was at that time and has since remained $250,000. In 1916 $600,000 was contributed to surplus by stockholders. Stock, par value is $1.00 per share. October 1, 1911, the company reinsured the Golden State Life and April 1, 1913, the Empire Life of Washington. It is a member of the American Life Convention, the Medical Information Bureau, the American Service Bureau, American Institute of Actuaries, and the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Administration and Repute—John A. Koster, president of the San Francisco Life Insurance Company from 1910 to 1915, relinquished that business at the time of the company's merger with the West Coast Life in 1915. He joined the new board of the combined companies and was re-elected president in 1919. Gordon Thomson, vice-president, devotes his entire time to the company, having been active with it since 1910. He has had over twenty-two years of insurance experience. The company is of progressive disposition and has built up a solid volume of good business. It is proprietary in character, but writes a participating as well as non-participating business. Liberal dividends have been paid to stockholders in making their net cost of insurance attractively low. In recent years stockholders have also received substantial dividends. The company has satisfactory financial strength of assets, reserve and special reserve funds set aside. It has ample operating surplus. Investments are well secured and remunerative. Actuarial methods are of high standard. Management and business acquisition costs are below average. Mortality rate is favorable and the company pays death claims promptly. The feature of disability and double indemnity are included in the policy contract. The company was jointly examined by the Insurance Departments of California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho in 1922. Business is written through general agents and agency managers.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies including ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life; 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35 and 40-year endowment. WESTERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

720 Sixth Avenue, Des Moines, Iowa

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized April 30, 1907, in Iowa, and began business August 27 of that year as the Western Mutual Life Insurance Company with headquarters at Council Bluffs, to operate as an old line, level premium, mutual company. The mutual company was converted to a stock basis, with $100,000 capital and a change to the present title in 1912. Late in that year headquarters were established in Des Moines. Stock basis did not become effective until 1914. Interval increases made paid-in stock $193,525 at the end of 1919, at which it remained until 1922, when it was increased to $200,000. Stockholders are credited with contributing a total to surplus of $117,874. Stock par value is $10 a share. The company was last examined by the Iowa Insurance Department as of December 31, 1923. The examiners commended the company on its good increases in insurance in force and its moderate rate of lapsation.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention, the Life Agency Officers Association and the Association M. I. B.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed by executives of capability and experience under whom it has shown a conservative but generally consistent growth. Premium volume has gained regularly in recent years except when it was adversely affected by the general business depression of 1921. Its 1922 business was indicative of a return to a progressive trend, and that of 1923 far exceeded any record heretofore achieved by this company. All business is written through agency managers. The company is financially strong in assets and reserves. It has a comparatively small, but adequate operating surplus. Investments are well secured and remunerative. Operating and business acquisition expenses are about normal. Mortality rate is moderate, and the company is in good repute for promptly paying death claims. Standard forms are used for policy contracts. They include the features of disability and general indemnity. During 1921 company's home office building was destroyed by fire. Early in 1923 a new modern 5-story home office building was completed in the down town district.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies include guaranteed coupon reduction policies on 20-payment life forms with 20-year options of paid up $1,000 and cash, paid up at various amounts according to age, or endowment at ages 60 to 77; guaranteed coupon reduction policies on 20-year endowment forms, also with 20-year options of cash or paid up; non-participating ordinary and 20-payment life; monthly income on ordinary 20-payment life and 20-year endowment forms; 7-year term, convertible; child's endowment; annuities; joint life policies; single premium policies. Maximum amount written, $25,000; retained, $5,000. Women are insured on all forms, except term; limit, $2,000; disability and double indemnity not granted. Colored risks are not written.

The company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed as denoted by the substantial increasing income since organization, passing the million dollar mark in 1918, and the two million dollar mark in 1922. Insurance in force has gained commensurately and more rapidly in recent years. Profitable results were obtained from a greatly increased business in 1923. Financial standing of the company in assets and reserves is unquestionable. It has additional ample operating surplus. It is proprietary in character and writes a non-participating business exclusively. Its entire management expenses and business acquisition costs were high following closely upon the uneconomical activities of the company's promoters. This condition was rectified and in the last decade entire thorough stability of management and expenses have been below average. The company has paid dividends to stockholders in recent years. Investments are well secured, a fair proportion being in mortgage loans on real estate, which returns an excellent rate of interest. Mortality rate is low and death claims are paid promptly. Policy contracts include the feature of disability and double indemnity. Business is written through agency managers with branch offices.

Classes of Insurance Written—Leading policies including ordinary life; 10, 15 and 20-payment life and 10, 15 and 20-year endowment with coupon savings included in policy. Same forms are written at flat rates and also a special $10,000 ordinary policy and $5,000 specials on the 20-payment life and 20-year endowment forms. Additional forms written include single premium life annuity and life income. Maximum amount written, unlimited; retained, $15,000. Women are insured, limit $5,000, with certain restrictions, at the same rates as apply to men.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $75,046,628.

Reserve Basis—American 3½%, modified preliminary term, (Illinois standard), annuity on McClintock's 3½%.

Officers—H. J. Saunders, president; Marshall C Harris, George M. Perine, vice-presidents; T. G. Crothers, vice-president and general counsel; J. V. Hawley, secretary and treasurer; Harry Ford, superintendent of agencies; B. N. Coates, actuary; Henry W. Gibbons, medical director; R. W. Harbaugh, M. D., assistant medical director.

WISCONSIN NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Oshkosh, Wisconsin

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized July 25, 1908, in Wisconsin, and began business October 12, of that year, with an authorized capital of $100,000 which was fully paid-in during the year along with $25,000 surplus. Authorized capital was increased to $400,000 in 1909 and it has been fully paid-in, increases dating as follows: 1909 to $127,276 with $34,090 to surplus; 1910 to $172,068 with $60,718 to surplus; 1911 to $203,932 with $198,712 to surplus; 1912 to $284,031 with $165,502 to surplus; 1913 to $355,889 with $11,990 to surplus and 1914 to $400,000 with $10,914 to surplus, this total contribution to surplus being $506,926. Prior to September 1, 1912, stock, par value, $10, was bought in at $25 a share; after that time, it brought $30 a share. All but the first $100,000 of capital stock was sold at a commission expense of 25% of sale price. By statute, organization expenses are limited to 10% of the sum paid in for stock. The company complied with this statute by distributing a considerable amount of its stock according to their holdings among its stockholders at $12.50 a share. Profit sharing bonds had been issued by the former management. These bonds entitled the holders to nothing more than the right to share in the company's yearly net earnings for 30 years from date of issue. The stock-selling management was able to dispose of practically all of these bonds through exchange of them for the company's capital stock at the rate of one $150 profit-sharing bond and $100 in cash for 10 shares of stock. In 1910, the company reinsured the business of the Northwestern Casualty Company of Milwaukee. Stock, par value, $10 a share.

This company is a member of the American Life Convention.

Administration and Repute—This company has been well managed and has shown satisfactory progress with steadily advancing premium income, surplus, special reserves and assets. Stockholders control the company and profits payable to them are not limited. Only non-participating insurance is written. The company has adequate surplus, sound actuarial practices, well secured and remunerative investments and an excellent loss paying reputation. Losses and expenses incurred have been low. The casualty department while not writing a large volume of business has been profitable and has steadily increased its premium volume.

Additional information on other pages; detailed statements in Compendium Section; Statistical History in department Life Insurance history; Gains and Losses in Gain and Loss Exhibit.

For the last eleven years 6% annual dividends have been paid. The directorate, consisting of prominent local men, in 1921, owned $54,904, par value, of the $400,000 capital stock. Business is written through general agents and agency managers.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life, accident and health. In addition to usual forms it writes the following: 20-payment 30-year endowment; convertible 5 and 10-year term; monthly income, joint life and single premium policies. Women are insured at same rates as applied to men except on ordinary life and term policies, and without disability benefits. Colored risks are not written.

Insurance Outstanding on Varying Plans—Non-participating, $26,414,528; industrial, $17,118.

Reserve Basis—American 3½% full level premium, full preliminary term and modified preliminary term industrial business, Standard 3½%.

Officers—C. R. Boardman, president; H. I. Weed, vice-president and general counsel; R. C. Brown, second vice-president; Arthur James, third vice-president and manager of Casualty Department; R. E. Martin, secretary; E. A. Hanks, superintendent of agencies and assistant secretary; F. A. Labudde, treasurer; Donald F. Campbell, consulting actuary; D. A. McVicar and G. R. Morgan, auditors; R. A. Hollister, assistant counsel; Dr. J. M. Conley, medical director; Dr. J. M. Hogan, assistant medical director.

Directors—E. P. Sawyer, Dr. J. M. Conley, J. J. Sherman, R. C. Brown, Sr., R. A. Hollister, F. A. Fuller, H. I. Weed, C. R. Boardman, Fred J. Rueping.

STIPULATED PREMIUM COMPANIES

The following companies transact life insurance on the stipulated premium plan.

CRESCENT INSURANCE COMPANY

406 Market Street, St. Louis, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized 1918 under the stipulated premium laws of Missouri. It has a capital of $10,000, but maintains in addition a reserve under Section 6174, revised statutes of Missouri, amounting to $8,120. It operates upon the stipulated premium plan.

Administration and Repute—This company transacts a small volume of business. The premium income is small and the assets are not large. It has a capital of $10,000 and its assets are sufficiently large to care for the insurance outstanding.

Classes of Insurance Written—Life insurance on the stipulated premium plan, both ordinary and industrial.

During 1923 its premium income was $8,302; total income, $9,472; payments to members, $2,707; total disbursements, $5,127; insurance issued, ordinary only, $65,900. On December 31, last, the total admitted assets amounted to $32,121; the total liabilities including reserve was $18,964; and the surplus to policyholders was $13,157; insurance in force, ordinary only, $276,241. All items represent small increase.

DOUGLAS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

2348 Olive Street, St. Louis, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated in Missouri, July 16, 1920. It was organized under the stipulated premium laws of Missouri. It operates on this basis. On December 31, 1921, it had a paid-in capital stock of $5,420.

Administration and Repute—This company has a fair volume of premium income. Its assets, however, do not seem to be sufficient in consideration of the amount of insurance outstanding. The total admitted assets of this company on December 31, 1923, amounted to only $11,973, and the liabilities amounted to $2,816. The premium income during 1923 was $59,130, and the total income, $66,287. Payments to members totalled $18,915, and agents commissions and other expenses of management totalled $43,203, rather high. The total expenditures were $62,118. On December 31, 1923, after writing $524,836 of insurance, the company had in force 9,974 policies covering $850,042. For the most part these are increases over corresponding items in 1922. The officers are G. J. Dickson, president, and R. A. Turner, secretary.

JUNIOR LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

1513 Froost Avenue, Kansas City, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated in 1920, and commenced business August 31, of that year. It was organized under the stipulated premium laws of Missouri, and operates upon the stipulated premium plan with a capital of $5,000.

Administration and Repute—It seems to be conservatively managed though small and restricted in its field of operation. Its premium income in 1923 amounted to $16,412, a slight falling off from the previous or initial year. Its total income was $16,900 and its payments to policyholders totalled $4,426, with total disbursements amounting to $15,008. Its total assets on December 31, 1923, were $14,548. During 1922 it wrote 325 policies for $70,000 of insurance and on December 31, 1922, had 3,428 policies in force on $470,875 of insurance. During 1921 it paid off a note of $5,000 and interest thereon, which was in accordance with a contract made by its president, Joe McComas, made with the Missouri Benefit Association on December 30, 1920. This note was paid off in 1921 in full. The president is Joe M. McComas, secretary, Geo. C. Sturgiss. It is a successor of the Missouri Benefit Association.

MIDWEST LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF MISSOURI

1509 East 18th Street, Kansas City, Missouri

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized November 18, 1920, under the stipulated premium laws of the State of Missouri, and began business August 8, 1921, with an authorized capital of $100,000, of which $25,000 was subscribed and $10,000 paid up.

Administration and Repute—Organized by and for members of the colored race, this company is operated under the stipulated premium laws and bases its reserves on the American Experience Table at 3½%, modified preliminary term on all policies. After experiencing some difficulty in its first full year of operation this company appears to have undergone a reorganization process which, during 1923, increased paid-in capital to $39,742, and its surplus by donations of $12,000 by the directors. This seems to have placed it on a basis from which it is now in a position to anticipate progress. Its operations are confined to Missouri.

Insurance in force at the end of 1923: ordinary, $350,500; industrial, $46,178.

Officers—William J. Thompkins, M. D., president; W. G. Mosely, secretary; F. H. Payne, treasurer; W. E. Jackson, M. D., T. B. Watkins, J. E. Perry, M. D., M. L. Kinsled, Edward Bice, M. D., vice-presidents.

Directors—Charles H. Callaway, attorney; Harris Tucker, Ackista Gilmare, B. F. Abbatt, Charles H. Phillips, Wm. N. Thompkins, F. E. Fleming, S. I. Hill, M. D., T. B. Watkins, W. E. Jackson, M. D., J. W. Clark, Atty., S. M. Miller, M. D., W. G. Mosely, Felix H. Payne, Eliska Scate.

WESTERN LIFE INDEMNITY COMPANY

159 West State Street, Chicago, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized May 5, 1884, and began business May 27 of that year under the laws of Illinois, governing the activities of assessment associations. Since 1905 the Western Life Indemnity has affected a large number of reinsurances as follows: 1905—Life Insurance Company of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; 1907—Corn Belt Life, Danville, Illinois; 1908—Fraternal Censor, Dayton, Ohio; Fraternal Life Association, Hastings, Nebraska; and Order of Washington, Portland, Oregon; 1909—National Life Annuity Company, Jacksonville, Illinois; 1910—United States Endowment Company, Chicago, Illinois; 1912—Pioneer Life, Pekin, Illinois; and Royal Achates, Omaha, Nebraska; 1913—Bankers National Life, Indianapolis, Indiana; American Life Annuity Company, Evansville, Indiana; and Monarch Life Annuity Company, Evansville, Indiana; 1914—Order of Aztecs, Fort Worth, Texas; 1915—Home Protective Association, Indianapolis, Indiana, and American Bankers Life, Evansville, Indiana; 1916—National Life Assurance Company, New Albany, Indiana; and Continental Benefit Association, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; 1917—Western Life Annuity Company, Indianapolis, Indiana; and Pension Life Society, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; 1918—Farmers and Merchants Mutual Life Association, Princeton, Indiana. The Insurance Departments of Illinois, Pennsylvania and Indiana examined the company in 1918.

Administration and Repute—This company's premium volume has shown slight annual decreases since 1918. In 1922, it was $282,571; in 1923, $269,310. Assets in 1922 amounted to $152,125; in 1923, $138,510. Liabilities, 1922, $60,520; 1923, $73,480. During 1922 the amount of insurance written was $616,727; in 1923, it was $463,938. Insurance in force, 1922, $8,425,650; 1923, $8,108,890. Expenses of management and business acquisition costs have been moderate, but mortality rate has been above normal, making high the total disbursements; in 1922, $322,426; in 1923, $298,004. Maximum of certificate policy issued $5,000; minimum, $7.50. Assessments are computed upon the N. F. C. Table at 4% interest for ordinary, premium level at age of application. Officers of the company are: George M. Moulton, president; C. T. Drake and R. S. Folsom, vice-presidents and A. M. Ryan, secretary. J. L. Mitchell is general agency manager.

Age limits 1 to 65 years: expenses limited to 25% of all premiums and dues. Losses paid since organization, $9,314,322; premiums received, $12,197,326. Old age instalment and disability policies issued. Licensed in Illinois only, by which department it was examined in 1923. Reserve fund, $65,030; average age of membership, 53. Death rate per $1,000 of mean insurance in force, 25.7%.

ASSESSMENT LIFE ASSOCIATIONS

The following companies transact life insurance on the assessment plan.

BANKERS MUTUAL LIFE COMPANY

Freeport, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This association was chartered under the assessment laws of Illinois on September 14, 1907, and commenced business the same date as the Bankers Reserve Life Association. This name was changed in 1915 in order to avoid confusion, the charter being so amended. Although organized under assessment law, the company operates on a stipulated premium basis as Illinois has not a stipulated premium law. The company is purely mutual. While not operated on the legal reserve basis, it seems to be capably managed with the best interests of policyholders paramount. It has a fair volume of premium income, amounting to in 1923, $239,806. Its total income was $244,503; payments to members amounted to $105,311 and its total disbursements, $220,315. There is an apparent excess of income over disbursements. Its admitted assets amounted to, on December 31 last, $139,852 and the liabilities were $23,309; the surplus therefore amounting to $116,543. On that date the company had 9,384 certificates in force covering $14,012,000 of insurance. During the year past it wrote

2,163 certificates and $3,349,000 of insurance. The assets and surplus, while not substantial, seem to be adequate. As a mark of the company's stability it voluntarily deposits with the Illinois Insurance Department a portion of its reserve fund, although not required to do so by law. Its policies provide only for payment of claims due to death, or total permanent physical disability, except that it has recently put on the market what it chooses to call a "Trust Fund Policy" which provides that the policyholder may pay any amount above a certain minimum in addition to the regular insurance premium. The company agrees to pay 4% interest on the amount paid. That fund is under the control of the policyholder and may be used to provide extended insurance, or withdrawn at any time, or left to accumulate until the interest will take care of insurance premium, and in case of the death of the policyholder, the amount to the credit of the particular policy is added to the face of the policy and paid to the beneficiary. Officers are W. B. Erfert, president and treasurer; A. P. Woodruff, vice-president and superintendent of agencies; J. C. Peasley, secretary and general manager; and Dr. C. L. Best, medical director.

Age limits, 16 to 59; insurance limits, $1,000 to $10,000 (excess of $5,000 reinsured.) Expenses are provided from premiums. Premiums based on age at entry are level; losses paid since organization, $602,858. Directors elected by members and officers by directors. Charter amended December 14, 1923. Operates in Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Michigan. Examined in 1923 by the Illinois Insurance Department.

CHARTER MUTUAL BENEFIT ASSOCIATION

Twentieth and Spring Garden Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

HISTORICAL DATA

This association was incorporated by a special act of the Assembly in Pennsylvania in 1870, and has continuously operated in that state since that time. It transacts an assessment business covering accident, sickness and death benefits.

Administration and Repute—This company, during its years of operation, has been capably managed and transacts a moderate volume of business and has a good record for promptly paying losses. On December 31, last, it had assets amounting to $49,362, with no liabilities. During the year ending December 31, 1923, the premium income of this company was $326,736; and the total income, $326,876. It had paid during that year $20,477 in death claims, and $103,771 in sick and accident claims, while its total disbursements amounted to $326,881. It had on December 31, last, 18,170 certificates in force. The officers are V. J. Cadwalader, president; Paul G. Clayton, treasurer; Robert V. Lander, secretary; Joseph A. Conroy, actuary; and E. L. Glenn, cashier.

Age limits, 15 to 60. Insurance written, $1,000. Rates based on age of entry on a mortality table. Association has never levied an extra assessment. Old age and disability benefits are granted, as are installment policies. The association is licensed in Pennsylvania, Ohio and New Jersey.

CHICAGO MUTUAL LIFE COMPANY

7 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated and began business November 15, 1920, as an assessment association. It is purely mutual and transacts life insurance on the accumulation life plan.

Administration and Repute—It has built up a fair volume of premium income and has over $3,000,000 of insurance outstanding. It has a small amount of assets and surplus, its management seems to be progressive, and the company is growing in a small way. During 1923, the premium income totalled $79,658, and the total income was $85,813. It paid during that period $16,000 in death claims; had management expenses of $63,868; and total disbursements of $80,393. On December 31, last, it had total admitted assets of $51,023, and total liabilities of $23,547. During 1923 it issued 1,362 certificates covering $2,236,500 of insurance, and on December 31, last, had insurance outstanding amounting to $3,100,000 on 1,871 certificates. EMPIRE STATE LIFE INSURANCE SOCIETY

Stockton, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This Association was organized and began business in May, 1886. It operates under the assessment laws of the State of New York. It transacts a moderate volume of business which has remained about the same for the past five years. Its assets have grown steadily. Insurance in force has decreased by a small amount since 1919; death rate for one thousand dollars of mean insurance in force during 1923 was 23.5%, a rather high rate. In recent years premiums were based upon the National Fraternal Congress Tables with an expense loading. Premiums are levied at attained age. Expenses are provided by transferring 15% of the mortuary fund collection to the general fund. The Association issues a 20-payment life policy only on which paid up extended insurance is granted after three years and a cash share in the reserve after five years. Assessments are collected monthly. Directors are elected by members and directors elect officers. Age limits, 18 to 54; losses paid since organization, $2,712,125. The Association operates in New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

Officers are: Amos E. Hall, president; William A. Clark, secretary.

Total admitted assets, December 31, last, was $512,144; total liabilities, $32,554; certificates in force, 7,500, covering $6,486,000 insurance. During 1923 premium income was $189,942; total income, $216,485; death claims paid, $152,596; management expenses, $41,606. 461 policies were written covering $438,500 of insurance.

EXPRESSMEN'S MUTUAL BENEFIT ASSOCIATION

50 Church Street, New York City, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This association was organized and commenced business in 1869 for the purpose of providing life insurance for employees of express companies. The amount of insurance written ranges from $500 to $5,000. It is organized under the assessment laws and is purely mutual. The association charges a level premium basis on age of entry and reserves are valued on the American Experience Table of Mortality, 3% interest. Rates are based on the Manchester Unity Table. Premiums are collected on a monthly basis. This association adjusted its rates in 1902 on the basis of level premium rates for life and has since maintained a legal reserve on the American Experience Table 3%. And up to December 31st, 1923, it had accumulated assets amounting to $2,109,419 and a surplus exclusive of reserve of $332,491, besides applying from time to time surplus by way of benefits in the form of passing one or more month's payment. During 1923, one month's payment was waived. Its policies have values both in cash and in paid-up or extended insurance. It is therefore apparent that the success of this association has not depended upon gains from lapses and also that the death rate was not a factor in the sense usually applied to assessment in organizations, as provision is made for death rates increasing with age. During 1923, the premium income was $713,017, and the total income, $790,483; total benefits paid members, $204,226; total disbursements, $331,913. There was written during the year 5,345 certificates covering $5,713,500 of insurance and on December 31, last, 25,879 certificates in force with $27,874,967 of insurance outstanding. The amount of reserve on the American 3% basis was on December 31, 1923, $1,762,625. Amount of claims paid policyholders since reorganization, $1,778,513; policies issued included the whole life, 20-payment life, and the paid-up at age 60 policy. The president is E. A. Stedman, and the secretary is W. E. Scott.

Age limits, 18 to 60 years; insurance limits, $500 to $5,000. Expenses are limited to 10% of premiums and one-half of first year's premiums. The association operates in Illinois and New York.

GLOBE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

431 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was organized March 23, 1895, by Thomas F. Barry, who had long experience in the life insurance business, both in England where he was connected with the Prudential of Great Britain, and in America where he was long superintendent of agents of the Metropolitan Life at Albany and Chicago. Mr.

Barry organized this association on a purely mutual plan and it operates under the assessment laws of Illinois.

Administration and Repute—This association, under Mr. Barry's personal direction, has progressed and been accorded a full measure of success. It operates within a restricted territory confining its operations to Illinois, most particularly to Chicago. It has an excellent reputation for promptly paying death claims, it being one of the association's cardinal principles to pay all death claims on sight. The association had a good volume of premium income amounting in 1923 to $601,261, with a total income of $633,083. It paid $133,923 in death claims, $6,391 in disability claims and its total disbursements during 1923 amounted to $481,343. During that year it wrote 18,213 certificates amounting to $6,247,478 of insurance. On December 31, last, it had insurance outstanding to the amount of $21,474,337, and had admitted assets on that date of $655,456, high grade bonds being its predominating investment; total liabilities were $24,309. All of the above amounts represent substantial increases over the corresponding amounts in 1923. It had had a uniformly low mortality rate, the average death rate per $1,000 of mean insurance in force during 1922 averaging 5.8%. Officers are: Thomas F. Barry, president, and G. O. Sanborn, secretary.

Age limits, date of birth to 65 years; insurance limits, $40 to $5,000; reserve basis, American Experience Table on ordinary business and Craig's Industrial Table for industrial business. Claims paid since organization, $850,425. Company writes life, 10, 15 and 20 pay life policies. Disability insurance written: after three years paid-up insurance is allowed and after five years cash on lapsed policies. The company operates in Illinois and it was examined by the Illinois Insurance Department during 1923.

GOLDEN EAGLE LIFE ASSOCIATION

1810 Broadway, Brooklyn, New York

GUARANTEE FUND LIFE ASSOCIATION

Brandeis Theatre Building, Omaha, Nebraska

HISTORICAL DATA

This association was organized in 1901, under the mutual benefit laws of Nebraska, and began business therein on January 2, 1902. The company writes ordinary complete protection yearly renewable term and accumulation policies in amounts from $1,000 to $50,000. The accumulation policy provides for non-forfeitable cash value. It carries a maximum of $15,000 upon a single risk, age limits, 16 to 59 years. Any excess of that amount is reinsured. Directors are elected by the members to serve for a period of 7 years, every member being entitled to one vote. The company is an assessment organization and operates upon the assessment plan. Its rates and reserves are based upon the American Experience Table 4% interest graduated from 70% to 90% of the table. On December 31, last, its reserve on this basis amounted to $5,834,754. This association has operated since organization under the personal direction of its president, J. C. Buffington, the organizer of the company who is in excellent standing in his community. The association has been successful, and maintains adequate rates and reserves for the kind of insurance written. It has a good record in the matter of claim payments and has had a favorable mortality experience. The association is transacting business in Ark., Cal., D. C., Fla., Ga., Ida., Ill., Ind., Ia., Kans., Ky., Mich., Mo., Mont., Neb., N. D., Okla., Ore., S. D., Tenn., Tex., Utah, Wash and Wyo. ILLINOIS BANKERS LIFE ASSOCIATION

Monmouth, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This association was organized and began operations at Monmouth, Illinois, November 3, 1897. It operates upon an assessment basis, similar in many respects to that upon which the Bankers Life of Iowa formerly operated. There were thirteen (13) incorporators, principal of whom were: W. A. Sawyer, secretary of the company until 1916 and S. S. Hallan, attorney and general manager until 1919. The organization had a slow, but steady growth in its early years. In 1910 it was reorganized, and the directorate reduced from thirteen (13) to five (5). While organized under the assessment laws it operates practically upon a stipulated premium plan.

Prior to 1917, different, but constantly increasing premium rates had been used, but in that year the association joined with others of its nature in employing competent actuaries who advised a new rate, which was put into effect as to new business September 1, 1917. This rate is made by using 70% of the net rate, American Experience Table 4%, and adding 25% to that amount to cover expenses. All business written since that time has been written on that rate and on January 1, 1921, all business written prior to September 1, 1917, was brought up to the current rate so that all business of the association is now carried on the rate established September 1, 1917. This rate is as follows:

Age	Annual Premium	Age	Annual Premium
25	$12.44	45	$23.75
30	14.19	50	29.49
35	16.48	55	37.44
40	19.56	59	58.30

Without any legislative requirements the association has constantly improved its policies, and made them to conform more and more to the standard provisions required of other organizations so that now the association issues the following contracts: ordinary life; 20-year savings; combination: 10-year term; yearly renewable term.

All contracts may be issued on the instalment basis. Double indemnity and total and permanent disability benefits are granted.

This association now has over sixty-five thousand members and is actively operating in the following states, where the business is handled by state or district agencies: Arizona, Arkansas, California, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

Practically the same methods of operation are now followed as have been adopted by all modern life insurance organizations and the Illinois Bankers Life has had a very healthy growth and a favorable mortality experience. The ratio of actual to expected deaths (American Experience Table) for the past ten years has been as follows: 1913, 51.1%; 1914, 41.1%; 1915, 51.7%; 1916, 52.1%; 1917, 55.2%; 1918, 102%; 1919, 67.0%; 1920, 61.4%; 1921, 48.1%; 1922, 51.4%. It is felt by the association that this experience, coupled with that of other large insurance associations of the country is ample demonstration of the adequacy of the rate of premium charged. The association has the right by its articles and by-laws to take 25% of the premium for expenses but in practice it has never taken over 20%. While under its charter and its laws of operation the liability of the members or policyholders is not limited to fixed premiums, yet as a matter of fact, no assessment has ever been made on any policyholder of the company. All of the contracts of the association provide that the entire assets of the association, except reserve liability, are pledged to maintain the current rate and that no assessment will be made unless and until said assets are exhausted. Age limits, 15 to 59 years; insurance limits, $1,000 to $50,000; average age of members, 38 years; average of members received during 1923, 33 years. Losses paid since organization, $6,305,013.

ums are collected in quarterly payments. Losses paid since organization amount to $14,220,396. In addition to natural premium plans the association issues certificates of membership on term plan with insurance expiring at ages 50, 55, 60 and 65 years. It is licensed in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, New Jersey, Michigan and West Virginia. The association has financial strength in assets and surplus. Its premium income and insurance in force have decreased annually by moderate amounts since 1919. Assets since that time have increased consistently. On December 31, last, the association had admitted assets of $587,852, $494,173 of which were invested in high grade bonds. Total liabilities were $232,132 including a reserve of $156,024; a surplus amounted to $355,720. There were on that date 4,694 certificates in force covering $9,456,000 of insurance. During 1923 premiums collected totalled $389,814 and the total income was $413,384. Death claims paid totalled $327,000; expenses of management were $43,224; and total disbursements were $370,225. There were 232 certificates issued covering $631,000 of insurance.

MASONIC LIFE ASSOCIATION

452 Delaware Avenue, Buffalo, New York

HISTORICAL DATA

This association was incorporated December 10, 1872, by prominent members of the Masonic Order to write insurance on the assessment plan, only to members of that order. It began business December 14th of the same year. It was organized by Christopher G. Fox, grand master of the Masonic Grand Lodge of New York, as the Masonic Life Association of western New York. The name was changed to its present title by order of the Supreme Court. The original plan of operation called for an assessment of $1.10 per member on the death of the policyholder. This was naturally unscientific and not a guarantor of permanency. On January 1, 1884, the company was in financial difficulties. To save the association from bankruptcy, Nelson O. Tiffany, Senior, was named general manager. Mr. Tiffany was very prominent in mutual assessment life insurance and was one of the founders of the National Association of Mutual Life Underwriters. All business is written on the step rate plan which is a modification of the natural premium plan. Mr. Tiffany instituted sounder methods of operation and placed the association on better actuarial and financial basis.

Administration and Repute—This association has been capably managed by Mr. Tiffany and since his death, by his son, Nelson O. Tiffany. It has grown consistently and steadily, both in assets and outstanding insurance It has a low rate of mortality and is in good repute in promptly paying death claims. The management is in high standing.

Plan of Operation—This company issues policy contracts from $1,000 to $10,000 on the step rate plan. The rates range from $9 at age 21 to $42, at age 56. Rates may be paid semi-annually or quarterly. Death claims and expenses are paid from these assessments, and should occasion arise, further assessments may be made on policyholders.

Expenses provided by setting aside a portion of the receipts. It issues a total disability contract. Officers and directors elected by members. It is licensed in New York, New Jersey, Kentucky, Michigan, Mississippi, Texas, New Mexico, Missouri, Arkansas, Arizona, Idaho, California and Porto Rico.

Officers—Nelson O. Tiffany, president and general manager; George H. Chase, secretary.

Financial statement December 31, 1923—Assets, $535,177; total liabilities, $241,464; surplus, $392,713; certificates in force, 19,352, covering $39,870,500. Premiums received during 1923, $798,157; total income, $850,924; death claims paid, $630,500; disability claims, $7,800; management expenses, $180,068; total disbursements $818,369; business written, 2,328 policies covering $7,018,000 insurance.

MERCHANTS RESERVE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

10 East Pearson Street, Chicago, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated under the laws of Illinois as an assessment association in 1907, and operated upon a stipulated premium basis. It reorganized on September 1, 1920, and since that time it has computed its reserves on the American Experience Table of Mortality 4%, Illinois standard, as prescribed for legal reserve companies. A loading of $2.50 per thousand on all ages was made for expense of management. The company, however, does not allow cash, loan or cash surrender values. The company has paid over $458,-231 in claims since organization and on December 31, had admitted assets of $174,414; liabilities, $34,465, and a surplus of $139,949. NATIONAL LIFE ASSOCIATION

Des Moines, Iowa

HISTORICAL DATA

This is a mutual association organized October 24, 1899, and commenced business March 19, 1900. It was organized and operates under the laws of Iowa governing mutual assessment associations. Policies are issued in amounts ranging from $1,000 to $25,000 on lives not over 60 years of age on the basis of stipulated annual premiums computed on the mortality experience and interest earnings of the association, and protected by securities deposited with the state of Iowa amounting to $2,014,730.

Policyholders are allowed to pay additional amounts above regular rates, which amounts are held in Trust Fund to pay premiums as they mature or the same can be withdrawn by the policyholders. The expense loading is a constant plus a percentage of the net premium varying according to the kind of policy. The association has been successfully managed and has consistently grown in assets, income, and insurance outstanding. It has a good record for promptly paying death claims and up to December 31, 1923 had paid $5,075,684 in claims since organization. PURE PROTECTION LIFE ASSOCIATION

HISTORICAL DATA

This association was organized and licensed under the laws of Ohio June 12, 1912, and began business January 10, 1913. Under the mutual protective law of Ohio it was not required to provide cash surrender or cash loan values, but was pledged to maintain a guarantee fund equal to the full legal reserve, American Experience 4%, preliminary term. A founders advisory board composed of 400 Ohioans for the most part policyholders advanced $100 each to the association's expense fund. These loans were 7% interest bearing and not an insurance liability to the company. The original officers were Dr. George W. Hopkins, president, who remains incumbent of that office; William B. Prenter, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, vice-president; Lucian Seymour, well-known in fraternal circles, secretary; and Charles E. Wheeler, also a frater-

Average age of members received during the year was 32.16 while the average age of members insured in the order is 42.15 years. The company is progressively managed and seems to be growing and is in good standing with its policyholders and in the general community. During past years it has reinsured The Catholic Mutual Benefit of Hornell, New York, in 1921; The Catholic Relief Beneficiary Society of Syracuse in 1921; and the Order of the Golden Links o Wheeling, West Virginia, in 1922.

This society is operated under the Fraternal Law of Ohio and conducts its business by the lodge system. It writes life, health and accident, accident, and child insurance. The supreme body, called the National Congress, is made up of delegates elected by the members. Each lodge of 100 members is entitled to one delegate and one additional delegate to each additional 500 members but not more than seven delegates. National officers and directors are elected by the delegates at a quadrennial meeting. Any person who is sound in health and mind and socially acceptable is eligible for insurance. Age limits, 1 to 16 on junior life policies and 16 to end of calendar year of age 60 on senior life policies. Medical examination is required for senior life policies. Medical inspection is required for junior life policies. No medical examination or inspection is required for health and accident or accident policies.

Monthly premium payments are based on the American Experience Table of Mortality at 4% and calculated at age of entry. The Expense Fund is a stipulated percentage of the monthly contributions as provided in the constitution. First year's contributions are used, after mortuary cost of first year members, for extension purposes. Policies contain a provision for cash withdrawal equity or its equivalent in

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

New Haven, Connecticut

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated in Connecticut, March 29, 1882, and began business February 2nd of the same year. It was organized under the fraternal laws and practiced business upon the assessment plan. Members are of two classes: associate and insurance. Membership is restricted to men of the Roman Catholic faith and all insurance members must also be associate members. Minimum charge for associate membership is $10; $5 of which goes to a subordinate counsel. It operates upon the step rate plan, maintains a legal reserve on the Fraternal American Table with 4% interest. Investments are regulated by state law. The Order has a low mortality rate and a high interest yield. Operates upon the lodge system, there being 2,368 lodges. Age limits, 18 to 50; insurance limits, $1,000 to $3,000. Medical examination required. Paid-up and extended insurance granted. Claims paid since organization, $19,158,010. Average age of members, 33.5 years.

Illustration of Plan—If an insurance member is age 25 at entry, his assessment for each $1,000 will be as follows: for the first 5-year term, 80c; second 5-year term, 85c; for the third, 90c; for the fourth, 99c; for the fifth, $1.14; and for the sixth 5-year term, $1.41. If he continues his insurance from age 55 on the 15-year plan his rate will be $2.16 until age 70, when his death benefit certificate will be fully paid up in the full amount, with no further regular monthly assessments to pay thereafter. Or, if he elects the whole life plan, his level rate from age 55 will be $1.75 payable for the remainder of life. Or, if he elects the economic plan, his rate from age 55 will be 34c, ceasing at age 70, entitling him to death benefit protection in the full amount up to age 61, the death benefit reducing thereafter $50 yearly for 15 years, until reaching age 75, when he has a fully paid up death benefit of $250. Similar illustrations applicable to any age at entry from 18 to 50 years may readily be seen by consulting our table of rates. LADIES CATHOLIC BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION

443 West 11th Street, Erie, Pennsylvania

HISTORICAL DATA

This is a fraternal order organized in 1890 under the Pennsylvania laws for such orders This fraternity maintains 1,237 different lodges; representatives to grand lodge: 1 to every 75 members. Membership limited to Roman Catholic women between the ages of 16 and 49. Insurance limits, $250 to $1,000. Medical examination required. Expenses are defrayed by supplies and first year's assessment on new members. Assessments are based on the National Fraternal Congress Table at 4% and level premium levied at age of entry. Assessments collected monthly. One full assessment would amount to $210,427. Death claims paid since organization, $25,740,509. The emergency and reserve fund amounted to, on December 31 last, $6,665,106. Average age of members received during the year, 28; average age of total membership, 46.

Total admitted assets, December 31, last, $8,917,813; total liabilities, $110,194; insurance in force, $82,383,110; certificates, 106,053. Premiums received during 1923, $2,561,694; total income, $2,969,590; paid for claims, $1,481,567; total disbursements, $1,678,260; number of certificates written, 3,196; insurance, $2,073,708. While assets show an increase annually during the past five years and the premium income has been increased during that period the insurance in force has annually for five years shown decreases, while since 1920 the death rate has grown. This decrease is due to the changes incident to the rerating of the business and the consequent placing of the society on a sounder actuarial basis. In the last two years the society has shown gains in membership and is on a sounder financial basis. President, Miss Kate Mahoney; secretary, Mrs. Joanna A. Royer. The order operates in N. MODERN WOODMEN OF AMERICA

Rock Island, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

The Modern Woodmen of America was organized as a fraternal beneficiary society, January 5, 1883. It claims to be the largest fraternal beneficiary society in America. It writes but one form of certificates, namely, the whole life level premium at ages 16 to 50, in amounts of $500, $1,000, $1,500, $2,000 and $3,000. An entrance fee of $5 is retained by the local camps, numbering 14,144. The society has a representative form of government and a ritualistic form of work. Supreme governing body is the head camp meetings which are held quarterly. The society has but two funds: benefit and general. The benefit fund is created by the mortuary assessments paid by members and is used for no other purposes than the payment of death claims and disability benefits to members, 70 years or more of age. The surplus of the benefit fund consists of the balance remaining each month after paying said claims. Not more than $3,500,000 is maintained as a monthly balance. The remaining surplus is invested in farm mortgages and high grade bonds. The general funds out of which expenses are paid is derived from a per capita tax of 15c a member and 70% of the first twelve assessments. A sanitarium for members having tuberculosis was opened January 1, 1909. Voluntary contributions erected and maintained it. Since September 1, 1917, the expenses have been met from the general fund. The society operates in every state, excepting South Carolina and Massachusetts, and at the end of 1922, had 14,103 local camps. All world war claims were paid in full from a special fund called the patriotic fund created by additional payments of members. There have been but two new rate tables since organization which affected the existing membership. On January 1, 1904, a new table—25% in excess of the former table, was adopted and the entire existing membership was re-rated at entry age. On July 1, 1919, a new rate table about 75% in excess of the former table, became effective on new business. The entire membership was also re-rated under this table at entry age, with the exception that a flat rate of $1.50 per thousand was applied to all members of entry age 38 or over. Adequate rates have been charged on new business since July 1, 1919, based on the society's own mortality table with interest assumption of 4%. Advantage is being taken of the provisions of the New York conference bill permitting a society with an experience of at least 20 years, covering not less than 100,000 lives to use a table of rates based upon its own experience. During 1912, the society attempted to readjust to adequate rates based upon its own table of mortality, such rates to be applied on the existing membership at attained ages, but it was enjoined by court action from putting such rates into effect. The benefit certificates provide that all conditions and by-laws of the society be fully complied with by the members. The certificate is issued and upon warranties, conditions and agreements contained in the original application for membership. Action for recovery on an unpaid death claim must be brought within one year from date of death. In the event of member entering upon any hazardous occupation the liability of the society will be limited in accordance with the by-laws. On December 31 last, the company had admitted assets of $38,656,809, and surplus over all liabilities of $36,150,002. The amount of the reserve or emergency fund was quite ample During 1923 the net premium income was $25,163,517; the total income was $27,134,295; total benefits to members was $19,853,534; total management expenses was $3,086,879; and the total disbursements amounted to $22,940,413. The amount of certificates written and increased during 1923 was $150,203,000, and the insurance outstanding on December 31 last, $1,664,454,000 on 1,105,877 members. The average age of members received during the year was 27.85 years. The average age of the total membership is 44.09 years; average age received this year, 27.80 years. $1,939,000 is the amount realized by one assessment on the entire membership. Payments by members for mortuary funds in 1923 totalled $22,145,881.

PROTECTED HOME CIRCLE

30 East State Street, Sharon, Pennsylvania

HISTORICAL DATA

This association was incorporated, and began business in Pennsylvania August 7, 1886. It was incorporated under fraternal laws and operates upon the fraternal plan. It writes life and disability insurance in amounts of from $500 to $5,000. Men and women are insured. Reserve is based upon the table somewhat similar to the National Fraternal Congress Table and 4% interest. Inadequate rates necessitated a change to this valuation in 1912. Since that time the company has been charging what appears to be adequate rates. The average age of members received during the year was 27.10 years and the average age of all the members in the year was 39.69 years. Assessments are collected monthly and rates are based upon the age of entry. The premium income during 1923 was $1,673,348, and the total income was $1,715,149. The amount paid members was $1,399,865, and the total disbursements were $1,766,196. The admitted assets on December 31 last were $942,417. The unpaid and resisted claims were $135,000, which is the only liability carried by the company. The certificates written and revived during 1923 amounted to 18,767, and the insurance written was $17,544,500. There were 126,897 certificates outstanding on December 31 last covering $110,741,220 of insurance in force. The president is A. C. McLean; secretary, W. S. Palmer.

This association is organized on the lodge system, 527 in number, level premium rates based on age of entry used. Medical certificate required. First two monthly payments used for expenses. Old age disability at age seventy is issued. Claims paid since organization: death, $18,630,376; old age, $959,062; disability, $189,199; reserves, December 31 last, $629,202. SUPREME COUNCIL OF ROYAL ARCANUM

407 Shawmut Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts

HISTORICAL DATA

This association was organized and commenced business June 23, 1877. This society was incorporated under the fraternal laws of Massachusetts, and operates upon the lodge plan. It writes death, disability and old age insurance. It bases its reserves on the standard mortality table of Royal Arcanum, 1915, and 4% interest, assuming tabular net annum premiums for next attained age, December 1, 1916, or age at entry if admitted subsequent thereto. This plan was adopted in 1916 following a reorganization of the company which was necessitated by inadequate rates charged previous thereto. Premiums are collected on a monthly plan. During the year 1923, $5,827,531 of premiums were received with a total income of $6,461,220; benefits paid amounted to $4,754,426; and total disbursements were $5,126,688; certificates written and revived and increased, 4,347; and the insurance was $5,864,626. On December 31 last, there were 121,556 certificates in force on insurance amounting to $194,145,768. The total admitted assets at that date were $14,934,265, with surplus over all liabilities totalling $14,430,261. The supreme regent is Richard E. Kropf and supreme secretary, Samuel N. Hoag. In 1923 the society adopted a new insurance plan based on the American Experience Table effective for new members and to which old members are transferable. Certificates issued include a whole life, level rate certificate; whole life certificate reduced assessment at age 65; 20-payment life certificate with privilege to draw out tabular reserve at end of 20 years or convert to an endowment certificate; endowment certificates at ages of 60, 65 or 70. Certificates include a non-forfeiture clause when three years assessments have been paid. E tended insurance, old age benefits at age and total and permanent disability benefits are granted. Certificates issued from one to five thousand. Assessments payable monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually. Benefits commutable into monthly payments are from 12 to 120 a month. No counsel dues or yearly contribution have field work required.

There are 1,293 lodges. Age limits, 16 to 54. Insurance limits, $1,000 and $5,000. Tax of $2.20 per member provides for supreme bodies. Assessments based on Royal Arcanum mortality table and American Experience, both 4%. First year's payment of new members admitted under new preliminary plans used for expenses. Paid-up and extended and old age benefit insurance granted by policies. Disability insurance issued. Losses paid since organization: death, $226,628,445; disability, $81,854; old age, $117,864. THE ROYAL NEIGHBORS OF AMERICA

Eighteenth Street and Third Avenue, Rock Island, Illinois

HISTORICAL DATA

The Royal Neighbors of America was organized under the laws of Illinois and began business as a fraternal beneficiary society on March 10, 1895. It operates on the level premium plan, writing whole life insurance with optional withdrawal disability benefits after age seventy. It insures women and members of the Modern Woodmen of America between the ages of 17 and 50 in amounts ranging from $250 to $3,000.

Prior to 1919, the society operated as a purely current cost fraternal beneficiary society. In that year new rates of assessment were adopted, deduced from a mortality table constructed from the past experience of the society, and these rates were applied to the existing membership at that time at ages of entry.

In 1921 the society adopted a reserve benefit plan certificate, with assessment rates based upon the National Fraternal Congress Table of Mortality, with an interest earned assumption of 4%. Under this plan of insurance full tabular reserves are set aside at the end of each year to be held in trust for the members carrying said reserve benefit plan certificates. Under this plan of operation, all mortuary funds are placed in a common benefit fund, from which all death claims are paid. The "reserve" of the reserve benefit plan members is determined by a valuation of their certificates at the end of each year and is set aside and held in trust for said members. The society also has a juvenile department, in which insurance is written on the lives of children between the ages of 1 and 17, next birthday. Upon application, juvenile members reaching the age of 17 years, are transferred without medical examination and reserve benefit plan certificates are issued for them in the amount of $500. If a greater amount of insurance is desired, medical examination is required. The society has a representative form of government. It operates in all states of the union, except Louisiana, South Carolina, Massachusetts and Vermont, and contains local lodges in the Canadian provinces of Alberta, British Columbia and Saskatchewan. At the close of 1923 the society had 7,470 lodges. The Royal Neighbors of America is the largest fraternal beneficiary society in the world controlled and governed wholly by woman.

During the year average age of members received was 29.54, and the average age of all members was 41.38 years. Premiums are collected on the monthly basis. During 1923, premium income totalled $6,523,467, and the total income was $7,279,359. Payments to members during that time amounted to $2,990,034 and expense of management was $820,497, with total disbursements of $3,829,214; 43,925 certificates were written and revived or increased during the year on insurance totalling $37,484,500. On December 31 last, the association had 428,077 certificates in force and $419,679,000 in insurance outstanding. On that date the admitted assets amounted to $16,680,226, and the surplus over all liabilities was $16,240,643.

Officers—Mrs. Eva Child, supreme oracle; Mrs. Alice Gilliland, supreme recorder; Miss F. L. Robinson, supreme receiver; Hada M. Carlson, supreme physician; Benjamin D. Smith, legal adviser.

Supreme Managers—Mrs. Anna M. Shephard, Mrs. Alice C. Nash, Mrs. Annah M. Bair, Mrs. Clara M. Richards, Mrs. Ella Foster.

SECURITY BENEFICIARY ASSOCIATION

701 Kansas Avenue, Topeka, Kansas

HISTORICAL DATA

This association was organized under the fraternal laws of Kansas. It commenced business as a fraternal order February 22, 1892. It issues certificates for $250 to $5,000, at level monthly premium rates which are based upon various tables. The whole life certificate provides permanent total disability benefit one-half of the face, cash payment at age 70, or life annuity, and is based on the National Fraternal Congress Table and 4%. There is also a whole life certificate based upon the American Experience Table and 4%, 20-payment life certificate based on the American Experience Table. There are certificates issued American Experience, 10 and 20-year term certificates. All certificates provide a death, disability and paid up policy at age 70 or life annuity thereafter. The expense of management is paid by a per capita monthly contribution and the cost of management has been reasonably low. The average age of members received during 1923 was 29 years, and the average age of the members in the order was 43 years. Death benefits have been regularly paid. Men and women are insured, as well as children. The association provides a mutual cooperative farm for aged members and orphans of deceased members. During 1923, premiums collected amounted to $4,363,205, and the total income to $4,502,266; total benefits paid amounted to $3,230,934; and the total disbursements to $3,973,211. On December 31 last, the company had assets amounting to $3,363,646 and a surplus over liabilities amounting to $2,541,540. The reserve fund on December 31 last, was $2,044,983. There were 71,691 policies written or revived during 1923, on $78,078,642 of insurance and on December 31 last, the company had in force 212,729 certificates covering $247,191,992 of insurance. The officers of this company are: J. M. Kirkpatrick, national president; J. B. Abrahams, secretary; Arthur W. Fulton, general attorney; and F. M. Bonebrake, J. M. Doyle; R. D. McCliman and J. W. Breyfogle, national executive committee.

WESTERN MUTUAL LIFE ASSOCIATION

HISTORICAL DATA

This association was first organized, incorporated and began business in 1886 under the laws of California. It was reincorporated in 1900 and operates as a legal reserve fraternal benefit life society. The association's affairs were examined during 1923 by the Insurance Department of California.

Administration and Repute—This association is directed in all its operations by management conservative, capable, experienced and of excellent reputation. During 1923 the association issued new policies aggregating $3,166,000, which after deducting deaths and lapses, left a net gain of $1,785,000. Collections from members since organization, $6,425,645. Death claims paid since organization, $4,887,-718. Assets on hand as of February 13, 1924, $1,367,656. Assets are composed of sound securities of high character and satisfactory interest bearing power. The association has ample legal reserve which is drawn upon as a rule only by payment of excessive mortality. Expenses of the association are provided by 15% of the premiums. The association operates on the level premium and the step-rate plans, interest being calculated at 3½% American Experience Table of Mortality.

WOMEN'S BENEFIT ASSOCIATION OF THE MACCABEES

Port Huron, Michigan

HISTORICAL DATA

This association was organized under the fraternal laws of Michigan, and commenced business October 1, 1892. It operates under the fraternal laws and issues whole life, combined whole life and total and permanent disability and old age disability, last illness and relief for the aged certificates from $200 to $5,000. Premiums are collected monthly and rates are based on the National Fraternal Congress and reserves are maintained on the mortality table of the Women's Benefit Association with 4% interest. It insures women only, and maintains a children's department. Expenses of management, health centers and fraternal fund contributions are provided by a 20c a month charge. Its expenses have been moderate during the past few years, and the death rate has been well within the expected. It is licensed and operates in 56 of the United States and provinces of Canada, maintains, summer camps, health centers and girls' clubs. It is the first women's society of its kind to own its own headquarters. The success of this association can be in a great measure attributed to its present supreme commander, Bina M. West, who has established herself as the foremost woman exponent in the realm of life surance. An example of the rates charged by this company is presented herewith.

SUPREME FOREST OF WOODMEN CIRCLE

Fourteenth and Farnam Streets, Omaha, Nebraska

HISTORICAL DATA

The Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, a fraternal benefit society incorporated under the laws of the State of Nebraska, was organized in 1891, by the officers of the Woodmen of the World who evidently felt that Woodcraft was not complete without the help of women. The society was incorporated September 5, 1895, and now operates in 37 states. On December 31, 1923, it had a membership of 132,671 with insurance in force aggregating $132,482,104, assets in the amount of $13,651,-372. There were 3,808 subordinate lodges. The society has a representative form of government and the governing body meets every four years.

The society, since its organization, has passed through two readjustments. The first adjustment, effective July 1, 1901, was characteristic of the management of fraternal societies at that time, in that no recognized standard was used as a guide in fixing rates, and as the rates adopted were applied as of age at entry, with no provision for accumulated deficiencies, future operation developed that the deficiencies in rates were too great for the assumed gains from favorable sources to overcome.

Under the rates adopted in the year 1901, the society had a rapid growth, but as the deficiencies existing at that time were constantly increasing, and as the new members admitted under the rates in effect were creating immediate deficiencies, together with legislation enacted providing for annual valuation, it was disclosed to the management that if the society was to persist and carry out its promises, an increase in contribution rates was necessary.

To determine the necessary increase in rates and in order to have some knowledge of the society's past mortality experience for comparison with other accepted standard tables, the past mortality experience was collated, and a table of mortality was formed. The mortality table so constructed and adopted as a basis for rates, is slightly higher than the accepted standard, the National Fraternal Congress Table. In addition to the insurance issued on the rates based on their own actual experience, the order has two forms of certificates, 20-payment life, and life income, based on the American Experience Table.

Contribution rates prepared from the mortality table, formed from the society's past experience, together with a complete plan of readjustment, was presented to the governing body in July, 1919, which was adopted in its entirety, and the rates were put into effect as of attained age, January 1, 1920. The accumulated funds on hand at that time were used to reduce the rates of the members who joined the society prior to the date of readjustment. The existing members were given several options, making it possible for them to continue their insurance to suit their particular needs and financial condition. The society is solvent, with apparently ample contingent reserve to meet any fluctuation in mortality should it at any time manifest itself.

The society is now enjoying steady, healthy new business and the assets are increasing in a greater ratio than prior to the readjustment. Since the adoption of the new rates, the society has only collected eleven assessments each year. The society now has $13,015,407 invested in bonds, upon which a penny of interest has never been lost, and the interest on these bonds during 1923 amounted to more than $600,000. A year ago the society began writing juvenile insurance. Rates are based on age at entry for new business and as of attained age for related business, and are valued on the Woodmen Circle Table and the American Experience Table with 4% interest. On December 31 last, this mortality fund amounted to $13,023,041. During 1923 the premium income amounted to $2,652,467, and the total income was $3,325,-428. Payments to members totalled $1,222,654, and total disbursements, $1,747,992. Insurance written was 10,199 certificates covering $10,-182,500. Average age of members, 41.7 years. Average age of entrants in 1923, 28.7 years. Age limits, 16 and 52 years. Insurance limits, $500 and $5,000. The president is Mary E. La Rocca; secretary, Dora Alexander Talley

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD

1447 Tremont Street, Denver, Colorado

HISTORICAL DATA

This society commenced business as a fraternal benefit society June 28, 1890, and operates upon the ritualistic lodge plan. There are 753 lodges. The present rates took effect September 1, 1920. The society issues certificates of $500 to $5,000, based on monthly rates at entry ages. Men only are admitted. The association operates in California, Colorado, Oregon, Washington, Montana, Utah, Wyoming, Nevada and Idaho. Management expenses are paid by per capita tax of 20 cents per member payable monthly. Head consul, I. I. Boak, says that "The Woodmen of the World is not in any sense an insurance company, neither is it an insurance order. On the contrary it is a fraternal benefit society operating under a charter granted by the State of Colorado. It is true that we pay benefits to beneficiaries of our deceased members, but that is a benefit and not insurance." This is rather a hair-splitting distinction as the society issues certificates at monthly rates based on age in various amounts to indemnify the beneficiaries of the holder in case of death. Age limits, 16 and 50 years. The society bases its operation on the N. F. C. Table of Mortality and 4%. Installment annuities issued. Average of membership, 44.16 years. During 1923 the order received for mortality purpose $3,089,181, from

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD—SOVEREIGN CAMP

W. O. W. Building, Omaha, Nebraska

HISTORICAL DATA

This association is a fraternal organization organized June 6, 1890, and incorporated and commenced business January 2, 1891. The society established a rate of assessment on a par with the prevailing rates of other fraternal societies which proved later to be low and inadequate. The rates were gradually raised, until in 1920 the society was placed on an adequate rate basis and at this time is actuarially solvent. The company has increased steadily until it met a readjustment period when it underwent the usual experience of societies in the way of loss of membership due to insurgencies within its ranks as a result of inadequate rates and unsound actuarial practices. It is, at the present time, operating with good success upon a better actuarial basis. It values its policies on the National Fraternal Congress Table at 4% interest, the Woodmen of the World Experience Table and 4% interest and the American Experience Table and 4% interest. The company is organized under fraternal laws and operates upon the level premium basis, writing whole life and 20-payment life contracts; it maintains a reserve fund which on December 31, 1923, amounted to $52,650,025. The average age of members received during 1923 by this association was 29.23 years, while the average age of the total members is 43.12. The amount of assessment which can be realized by an assessment levied on the entire membership was $989,000. The company has never reinsured, absorbed or amalgamated with any other organization.

ADDENDA

STATE RESERVE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

First National Bank Building, Fort Worth, Texas

HISTORICAL DATA

This company was incorporated May 19, 1924, and commenced business June 1 of that year. It had an initial capital of $100,000 and an equal amount of surplus. The company is strictly proprietary in character and proposes to transact a life insurance business including double indemnity, disability, monthly income, and joint life insurance. It will for the present confine its operations to Texas, by which department it was examined prior to licensing.

The principal officers of this company including the president, N. H. Lassiter; vice-president and superintendent of agencies, F. E. McGonagill; and secretary, S. H. Weatherford, held similar positions with the Fort Worth Life Insurance Company, which was recently consolidated with the Southern Union Life Insurance Company. They are all experienced in the life insurance business and under their capable direction, this company should prosper. Among the directors of the State Reserve, in addition to the officers mentioned who were also directors of the Fort Worth, are E. E. Bewley, Wm. Bryce, R. E. Harding, William. Burton, E. G. Rall, L. P. Robertson, J. W. Spencer, K. M. Van Zandt. Additional directors include H. B. Herd, Dr. C. A. Hickman, Jarvis Van Zandt, J. B. Laneri, Lloyd H. McKee. Officers besides those mentioned are E. E. Bewley, vice-president and K. H. Beall, M. D., medical director.
